Sharp Fight With General Viljeon's Command.

ALL DAY FIGHT NEAR NOUTA.

-Taken at a Gallop for Three Miles -Four Hundred Boers Repeatedly Charged the British-Aid for the South African Colonies.

London, July 31.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener: "Gen. F. W. Kitchener, after a long chase of Gen. Viljeons' commanlong chase of Gen. Viljeons' commando caught up with it. A sharp fight ensued. We captured a pompom and 22 wagons, and took 32 prisoners. The British had five wounded."

A Hard All-Day Fight.

A Hard All-Day Fight.

London, July 31.—Details received here of what at first seemed an ordinary skirmish between a British column and a Boer commando near Nquta, July 28, show that a hard, all-day fight occurred, in which the British narrowly escaped the loss of a gun of the 67th Field Battery. Four hundred Boers repeatedly rushed the British position, killing Major Edwards and Gunner Carpenter. The gun was limbered up and taken at a gallop for three miles under heavy fire. Five British were killed.

Aid for Colonies. Add for Colonies.

London, July 31.—The supplementary civil service estimate asks for £7,013,910, of which £6,500,000 is required by the Colonial Office, as a grant in aid of the Transvaul and Orange River Colonies. Three milions of vins will be considered an advance to the colonies, to be repaid out of the first loans issued by them.

Peace Negotiations.

out of the first loans issued by them

Peace Septiations.

The Hague, July 31.—There is strong evidence that negotiations looking to the ending of the Boer war are progressing.

Doctor Kuyper, the new Premier, is actively working on the matter, and it is reported here that Sydney Hollis, an American who recently arrived here with a project of building a temple to commemorate the peace conference, was actually sent from Washington at Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's instigation to represent England in the negotiations.

Boston for Reciprocity.

Boston, July 31.—The subject of reciprocity with Canada came before the Board of Directors of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, at the meeting yesterday. The Secretary of the Chamber, Mr. Preston, was directed to take steps to place in tangible form by petitions and otherwise, the desires of the business men of the different cities and manufacturing towns of Massachusetts for such legislation as will facilitate the exchange of commodities with the Dominion of Canada.

Two Kicked to Death.

Two Kicked to Death.

Chesley, July 31.—Monday afternoon, Thomas Bugg, a farmer, near Chesley, was kicked by a horse in his own barn, and died from his injuries in half an hour. Another similar case occurred in this village about 8 o'clock the same night. A farmer named George Patterson, from Sullivan Township, while having his horses shod at Mr. Galbratith's blacksmith shop, was kicked by a horse belonging to a Mr. Acton, and died yesterday morning.

Held Up the Turnkey.

Held Up the Turnkey.

Toledo, O., July 31.—Yesterday when the turnkey entered the County Jail with the prisoners' breakfasts, he was held up at the muzzles of two revolvers and locked in a cell. John Brown, alias "Topeka Joe," Thomas Keegan and James Stewart, all held for robbery of the West Toledo postoffice, and David Morgan, a local prisoner, then marched out of the jail and so far have not been captured.

Mimic Naval Fight.

Mimic Naval Fight.

London, July 31.—The first battle in the British naval manocurves took place Monday, when the cruiser squadrons of the opposing fleets were engaged off the Scilly Islands, with the theoretical result that the defending fleet was annihilated. The Channel now is apparently at the mercy of the enemy. Fifteen cruisers were suppositiously sunk.

Caring for Canada.

London, July 31.—The Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, in the House of Commons yesterday, said the question of securing the most-favored-nation treatment for Canadian products entering Germany was receiving the earnest attention of the Government, though negotiations on the subject had not yet been formally opened.

O'Shea Suspended.

O'Shea Suspended.

London, July 31. — James J.
O'Shea, the Nationalist member for West Waterford, was suspended in the House of Commons yesterday for disorderly conduct, in applying the term 'judicial blackguardism' to the conduct of Baron O'Brien, Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, in charging the jury at the recent trial of Mr. Walsh, chairman of the Waterford County Council, on charges of conspiracy at Cork, Mr. Walsh is connected with the United Irish League, and the latter boycotted a man who rented a farm from which the previous tenant had been evicted. The charge of conspiracy arose yesterday morning. The Nationalists contend that Baron O'Brien concluded the case in an extremely nortices. day morning. LOOK AFTER THE LISTS.

The Liberal Organizer Urging Liberals to This Province.

This Province.

Toronto, July 31.—Mr. Alexander Smith, Secretary Ontario Liberal Association, in a circular letter recently issued with reference to the revision of the voters' lists, says; "In a few municipalities our friends have not given as much attention to the assessment rolls as was desired. This omission can be rectified now and at no other time, and all friends of good government will see that this is done. A careful revision of the voters' list by the Judge in every municipality will insure the return of the Ross Government to power. This important work should not be neglected in any municipality, even where the assessment rolls have been well looked after. It is necessary that the voters' list should be carefully revised, as changes may have occurred in the meantime. A gain of two or three votes in each polling subdivision will mean the election of several of our candidates who otherwise will be defeated. election of several of our candidates who otherwise will be defeated. Please bear in mind that the Tories have advised their friends to control the assessors, and also to induce the municipal clerks to put names on the list of their own accord, without regard to due process of law."

THE PAPER COMBINE.

Mr. Graham of the Montreal Star Gives

Montreal, July 31.-The Royal Montreal, July 31.—The Royal Commission to inquire into the alleged paper combine resumed work yesterday. Mr. Hugh Graham of The Star said that by the contract with the Canada Paper Company since 1899 he got his paper for $6.90; that the price was lower than the present prevailing price, as the contract was made before the rise in chemicals and labor, and the company since that rise intimated they were losing money on every pound of paper. Argument of counsel then began.

Ottawa, July 31.—The following is the vordict in the charges against Chief Powell.
"Certain reflections on the administration of the department will be further considered when the evidence is extended. In the meantime the suspension of the chief is removed." (Signed.) D. B. McTavish, G. E. O'Keefe.

EMPRESS FREDERICK DYING.

At a Late Hour Her Condition Was Re-

Homburg. July 31.—At a late hour last night, the condition of the Dowager Empress Frederick was reported to be very serious.

As a result of the visit of Professor Renvers from Berlin Monday night, it was officially announced that her condition was not satisfactory.

A Belwood Man Drowned.

A Belwood Man Drowned.

Guelph, July 31.—George Jupp of Belwood was drowned Monday night in the Grand River at Blyth, and his body swept over Richardson's dam. He went swimming with his brother, Alfred Jupp, J. B. Williamson of Guelph, and Alfred Macdonald of Belwood, the river running high and the amount of vater going over the dam being equal to a spring freshet. The men swam up to the fall and were caught by the intake of water, Jupp being unable to sustain himself against the current. Williamson and Alfred Jupp swam out to him, the former reaching him, but the two men locked arms and were being carried over the fall. Williamson floated head downwards to the gravel ledge, where he was pulled out unconscious, and was only resuscitated after half an hour's efforts. Jupp's body went over the fall and was not recovered until 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Deceased was about 30 years of age.

An Injunction Granted.

Windsor, July 31.—Judge McHugh has granted a temporary injunction, restraining the trustees of the Separate School and Joseph H. Hebert and Joseph H. St. Louis from taking possession of the school house in section No. 8, Sandwich East.

has been received here. Its tone and substance satisfy whe ministers of the powers.

The edict declares that foreign affairs will hereafter be the most important business of the Government, gives Foreign Office precedence over six old boards that previously outranked and provides for the reception of the Ministers in the hall, in which, heretofore, only near relatives of the Emperor have antered. It also provides for the enterteinment of the Ministers by the Emperor at occasional banquets.

The German Minister, Dr. Mumm Von Schawartenstein, is engaged in drafting a protocol providing for the punishment of Chinahine guilty of participation in the Boxer movement. A feature of this is that the number of culpritis has dwindled from 160 men, originally named, to 54. This is due to the fact that, in the majority of cases, it has been found impossible to prove the guilt of the accused.

WAR OFFICE V. DAILY MAIL.

The Paper Censured in the House of London, July 31.—The printer and Jublisher of The London Daily Mail of this city had a narrow ascape yesterday from being ordered to appear at the bar of the House of Commons on Thursday next as the result of observations made in connection with the War Secretary's (Mr. Brodrick's) boycott of that newspaper, on account of the South African disclosures.

In the House of Commons yesterday atternoon, Swift McNelll. Irish Nationalist, made a motion, to the effect that The Daily Mail's challenge was a breach of the privileges of the House, The Government leader, Mr. Balfour, assented. But apparently, not desiring to stir the matter up, he said he thought it was not necessary to press the motion. Mr. McNeill, however, jusisted, and the motion was carried without a division.

Mr. McNeill then moved that the printer and publisher be ordered to appear at the bar of the House to-day. The motion was defeated by 288 to 128 votes.

Egan a Galt Noy.

Galt, July 31.—Daniel Egan, the president of the mw $15,000,000 steel trust, was born in Galt; and received his education in the Central and Grammar Schools. Forty years ago he left here and went to Gualph, but eventually located in Pennsylvania, where he identified himself with the iron and steel industry. Mr. Egan is a well-preserved man of about 60 years, with a big brain and equally large heart.

Mrs. Rodery ceeks Divorce.

Washington, July 31.—The famous Rodney case, involving the matrimonial troubles of Lieut.-Commander Robert Burton Rodney, U.S.N., retired, and Margaret E. Owen Rodney, the young English woman whom the retired navy officer married in Toronto, Canada, last November, came up in court vesterday. It caused quite a surprise in social circles, as it was thought the difficulties between the Rodneys had been ended. Yesterday Mrs. Rodney filed a bill for absolute divorce and alimony sgainst her husband, alleging cruel and unhuman treatment recently, and claiming that Rodney had threatened her life.

Tolstoi Grows Better

Moscow, July 315—Count Telstoi is rapidly approaching convaloscence. The old philosopher, undamted by his serious experience of the last two weeks, is eagerly planning the outlines of a new novel, entitled "Old Men," which, he says, has been inspired by his illness. The work will probably be the Count's last nessage to the world, and will contain his reflections on life composal wheet world, and will contain his reflections on life composal wheet the shadow of his approaching cital. Tolstoi is grieved at his inability to work hard, which he declares is the best remedy for physical and moral indisposition.

ANNUAL DECORATION CERE-

Of Lindsay Lodge No. 100, L 0. 0. F. Held Tuesday.

The twenty-fourth annual decoration deremonies of Lindsay Lodge No. 160, 160, 167, were helt Tuesday afternoon at Riverside cemetery. On account of a public half-holiday not being proclaimed the attendance at the cemetery was not quite as large as in previous years.

At, two o'clock the brethren, to the number of about 75, each carrying a beautiful boquet of flowers, marched from their new lodge rooms in the Blackwell block down the south side of Kent-st., headed by the Citizens, band playing a lively air, At the lock wharf they embarked on the Str. Crandella, which ran an excursion to the cemetery. The weather ontlook in the morning had been threatening, but the afternoon was all that could be desired, Old Soi favoring the Oddfellows as usual

The cemetery never looked prettier—the recent rains had refreshed the grass, the hedges were tastefully trimmed, and the numerous graves were decorated with boquets of flowers. Shortly after the boat arrived at the cemetery, the Oddfellows formed in line and marched to the north-east corner, where the brettien formed a circle and sang the hymn, 'Shall we Meet Beyond the River,' after which Bro. Rev. Mr. Clare, Oakwood, (a member of Feferboro lodge, who acted as chapitain in the absence of Bro. Rev. J. W. Macmillan), led in prayer. The decorating of the graves of the deceased brothers was then commenced. The various wreaths, emblems, anchors, crosses, tents, etc. which had been prepared by Mr. Maxem, florist, were deposited on the graves by Brothers A. Fisher, J. Mark W. Fee Wm. White, Thos. Stewart, G. Matthie, T. Armstrong, R. Chambers, L. Melptosh, D. Sinclair, J. Short, W. McWatters, A. Storer, A. Blair, A. B. Terry, W. Scott, and Geo. Lytle. The graves of Bros. Chas. S. White and M. H. McLaughlin were each decorated with beautiful floral tents in addition to the other members of Guiding Star Encampment No. 22 of LOO. F. After the ceremonies at the graves, the hymn, "One by One" was sung, and a prayer by Bro. Rev. Clare concluded the program.

CHAPTER I.

The first time I met her I was a reporter in the embryonic state and she porter in the embryonic state and was a girl in short dresses. It was in a garden surrounded by high red brick walls which were half hidden by clusters of green vines and at the base of which nestled earth beds radiant with roses and poppies and peonies and bushes of lavender illacs, all spilling that deletes embryshe on the mild air. bushes of lavender illacs, an spining their delicate ambrosia on the mild air of passing May. I stood, straw hat in hand, wondering if I had not stumbled into some sweet prison of flowers which, having run disobedient ways in the past, had been placed here by Flora and forever denied their native meadows and wildernesses. And this vision of fresh youth in my path, perhaps she was some guardian nymph. I was only 22, a most impressionable age. Her hair was like that rare October brown, half dun, half gold; her eyes were cool and restful, like the brown pools one sees in the heart of the forests, and her lips and cheeks cozened the warm vermilion of the rose which lay ever so lightly on the bosom of her white dress. Close at hand was a table upon which stood a pitcher of lemonade. She was holding in her hand an empty glass. As my was sentenced her calm, inquiring their delicate ambrosia on the mild air in her hand an empty glass. As my eyes encountered her calm, inquiring gaze my courage fied precipitately. likewise the object of my errand. There was a pause; diffidence and em-barrassment on my side, placidity on hers.

"Well, sir?" said she in a voice the lone of which implied that she could leadily understand her presence in the garden, but not mine.

As I remember it, I was suddenly solved with a great thirst. "I should like a glass of your lemonade," I answered, bravely laying down the only plece of money I possessed. Her stern lips parted in a smile, and my courage came back cautiously—that is to say, by degrees. She filled a glass for me, and as I gulped it down I could almost detect the flavor of lemon and sugar.

"It is very good," I volunteered, passing back the glass. I held out my ing back the glass. I held out my hand, smiling.

"There isn't any change," coolly,
I flushed painfully. It was fully four miles to Newspaper row. I was conscious of a sullen pride. Presently the object of my errand returned. Somewhat down the path I saw a gentleman reclining in a canvas swing. "Is that Mr. Wentworth?" I asked.
"Yes. Do you wish to speak to him? Uncle Bob, here is a gentleman who desires to speak to you."
I approached. "Mr. Wentworth," I began, cracking the straw in my hat, "my name is John Winthrop. I am a reporter. I have called to see if it is true that you have declined the Italian portfolio."

"It is true," he replied kindly. "There are any number of reasons for my de-clining it, but I cannot make them pub-lic. Is that all?"

"Yes, sir; thank you," and I backed "Yes, sir; thank you a reporter?" asked the girl as I was about to pass by her.
"Yes, I am."
"Do you draw pictures?"
"No, I do not."
"Do you write novels?"
"No," with a nervous laugh.

"No, I do not."

"Do you write novels?"

"No," with a nervous laugh.
There is nothing like the process of interrogation to make one person lose interest in another.

"Oh, I thought perhaps you did," she said and turned her back to me. I passed through the darkened halls of the house and into the street. I never expected to see her again, but it was otherwise ordained. We came together three years later at Block Island. She was 18 now, gathering the rosy flowers of her first season. She remembered the incident in the garden, and we laughed over it. A few dances, two or three evenings on the verandas watching the sea, moonlit, as it sprawled among the rocks below us, and the even tenor of my way ceased to be. I appreciated how far she was above me, so I worshiped her silently and from pfar. I told her my ambitions, confidences so welcome to feminine ears, and she rewarded me with a small exchange. She, too, was an orphan and lived with her uncle, a rich banker, who as a diversion consented to represent his country at foreign courts. Her given name was Phylls. I had seen the name a thousand times in print; the poets had idealized it and the novelists had embalmed it in tender phrases.

It was the first time I had ever met isiana. His son and I were his only heirs. But this old planter had a mortal antipathy to my side of the family. When my mother, his sister, married Alfred Winthrop in 1859, at the time when the north and south were approaching the precipice of a civil war, he considered all family ties obliterated. We never worried much about it. When mother died, he softened to the extent of being present at the funeral. He took small notice of my father, but offered to adopt me if I would assume his name. I clasped iny father's hand in mine and said nothing. The old man stared at me for a moment, then left the house. That was the first and han started at the lot at the first and last time I ever saw him. Sometimes I wondered if he would remember me in his will. This, of course, was only when I had taken Phyllis somwhere or when some creditor had lost patience.

his will. This, of course, was only when I had taken Phyllis somwhere or when some creditor had lost pattence.

One morning in January, five years after my second meeting with Phyllis, I sut at my desk in the office. It was raining, a cold thin rain. The window was blurred. The water in the steam pipes went banging away. I was composing an editorial which treated the diplomatic relations between this country and England. The roar of Park row distracted me. Now and then I would go to the window and peer down on the living stream below. A dense cloud of steam hung over all the city. I swore some when the copy boy came in and said that there were yet a column and a half to fill and that the foreman wanted to "close up the page early." The true cause of my indisposition was due to the rumors rife in the office that morning. Rumors which emanate from the managing editor's room are usually of the sort which burden the subordinate ones with anxiety. ome that morning. Authors with a procession are usually of the sort which burden the subordinate ones with anxlety. The London correspondent was "going to pieces." He had cabled that he was suffering from nervous prostration, supplementing a request for a two months' leave of absence. For "nervous prostration" we read "drink." Our London correspondent was a brilliant Journallst. He had written one or two clever books. He had a broad knowledge of men and affairs, and his pen was one of those which flashed and burned at frequent intervals, but he drank. Dan's father had been a victim of the habit. I remember meeting the elder Hillars. He was a picturesque individual, an accomplished scholar, a wide traveler, a diplomatist and a noted war correspondent. His work during the Franco-Prussian warhad placed him in the front rank. After sending his son Dan to college he took no further notice of him. He was killed while serving his paper at the slege of Alexandria. Dan naturally followed his father's footsteps both in profession and in habits. He had been my classmate at college, and no one knew him better than I except it was himself. The love of adventure and drink had ended the life of the one. It might end the life of the other.

The foreman in the composing room waited for some time for that required column and a half of editorial copy. I lit my plee, and my thoughts ran back to the old days, to the many times Dan

Then I read the second letter. I read it three or four times, and even then I was not sure that I was not dreaming. I caught up my pipe again, filled it and Ili It. I read the letter once more. I was solemnly informed that my uncle was dead and that I was mentioned in the will and that II I would kindly call at the Hoffman House the following morning a certain sum of money would be given to me. I regretted that I had reached that age when a man's actions must be dignified although alone; otherwise I dare say I should have danced the pas seal. Whatever my uncle's bequest might be, I believed that It would make me independently rich. Phyllis was scarcely an arra's length away now. I whistled as I locked up my desk and proceeded down stairs and sang a siren song into the waxen cars of the cashier. "You have only twenty coming this week, Mr. Winthrop," said he. "Never mind," I repiled. "I'll manage to get along next week." It was only on very rare occasions that I drew my full pay at the end of the week. I dined at a fashionable restaurant. As I sipped my wine I built one of my castles, and Phyllis reigned therein.

dined at a fashlonable restaurant. As I sipped my wine I built one of my castles, and Phyllis reigned therein. There would be a trip to Europe every summer, and I should devote my time to writing novels. My picture would be the frontispiece in the book reviews, and wayside paragraphs would tell of the enormous royalties my publishers were paying me. I took some old envelopes from my poeket and began figuring on the backs of them as to what purposes the money should be put. It could not be less than $50,000, perhaps more. Of course my uncle had given more. Of course my uncle had given could not be less than $50,000, perhaps more. Of course my uncle had given a harbor to a grudge against me and mine, but such things are always forgotten on the deathbed. Fortune, having buffeted me, was now going to make me one of her favorite children. I had reached the end of the long lane. As I left the restaurant I decided to acquaint Phyllis with my good hek and also my desire that she should share of it. I turned into a florist's and had a dozen roses sent up to her. They ford it now.

I found Flyllis thrumming on the plane. She was singing in a low voice the aria from "Lucla." I stood on the threshold of the drawing room and waited till she had done. I believed her to be unaware of my presence. She was what we poets call a "dream of loveliness," a tangible dream. Her neek and shoulders were like satin, and the head above them reminded me of Sappho's which we see in marble. From where I stood I could catch a glimpse of the profile, the nose and firm chin, the exquisite mouth, to kiss which I would gladly have given up any number of fortunes. The cheek had that delicate curve of a rose leaf, and when the warm blood surged into it there was a color as matchless as that of a jack rose. Ah, but I loved her! Suddenly the music ceased.

"There is a milror over the plane,

So I crossed the room and sat down in the chair nearest her. I vaguely wondered if at the distance she had seen the love in my eyes when I thought myself unobserved.

thought myself unobserved.
"I thank you for those lovely roses," she said, smiling and permitting me to press her hand.
"Don't mention it," I replied. It is so difficult for a man to say original things in the presence of the woman he loves. "I have great news for you. It reads like a fairy tale, you know; happy ever afterward, and all that."
"Ah!"
"Yes. Do you remember my telling.

"Yes. Do you remember my telling you of a rich uncle who lived in the bouth?"

"Is it possible that he has left you a

"You have guessed it."
"I am very glad for your sake, Jack.
I was beginning to worry about you."
"Worry about me?"
"Yes. I do not understand how a newspaper man can afford to buy roses four or five times a week—and exist."
She had the habit of being blunt and frank to her intimate friends. I secretly considered it an honor when she talked to me like this. "I have told you repeatedly to send me flowers only once a week. I'd rather not have them at all. Last week you spent as much as $30 on roses alone. Mr. Holland does not do that for Ethel, and he he wheels of the social organization run smoother. For instance, if I met a strange woman and she told me that I run smoother. For instance, if I met a strange woman and she told me that I was handsome I shouldn't be able to speak again the whole evening. On the other hand, a beautiful woman after you say that you are delighted to meet her expects the very next remark to concern her good looks."

"Your insight is truly remarkable," she said, the dimple continuing its elusive maneuvers. "Hush, here comes Carmen!"

And our voices grew faint in the swell of melody. Mrs. Wentworth was entranced. Her daughter was fondly gazing at the back of her fance's head, Phyllis had turned her face from me to the stage. As for myself, I was not particularly interested in the cigarette girl. It was running through my head that the hour had arrived. I patted my gloves for a moment, then I drew so long breath.

"Phyllis!" said I. There was a quaver in my voice. Perhaps I had not spoken loud enough. "Phyllis!" said I again.

She turned quickly and gave me an

She turned quickly and gave me an inquiring and as the same time were ous glance. "What is it?"

"I want to tell you something I have never dared to tell you till now," I said carnestly. The voice on the stage soared heavenward. "I love you. Will you be my wife?"

soared beavenward. "I love you. Will you be my wife?"

Ah, me! Where were those drooping eyelids, that flush, that shy, sweet glance, of which I had so often dreamt? Phyllis was frowning.

"Jack, I have been afraid of this," she said. "I am so sorry, but it cannot be."

"Oh do not see that

"Oh, do not say that now," I cried, crushing my gloves. "Wait awhile. Perhaps you may learn to love me."
"Jack, I have always been frank to you because I like you. Do you suppose it will take me five years to find out what my heart says to any man? No. Had I loved you I should not have asked you to wait. I should have said yes. I do not love you in the way you wish. Indeed I like you better than any man I know, but that is all I can offer you. I should be unkind if I beld out any false hopes. I have often offer you. I should be unkind if I held out any false hopes. I have often asked myself why I do not love you, but there is something lacking in you, something I cannot define. Some other woman will find what I have falled to find in you to love."

I was twisting my gloves out of all recognition. There was a singing in my ears which did not come from the stage.

"Look at it as I do, Jack. There is a man in this world whom I shall love and who will love me. We may never meet. Then he shall be an ideal to me and I to him. You believe you love me, but the love you offer is not complete."

complete."

"Not complete?" I echoed.

"No. It would be if I returned it. Do you understand? There is in this world a woman you will truly love and who will return your love in its fullness. Will you meet? That is in the hands of your destinies. Shall I meet my ideal? Who knows? But till I do I shall remain an old maid."

I nodded wearily. A dissertation on affinities seemed ill timed.

"And now," she said, "this beautiful friendship of ours must come to an end." And there were tears in her eyes.

ing into nothingness. "My heart is very heavy."

"Jack, if you talk like that," hastily, "you will have me crying before all these people."

Unfortunately Ethel turned and saw the tears in her cousin's eyes. "Mercy, what is the matter?" she asked.

"Jack has been telling me a very pathetic story," said Phyllis, with a pity in her eyes.

"Yes; something that happened to-

"Yes; something that happened tonight," said I, starling at the programme, but seeing nothing, nothing, "Well," said Ethel, "this is not the place for them," turning her eyes to the stage again.

The concluding acts of the operawere a jangle of chords and discords, and the hum of voices was like the murmur of a faroff sea. My eyes remained fixed upon the stage. It was like looking through a broken kaleidoscope. I wanted to be alone, alone with my pipe. I was glad when we at last entered the carriage. Mrs. Wentworth immediately began to extol the singers, and Phyllis, with that tact which is given only to kind hearted women, answered most of the indirect questions put to me.

It's something any woman might be proud of, the love of an honest, dear, good fellow. Good night." She held her hand toward me.

It is a small, low structure, with a wide veranda across the front. It has only one room, with sleeping quarters partioned off by a screen of the jenus. It has three small wins dows. The inner walls are covered with a natural alkaline clay. A low roof of timbers and boards is covered with sod. A rough board floor is covered with a rag carpet, though in the West the dry hard earth renders that unnecessary. A few rude pie sof furniture and some old-fashioned prints furnish the interior.

THE INCUBATOR CHICK

THE INCUBATOR OHICK.

Chicks that are hatched in the incubator come into the world entirely free from the insect life or disease that may be transmitted by contact. The only aim on that can come with them is such as they may inherit from the parent fowl. This gives them an unhampered start and a great advantage over those that come within the nest that is filthy and hovered by hens that have lice upon them. If they have come into life within an incubator that does its work properly, and have been strengthened by good ventilation rather than weakened by destroying influence sof bad air that comes from poor ventilation, they should be able to contend with the many chances of life, whether looked after by the careful hen or placed within a brooder. If such are given to hens to raise, special care should be paid to the claimsing of the hen's body of all insect life or matter. We may kill all that are allve upon the hon to-day, but how about the eggs that may change to living insects to-morrow? The presence of these makes it quite necessary that we should sprinkle her body during her term of mentaling with insect powder at least twice each week, so as to destroy both those that lay the eggs among the feathers as well as the product of the eggs before they have gained time to deposit more for future trouble. to be of no value by the farmer.

The poultry and dairy comprise all the extra work, and these may be as much or as little as desired. The farmer's house does not require half the care, his apparel needs less attention, his fashions are simpler, instable is easier supplied and with far better material at little cost; the children are not kept indoors, but go free as the birds, and, as they grow older, how many less temptations! The lusband is not away all day, but his home is his place of business, and many are the holidays a farmer can take without his business suffering. The time for very hard work on the farm has gone by. It is not as it was fifty or a hundred years ago, when little machinery lightened the bousekeeper's daily work. Now the housework is less arduous, the sewing is quickly done, and much time can be given to gardening, visiting and mental improvement. If we would have our young men and young women realize that farming is the noblest occupation on earth we must give the calling more cignity, elevating it so that its name shall cease to be a merd synonym of drudgery. Home life can be made very pleasant, even on the farm.

A simple and a good calf muzzle is made by taking a scantling, a. 3 by 3 by 14 inches, bore an inch hole about 11-2 inches from each end. Turn scantling over and bore two more holes two inches from each end. Take a small stick of about one inch or little larger and make a bow to go over the calf's neck. For the horrs, take two good well scasoned pieces of wood about 14 inches, long make them round and sharp pointed at one end, and insert the other end in the holes bored in the scantling. Then place the muzzle on calf take a string and the over calf's nose, and you have a good muzzle complete. Austria's Great Ganal System.

Austria has just adopted a measure for a system of canals that is of far-reaching importance, and will do more than anything yet enacted in that monarchy to promote the commerce of the country. It will not only bring the various provinces into closer touch, but will also afford the cleapest freight connections with Germany and Russia. The measure provides for (1) a canal from the Danube to the River Oder (2) a canal from the Danube to the Moldau, near Budwels, in connection with the canalization of the Moldau from Budweis to Prague; (3) a canal from the Danube-Oder Canal to the Upper Elbe, in addition to the canalization of the intervening Elbe bed as far as Melnik, (4) a canal from the Danube-Oder Canal to the Vistula, and to some navigable portion of the Dniester. These 992 to 1,054 miles of navigable waterways are to be constructed by the State with the co-op ration of the provinces, districts and towns, in particular the citles of Vienna and Prague, which are to furnish proportion. ticular the cities of Vienna and Prague, which are to furnish proportion ate contributions. Indian Pickle.

Take a few of any kind of vegetables that are in season—cauliflower, cucumber, best root, voung carrots, French beans and white cablage are all suitable for the purpose. Prepare the vegetables by cutting away the outer leaves of the cauliflower and dividing it into small pieces, cut the cabbage into very thin shreds, slice the best roots, scrape the carrots.

Make a brine strong enough to float an egg; throw the vegetables into it and let them boil one minute, drain them and dry perfectly by shaking them lightly in a soft cloth, 'To every two quarts of vinegar add one cunce of whole ginger, one ounce of long pepper, one ounce of black pepper corns, and two cloves of garlic. Boil for five minutes.

Mis separately with a little cold vinegar in a basin one onnee turmeric and one cunce of flour mustard and stir this into the vinegar while it is boiling. Mix the vegetables thoroughly and put them in an earthenware jur and pour the boiling vinegar over them, so that they are entirely covered. Cover closely and keep in a cool place. This pickle should be kept for several months before being used.

Manchester Liner Ficked Up Two Men Coming Around by Cape Haer.

Father Point, Ques., July 29.—Captain Baxter of the S. S. Manchester Commerce, from Manchester, which passed inward at 11.05 p. m. Saturday, reports that the Straits of Belle Isle are blocked, and he could not get through. He sighted a three-masted steamer fast in the ice. The captain says he turned and came south, by way of Cape Race, and when between St. Pierre and Cape Ray picked up a dory with two men in it. They had been three days and three nights in it without food or water, and were pretty well exhausted when picked up. They were then about 50 miles from land. The men belong to a schooner called Ohio, hailing from Great Bank, Fortune Bay, and say they left the schooner in a fog to pick up their lines and could not find their way back.

Raisers of live stock must be ever. Raisers of live stock must be prepared, therefore, for a turn that will mean a decline from the present ruling of the market. The English market has shown decidedly weak tendencies, and a lowering of prices there would not cause any surprise. In general terms, this is the present condition of the mar-dish consumers. That means that the farmers have been alive to their own interests and have raised the article that has been in deman d in England. A few years ago, the re-sult that has been achieved this year would have been impossible, simply because the farmers of this country did not raise the class of liogs that are suitable for the export trade. Some of the pork packers undertook to educate the farmers in this regard, taking the ground that the indue to the packers to state that their anticipation of new conditions has placed the farmers in a position to profit—and profit very larges ly—by being able to meet advantageously the state of the market in times like the present. Had the farmers adhered to the old breeds of hogs, and to the old methods of preparing them for the market, the prices which have prevailed lately would not have been realized. In this district the hogs are generally of a good type and are suitable for the making of Wiltshire Bacon, but there are other parts of Canada which are considerably behind in this respect. There is still much room for improvement, and attention to the preeding and raising of hogs amply repays for all the time and trouble expended. Cold Storage Facilities.

Buyer Flavelle said he did not want any misconception to exist in connection with the storage of cheese in his firm's cold storage warehouse. Having room to spare he had placed it at the disposal of a number of factoriee during the hot weather for a nominal consideration. It was not intended that the fact should in any way interfere with the rules of the Board, and buyers were free to inspect the cheese in the warehouse and to load cars there in order to save the cost of cartage.

spect the cheese in the warehouse and to load cars there is order to save the cost of cartage.

Cold Air Daots.

President Robertson asked Mr. Kennedy, subesman for Dunsford factory, how he liked the air duct recently put in to cool the caring room, and the reply was "first rate—the temperature is down to 70 degrees or ten below the normal."

Mr. Bredin, of Bobcaygeon factory, said he believed the air duct added to that factory was not all it might be. Certainly the temperature was much higher than that quoted by Mr. Kennedy, which was probably owing to the tile being too small, and the standpipe having no wind vane.

Mr. Flavelle—"What is the principle of the cold air duct? Is the air cocled by passing along the buried pipes?"

Mr. Bailey—"Yes, and if the standpise is 125 feet away, instead of 75, as at Bobcaygeon, it will be all the better. The pure air taken in through the standpipe is carried to the curing room through three or four lines of tile, and is cooled during its underground journey."

Another spaker remarked that the Coles authorities recommended that the standpipe be placed 150 feet distant, and also advised that the larger the number of tile lines laid the cooler would be the air furnished.

Mr. Bailey—"Some up-to-date factorics have the cool air distributed to various parts of the curing room.

Mr. Flavelle was next in line, and secured the remaining four factories—Star, Mariposa, Palestine and Lorneville—at the same figure, the two last-mentioned factories being subject to Lindsay inspection.

The Board then adjourned for two wocks.

An Interesting Decision.

For Backache, Kidney and Bladder

Troubles.

There never has been a remedy intro duced to the people of this country which has given such uniform satisfaction as Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.
The reason is plain. These Tablets are the result of Dr. Pitcher's long experience, in the treatment of Kidney, Bladder and Urinary diseases in the hospitals of Detroit and his devotion to the study of Kidney diseases as his life's work.

There is no other remedy gives such positive assurance of a cure of backache.

There is no other remedy gives such positive assurance of a cure of backache, ame or weak back, swelling of the feet and legs, puffiness under the eyes, puffy and pasty appearance of the face, gravel, brick dust deposits in the urine, scalding, irritation, frequent rising at night, high colour of the urine, pains in the joints and hips, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, specks before the eyes, dragging pain in the loins, Kidney weakness of children and old people, and all symptomatic indications of Kidney trouble.

She has viewed with a kindly sympathetic interest our efforts at industrial imperfallsm, but she has not taken aggressive advantage of the opening that Canadian legislation has given her. In some Instances, it is true, they have been aggressive, but that they have risen fully to their opportunity, no one would affirm. It appears to us that if Canadian exporters had been given even a slight advantage on the English market they would have taken lumiedlate and full advantage, of the preference THE PORK MARKET. The high prices that have raled for live hogs this year have greatly, stimulated the raising of this class of stock for the export market. It would be impossible to state in a and full advantage of the preference given. Indeed, without any advan-tage, we have made great gains in the face of keen competition and our products are forging ahead of those of our competitors.

The Industrial Exhibition at Toronte is in many respects a National Exhibition, and no better opporall Exhibition, and no better opportunity exists for the showing of exhibits to the Canadian people. The displaying of gew ideas and goods there, followed up by aggressive selling throughout the country, would soon introduce more products of the English manfacturers. Georgian Bay town has taken on new interest-in: the public estimation since the boom set in, due to the growth of the grain trade and the establishment there of an immense smelting plant, fed by Mr. Clergue, the Sault Ste. Marie wizard, with ore from the Helen mine at Mchipicoton, delivered in huge steel steamers. Ample time will be afforded excursionists to explore everything, and arrangements are being made to secure an excursion steamer for those who may wish to-enjoy the interesting lake trip to Fenetang, calling at the Smelting Works enroute. Many thoughtful citizens have already secured, tickets, in order to avoid the rush, at the station on the morning of the Sth. gard, taking the ground that the in-terests of the packers and of the farmers were identical in their en-deavors to meet the exacting de-mands of the English people. At that time a few of the breeders of stock were under the impression that the new ideas which the packers were advocating were simply a were advocating were simply a fad, enunciated very largely in their own interests. But now it is admitted that their ideas were the result of commendable foresight, and it is discountered to the result of commendable foresight, and it is Oh rrie-Irwin.

She was assisted in the twery trying ordeal by her sister, Miss Blanche Irwin, who wore white missin and object of the maid-of-honor, doked very pretty in white muslin. After the usual congratulations and happy greetings, the bridal party of some sixty relatives and friends enjoyed the hospitality of the genial host and hostess in the dining-room.

The bride received numerous landsome and costly gifts, among which may be mentioned a dinner sett, a tea sett, a parlor lamp, a fancy gold clock and a richly upholstered reciling chair, all showing the very high esteem in which the young lady is held. There were friends present from Toronto, Oshawa, Plainville, Jonetville and Lindsay.

THE REESORS OF MARKHAM INTERESTING SE TOH OF A NOTABLE FAMILY.

We take from an exchange the fol-

We take from an exchange the following interesting sketch of a recent reanion of members of the well-known Reesor family, of Markham, which was attended by Mr. B. F. Reesor, of this town:
Some 20 years ago, when J. D. Simpson was superintendent of colonization roads for Manitoulin Island, he received instructions to open a line through a settlement at the head of Lake Maniton. In making enquiries at the houses of the different settlers in the district to be served as to where the road should served as to where the road should be located, he noted, with increasing surprise, that each man spoken to answered to the name of "Skippen." At last he found one of another, name-Idle.

"So you are not a Skippen, then?" said Mr. Simpson.
"Oh, yes I am," was the reply "at

"Oh, yes I am," was the reply "at least I am a connection—I am a brother-in-law of Wm. Skippen."
There were in the settlement William Skippen, Noah Skippen, Skippen junior and Skippen senior—all sorts of Skippens to the number of 60 or more. In fact they were all Skippens with the exception of the brother-in-law, Idle.
What Supt. Simpson found in this Skippens with the exception of the brother-in-law, Idle.

What Supt. Simpson found in this Manintoulin Island settlement another explorer might find in a larger way, and under another mame, along Markham and Picke-ing town lines—in fact, all through that section lying about Markham village, Locust Hill, Cedar Grove, and Whitevale.

There are Reesors everywhere. There are Riesors everywhere. There are Reesors everywhere. There are Reesors everywhere. There are aid to be 35 families of Reesor blood in the village of Markham alone. In Markham township, and a small section of Pickering adjoining, there are at least 40 families of the name, and 40 more who are connected with the family on the female side.

About one-third the patrons of Locust Hill creamery are Reesors; upwards of 30 of the customers of Cedar Grove blacksmith snop—two-thirds of the lot—are Reesors; in the little Mennonite cemetery, just opposite the smithy—where many of the dead of the settlement are resting peacefully under the shelter of the sweet-smelling locusts—i counted one group of ten graves, and found that the occupants when in life had all been Reesors, with the exception of one, Wheler, and he was a connection by marriage.

But this is only a part of it.

500 Within a Day's Travel.

But this is only a part of it.
Within a day's travel by rail there are said to be 500 Reesors. And even this is not the limit. Once, when a patriotic American, filled with the enthusiasm of a Fourth of July demonstration, was asked to describe the boundaries of his country, he spoke thus:

"The boundaries of this great Republie! It is bounded on the south by the mountain waves which wash Cape Horn, on the north by the glory of the aurora borealis, on the east by primeval chaos, and on the west by the Day of Judgment."

A modification of the above was the answer of Jesse Reesor to a question as to the limits of the territory over which the Reesor fauily have spread—"from Hudson Bay to the Gulf of Mexico." This was a slight exaggeration, of course, but there is one of the family living at North Bay, two are on St. Joseph's Island, and at the demonstration to be presently described, one was present from Pittsburg, Pa., another from Denver, Col., and a third from York State, near Buffalo.

Descended from Father Christian. And all this great ramily has sprung from one man, who came to Canada West at the dawn of the last century. In 1801 Christian Reesor, accompanied by his son Peter came over on horse back from Chambersburg, Franklin County, Pa, for the purpose of seeking a new home. These two, father and some person of Markham, Christian selecting lot of Markham, Christian selecting lot of the tonession of Markham, Christian selecting lot of the concession as the site for his home. Having thus parted with their horses, the two men walked back to the old home in Pennsylvania, and began to prepare for the journey to the new one in the wilderness of the north. Owing to delays in the selling of property, packing up, etc., it was not until 1804 that a start was made in the organized movement to the new land. Accompanying Christian on this occasion were four sons—Peter, John Abraham, and Christian—and it was from these that those of the Reesor name found in this province descended.

Another and Larger Branch.

These five Reesors, however, formed but a small branch of a great family. Father Christian, the head of the Canadlan branch had four brothers and five sisters—descendants of Peter, who came originally from Switzerland, — and these remained behind in Penusylvania, and from these there are said to be 10,000 descendants living in the United States. But this is another story, which, if followed, would be apt to land us all into hopeless entanglement. It is hard enough to follow up the history of Christian and the four sons and two daughters who came to Canada.

When the family history of the contract of t up the history of Christian and the four sons and two daughters who came to Canada.

When the family history of one of these four sons is traced, one no longer wonders that the Reesors are so numerous. John, one of the four, had no less than 15 children. One of these died in infancy, and another married but had no children. Full duty was, however, performed by the other 12. These all had families—ranging from one to fourteen—three of them having 14, 10 and 9, respectively. From John there have descended since 1804 no less than 198 great-grandchildren, and 63 great-grandchildren.

On Wednesday last there was a Reesor reunion. It was held in a beautiful grove, on the banks of the Rouge, just west of Locust Hill. The reunion was in commemoration of the centennial of Farther Christian's first arrival in the wilds of Markham, and some 200 were present. Three years hence—the centennial of the formation of the permanent settlement—a still greater demonstration is to take place, and it will not be surprising if the gathering then runs well up to a thousand. The section in whith the Reesors its is one of the best agricultural listricts in Ontario. The 'land is well thied, and the people are welloudo. This is characteristic of the ace.

A Lakefield Young Man's Herote Rereue of a Fellow Workman.

A very plucky act was performed by a young man from Lakefield, Fred Mason, on the 18th inst, at Young's Point, Mason is employed as engineer in charge of the engine working at the company's wheel pits. On the day in question, Charles Waldon, an employee of the company, while drawing up some water on to the platform, through some unaccountable cause, fell in, and before any help could be extended to him he sank to the bottom. Mason, without an instant's heelatation, plunged in with all his clothes on to his assistance. The water was 22 feet deep in the pit and it can be easily understood that it requires more than ordinary determination for any swimmer to reach such adopth. On his first attempt Mason saw Waldon lying on the bottom of the pit, but was unable to reach him He rose to the surface and on regaining his breath tried again. He was again unsuccessful, but, nothing daunted, prepared for a third attempt. On the second trial he had been unable to locate Waldon's position, but recognizing the fact that the man's life lay hauging in the balance, he made a supreme effort, and succeeded in distinguishing Waldon lying under the platform of the engine, whither he had drifted. Mason had just strength enough left to pluck at the inanimate form and give it the necessary impetus to raise it to the surface. Mason himself was utterly exhausted by his efforts and was a considerable time in recovering his strength. Waldon, however, was in a worse plight. He had been under water over four minutes and life semerentierly extinct. Strenuoas and unremitting efforts of his friend, however at last had the desired effect, and after almost an hour's unconsciouses he was brought round again. Mason's plucky act should be brought to the attention of, the Royal Humane Society.—Peterboro Examiner.

Rain Will do Good.

Farmers are delighted with the copious showers that have failen since Saturday evening last. Standing grain will be benefitted and the growth of straw promoted, while for turnips, potatoes and other root crops the benefit will be incalculable. The rains were worth many thousands of dollars to the people of this County.

Popular Traveller Injured

Mr. D. W. Anderson, of Hastings, the popular traveller for the Scotch Thread firm of Brooks & Co. Glasgow, on Friday met with a very painful accident. He and his wife, painful accident. He and his wife, were leaving for Scotland, and when getting out of a 'bus at the Hustings station to catch their train the horses became frightened by a shunting engine and upset the vehicle. Mr. Anderson and his wife were thrown out and he was badly out and bruised. They had to return home and a physician was summoned. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had tickets to leave by the Tunisian from Montreal, but it is doubtful if he will be able to go. Many Lindsay friends will regret to learn of Mr. Anderson's mishap.

Irish Members Evicted From the Commons by the Speaker.

MR. REDMOND CALLS FOR POLICE

O'Brien Was Also Named By the red on the Conclusion of the Agricultural Property Taxation Debate-Bill Adopted.

ation Debate-Bill Adepted.

London, July 80.—There was a wild uproar in the House of Commons between 1 and 2 o'clock at the conclusion of the debate on the taxation of agricultural property.

Conservatives interrupted Mr. Walton, Liberal, with cries of "Divide." William Redmond, on a point of order, called the attention of the Speaker to the interruptions, but the Speaker to the interruptions, but the Speaker ruled that the point was not well taken.

Mr. Walton resumed, but quite inaudibly, owing to the persistent cries of "Divide."

Mr. Redmond shouted: "Police! Police!"

The Speaker said this expression

The Speaker said this expression was disorderly. Mr. Redmond: "Why don't you keep

Mr. Redmond: "Why don't you keep order?"

The Speaker directed him to leave the House and named him. Mr. Balfour, the government leader, moved Mr. Redmond's suspension, and this was carried by a vote of 303 to 71.

Patrick O'Brien persisted in the same point of order and was in turn named and suspended.

The bill was adopted.

How China Has to Pay the Interest and Powchina Has to Pay the Interest and Principal of Indomnity.

Washington, July 80.—Despatches received by cable from Mr. Rockhill, the United States Special Commissioner at Pekin, set out some of the details of the financial arrangement respecting the indemnity not heretofore disclosed. He reports that the interest of the indemnity began to run on July 1 of this year, and the payments will become due semi-annually, the first to be met Jan. 1 next.

China will be allowed three years before making the first payment, on account of the principal of the indemnity. The moneys, both on account of principal and interest, will be received by a financial committee, located at Shanghai, to be known as the "Committee of Encashment." This will be composed of the heads of foreign banks at Shanghai, selected by the government interested in the payments. The committee is to distribute the funds turned in by the Chinese Government among the various powers in proportion to the interest payments due them.

London, July 30.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Globe cabling yesterday says:

The assurances given in the House of Commons (July 23) by Lord Cranborne, the Under Foreign Secretary, that the French and German troops are only temporarily here, are refuted by the fact that both nationalities are crecting massive, permanent barracks, which will take two years to complete, indicating that many years' occupation are contemplated.

Berlin, July 30.—The tariff bill is considered a cleverly concoted sope to the agrarian. As a declaration of commercial war against Russia, Austria and the United States, it is quite harmless since no one believes the Bundesrath will accept it. For months the German chancellor has been struggling against the demands of the agrarians. The new tariff does not come into effect till December, 1901, so that there is plenty of time to arrange a satisfactory modus vivendi, Colony in Manitoba.

Quebec, July 30.—The S. S. Numidian of the Allan Line, arrived in port at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Among the passengers were five officers and sixty men of the Canadian Scouts from South Africa. The names of the officers are as follows: Lieut. Gallaghan, Lieut. Machonald. Lieut. Those, Lieut. Ryan and Lieut. Thompson. Most of the men are coming straight from South Africa. Their time was up seven months ago, and they re-enlisted for six months more. They are all healthful. They are speaking of the hostifities in South Africa as being nearly over. Five of the privates, being from Quebec, have landed here. The fifty-five others are starting tonight on board the Numidian for Montreal.

Winnipeg, July 30.—There is a possibility of a Boer colony being established in Manitoba. A prominent Dutch Burgher in the person of F. Hof Von Synreght of Amsterdam is here. He cannot speak much English, but gave a reporter to understand that he was here to see Manitoba at her best and make a report to certain Holland interests in the settlement of the Boer farmers after the war. He will remain in Manitoba about two months, and if his report is favorable, a Boer colony will likely be established next year.

Experiment With Balloon.

Paris, July 30.—M. Santos Dumont made another successful experiment yesterday afternoon with a dirigible balloon, sailing it from St. Cloud to the Long Champs race course, around which he steered the balloon and ascended and descended, occupying 20 minutes of time. Though he was asked to make an attempt to go around the Elifel Tower, the aeronaut declined, saying his motor was not yet working as well as he wished. The weather was cloudy, which may have influenced his decision.

Washout at Port Mope.

Port Hope, July 30.—The heavy rains of Sunday evening caused a serious washout on the Midland Railway at this point. The roadbed of the railway has been torn up for a distance of twelve feet south of the bridge, the massive stone work surrounding the dam washed away and the earth swept away, leaving an immense hole, which will have to be filled with stone. During the night the water was running four feet above Outram's dam. The morning trains stopped north of the bridge, and their passengers conveyed to town in busses.

What our Lines Have Cost in Grants. What our Lines Have Cost in Grants, Loans and Bonusse.
In connection with the investigacion at present being conducted by Perof. McLean as to railway rates, Prof. McLean as to railway rates, the following figures prepared by Mr. George Johnston, Dominion Statistician, are of interest;

The Dominion of Canada has granted in bonuses to railways, $90,038,578, and 39,725,130 acres of land.
Of the bonuses the Canadian Pa-ed in bonuses to railways, $90,088,578, and 39,725,130 acres of land. Of the bonuses the Canadian Pacific Railway received 25,000,000 acres of land and $62,742,816 in money, the remainder, both of acres and of doilars being divided among various other railways.

The several provinces bonussed the railways to the amount of $28,700,-251, and the municipalities to the amount of $12,141,086, making a total cash bonusing of $130,879,915. In addition, loans were made to the extent of $24,346,500, of which $15,964,533 was by the province of Canada before Confederation to the Grand Trunk Railway, the amount being taken over by the Dominton as one of the assets of the province. Subscriptions for shares or bonds by the provinces and the municipalities amount to $3,064,500, the Dominion never induged in that form of assistance.

The cost of the Intercolonial Railway and connected branches (not included in the above) was $60,006,192. The total cash outlay for railways by the Dominion, is $166,009,303, by the provinces, $33,905,207, and by the municipalities, $18,382,897, making in all a cesh aid of $218,297,407. The Dominion aid is nearly 16 per cent. of the whole capital invested in railways, she Provincial government aid is $11,50 per cent.; in all a intile over one-fifth of the total invested capital in our railways has been supplied by the public through the governments and municipalities. While the Dominion has added railways to the extent of $8,952 per mile constructed, the province of Quebec has contributed $1,800 per mile. Ontario has contributed $1,800 per mile. Ontario has contributed $1,800 per mile, and Ontario's municipalities have given $1,342 per mile of the 3,414 miles within her borders, and the Quebec municipalities have given $1,342 per mile of the railways within their respective boundaries. New Brunswick has contributed $1,800 per mile. Quebec, therefore, from her own resources, has contributed $1,800 per mile.

McCORMICK MOWERS not only do the work in first-class shape but you don't require to get off the seat to raise cutting bar to vertical position and lock it there. It can be thrown in or out of gear either with foot or hand lev r in any emergency; foot lever raises bar to pass stone, etc., without going out of gear. When out of gear, both gears stop. Wearing plates on bar take all the wear of knife and can be replaced for 10 cents. 4 pins to put in gear so can stop and start in heavy crop without backing or ch king knife. No sagging back of bar as shoe is ennected to draft with strong rod. A 5 foot mower outs full 5 feet, as shoe is set out well from wheel and gives horse plenty room to walk. Oil cup with screw top keeps pitman oiled but wastes no oil. All wearing parts made ceparate and can be replaced at small cost.

McCORMICK BINDERS are easily adjusted for long or short grain.

Open elevators permit long straw to pass up without threshing heads as is done by crowing long grain into closed elevators. Knotter and tension move together when adjusting so there is no sleak or atretched twine. Extra centre roller keeps canvas from sagging in heavy grain. Adjustable rollers at bot ome of elevator and end of platform with spring slackor or tighten canvas easily and quickly. No heavy lifting to put binder on truck, a boy can elevate it. Simple and sure tension that will not fuzz twine. Evenly b lanced. No weight on horses neck. All levers operated from seat. Strongly built but easy running. Knives do not require abarpening. Guards made to suit knife and will out grassy buttom grain with ease. Sheaf carrier that will carry 4 sheaves and set them down evenly, goes with binder. Two knives to out twine. Just what effect Emperor William's beard will have upon European politics is not yet quitee apparent. If his flerce moustache becomes jealous of its new neighbor there will surely be trouble. At any rate not a few words will pass between them.

Admiral Schley has formally deadmiral schieg has formally de-manded of the Navy Department an inquiry into the allegations against him by Maclay in his school history, and Secretary Long has agreed to grant it. Somebody's reputation will suffer, but the public will thus be enabled to get at the facts.

Not a single one of the treaties made by Blaine with the countries of Latin America has been renewed. The kind of "reciprocity" the United States gave under those treaties does not seem to have appealed very strongly to the parties of the second

Young man, if you are not profitably employed, pack your kit and go cut to help to harvest the great wheat crop of the Northwest. The cry of Manitoba, and the Territories is for men - 20,000 of them - and is for men — 20,000 of them — and you can make excellent wages for the time and see the richest wheat country of America. Perhaps you may even decide to take a quarter section of if as a gift from your country, and in time be your own master and on the way to comfort.

There is a row of the first magnitude brewing among Toronto mer-chants over the enormous increases made in the assessment of Yong-st. values, and a hundred and lifty of them have lodged appeals. The merchants last year fought the land value assessment of the big departvalue assessment of the big department shores and an increase of almost fifty per cent. was made. Some of the leaders in that movement occupied land far more valuable, which was assessed much lower relatively, and now the department has holsted them with their own petard. One jewellery store, with 50 feet frontage, is taxable under the new assessment on $109,000, or about $2,000 a foot for the land.

While the experts are wrestling with the "white plague," in London, news white plague," in London, news comes from Paris that a physician, an American, has discovered a new disease upon which he has conferred the euphonious name of Eroso Membraneus Angina. The new malady is a pseuliar form of throat trouble caused by a pestilential microbe of remarkably pleasing appearance. It is to be regretted that the thing had to be discovered. We have got along well enough without it. The French Academy of Medicine is investigating the matter. But perhaps, like appendicitis, this "Eroso, etc.," is only an old enemy with a new face.

This, it is alleged, will tend to raise the premiums on large business places and lower them on residential stores. Residence property is not affected at all. It is expected that the insurance rates on lumber will be increased at an early date.

Magistrate Denison, of Toronto, the other day delivered himself of the opinion that women should have pockets in which to carry their, purses. Now what does any mere police magistrate know about female attire? And what do women carry for any mere analy sopilon? male attire? And what do women care for any mere man's opinion? They will probably continue to carry their purses in their hands — when they don't leave them on store counters and forget them — wear their watches pinned on their bosoms, and in other ways invite loss. What's utility, anyway, compared with the demands of fashion?

The title which King Edward will assume, according to Lord Salisbury's statement in the House of Lords Friday, in order to embrace within its terms his over-seas possessions, is far more modest and fitting than the one with which newspaper rumors have been threatening the King and colonies it reads as follows: "Edward the Seventh, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the seas, King, Defender of the Faith, and Emperor of India." "The British Dominions beyond the seas," is certainly a happy phrase, conveying clearly the idea of unity and inclusion, and avoiding the objections that might lie against the terms "King" and "Emperor," and that would certainly prevail against so sloppy a phrase as "Sovereign Lord."

Voterinary Surgeon in Each Place Putting in Force All the Precautions Called For—Black Leg at Iroquois —The O'Brien Hanging at Dawson The Appointment of Sir Louis Davies.

Louis Davies.

Ottawa, July 30.—The Pasteur Institute at Chicago has run out of anthrax vaccine. This was the news learned by the Department of Agriculture here on applying to the institute for 500 fresh doses. The department obtained 500 doses a skort time ago on the discovery of the anthrax outbreak in Stormont County, and the herds of cattle there are now being inoculated in the hope of preventing the disease from spreading. The supply is, however, nearly exhausted, and application was made to Chicago, with the result stated. Unless the Pasteur Institute obtains vaccine very soon the inoculation of cattle in Stormont County will have to be temporarily suspended. The disease has not only appeared in Stormont County, but also in Russell County at Vars. A veterinary surgeon is now at each place putting in force all the precautions which the situation calls for. It was reported that anthrax had developed at Iroquois, but the disease now turns out to be black leg, which is nearly as bad.

The O'Brien Hanging.

Sir Louis Davies Appointment.

Sir Louis Davies appointment to the Supreme Court bench, which will take place before many weeks are over, would, in the ordinary course of events, create a vacancy on the Joint High Commission. But it does not follow that there will be any vacancy in the present case. Sir Louis is so thoroughly conversant with the matters before the commission that his disappearance from the court would be a serious loss to the Canadian section. His appointment to the bench would not interfere with his acting as a commissioner, and the Government, in its wisdom, may see fit to continue him in the latter capacity in order to retain the benefit of his knowledge and his counsel. Survey of Lake Huron.

Ottawa, July 30.—The hydrographic survey on Lake Huron, which is being conducted by the Marine Department, will be completed this seens on. The work is under the direction of Mr. Fred Anderson, who is on board the steamer Bayfield. The last survey of Lake Huron was made sixty years ago, when the vessels on the inland waters did not draw more than 12 feet of water. It was done very hurriedly, and the soundings were neither numerous nor complete, Next season a survey of Lake Superior will be undertaken if the Government will provide a new steamer, the Bayfield being too old and unseaworthy for such a stormy sheet of water. A hydrographic survey of Lake Winnipeg is now proceeding under Mr. Stewart's direction and will also be finished before the close of navigation.

AGREEMENT REACHED

Steel Trust Magnate and Strike Leader Come Together.

THE TERMS OF THE SETTLEMENT

Ratify or Reject the Terms Proposed to Settle the Steel Workers Strike-Strike News From All Over.

Aittsburg, July 30.—Everybody was on the qui vive last night in strike circles, and the coming conference of the two leaders of the strike circles, and the coming conference of the two leaders of the two contending forces is looked forward to with mingled hope and fear. Hope, however, predominates, and peace is confidently expected by the majority of those interested.

'The Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Association will meet in the headquarters of the organization at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, or as soon as possible thereafter, and take up the propositions of the United States Steel Corporation, for a settlement of the steel workers' strike.''

This statement was made yesterday by Secretary Williams of the Amalgamated Association. Beyond this he declined to discuss the strike in any form There was no change in the position of the two confestants yesterday. Both sides held firmly to the plan of watching each other.

The agreement reached at the New York conference by President J. P. Morgan of the Steel Corporation and President Shaffer and Secretary Williams of the Amalgamated Association is substantially as follows:

'The Amalgamated Association will recede from its demand that all the sheet steel mills be put upon a union basis. The mills that have not been organized under union rules will so remain.

'On the other hand, the corporation will agree to pay a specific scale of wages in all mills, union and non-union, controlled by the American Sheet Steel Company, though all non-union mills shall remain open alike to men with or without union cards.''

Toronto, July 30.—The striking Canadian Pacific Railway trackmen have arranged for a series of meetings to be held at various points on the system, as follows: To-morrow night at Euvelock, Thursday night at Tweed, Friday night at Perth and Saturday night at Smith's Falls. These meetings will be addressed by Donald Wilkinson, Chairman of the Toronto Strike Committee.

Mr. Wilkinson yesterday received a number of letters from strike centres, including a cheque for $10 from the Toronto Street Railway Employes' Union. A letter from North Bend, B. C., stated that at that point the railway superintendents had made several attempts to get the men to return to work, but had failed. Other letters from Winnipeg, Port Arthur and Debic Junction, N. B., stated that the men were standing firm.

In Toronto the strikers have all got employment. They are as confident as ever of winning the strike.

New York, July 20.— It was said yesterday at the headquarters of the striking garment workers and tailors that no definite day could be set for the men to return to work. At least 15,000 would have gone back yesterday, but the action of the Contractors' Association, in making demands upon the manufacturers, blocked progress. Until contractors and manufacturers reach an agreement, a big majority of the strikers will have to remain idle.

SETTLEMENT BY LOTTERY.

13,000 Quarter Sessions Drawn for by 167,000 Applicant.

El Paso, O.T., July 30.—One of the biggest lotteries ever held opened yesterday when 13,000 quarter sections were thrown open to suttlement. One hundred and sixty-seventhousand persons watched the eventhere or at a distance. The drawng took place on a platform built in the open air.

At 9.35 Col. Dyer, on the three commissioners, read the President's prociamation relating to the lrawing. The envelopes were then placed in the wheels, each was turned repeatedly to insure a generous mixing, and then the drawing was en.

The first envelope taken from the wheel contained the name of John R. Wood of Weatherford, oklahema, who had registered for a homestead in the Lawton district.

Mattie H. Beals of Wichita, Kansas, whose birthplace is in Missouri, drew number two, also in the Lawton district. The multitude went frantic over the announcement. Without doubt, Wood and Miss Beal, who have won the right to make the first filings, will select the two quarter sections adjoining the Lawton townsite district, and which are bleved to be worth $40,000 each. When Col. Dyer announced the woman's age as 23, and that her height is the same as that of Mr. Wood, 20,000 persons shouted in chorus: "They must get married."

Number one in the E. Reno district was Stephen A. Foleomb of Paul's Valley. Indian Territory, and number three was Leonard Vamb of Lugusta, Oklahoma.

O'LOUGHLIN & M'INTYRE

We take the following poetic ef-fort from the Peterboro Daily Times, as it refers to an interesting event of which Mr. Wm. Snowdon, of the Snowden house, Peterboro, has tender recollections. Being weilknown in Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and the north country, many will peruse it with pleasure:

Friend Snowden threw his lanky leg over a traveller's "box," Emptied out his old corn cob, with a couple of ringing knocks,

Then filled it up, and took a pull, and stroked his whiskered laws, . And started in to tell the boys what real hot weather was.

He lived in Robert Caygeon, of which he'd often boast,
His memory always kept him cool, when other folks would roast.
Said William: "Tom Boddy says it's hot, Well, now, you ought to see The scorching days we sweltered in July—53.

"It wasn't so much that dogs went mad, and houses tumbled down, As that Cap. Bottum's cattle shrank one half in going to town, But the mercury in the glass kept on always rising higher, The boiling water in Boyd's pond set all the logs on fire.

Calamity Canal, where Tom upset, was dry as any bone,
And Calcutt's lager couldn't be had to temper the torrid zone,
It seemed as if a fire brand had seared each field and tree,
In the hottest summer ever known, way back in fifty-three.

It was so hot the clocks and dishes were melted into junk,
And lee went up terrific, to one hundred plunks a hunk.
'Twas terrible red hot weather (here the speaker choked a laugh),
"For every dollar that you got was melted to a half.

The railroad rails curled up so that not a train could run,
And Johks around boiled coffee, and fried eggs in the sun.
I know its warming up a bit, but you boys can't tell me,
I didn't learn what hot weather was in July-53.

"All the rivers 'round about dried up just like old bones, And fishes by the million were sizzied on the stones. The town hall got on fire and everybody knows, They'd put it out, but t'was so hot they couldn't hold the hose.

Taters buked right in the ground and crops weren't any use.
All the corns on John Petrie's toes popped out through his shoes.
You fellows want to get a chill; just sit down here with me,
And let me tell you about the heat we had in fifty-three.

Before the saie commonder Defore the saies. In some cases buyers refused to take cheese at all, other refused to accept them except at a reduction, others did not come near the factories at all, while others took the cheese without grambling. Then, again, others had them inspected at Montreal, and demanded reductions. Of an eighth or a quarter. We don't sell cheese on this Board, said the President, to be treated in this way, or to be inspected in Montreal, not even by a government inspector, we don't know how long the cheese are on the road to Montreal, or on the platform after they get there. The cheese were reported back as not being fine. They did not claim to sell fine cheese, but first-class others. In Lindsay section, where the weather was just as hot, and the factories no better, Mr. Flavelle had rejected only 25 out of 1,500 bores. If this kind of thing was going to be done on this Board, the factory men well whole the factory well will be a first be a first being on the Board, and prices having gone up, refused the cheese waiter such as the buyers would like it if the factories, after selling on the Board, and prices having gone up, refused the cheese unless given the higher price? The buyers must understand that the sales were subject to the rules of the Board, and cheese must be taken out of the factory during the acated or remain at the risk of the buyers. He also suggested the use of a wedge in fastening the top of bores. Mr. Whitton beard the week to the case.

The Excursion Thursday in Aid of the Library Funds a Success.

The tenth annual excursion in aid If the funds of the Grand Trunk Li-of the funds of the Grand Trunk Dibrary took place Thursday, Orillia being the point selected and the large attendance of railway men, with their wives, families and sweethearts, speaks well for the interest felt in that worthy institution.

The train of nine coaches pulled out about 9.30 in charge of Conductors Greenbury and Harding, with Driver Wilkinson at the throttle. Stops were made at Lorneville Junction, Beaverton and Brechin, where additions were made to the party, and Orillia was reached about 11.30 Most of the excursionists remained on the train and were landed at Couchlehing Park, Orillia's beauty spot, where baskets were unpacked for dinner. At one o'clock Messrs Trew, Robertson, Wright, and other members of the energetic committees in charge of the sports declared the lists open, and event succeeded eyent till late in the afternoon, when a threatening shower induced the committee to abbrehiate the fun somewhat by caling on three and four races at once, there being ample room. The sports were well contested, and afforded no end of anusements to the excursionists and townspeople.

The prizes contributed by our business men were more valuable than usual, and the articles could not be purchased for less than $125. The contributors were Robinson & Ewart, Wm. An East Ward Fire.

A stable owned by Mr. Andrew Go-heen, Queen-st., east ward, was burn-ed to the ground at an early hour

The building was located near his dwelling on the Oakwood road, and was worth between $400 and $800. It is supposed that the fire caught from the stove pipe, a fire having been started in the stove after diner. The building was insured, but about $50 worth of tailow was destroyed, which was not covered by the policy.

He Moved the Stump

Supt. Begbie is carrying his left hand in bandages just now because of a mishap met with last Wednes-day. That morning the men engaged in excavating the land trench for the new Waterworks pipe to cross the river at Bond-st. came on a huge stump below the surface, and at noon Mr. Bebgte exploded a charge of dynamite under the roots. The stump adult budge, and he then put in three charges. Before touching them off with his electric battery he sought cover behind a near-by-bont house. The stump was dislodged and along with it about half a ton of earth and stones, which was distributed over the neighborhood. The 2500 cp. electric lamp used during the night operations was shattered, part of the roof of the boathouse was sent skyward, and some fragments of rock struck Mr. Begbie's left hand, cutting it badly. As a demonstration of the effectiveness of dynamite in removing stumps the experiment was a huge success. the new Waterworks pipe to cros

WEDDING BELLS. Dorgan-O'loole

Dorgan—Cloole

"Buffalo Sunday Times", July 14th. A pretty wedding was solemnized Tucslay morning at 8 o'clock at St. Columba's charch, when Nettle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs, John Dorgan of Eagle street, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles J. O'Toole of Winnipeg. Manitoba, the Rev. S. E. Airey o'fficiating. The bride was daintily gowned in white mousseline de sole, with lace trimmings and was attended by her sister, Miss Celia Dorgan, who wore pale green mousseline de sole with black lace trimmings, and carried a boquet of pink roses. The groomsman was Mr. Charles L. Daly of Toronto. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to the two immediate families. The happy couple left on the noou train for an extended trip through the West and will be at home after November 1st at Winnipeg. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Miss Emily O'Toole, Miss O'Toole and John O'Toole, Miss O'Toole and John O'Toole, Mr. John Davidson, of Toronto; Miss Crough of Ottawa, and Miss Mary Dorgan of Sault Ste. Marie.

Let's Have Particulars.

The Post's Mount Horeb correspondent writes: "The most humane person I met in Kingston Camp in the time of storm was Lieut. Lorne Campbell, of "B" Co., 45th Victoria Regiment." (To the Editor of The Post.)
Mr. Editor,—Allow me space for a few lines of protest, as a citizen, to the manner in which our Public School grounds are kept. I have no reference to the nertion of the Central school grounds to be kept by Mr. Frampton, as his work is well done, but I refer to the larger grounds on Kent-st. and to the grounds of the various other Public schools. In many ways our town is improving, but the keeping of our school grounds is certainly not one of the ways. They are a disgrace to our town. I will venture to remark that no county school grounds are worse kept, as that would be impossible. And I am informed that a horse lawn mower was purchased by the Poard this spring, and has been paid for. If this is so, why is it not in use? I thought to book by his brother members.

Visitors to the town are making very uncomplimentary remarks about it. It the Board as a whole will allow the sites and grounds committee to purcashe a inwir mower for $50 without testing it, they should not only be censured, but should insist on the machine being made to do its work.—Yours, etc.,

Ottawa, July 25.—It has been decided to hold three great military reviews on the occasion of the royal visit to Canada. Toronto will be the scene of the largest. It will probably take place on October 11, and 7,000 men will be mobilized for the occasion. The other reviews will take place at Quebec and Hallfax, and 3,000 men will be brought together at each city. Quebec and Hallfax are chosen because they are the points of arrival and departure respectively of the Royal visitors. At the other places visited by their Royal Highnesses the garrison will be turned out in order to make a military display. A despatch sent out from Montreal is incorrect in stating that a review will take place at Winnipeg. The revised itinerary of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall's tour provides for their visit to Vancouver on October 1st instead of September 30; to Victoria on October 2, instead of October 7 to 12. On October 13 they will be at Niagara, and on the 14th at Hamilton. They will be at St. John, N. B., on October 17, instead of October 19, instead of October 21.

Canada Take Care.

Canada Take Care.

Ottawa, July 25. — Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has cabled the government in reference to a commission which has just investigated the Chinese and Japanese immigration, that care should be taken in dealing with the matter not to do anything that would in any way disturb the good feeling which now exists between Japan and Britain. The commission has not yet reported, but the Premier has always said that the Japanese cought not to be put upon the same standing as Chinese in British Columbia. The feeling against Japanese immigration is not as strong as against Chinese.

Passed Its Second Reading
London, July 25.—In the British House of Lords last night the second reading of the bill altering the terms of the royal declaration was carried by an overwhelming majority. The Roman Catholic peers did not, however, vote for the bill, and, as the extreme Protestants will be alarmed lest security for the maintenance of a Protestant succession should be diminished, it is impossible to expect that the measure will be passed into law without a prolonged and acrimonious debate.

Threatening Detectives.

Ottawa, July 25. — Detective Robillard yesterday received an anonymous letter, warning him if he and "that Toronto detective (Greer) don't give up their work (Morrison mystery), their bodies will be found in the Ottawa River." The detectives regard it as a practical joke. No new developments are reported in the case.

Dr. McKay was accompanied by his younger son and one or two other friends.

Laprairie, Que, July 27. — This town was visited by a disastrous conflagration about 11 o'clock Thursday night. About 50 families were turned out, and among the principal buildings destroyed are the convent, Beauvais' dry goods store, Beauvais' mplement factory and dwelling, Bourassa & Potvin's and 26 dwellings. The Montreal fire beigade arrived in time to save the Roman Catholic Church, the roof of which had caught fire.

London, July 26.—"The rumor as to early peace negotiations, which has prevaded the House of Commons for some days," says The Daily Express, "hus taken the more definite form that Emperor William is soon to assume the role of peacemaker. Mr. Kruger and his advisers are represented as having empowered the Kaiser to act for the Boers, and he is considered willing to take the initiative in order to popularize his relations with the German people, who disapprove his friendship for Great Britain. Something apparently is on foot, whether Emperor William is in it or not."

Mr. Kruger's arrival at The Hague is connected, The Daily Express thinks, with the rumored peace suggestions.

Rochester, N. Y., July 26. — The sheriff's office found important clues in connection with the death of Frank Norton, whose body was found in the Canal at Brockport last Friday, which leads the officials to believe that the young Canadian was the victim of an attack by tramps. A tramp appeared in Brockport on Friday and diappeared on Saturday. By his own story he was present at the scene of the tragedy on Friday, and when seen in the village, he wore bandages on his head to cover wounds which he said were received while helping to repair a canal boat.

Arrest of Malcelm McDonald, Who Had a Ticket for North Dakota.

Paisley, July 24. — Considerable excitement was occasioned here last night by the arrest of Malcolm McDonald on suspicion of being implicated in the poisening of cattle belonging to H. Rudolph a few days ago.

Stomachs of some of the dead cattle were sent to Toronto for analysis, but up to the present no report has been received. Mr. Rudolph, however, has discovered quantities of poison in chree or four places in the field, leading to the conclusion that some person or percons designedly placed the stuff there for the cattle to eat.

But the most important event that has transpired in this case was the arrest of McDonald. He purchased a ticket for Dakota and was about to depart, leaving his harvest uncut, when he was taken into custody. He had in his possession a loaded fivebarrel revolver. The prisoner was taken to Walkerton last evening and will appear before Police Magistrate Millar this morning.

London, July 27. — King Edward presented medals to 3,000 returned Yeomanry at the Horse Guards parade here yesterday. The ceremonial was the same as observed at the former presentation of medals, but the inclement weather robbed the function of its brilliance. Queen Alexandra and Prince Edward, son of the Duke of Cornwall and York, were present. Considerable comment has been aroused by the refusal of 32 mon-commissioned officers and mento attend the ceremony, on the ground that their pay was in arrears. These men have addressed letters to King Edward, pointing out that they cannot submit to be decorated, while their wives and families and some of their number are starving. The claims of the men, who say they have not yet been paid, vary from £63 to £127. Some of the claimants allege that they have had to pawn some of their earlier medals in order to procure food for their families.

WORLD'S CATTLE TRADE.

To Be Controlled Within Ten Years by the I romoter.

London, July 26. — "Standard Oil capital will control the cattle trade of the world within 10 years."

Such was the assertion made lest night by a prominent American promoter who lately accepted the presidency of one of the subsidiary corporations formed by the Standard Oil Company for this purpose. This authority states that the Rockefellers, after a critical survey of the American industrial situation, came to the conclusion that cattle is the most promising investment for the future that the country holds Their statistical experts report that the visible supply of herds suitable for food uses is one midlion head less than a decade ago, and their is a tendency to still greater shrinkage. Already Messrs. John D. William and Frank Rockefeller own extensive ranches in Texas, while Representative John Sibley of Pennsylvania, also interested in the Standard Oil Company, operates large establishments in Florida.

The plan involves ultimate community of interest such as characterized the formation of the Steel Trust and the recent railway pools. Standard interests will foster the growth of breeding farms and ranches in all parts of the country, and when the propitious moment arrives will consolidate them by huge capitalization. Eventually the great packing plants of Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and Milwaukee will be invited to pool their issues.

National Tube Works Ask Men to Sign Contracts to Checkmate Strike.

Pittsburg, July 27. —The National Tube Works Company at McKeesport has made an unsuccessful move, intended to checkmate the Amalgamated Association. Their skilled workmen have been asked to sign individual contracts to practically repudiate any union labor, and they have been given but a short time to think the matter over. It is understood that should they not sign the contracts they will find their positions vacant, and the ax is expected to fall to-day. Late on Thursday evening the 600 wolders of the mills were paid off and then taken into the office of the general superintendent, where they were presented with individual contracts to be signed for at least a year. Some demurred, while others signed the contracts. It is intimated that all will sign.

It is definitely announced that the American Sheet Steel Company will start the Dewees mill at McKeesport us a non-union plant on Monday.

Violent Storm in London

London, July 27.—A hunderstorm, one of the most prolonged if not the most severe that has visited the country for years, was experienced yesterday, and London and the neighborhood had the full share of it.

Traffic for a time was seriously in-terrupted. Outdoor amusements and public functions were stopped. House basements and even the underground railway of the Metropolitan Com-pany were flooded. But for all that, no serious damage up to the present has been reported. Mrs. Langtry's new theatre, the Imperial, was flood-ed, and men of the fire brigade were employed to pump the water out.

International Limited Plays Hav oc With Freight Cars.

NO ONE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A Narrow Escape for Trainmen and Pas sengers-How the Accident Occurred at Toronto-The Mile-a-Minute Train Capably Handled-An Awful Crash When the International Overtook the Yard Freight.

Toronto, July 27.—The Grand Trunk Railway crossing at Eastern avenue was the scene yesterday af-ternoon of a collision which was attended by considerable damage to rolling stock and in which several people narrowly escaped with their lives. Yesterday it was decided to move some old cars from one siding to another siding. The work of re-moving the cars was commenced about 3.00 o'clock, and was being about 3.00 o'clock, and was being performed by a crew from the local yards when the accident occurred. Yard Engine No. 657, in charge of Engineer Hutton, was backed into the siding and was coupled to the cars and the removal commenced under the direction of Yardman O Donaghue. In pulling cut of the siding the train reached the main line tracks, and after clearing it commenced shunting the cars to the other siding. other siding.

About this time the International menced shunting the cars to the other stding.

About this time the International Limited from Mentreal, due to arrive at 4.15 o'clock at the Union Station, was heard to whistle and then rapidly approaching. The train of cars was on the same tracks as the "flyer," and Fagineer Hutton, realizing his position, decided to try and make the siding where he was to leave the empty cars. Hardly had, the freight train started to move when around the bend appeared the flyer, coming fast.

Engineer Ireland, in charge of the International Limited, quickly took in the situation, and at once reversed and applied the air brakes. He was then less than 100 yards from the freight train, and although slackening up he knew that a collision was unavoidable.

Engineer Hutton opened wide the throttle of his engine and attempted, if possible, to reach the siding and get clear of the main line.

Despite all efforts of Engineer Ireland his train still ran on, and when just at the crossing crashed into the locomotive attached to the freight cars with tremendous force. All was excitement. Passengers on the "flyer" were thrown out of their seats, both engines were off the tracks, and seven of the freight cars were thrown down the enbankment. The crash was heard for many blocks and soon people were hurrying to the wreck from all points.

Notwithstanding the danger the crews of both engines remained at their posts until the collision. Presengers made hasty exits from the the coaches, some crawled through the windows and others guined an entrance through the cloors. Inside of a few moments all passengers had left the cars.

The force of the collision threw one freight car over another, break-entrance through the doors. Inside of a few moments all passengers had left the cars.

The force of the collision threw one freight car over another, breaking one in two parts, leaving the trucks of several and tossing one on top of the house occupied by the gate man at the crossing, and carrying it down the embankment.

The engine on the freight train had broken away in the collision, and was badly damaged. The front of the locomotive on the "flyer" was also demolished, but the passenger cars remained on the tracks.

Word was sent to the Toronto yards, and soon a wrecking train was at the scene. About 9 o'clock the tracks were cleared, and the line was once more open for ttaffic. It was necessary to replace two rails, which were twisted out of place.

The damage occasioned by the collision will be considerable. The seven freight cars wrecked will be a complete loss, excepting the trucks, which will be saved. The other damage was done to the two engines, rails and gate man's house.

According to Mr. White, the engineer

RHEUMATISM

KINDS, CAUSE AND CURE.

Rheunatism of any kind is always attended with pain. There are in reality but two causes, although they manifest themselves in five or six different forms of rheunatism. Muscular rheumatism, in which the muscles in different parts of the body are inflamed, swollen and painful; joint rheumatism, heart rheumatism and lumbago all have their origin in the blood. This indicates a kidney weakness, and demands of kidney weakness, and demands of kidney weakness, and demands of kidney weakness, from a general run-down condition of the blood. In each of the above forms and for all manifested symptoms of rheumatism there is no medicine which offers such a chance for cure as Merrill's System Tonic. It is not only a kidney medicine, but its blood purifying properties rid the system of all accumulated uric acid. Then, too, System Tonic is the greatest tone, blood, bone and tissue maker known, and will enrich the blood, feed and revive the starved nerves, thus making a cure for your rheumatism from whatever cause. Several hundred hopeless cases have already been cured, and more are being cured every day. Will you try it?

Alleged Counterfeiter Caught.

Woodstock, July 27.—Albert Kipp of Princeton is in the County Jail on a very serious charge, that of uttering counterfeit coin. He passed a bad quarter on his brother-in-law, a man named Gum, who runs an ice cream parlor, and Gum turned it over to the police. Later Kipp returned and wanted the quarter back. The police are investigating Kipp's movements, it having been learned that he and another young man were engaged in suspicious operations on Horner's Creek on July 17. They had a fire, and since then molten metal has been found lying around where the fire was. Alleged Counterfeiter Caught.

Raden-Powell, dated Zuurfontein, Transwaal, of which the following is a copy:

"Will you forgive my writing you a short note to tender my gratitude for all that you have done in assisting the development of the force with whose organization I am charged? By your good offices the Canadian contingent has been added to our establishment, and with the excellent material of which it is formed it will be a valuable addition to our strength. I have learned in the recent campaign to admire and to appreciate the worth of the Canadians in the field, and am, therefore, truly glad to welcome your contingent to our corps. Comprising, as it does, men from every one of our great colonies, as well as from the home country, the South African Constabulary is par excellence an Imperial corps, and as such I hope it will typify the empire itself as working honestly and harmoniously in the great work of bringing peace and prosperity over the territories now added to our rule. And in this good work the Canadians will have a prominent share. I trust the connection thus commenced between Canada and South Africa is but an augury of a close and profitable connection in the future. I am, sir, yours faithfully (signed) R. Baden-Powell, Inspector-General, South African Constabulary."

Winnipeg, July 27.—General Manager McNicoll of the C. P. R. returned yesterday morning from a trip west and northwest. In reply to an inquiry regarding the harvest prospects, he said: "The crops promise a splendid yield. I found the business men and farmers everywhere in high spirits, as well they may be."

One thing troubling them is the where in high spirits, as well they may be."

One thing troubling them is the probable scarcity of harvest hands. The Canadian Pacific Railroad Company, the Manitoba Government and the Government at Ottawa are doing all in their power to secure harvestors, but wages in the east are very high, and it may not be as easy to get as many as are required. "Another thing the farmers and grain buyers are anxious about is whether we shall be able to move the immense crop to Lake Superior before navigation closes. I may say on that point that we are making very large additions to our rolling stock and motive power and will be in a position to take care of the traffic, provided we are given a fair chance.

"I have just wired Mr. Kom the

"I have just wired Mr. Kerr to run harvesters' excursions two weeks this year instead of one. The excursions will be running from Aug. 5 to 17."

Pretoria Report That He Will Give Up His Command Aug. 31.

BRITISH FOUGHT THEIR WAY OUT

Small Garrison Compelled to Evacuate Bremersdorp-Attacked by a Superior Force of Bo-rs-Fighting All the Way to Lebombo, 16 Miles Distant-Casualties 10, a Few Missing.

London, July 29.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Standard, confirming the rumors which have been in circulation for a fortnight in London, says: "Mail advices say it is reported in Fretoria that Lord Kitchener will give up his command on Aug. 31 and proceed to England, where he will remain five months, then taking over the supreme command in India, and that Sir Bindon Blood is expected to succeed him in South Africa."

— General Neville 6. Lyttleton.

General Neville G. Lyttleton London, July 29. — It is freely ru-mored that Major-General Neville G. Lyttleton will succeed Lord Kitchener as Commander-in-Chief of the forces in South Africa.

Victory for Boers.

Victory for Boers.

Lord Kitchener telegraphs the War Office as follows:

"Stephenson reports that a detachment of Steinacker's Horse was forced to evacuate Bremersdorp (in Swaiziland, Southeastern Transvanl) last Wednesday by a superior force, probably the Amsterdam and Relief commandos from the south. Our men fought their way 16 miles to Lebombo. We had ten killed and wounded, and there are a few missing."

wounded, and there are a few missing."

Spruyt Killed.

Johannesburg, July 29.— Boer Commandant Spruyt was killed yesterday while endeavoring to cross the Heidelberg line.

Prisoners Fight.

Jamestown, St. Helena, July 29.— Bad blood among the Boer prisoners in St. Helena over the question of taking the oath of allegiance to King Edward has led to so much disorder that it has been necessary to remove those who have taken the oath to a separate enclosure. There were several severe encounters, and the Vigilance Committee of the irreconcilables subjected those who liad taken the oath to indescribable indignities. The ringleaders have been imprisoned in the fortress.

Threw Away Medals.

London, July 29.— The drinking places in the Strand Saturday evening were filled with members of the Imperial Yeomanry, some of whom astonished their friends by throwing their war medals upon the floor and stamping upon them. These medals were given by King Edward to the Yeomanry Saturday morning. In explanation of their anger the Yeomen alleged that the government was in arrears with their pay and referred to the blunders of officials. One Yeomen said: "Our names are misspelled and our rank and command are wrong in six cases out of ten. We supposed the medals would be worth something to our friends and posterity, but mine is not worth anything but to chuck away."

The example of this man was followed by many others.

Not to Visit Kruger.

London, July 29. — The latest peace rumor, to the effect that Mr. Choate, the American Ambassador, had gone to Holland to act as an intermediary between Great Britain and the Boers at the request of Mr. Kruger, is altogether without foundation. Mr. Choate is attending to his business in London.

In Touch With Boers.

Rotterdam, July 29. — There was received yesterday private information from an authoritative source to the effect that Mr. Kruger and Dr. Leyds are in secret daily communication with the Boer forces in South Africa.

It is also asserted that the expresident and his plenipotentiary receive the British War Office telegrams as quickly as the British vulnorities themselves. From this it is inferred that there is a leak somewhere within the British lies.

Mr. Kruger's health is very unsatisfactory.

Payment of War Gratuity.

Ottawa, July 29.—The accountant of the Militia Department has issued 1,800 cheques for the payment of the Imperial war gratuity to Canadians. There still remain about 700 Canadians to be paid. In the case of the death of the soldier entitled to receive it, the money goes to the next of kin.

Canada's Preference.

London, July 29.—A Blue Book issued Saturday shows that, in the discussion of King Edward's title, Earl Minto, Governor-General of Canada, gave preference to the following reading:

"King of Canada, Australasia, South Africa, and all the British Dominions beyond the seas."

The other colonies, however, preferred the title which was finally selected.

Strike May Prove Injurious to the Farm ers of the Northwest—A Sympathetic Meeting Held at Peterboro—Strikers in the West Are Taking up Other Employment-The Present Condition of Things.

Winnipeg, July 27.—Speaking con-cerning the trackmen's strike in the west, General Manager McNicoll said yesterday:
"As matters stand just now, the west, General Manager McNicoll said yesterday:

"As matters stand just now, the trackmen's strike in the old provinces is practically over, but in Manitoba and the Territories our old trackmen who want to go back and the new men whom we are employing are intimidated and driven off at many points. The intimidation is carried on by a few strikers whom nothing can satisfy, and by irresponsible persons in the smaller towns, who, I am sure, in no way represent the true state of public opinion. Then again meetings are being held, and wild resolutions passed by the irresponsible persons, which are telegraphed all over the continent to the immense injury of Manitoba, outsiders being led to believe that this part of the Dominion is in a state of anarchy, and that it will be impossible to get the present magnificent crop to market. The intimidation to which our trackmen are subjected extends to other labor which we are bringing in, the upshot being that we are prevented from building certain branch lines and extensions that are sorely needed. I venture to think that if the farmers and stock keepers at the places referred to would calmly reflect on the situation, they would perceive that they are quite as much interested in getting the strike settled in order that the crop may be promptly moved and the general business of the country, handled as it ought to be in this period of prosperity."

The Tuberculosis Congress and Its Final Resolutions—No Relaxation in Milk and Meat Inspection.

Resolutions—No Relaxation in Milk and Mest Inspection.

London, July 27. — At the final meeting of the British Congress on Tuberculosis, held yesterday, under the presidency of Lord Derby, resolutions were adopted in favor of legislation towards the suppression of expectoration in public places, and recommending the notification of the proper authorities in cases of phthisis and the use of pocket spittoons, asserting that these sanitary provisions were indispensible in order to diminish tuberculosis.

A resolution was adopted, expressing the opinion of the congress that the health officers should continue every effort to prevent the spread of tuberculosis through milk and meat, and that, as the doubts concerning human immunity from bovine tuberculosis raised by Dr. Koch were of vital importance to the public health and the agricultural interests of the country, the government should immediately institute a rigid inquiry into the identity of human and bovine tuberculosis.

Whole Province in state of Unrest and Many Chinese Killed.

Victoria, B. C., July 27. —Advices from the Orient by the steamer Duke of Fise include details of a rising in Manchuria. The whole province of Shing Kung is in a state of insurrection, rebels are pillaging, burning and killing, and whole villages have been burned. The Russian forces are entirely inadequate to maintain order. Several thousand rebels have possession of Antung and Kiu Lien Ching. Chinese insurgents crossed the border into Corea, but were driven back by the Corean troops.

The pirates, who recently appeared along the coasts of Shang Tung and Liao Tung, were pursued by a Chinese transport, and a number of them were decapitated.

The Russians have despatched a force from Hai Cheng to attack the insurgents.

Wang Wen Sao and Lu Chuan Lin, both anti-foreign in their sentiments, are losing favor, and their removal from the Cabinet in the near future is considered probable.

Li Chin Fang, Li Hung Chang's adopted son, is mentioned as likely soon to succeed Wu Ting Fang at Washington.

Caught in a Buggy Wheel.

Caught in a Buggy Wheel.

Roseville, July 27.— A serious accident happened near here yesterday, as a result of which Frank Olemens, the 10-year-old son of Mr. D. W. Clemens of this place, now lies in an unconscious condition at his home and may die. The little fellow was entangled in the hind wheel of the buggy is which he was riding, which made a number of revolutions before the horse could be stopped. The boy and his clothing had become wound up in such a way that the wheel had to be removed from the buggy in order to extricate him. Slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.,

...A GOOD RESULT...

Policy No. 762 on the life of Mr. G, A. Sargison, of Victoria, B. C., has lately become a claim through the death of the assured. Particulars of the case are as follows:

Date of issue, March, 1851; age at issue, 24; yearly premium, $21.90; number of premiums paid, 50; total payments of premiums, $1,095.

Sum Assured $1.200 Profits Added 1,695 Total Assurance 2,295 Sum Assured

It will be seen that by a coincidence the profits added are exactly the same in amount as the total of premiums paid. The risk on Mr. Sargison's life was carried for fifty years, and at the end of that time every cent he had paid in premiums, together with the sum of $1 200, was handed his heirs.

Freemasonry in Canada

Freemasonry was introduced into Canada by the British army, many of the British regiments having Masonic lodges in connection with them, chartered by the grand lodges of Esgland, Scotland and Ireland, says the conductor of the lodges column in the London Free Press. The first In the London Free Press. The first Masonic communication supposed to have been held in Montreal was at the time of the capitulation to General Amherst's army. Several of the existing lodges in Canada were direct lineal descendants of British military lodges, the Lodge of Antiquity in that city being by direct descent, the same lodge as existed in the 46th Regiment of Foot during its long and bloody campaigns in America. The 46th has lately, under its new tile, the Second Battalion of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, become familiar to Canadians as forming a part of the same brigade as the Canadian Infantry in South Africa, and charging with them the first day at Paardeberg.

Lightning's Freaks.

Whitby Ch onicle: During an electrie storm lightning struck a locust-tree at the end of Mr. Wm. Jeffrey's house, a mile and a half north of Brooklin. A limb of the tree, about house, a mile and a half north of Brookin. A limb of the tree, about ten feet, was slivered. Then the lightning jumped from that and exploded the chimney, and following the stove-pipes set fire to the soot and exploded the pipes. Then following the stove-pipes set fire to the soot and exploded the pipes. Then following the pipes across one room through a partition, the lightning then ran down to the stove, leaving it by boring a whole through the floor at each of the four legs. Compart of the bolt came through the ceiling, close to the wall, bored a round hole about the siez of an allie, ran along about 20 luches on the wall knocking off the plaster, left a solid piece of about three feet, then again tore off plaster, inth and paper on one side of the partition, and then ran three or four feet down the wall and tore off the plaster on the other side of the partition. Three women and a little girl were in the room at the time. They were, for two hours, all stunned by the shock, and they could only remember that the room seemed to be full of balts of fire. There had not been any fire in the stove for several weeks.

What to Eat in Summer.

They flain't arranged it so
That folks can quite afford to not be decent here below.

I don't pretend to know it all, and mebby there's a way
That's better than the one our mothers wanted us to take,
They may find a fairer doctrine or arrange a creed some day
That'll not have any flaws in andily neither bend nor break;
But with all their college learnin' and their serentin' high and low, And their great philsophisin' there is one thing they lorget—
They can take the creeds and smash 'em and bring out their proofs to show That the old religion's feolish, but there ain't none of them yet Found a way that can fix it so we needn't try nor care
To be righteous or be decent and still feep a-gettin' there.

The ones that keep a-kickin' at the old religions most Ain't worried over whether Moseareally talked with God.
And I guess they'd find it easy to accept the Holy Ghost,
If by doin's os there wasn't a straight path to be trod—What we want's a new religion that'll 'et us all be free
To give our inclinations a loose rein and let 'em go;
But none of these here creeds they're gettin' up, it seems to me, is helpin' out a speek, and what's the use, I'd like to know?
If the ones that turn and get the new religions they arrange Must still keep bein' good, whywhat's the use of enny change?

IDEAL HOLIDAY

STURGEON POINT TO LAKE-FIELD AND RETURN, VIA LINDSAY.

The beauties of the Kawartha Lakes are perhaps nowhere more thoroughly appreciated than by fortunate individuals who revel in the cool breezes and invigorating ezone at Sturgeon Point. The very fact that this charming resort annually attracts visitors from the extremes of Canada and the States, is sufficient guarantee that the lakes are in realty becoming the great surficent guarantee that the lakes are in reality becoming the great play-ground of the continent,—a mecca to which thousands of weary beings come for health and rest and from whose life-giving air they derive all the benefit and more of the pleasure than is elsewhere to be found.

dot the water and passing through the Marvellous Floating Bridge,

the only structure of its kind in Canada, swiftly leaves the waters of Chemong behind, and enters Backhorn Lake, where a gradual change is to be observed in the general configuration of the land. Indeed, it is peculiar to this trip that there seems to be a never-ending change of scenery occurring, atmost in the nature of a chmax, from the broaders occurring, atmost in the nature of a chmax, from the broaders of scenery occurring, atmost in the nature of a chmax from the broaders of Stony Lake to the perfect maze of islands that dot the limpid waters of Stony Lake. At Buckhorn the steamer locks through into Deer Lake, where the scenery becomes more and more enchanting. As the tourist is hurried swiftly along the calm waters, alluring vistas open before his eyes; deep shaded waterways—dear to the heart of the canceist—welnd away amongst the islands until lost to sight as the boat speeds on her way.

Reaching Lovesick, the steamer, locks through into Lovesick Lake, and the traveller, viewing the great rugged granite, and the moss-covered rocks down which the rapids dash swiftly along, can picture with but a slight effort of the imagination. The Scene of the Tragedy that gives the romantic little spot its name; the Indian girl standing on the sharp promontory of frowning granite that juts out into the waters, watching her lover in his frail cano: as he shoots swiftly down the dangerous passage in his eagerness to clasp her again to his breast, and seeing with all the impotent anguish of her stricker heart, his light barque caught in the treacherous currents and dashed against the jagged rocks that gleam in the yushing waters,—into which, in the hope-lessness of her love, she plunges to be one with him in death, if not in life.

Through beautiful little Lovesick

rushing waters,—into which, in the hope-lessness of her love, she plunges to be one with him in death, if not in life.

Through beautiful little Lovesick Lake past the numerous little gleaming lagoons that vanish behind the gloom and shade of the luxuriantly covered islands, until, gliding between two great rocks, whose jarged sides almost touch! the steamer, the tourist is landed at Burleigh falls, where the water plunges madly over the massive boulders in a tumultuous rush of frothing, surging waves, into the myriad passages and calm depths of fairy-like Stony Lake.

At Burleigh Falls, where are situated the great 25 foot locks of the Trent Valley Canal, a change is made from the Ogemal; to the Trent Valley Navigation Company's steamer Sunbeam. The latter, a fine modern screw-steamer, swift and comfortable, lies below the locks, and the connection is made easily and at 1.15 pm. the pleasure-seeker leaves for the tortuous route through Stony Lake.

The first view of the lake, leaving Burleigh, cannot fail to fill the onlooker with surprise and pleasure. On everly side rise the tree-crowned heights of the rocky islands, covered with a luxurlance of moss and grass and flowers, the whole the site of some dainty little cottage, whose immates, with flags and hand-kerchiefs, and bright flowers, the scene forming in its entirety a most delightful picture.

From Stony Lake the route lies down the broad expanse of Clear Lake, and as one gazes down the long unbroken stretch of water, it comes almost as a relief from the confusing Gistas, the superabundance of beautiful scenes that greet the eye during the intricate passage of Stony Lake. As the boat speeds along over the mirrow-like surface of the lake, the shores flitting by disclose here and there the white gleam of a tent, while the campers, from the vantage point of some massive boulder, salute the passing steamer with the "camaraderie" that is peculiar to those who are reveiling in the delights of "camping out."

At the foot of Clear Luke, a short sall through a narrow tree-lined passage brings the steamer to Young's Point, where she is lowered to the level of

COMMUNICATIONS

The Coboconk Road

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper in which to make a few statements which are necessary to clear up certain matters in regard to money granted by the Provincial government for the improvement of the Coboconk-Burnt River road.

Last summer a number of persons with myself, interested in the improvement of the above-mentioned road made representations to the Provincial government in regard to the road, which resulted successfully. And a grant was in due time forwarded to Mr. James Rettie, of Burnt River, It was known that the money had been granted and we freely made statements to that effect. A short time previous to the Dominion elections the existence of the grant was denied by persons who were maliciously telling untruths or who were to carcless to ascertain the facts. Many of us think that Mr. Rettie should have expended the money as soon as he was appointed commissioner, but it seems he thought he was to await more definite instructions from one of the government road inspectors.

The facts, which are easily obtainable, are as follows;
Two hundred and thirty dollars were malled from the department, at Carleton-st., P.O., in Toronto in registered letter No. 326 to James Rettie, Buntt River, P.O., on the 17 of October, and was received at the latter office on the 18th, and acknowledged by Mr. Rettie on the 19 of the same month. The registration book of the Burnt River P.O. contains Mr. Rettie's signature for the letter and any one can easily drop a card to Mr. S. Suddaby, postmaster, and learn for himself the truth of the above. Mr. Rettle freely acknowledges to all comers that he has the money, and that the improvements are to be made at once Now, Mr. Editor, the foregoing should satisfy any reasonable man that we were acting in good fatth and knew whereaff we were speaking in giving publicity to the existence of the grant, and I think our calumniators if they are possessed of common honesty should give us credit for our successful endeavors to have our roads

Special Council Meeting.

A special meeting of Council was held after the adjournment of the Court of Revision, Mayor logic in the chair and all the members present except Aid. Sinclair.

Considerable discussion arose over the proposed sewers on Simcoe and Collourne-sts.

Solicitor Hopkins stated that two parties who had signed the first pellition asking for a sewer on Simcoest, have also signed a second petition requesting the sewer not to be constructed. In his opinion the original petition had been complied with according to the statutes. It had the necessary two-thirds signatures, the Commissioner has made his report and it has been adopted by the Council. After the petition has gone through all these stages some of the petitioners are desirous of withdrawing their names. He was anxious to have justice done and the Council should not go against the wish of the ratepayers, but under the circumstances it is not for the Council to settle but the County Judge.

Mr. McSweyn, on behalf of the petitioners objecting to the proposed work stated that no expense had been incurred in connection with the Simce-st, sewer, only with the exception of the time spent by the

The Court of Revision to hear appeals against assessments, measurements, etc., of the proposed Colbornest, was held Wednesday at ten o'clock. Ald. O'Rielly in the chair; present Mayor Ingle, Ald. Touchburn, Jackson, Robson and Hore.

The Chairman declared the Court counting assessing open to appeals.

Miss Gourlay appeared claiming her assessment to be excessive. She said that the measurement of her property on Colbournesst, was 112 feet instead of 118 feet. The measurement was taken from an old post in front of the lot. There was a mistake made it putting up the fence.

On motion of Ald. Touchburn, seconded by Mayor ingle, Miss Gourlay's assessment was reduced to 112 feet and the extra foot added to Mr. Flavelle's assessment.

Mr. J. D. Graham and Mr. Warren Worsely objected to the assessment was reduced at 112 feet.

Mr. Hunter appealed and succeeded in having his assessment reduced six inches and Mr. Broad's assessment was also reduced from 58 feet to 54 feet 6 inches.

CHAPTER II.

In my bedroom the next morning there was a sad and heavy heart. The owner woke up, stared at the celling, then at the sun baked bricks beyond his window. He saw not the glory of the sun and the heavens. To his eyes there was nothing poetic in the flash of the distant church spires against the billowy cloud banks. The gray doves, circling about the chimneys, did not inspire him nor the twittering of the sparrows on the window ledge. There was nothing at all in the world but a long stretch of barren, lonely years. And he wondered how without her at his side he ever could fraverse them. He was driftwood again. He had built upon sands as usual, and the tide had come in; his castle was fotsam and jetsam. He was drifting, and he didn't care where. He was very sorry for himself, and he had the blue devils the worst kind of way. Finally he crawled out of bed and dressed because it had to be done. He was not particularly painstaking with the procedure. It mattered not what collar became him best, and he pleked up a tie at random. A man generally dresses for a certain woman's approval, and when that is no longer to be gained he grows indifferent. The other women do not count.

My breakfast consisted of a cup of

My breakfast consisted of a cup of coffee, and as the generous nectar warmed my veins my thoughts took a philosophical turn. It is fate who writes the was, the is and the shall be. We have a proverb for every foy and misfortune. It is the only consolation fate gives us. It is like a conqueror asking the vanquished to witness the looting. All roads lead to Rome, and all proverbs are merely signposts by which we pursue our destinles. And how was I to get to Rome? I knew not. Hope is better than clairvoyance. Was Phyllis right when she said that I did not truly love her? I believed not. Should I go on loving her all my life? Undoubtedly I should. As to affinities, I had met mine, but it had groved a one sided affair.

It was after 10 by the clock when I remembered that I was to meet the lawyer, the arbiter of my new fortunes. Money is a baim for most things, and coupled with travel it might lead me to forget. He was the family lawyer, and he had come all the way north to see that I received my uncle's bequest. He was bent, gray and partially baid. He must have been close to 70, but for all that there was a youthful twinkle in his eyes as he took my card and looked up into My breakfast consisted of a cup of he took my card and looked up into my face.

"So you are John Winthrop?" he said in way of preliminary. You may hand a cardease full of your name to a law-yer and still he will insist upon a verbal admission.

"I have always been led to believe so," I answered smartly, placing my hat beside the chair in which I sax down. "How did you manage to locate me in this big city?"

"Your uncle had seen some of your signed articles in New York papers and said that in all probability I should find you here. A few inquiries set me on your track." Here he pulled out a lengthy document from his handbag. "I confess, however," he added, "that I am somewhat disappointed in your looks."

"I knew your mother," said the lawyer, going to the window and looking out and beyond all that met his gaze.

"To think," I went on, cooling none, "that my mother's brother should die in this manner nourishing so small and petty a spile! When he did this, he knew that I should understand his motive. In the first place, I never dreamed that he would remember me in his will—never entertained the least idea of it. I am independent; I am earning a livelihood, small, but enough and to spare. I'll bid you good morning." I took a step toward the door.

"Young man, sit down," said the old man, coming back to his chair. "I want to talk to you for a few minutes, Your uncle was a peculiarly vindictive man. What he considered a wrong he neither forgot nor forgave. His son pleaded with him not to put in that final clause. He offered even to share with you. Your uncle swore he would leave it all to the stablemen first. This journey was forced upon me, or I should not have taken it. This is my advice to your. Accept the check and in the privacy of your room tear it up or light a cigar with it; that's about all it's worth. You will feel no little satisfaction in lighting a cigar with it—that is, it you are anything like me. Thing of it—a thousand dollars to light your cigar! It is an opportunity not to be missed. When you grow old, you will say to your grandchildren, 'Once I lit a cigar with a thousand dollar check.' The oldest inhabitant will be silenced forever. It may become history. And then, too, if there are spirits, as Scripture says there are, your uncle will writhe at the performance. I trust that you will forgive me my part in the matter. I have taken a fancy to you, and if you will accept my friendship is shall be happy to accept yours. You uncle's revenge will not be a marker to the restitution his son will make."

"Restitution! His son?"

"Restitution! His son?"

the restitution his son will make."
"Restitution! His son?"
"Yes. To my sincere regret he is an invalid who may or may not live the year out. He has already made a will in which he leaves all to you. The will is in my safe at home. I return tonight, so I may not see you again in this world of sin and tribulation." The merry twinkle had returned to his eyes. merry twinkle had returned to his eyes.
"I am very old."
"It is worth all the trouble to have

"It is worth all the trouble to have met you," said I. "You should have made the jolt very easy."

So we shook hands, and he gave me a cigar, around which was wrapped the check. He winked; then he laughed, and I joined him, though my laughter resembled mirth less than it did the cackle of a hen which was disturbed over the future of her brood. I left him and went down into the wineroom and ordered a stiff brandy and soda. When that disappeared, I ordered another. I rattled the ice in the glass. "Ha, ha, ha!" I roared as the events of the past 24 hours recurred to me. There must have been a suicidal accent to my laughter, for the bartender lookto my laughter, for the bartender look to my laughter, for the bartender looked at me with some concern. I called for another brandy and shot the soda into it myself. I watched the foam evaporate. "Ha, ha, ha?"
"Hard luck?" the bartender asked sympathetically.
"Yes," said I. I seemed to be speaking to several bartenders who looked at me with several varieties of compassion.

I shuddered. The word "check" jarred on my nerves.

"What's the matter?" asked the edi-

"A temporary chill," I said. "Go on."

"Well, if you can manage to keep him in check for a month or so, heel he able to get on his feet ngain. And it will be like a vacation to you. If anything happens to Hillars, you will be expected to remain permanently abroad. Hillars suggested you in his letter. Will you be ready to po mext. Monday?"

"Tomorrow, ir you like," I answered readily enough.

I was much pleased with the turn of events. If I could get away from New York, I might forget Phyllis—no, not forget her, but the prolonged absence would cure me of my malady.

Before going to bed that night I lit a cigar, but not with the check. On sober second thought I calculated that the sum would pay up all my debts and leave me a comfortable margin. A man can well pocket his pride when he pockets a thousand dollars with it. And why not? I was about to start life anew and might as well begin on a philosophical basis. Who knew but my uncle had foreseen the result of his bequest; my rage, my pride, and finally lighting a cigar with his check? It really might make his spirit writhe to better effect if I became benefited. Sober second thought Is more or less a profitable investment.

On the morrow everything was arranged for my departure. I was to leave Saturday morning:

It was a beautiful day, crisp and clear, with a bare ground which rang do the heel. In the afternoon I wandered over to the park and sat down on a bench and watched the skaters as they glided to and fro. I caught myself wishing that I was a boy again, with an hour's romp on the sheeny crust in view. Gradually the manule of peace fell upon me, and there was a sense of rest. I was going to forgive the world the wrong it had done me. Perhaps it would feel ashamed of itself and reward me for my patience. So Hillars was "going to pieces." It is strange how we men love another who has shared and spent with us our late patrimonies. Hillars and I had been friends since our youth, and we had lived together till a few years back. Then he went to Washington, f whr. It night be a woman. There is always one around somewhere when a man's breath smells of whisky. A good deal of this woman's temperance bus/aces is caused by remorse. I was drzwing aimless pictures in the frozen gravel when I became aware that two skaters had stopped in front of me. I glanced up and saw Phyllis and Ethel, the stream of their checks.

said Ethel. "Phyllis, where is my cavaller?"

"I believe he has forsaken us," said the voice of the woman I loved.

"Will you not accept part of the bench?" I asked, moving along.

The girls dropped easily beside me.

"I was just wishing I was a boy again and was in for a game of hockey," said I. "I am going to London on Saturday. Our foreign correspondent has had to give up work on account of ill health."

Phyllis looked away again. A vague perfume from her hair wafted past my nostrils, and for a space I was overwhelmed with sadness. Soon I disserned Mr. Holland speeding toward us. "I shall not see you again," I said, "so I'll bid you goodby now. If you should chance to come abroad this summer, do not fail to look me up."

"Good luck to you," said Ethel, shaking my hand. "You must bring home a princess or a duchess." Then she moved off a way, thoughtfully.

And then—and then they sped away, month. I shall always be interested in your career." The smile faltered as she put out her gloved hand. "You will make some man happy, Phyllis," I said. "Goodby."

"Goodby."

"Goodby."

And then—and then they sped away, and I followed them with dimming gaze till I could see them no more. I trudged home.

I stood on the upper deck. The spires and domes of the city faded on my sight till all merged into a gray, smoky patch on the horizon. With a dead cigar elinched between my teeth I watched and watched with a callous air. as though there had been no wrench, as though I had not left behind all I loved in the world. And yet I gazed, the keen salt air singing past my ears till there was nothing but the sea as far as the eye could scan.

Thus I began the quest of the elusive, which is a little of love, a little of adventure and a little of all things.

"Is he ill?" I asked, as I carried a thair to the window.
"Ill?" The young man coughed affectedly.

"Do you believe it possible for him

"Do you believe it possible for him to come in this afternoon?"

"It is quite possible. One does not use the word impossible in regard to Hillars. It is possible that he may be in St. Petersburg by this time, for all I know. You see," with an explanatory wave of the hand, "he's very uncertain in his movements. For the last six months he has been playing all over the table, to use the parlance of the months he has been playing all over the table, to use the parlance of the roulette player. I have had to do most of the work and take care of him into the bargain. If I may take you into my confidence"— with some hesitancy, "Certainly," said I. "I want you to tell me all about him. He was my roommate at college. Perhaps I can straighter him up."

roommate at college. Perhaps I can straighted him up."

"The truth is, the trouble began last September. He came back from the continent, where he had been on an errand, a changed man. Hillars always drank, but never to an alarming extent. On his return, however, he was in a bad shape. It was nearly November before I got him sobered up, and then he went under on an average of three times a week. I asked him bluntly what he meant by it, and he frankly replied that if he wanted to drink himself to death that was his business. When he isn't half seas yer, he is gloomy and morose. From the first I knew that something had gone wrong on the mainland, but I change or place I haw. Inche many much difference between New York and London except in the matter of locomotion. The American gets around with more rapidity than does his English cousin, but in the long run he accomplishes no more. It is only when one steps on to the continent that the real difference in the human races is discerned. Strange as this may seem, it is not distinguishable in a cosmopolitan city. Suddenly my roving eyes rested upon a familiar face. It was Hillars, and he was pushing rapidly across the street. Any one would have instantly marked him for an American by the nervous stride, the impatience at being obstructed. I went into the fireroom, intending to give him a little surprise. I did not have long to wait. The door to the main office opened, and he came in singing a snatch from a drinking song we used to sing at college. The rich baritone that had once made the old giec club famous was a bit husky and throaty.

"Dick" ne caned. "Int, Dick! Well, I'm banged!" Evidently he had discovered my cable.

"You old reprobate!" I cried. "Not to have met me at the station even."

"Bless my soul, Jack, this cable was the first intimation that you were within 3,000 miles of London. But it does my heart good to see you!" pumping my hand again. "Come out to dinner with me. Now don't begin to talk till we've had something to eat. I'm almost famished. I know all the questions you want to ask, but not now. There's a Bohemian joint a block above that'll do your heart good to see. We'll have chops and ale, just like we did in the old days, the green and salad days. I would they were back again," soberly. "Oh, I've a long story to tell you, my son. Time enough when we get to my rooms. But not a word of it now—not a word. It will all be forgotten in ten minutes with you. We'll rake up the old days and live 'em over for an hour or so. I'm glad that I suggested you in my letter. What did the old man say about my nervous prostration?" with half a laugh.

"He put quotation marks around it."

nervous prostration?" with half a laugh.

"He put quotation marks around it," I answered. "I wanted to see you particularly. They told me that you were rolling down hill so fast that if some one did not put a fulcrum under you you'd be at the bottom in no time at all. I'm going to be the lever by which you are to be rolled up hill again."

He smiled grimly. "If any one could do that—well, here we are." And we entered the chophouse and took a table in one of the side rooms. "Woods." he said to the waiter, "chops for two, chipped potatoes, and fill up those steins of mine with ale. That will be all. I brought those st ins from across, Jack. You'll go crazy over them, for they are beauties."

A college bred bachelor nine times out of ten has a mania for collecting pipes or steins or both. Dan and I had been affected this way. During the year I had Sudied at Heidelberg I had gathered together some fifty odd pipes and steins. I have them yet, and many a pleasant memory they beget me. As for the steins of Dan, they were beyond compare.

"I'll tell you a story about them," many a pleasant memory they beget me. As for the steins of Dan, they were beyond compare.

"I'll tell you a story about them," said Dan after he had taken a deep swallow of the amber ale. "Few men can boast of steins like these. Not many months ago there was a party of men and women, belonging to the capital of a certain kingdom, who attended a dinner. It was one of those times when exalted personages divest themselves of the dignity and pomp of court and become free and informal. There were 20 of these steins made especially for the occasion. By a circumstance over which I had no control I was the only allen at this dinner. The steins were souvenirs. How I came by two was due to the lady whom I took down to dinner and who presented hers to me after having—after having—well, kissed the rim. Do you see the crest?" pointing to the exquisite inlaid work.

"Why," I said eagerly, "It is the crest of!"—

"Yes, a noted king," Dan completed, "and these were made by his express command. But never mind," he broke of, "it's merely a part of the story I am going to tell you when we get to my rooms. I am always thinking of it, night and day, day and night. Talk to me or I'll be drinking again. This is the first time I've been sober in a month. It's drink or morphine or something like. Do you ever see anything of the old glee boys?"

"Once in awhile. You know," said I, lighting a cigarette, "all the fellows but you and I had money. Most of them are carrying on the business of their paters and contamenting dinner parties and cotllions."

"I did have, but he is no more," And I told him all about the bequest.
He laughed so long and heartily over it that I was giad for his sake that II had happened. Already I was beginning to look wholly upon the humorous

FACIS ABOUT AUSTRALIA AWFUL DROUGHTS OCCUR AT INTERVALS.

Planters Sometimes Go Mad as They See Their Possessions Wiped Out

Planters Sometimes Go Mad as They See Their Possessions Wiped Out Sydney, New South Wales.—There is a big opening in Australia for Canadian trade. The country is just ripe for the advent of drummers.

I have spoken of the New Zealanders as spenders. The Australians are quite as extravagant, Ir New South Wales the average is over $900 per year for each family. The people of all classes dress well and live well. The women of Melbourne know how to put on their dresses as well as those of any city of similar size in the United States. Many of them wear American shoes, paying a duty of 75c. on every pair. They wear costly hats and bonnets, and in midwinter nearly every girl has her furs. The business men, as a rule, wear silk hats and good clothes. The fitting is not quite as fine as that of our American tailors, but far better than of Lendon. Clothes cost about as mach in Melbourne and Sydney as in New York, and the American styles seem to be in demand.

in Melbourne and Sydney as in New York, and the American styles seem to be in demand.

The Australian is fond of show.
He likes a good horse and a good buggy, and some of the rubber-tired rigs which are now being made in Canada might be sold here at a profife.

Horrors of Drought.

You need not go far into Australia o hear of the horrors of drought. ou can easily meet a man who has sour a fortune by dry weather. Men sometimes go crazy on their stations far off in the interior because the rain fails to come. They have thousands of acres and tens of thousands far off in the interior because the rain fails to come. They have thousands of sheep, and they have to sit and watch the animals dle before their eyes, knowing they cannot feed them. The droughts clear the land of everything green. The pastares become as bare as the roads, and the sheep stagger about, nosing in the dust for the seeds of grasses and trees. Sometimes trees are cut down to give them food. One man who had 4,000 acres of land kept 100 men busy cutting off the branches of his apple, oak and other trees to feed the sheep. They eat the leaves and even the small twigs, This same man had another force skinning dead sheep, and another whose business it was to lift up the sheep them they fell down and cound not rise of their own accord. This is to keep them from the carrior crows, which hover about over them and pick out their eyes if they fail.

Rabbits and Kangaroos.

During these droughts the rabbits die as well as the sheep. They drop dead outside the rabbit fences. You may see kangaroos lying here and there dead upon the plains, and I have been told that even the birds drop dead from the trees.

The Riverina country is one of the seen transs. In the drought of 1895 it looked as though a fire had sweplent grass. In the drought of 1895 it looked as though a fire had sweplent grass. In the drought of 1895 it looked as though a fire had sweplent grass. In the drought of 1895 it looked as though a fire had sweplent grass. In the drought of 1895 it looked as though a fire had sweplent grass. In the drought of 1895 it looked as though a fire had swep the remain as a baseball ground. It could not have been more bare if it had been ploughed. There was not a green sprout or any sign of vegetable life to be seen. Last year much the same condition prevaled in parts of Queensland. There were tracts covered with dead sheep, cattle and horses, and dead emus and kangaroos were lying here and there over the country. This and other droughts have caused a reduction in sheep and other districts even more, one district of cent and it decreased the lamb crop in New South Wales about 8,000,000 head.

Artesian Wells.

Within the past few weeks the government of Australia have been preparing to resist these droughts. They have been sinking artesian wells, making dams and putting up waterworks. The droughts in many parts of the country are such that for nine months the sheep can feed on the dry grasses if they can only get water, and of late the water in many places have come from artesian wells. The chief danger has been in overstocking, so that the standing the drinking water, ale of starvation.

There are in Queensland alone 350 artesian wells, and a number more course desired for the stream. This makes a broad forrow, forming the canal, at which the stock can drink. There are many canals of this kind from lifteen to twenty miles long and some even longer.

Hens Lay Boiled Eggs and some even longer.

Hens Lay Bolled Eggs.

Australia is the hottest country on record. I have ridden for miles astride the equator, but I have never found heat to compare with this. Out in the country in the dry times there appears to be little more than a sheet of brown paper between you and the lower regions, and the people facetiously say that they have to feed their hens cracked lee to keep them from laying boiled eggs. The dry lands are lotter than Sahara. Much of them is desert, and the sun heats vertically down upon the continent during the hottest part of the year, three hours every day, in travelling across it.

Australia is as long from one side to the other as from New York to Salt Lake City, and the greater part of it is covered with granite sand. It has no cooling winds to speak of, and the sand and rock bottle up the heat and give it out again. Capitaln Sturt, who crossed the Australian desert some years ago, records that he once hung his thermometer, graduated to 127 degrees in the shade, and that the mercury rose and broke the tube. The temperature must have been at least 127 degrees in the said to be the highest temperature recorded in any part of the world.

which is said to be the highest tem-perature recorded in any part of the world.

For three months during that trip the temperature averaged over 101 degrees Fahrenhelt in the shade, and the air was so dry that Captain Sturt writes "that every screw fell out of his boxes, his combe spill up into hairs, the lead dropped out of his pencils, his halr ceased to grow and his finger nails became as brittle as glass."

as glass."

The Australian Lakes.

Australia has no fresh water lakes to speak of. Its biggest lakes are salt, and there are very few of these. The most of them lie in South Australia, in what is called the lake district, a region about 1,000 miles long, at the bottom of this is Lake Torrens, about 100 miles long, with Lake Gardiner to the west of it. North of Lake Torrens is Lake Eyre, which is larger, and to the north-west Lake Amadeus, which is also of good size. All these lakes are salt. They are surrounded oy flats of treacherous mud crusted with salt. Some parts of them are dry for years at a time, when a wet season will fill them and cause grass to sprout up all about them.

Most of the land north and west to the lakes is desert. If you will draw a line across the continent from the lakes is desert. If you will draw a line across the continent from the lakes is desert. If you will draw a line across the continent from the lakes to the mouth of the Victoria River, you will block off one of the biggest deserts of the world. The decert block will be one-sixth as big as the whole United States, and it will contain no water and no vegetation of any kind except thoney shrub and thorny grasses. This is the onese with nearly all Western Australia with the exception of the small settled portion at the southwest.

Queer Vegetation.

The Australian Lakes.

ern Australia with the exception of the small: settled portion at the southwest.

Queer Vegetation.

The scrubs are peculiar to Australia. They are a sort of dwarf cancalyptus trees, or dwarf acacias. The most common are the malies scrubs and mulga scrubs. The mallee scrubs look like willow or reeds. The bushes grow close together, so that there are often ten on a square foot of ground. They grow twice as high as our head without a branch, and as you look over them you see nothing but a mass of dark brown bushes reaching on and on for miles. Here and there roads and paths are cut through them which look like avenues or aisles. They make the country gloomy in the extreme, and added to the dreary curelyplus trees and the vast deserts and the lock of variety in the seenery have given it the title of the "Never, Never Country," or the land of despair. The extent of the mallee scrub is enormous. In South Australia there is an unbroken tract about twice the size of the State of New York, which is entirely covered with mallee, and you will find it in all parts of Australia.

The mulga scrub is a sort of a thorn bush. The bushes grow close together, and they become matted so that it is almost impossible to make your way through them.

Grasses and Trees.

Among other curiosities are the grasses. There are trees here which grow grass looking for all the world as if a great stump had sprouted out in grass on all sides and on the top.

In the Tropics of Australia

Frank G. Carpenter in Chicago Record-Herald: Queensland is the coming country of the New Austra-lia. The good lands of Victoria have long since been taken up. New South Wales is fairly well developed, and South Australia and West Australia are so largely described that they can never support a great population. It is different with Queensland. The State has vast tracts of arid land, which it expects to use through artesian wells. It has already redeemed a country twice as great as the State of New York, and railroads on little the litteriot, and chough pastures for 15,060,000 sheep are now in use. Queensland has of Australia combined, and in its northern parts all sorts of tropical fruits and crops are being raised with labor from the South Sea is-with labor from the South Soa islands.

The Newest England.

But let me tell you something of this frontier colony of Australia, which may be called "The Newest England" of these English south lands. Queenaland is a principality in itself. It comprises the north-castern quarter of the Australia continent, having a coast as long as from Weathington to Omaha, and from east to west about as long as from Weathington to Omaha, and from east to west about as long as from Weathington to Chicago. It's half again as large as all the Atlantic States from Maine to Fiorda. It is four times as large as France and twelvestics, all toll, would make seventeen States as large as Ohlo, or more than thirteen the size of New York. The York Pennsula at the north of it is larger than Ireland, and the State, all toll, would make seventeen States as large as Ohlo, or more than the Jupper half of the straight of the state as large as Ohlo, or more than 10,000 acres in sugar, and 80 sugar milis or 427,000,000 acres, of which is horeasing the summary of the sugar business is in the hand of a trust, which is horeasing the summary of the sugar business is in the land of a trust, which is horeasing the summary of the sugar business is in the land of a trust, which is horeasing the summary of the summary of the sugar business is in the land of a trust, which is horeasing the summary of the summ

Like Florida.

The lower half of Queensland is much like Southern Florida. There are large tracts, such as the Darling Downs, which have a soil as rich as the Red River Valley. Here you find all sorts of crops, including wheat, cern and Alfalfa. Some of the island I am told is too rich to raise wheat until it has been farmed for a few years. Some produces 110 bushels of corn to the acre, and on some farms two crops are raised every year. A great deal of money is made in alfalfa. It grows very rank, and in some places as many as aline crops are raised in one year, each cutting producing from one to two tons per acre. It is not uncommon for a man to get $100 an acre annually out of alfalfa. This is, of course, on the very best farms. As a general thing the farming is careleasly done. The seeds are merely sown and the crop greaped. There is little artificial fertilization, but nevertheless the farmers maked money.

Each Other's Arms.

Toronto, Aug. 3.—Daniel Roach and his eleven-year-old daughter, Gertrude, were drowned at Turner's Baths yesterday morning. They had gone out in a cange, and at a distance of about 500 yards from shore he was teaching the girl to swim, having her under his arm. A sudden weakness caused him to let go his hold. He was a sufferer from heart disease. He secured the girl again, however, and swam with her for a short distance, then lost his hold of her once more and she went down. He grasped her the second time but she gripped him about the neck, so that he was unable to swim and could not disengage her. Thus they both sank and were drowned.

Thus they both sank and were drowned.

For an hour George Ferguson, R. Langley and W. Duck grappled for the bodies and at last found them, the child still having her arms around her father's neck and he with his arms about the child. Roach was a resident of North Toronto and had been staying with Albert Cooper at the Island.

The Hated British Flag.

Rochester, Aug. 3.—The sight of a large British flag, included among the decorations adorning Main street. Albion, while the annual parade of the Western New York firemen was in progress, drove John J. McBride, one of the visiting fireman, frantic, and the banner was torn down and burned amid much enthusiasm. Just as the flag fluttered and fell in the mud, a brass band following the hose company struck up "The Star Spangled Banner," and intense enthusiasm followed. The flag had no sooner struck the ground than a match was applied to it, and it was burned. The remains were eagerly sought after as souvenirs.

The Weekly Post.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, AUG. 9th,

MANITOBA'S HARVEST.

The announcement made by President Thompson, general manager of the Ogilvie Mills, that Manitoba is on the eve of the greatest harvest in her history, will cause a keen sense of gratification throughout the country. Upon the success of the crops in Canada's great prairie wheat fields depends much of the Dominion's prosperity, and the assurance of a heavy crop means much to the whole country from Halfax to Vancouver. Manitoba and the Northwest give promise of becoming the granary of the world. It is said that less than ten per cent. of the fertile lands of Manitoba are under cultivation. When it is realized that the great western province produces the finest grades of hard wheat to-day, who can calculate the result when all the land capable of the production of wheat is successfully cultivated? Everything points to all development of the wheat The announcement made by Presito a development of the wheat fields of the great Canadian West such as has never been prophesied.

MANUAL TRAINING IN LINDSAY

question of manual training The question of manual training is receiving consideration in many Ontario schools, and it appears to be a development in our school system which will become general before very long. It is a development in the right direction. It works to the advantage of the poor man's son, of the boy who does not take a the advantage of the poor man's son, of the boy who does not take a course in higher education to fit him for the learned professions About 90 or 95 per cent, of the chidren who attend the public schools do not go through the universities, and yet the school studies are arranged largely for the benefit of the yery small percentage who do enter the universities. The manual training department is welcomed when it is properly understood and conducted, because it instills into the boys such an education of the hand, eye and mird that when they enter their chosen avocations they are useand mind that when they enter their chosen avocations they are useful from the start. If a boy enters a carpenter's shop, after having received some manual training, he knows the principles upon which many of the machines are run, and knows how to do many things, and to make many things that it would take him years to learn without take him years to learn, without having had the manual training. He has a scientific basis upon which he may build the structure of his knowledge in his coosen calling, and do it intelligently.

There may be dangers in connection with manual training, but these it will be possible to avoid. Care must be taken to have good solid work done in that department. Let the articles that are made be useful and not mere toys, and let the whole course be constructed with this end in view.

do it intelligently.

years ago Woodstock College started the manual training de-partment for which the college has become well-known since. It has proved to be a good drawing card in every sense the department has been a success. In schools in various parts of the province it has been es-tablished. Toronto pupils spend several fours every week in manual training. The question is being dis-sussed very generally in the progres-sive towns and cities of the province Kingston has manual training de partments and Stratford has taken the initial step preparatory to their introduction. Peterboro is agitat-ing for the training schools and we think the time is opportune for the Lindsay School Board to look into the question. What could be more desirable for a town like Lindsay where the great majority of the public school boys enter mechanical, mercantile or laboring pursuits, thun to have them receive an early train-ing that would make them more use-ful citizens and more intelligent and expert in their own departments of business?

PROGRESS OF EXPORT TRADE.

PROGRESS OF EXPORT TRADE.

There are two features of our export trade with Great Britain that are calling the attention of the consumers and of the public generally over there, to our produce. The first is the improved quality. Complaints were very general a few years ago. They were so general, in fact, that Canadian produce as a whole was tabooed, and we were robbed of the credit and of the advertising due us, because of the fact that our goods were not up to the mark, and even after they did begin to improve they were not sold as Canadian. In other words, we were not recognized by the market. It is evident that as long as this condition existed progress on our part was very greatly hampered. But things have changed. The quality of Canadian food products has gradually improved until they are now held in very high regard by purchasers. Improvement in quality—that is the way to win the market; and Canadians bid fair to produce as high a quality of goods as is produced by any country in the word.

Then again, a second feature of our export trade tellung in our favor is the increase in the volume of our exports. For instance, in the year 1900 Canada's export of wheat and flour to Britain was 16 times greater than 10 years previous; butter 60 times, and bacon 20 times greater, while the export of cheese was twice as large. That is to say, from sending only 7 per cent. of the was twice as large. That is to say, from sending only 7 per cent. of the food exports of Great Britain, we are now sending 16 per cent. and there appears to be no reason why this rate of increase should not be maintained for the next ten years, maintained for the next ten years, and make it 30 per cent. at the end of that time. In ten years the value of our exports to Britain has risen from 24 to 72 millions and with Just the natural steady growth in ten year more we should be sending $200,000,000 worth. Professor Robertson, of the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, has returned from Great Britain, where he has been addressing meetings with Hon. Sydney Fisher, and he reports the general outor, and he reports the general outlook for Canadian food products as being most encouraging. The quality of our goods is improving and the quantity increasing and this he thinks is a healthy sign.

A Splendid Success at the Glasgew Exposition
Montreal, Aug. 2.—Mr. Boyer, Can-adian Commissioner to the Glasgow Exposition, who has just arrived home, says that the expedition is a splendid success in every way, and that Canada has a right to be proud spiends success in every way, and that Canada has a right to be proud of the prominence and excellence of her two groups of exhibits. As to the prospects of increased trade, Mr Boyer said that a comparison of prices showed that there wa: in Scotland a great market for Canadian farm products.

The prospects for manufactured articles were not as wide. It was found for example, that certain lines of iron-made articles could not compete with those of Scotch and English manufacture. With certain other lines, however, it was different. There was certain to be a large trade in carriages. As a result of the Canadian share in the Exhibition, a Toronto firm had now an order for carriages to be sent to Johannesburg, South Africa.

The Colbourne-st. Sewer.

A petition asking that the sewer in contemplation of construction on Colbourne and Cambridge-sts. he not proceeded with on the ground that the cost of construction will be too great, and that the proper course for it is down Colbourne-st. to William, instead of Francis.

Mr. Hunter in support of the ecounter-petition stated that the first petition was illegal, as it had been signed by parties who were not property-owners, and the present petition was signed by ten ratepayers. He said those who signed the first petition were misted and they had no idea the extra cost would matter to court if the Council built the sewer.

Ald Jackson — "The people who signed the first petition should know what they were doing. The Council must be consistent and act according to the statutes. The contract has been let, the work is about to Connecil's reach."

Ald. Touchburn thought the Connecil should move slowly and not involve the town in a heavy suit.

Ald. O'Rielly—"The Court of Revision has no right to handle this question. It was open for objection to the assessment and measurement to "be constructed. Mr. Anderson's and Mr. O'Leary's opinion regarding certain sewers were about the same."

A Mean Thief.

Mr. James Leroy, who resides on the corner of Cambridge and Well-ington-sts., had a very nice kitchen garden at the rear of his residence garden at the rear of his residence in which he had flourishing an excellent error of potatoes, which he calculated would supply, his family during the coming winter. On contemplating his garden at an early nout on Tuesday, he was surprised to find that it had been visited during the night and the contents of twenty-five hills of potatoes had been taken away. The third did not leave his card, but a pass book and a photograph, which will no doubt lead to his identification, was found.

THE PRICE OF PAPER.

Mr. Hugh Graham, of the Mont-Mr. Hugh Graham, of the Mentreal Star, told the Royal Commission Thesday that he was getting paper at $1.90 per cwt, under a contract made in the spring of 1899, and "that at the time it was made the contract from the parties did not pretend that it was made at a losing rate, but since the rise in cost the makers contended they were losing upon every pound delivered. Being the largest consumers in Canada, and buying for cash, the contract was considered by paper-makers a desirable one, and there was a keen competition for it."

petition for it."

This concluded the evidence at the combine investigation. What the outcome may be we cannot tell, but anything short of a reduction of the duty, which will admit competition, will be disappointing. We notice that United States manufacturers of news print, whose facilities for cheap production certainly do not excel those nossessed by Can. do not excel those possessed by Canadians, are causing a scare in England. The London Daily Chronicle says:

"Some well-known Lancashire paper-making experts who lately returned from the United States report that without question America is preparing for a very big production of newspaper paper, and, so far as that class of paper is concerned, it is clear to the experts in question that the Lancashire paper-makers will have to go under in face of the new competition which may be expected to be felt twelve months from now."

With the duties off, the Canadian mills will produce for the foreign as well as the home market. Canadian printers will be able to buy cheap paper, and there will be more employment in the Canadian paper mills and subsidiary industries than

THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

A writer in the London Spectator calls attention to the "several small clouds of the continental heavens," which he appears to dread may increase from the size of a man's hand to such an extent as to swamp the whole of "the calm blue which seems for the day to cover the European scene." The action of the allied powers in China have not all tended in the direction of peace, and the attitude of Russia has given rise to feelings of apprehension. In this connection the writer to whom we have reference thinks that were the British army free there might be menace in "the restrained tone" in which Lord Landsdowne made his recent statement on Chinese affairs in the house of lords. It may be as well to reproduce that portion of Lord Landsdowne's speech dealing with Russian action, which reads as follows: "In regard to the dispute as to the ground at Tien Tsin, the case seems eminently one for a careful legal investigation, and I hope that now that the stress of the negotiations appears to hold out some prospect of diminution, we may be able to obtain an investigation of that kind. There is no question of A writer in the London Spectator able to obtain an investigation of that kind. There is no question of punitive expeditions in which we shall take part, and we have from the first made no secret of our objection to be drawn into operations remote from Peking. Regarding the incident of the Elliott group of islands, a British man-of-war weut to these in pursuit of parties, and the Russian admiral on the station made a protest. We were perfectly aware that our treaty rights permitted us to repair to these islands, and we refused to obey the protest. Instructions to that effect were sent to the naval authorities in North-ern China. The Russians remain in Manchuria, and nothing has been althe progress made on this farm in the progress made on this farm in the condition was made." It is very evident that in other circumstances those half dozen words, "we refused to obey the protest," might have had far more serious consequences.

Turning from Russia and its action in the East, and passing over the possibilities that may arise in Germany and France, we may well direct our attention to Austria.

"The condition of affairs in Ausmanehuria, and nothing has been al-tered since that occupation was made." It is very evident that in other circumstances those half dozen words, "we refused to obey the pro-test," might have had far more seri-

Outside the Austral trouble is concerned — are Kaiser and the Car. The latter has in a measure declared unmistakably for peace, but the attitude adopted by Russia on certain occasions since The Hague conference has not conduced to any great reliance being placed in his peace protestations. But perhaps after all the best guarantee for peace is the fact that the peoples of the different countries are becoming more associated with each other in various ways, and as they are beginning to understand each other better, have also commenced to realize that 'tis not a wise step to let loose the dogs of war save under stress of the greatest provocation.

The Toronto Mail and Empire quotes Mr. Bourassa's uncomplimentary reference in London to Sir Wilfrid Laurier as coming from a faithfut admirer and friend of the Frenier's. Mr. Bourassa is just about as loyal to Laurier as the Mail was to Sir John Macdonald when it deserted him and forced him to found the Empire.

But tory organs will go on telling us that the Department of Labor is a useless in-

And now the redoubtable Hon. Hugh John Macdonald is appearing on a platform with Mr. Roblin, the Manitoban Premier. His final retirement from public life as announced some time ago seems to have been only of a tentative character. But if the experience of last year is anything to be guided by his reappearance "on a political platform" now will not "carry joy to the hearts of the conservative party," or consternation into the ranks of the liberals." As an amiable personality H. J. is something to recken with, As a statesman he does not seem to be any source of strength to his friends or anxiety to his political foes. The Montreal Star, after a survey of the situation, expresses the opinion that although our foreign trade is very large this year, it will be still larger next year. The prophecies of evil that used to be in vogue among the tory sheets, "if the liberals got into power," are not heard of now. The logic of events has made them too absurd for publication.

William Austin, of Hill City, 8, D, has given the brokers something to talk about. The other day he sent to a New York commission house an order to sell for him 50,000 bushels of December corn. A cheque for $1,000 was enclosed. Inquiry disclosed that he had a very low commercial rating, and that his bank balance was less than $1,000. Further search revealed the fact that he had sent similar orders to many brokers in both New York and Chicago, sufficient to eat for the sale of 1.850.000 bushels, in each order a $1,000 chaque being enclosed. The sales were not made, but it is interesting to note that his scheme worked and had the sales been made he would have cleared at least $35,000 on the day's fluctuations. It was a bold venture—on wind. The St. John Sun sees the end of tory domination through the Senate in the near future, and remarks that "it is at least certain that the Senate will be a more interesting chamber now that it is about evenly divided between parties," - Pericaps

OUR NEIGHBOR'S WAR.

Wc read very little these days about the war in the Philippiaes, and yet it is not over. Our neighbors; are still compelled to struggle against guerilla bands, just as the British army is doing in South Africa. The Filipinos seem to be as unconqu rable as the Boers, although unonque rable as the Boers, although long ago their resistance was supposed to have been broken. It is more than fifteen months ago that General Otts, after many prior announcements to the same effect declared that the war was over and came home. He was mistaken.

It was only three weeks ago that General Callles, the last insurgent leader of any importance, surgederleader of any importance, surrender-ed, and ten days later the United States government announced that the purchase of horses for war pur-poses would be discontinued. After poses would be discontinued. After two and a half years of fighting the war in the Philippines would seem to be practically, although not whole, by, over. A large army of regulars is still maintained in the islands, and the guerillas are active in many parts.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean thus sums

The Chicago Inter-Ocean thus sums up the situation:
"Since the capture of Aguinaldo over one hundred prominent officers of the old Filipino army have surrendered, among them Trias, Arelola, Pablo, Tecson, Colonel Aba, General Lukban, and General Tinio, leaving Cailles the only notable insurgent in the field. Since negotiations were opened with General Cailles, General Trais, has been made governor of Cavite. "At Zamboanga the most influential of the Moro chiefs and heir apparent to the Sultan of Mindanao is proceeding to abolish slavery in the district under his jurisdiction, and has offered to lead his soldiers against any insurgents that may offer registance to the American govern fer resistance to the American gov ernment, not only at Manila, but in all the provinces, the progress of re-organization has been rapid, and whenever there has been assurance of peacee civil authority has been established.

"With General Caillees out of the field, there remain only a few bands of brigands resisting the Americans. Some of these bands are led, it is said, by American deserters who, in their own interest, will prolong guerilla warfare as long as possible; but, as these bands will be outside the pale of legitimate warfare, they will be treated as robbers by both natives and Americans, and their annihilation or suppression is a question of only a few months."

Cobourg, Ont., Aug. 5.—Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, daughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, sealed legally on Saturday the purchase of the magnificent residence of Miss Allan, daughter of the late Sir Hugh Allan, and will have almost immediate bases sion. The princely residence, with its handsome grounds, is situated in the southwest part of the town, on the most commanding site within its limits. The house was built by the late Wentworth Tremaine, a lumberman. It was afterward purchased and occupied by William Weller, the great mail contractor and proprietor of the line of mail barges running between Hamilton and Montreal for many years previous to the construction and opening of the Grand Trunk Railway system. Subsequently it was purchased by George Ley, an English gentleman, whose widow sold it to Miss Allan, Mrs. Sartoris is accompanied here by her mother, widow of the late general, who has just left Saratogs.

COMMINITEE

COUNCIL IN THE KENT-ST. SEWER

Will Not be Gone on with at Present—
A Batch of Communications—Number of Accounts Oleared Off.
A general committee meeting of Council was held last Friday in the Clerk's office to discuss sewers and other matters. All members were resent except Ald. Sinclair.
Wants Addmittance to the Home.
A man named Lakome, claiming to be a resident of Victoria County, appeared before the committee asking to be admitted into the Home for the Aged. The unfortunate was totally unable to work and had no means of support. He had been referred to the Council by Mrs. E. E. Sharpe. It was finally decided to give him $1.05 per week until arrangements could be made for his admittance to the Home.
Communications.

threatening to bring action against the town if not attended to.—Received and filed.
From G. H. M. Baker, local manager of the Rathbun Co., relativa to carters' license being imposed on Jas. Murdock, who is an employee of his firm.—Received and filed.
From Town Solicitor Hopkins, stating that in his opinion James Murdock was liable for carters' license.—Received and referred to Chief of Police.
From Commissioner Chalmers, pre

Chief of Police.

From Commissioner Chalmers, presenting a report of the cost of a sanitary sewer on Russell-st., from Huron-st. to Simcoe-st., and on Simcoe-st. to Russell-st., to the river. The report was adopted.

From G. H. Hopkins, secretary of Water Commissioners, complaining of the condition of the street at the pump house.—Referred to Town Commissioner.

missioner. From the W.C.T.U., in regard to spitting on the sidewalks.—Received and filed.
From Commissioner Chalmers, respecting wages of F. J. Mullen, sewer inspector. Mr. Chalmers stated that he had agreed to give Mr. Mullen $2.50 per day for inspecting the sewers on William-st. and Russelfst. but as Mr. Mullen had received a better offer by another town, he decided to pay him $2.75 per day. The communication was received and accepted.

decided to pay him $2.75 per day. The communication was received and accepted.

From Hugh O'Leary, K. C., regarding property of Mrs. E. Lang,—Filed.

The Kent-st. Sewer.

The proposed sewer to the new hospital was next dealt with. Town Solicitor Hopkins explained the position the town should take relative to the proposed sewer, on Kent-st., from Cambridge to Angeline-sts. He explained that the sewer, could be built either by a petition or on the initiative plan. The County was going to grant $1600 towards the cost of this sewer and he would suggest that the $400, the extra amount required for a 15-lnch pipe, be taken from that amount.

Mr. J. R. McNeillle, County transpre, briefly addressed the committee regarding the $1600, which the County Council was giving towards the sewer. He said that at the June session this grant was made and a committee comprising Messrs. Stewart, Flavelle, Taylor, Warden Graham and himself were appointed to arrange with the town regarding the sewer, and as to properly paying out the above mentioned amount. It was finally decided that more signatures must be placed upon the petition before commencing the work.

WOODBINES AT LINDSAY

The Locals Defeated in Cricket

The Lindsay Cricket Club suffer-d a crushing defeat Thursday from odbine Cricket Club of Toronto. The same old story,—plenty of good material in town from which to choose a really first class eleven but lack of practice causes the localist of all down every time they meet a team that can play the game. It is really too bad that more practice is not done. The Toronto men thought the Lindsay crease the best they had played on during their tour. The grounds certainly have not been in such good condition for years as they were yesterday have not been in such good condition for years as they were yesterday of the first innings, and the fact that such a strong batting team as were here yesterday out only make sixty runs on a good crease goes to show that our bowlers when in practice can make. I interesting for the best of battsmen. In the second innings lack of condition was evidenced by the large score the Woodbine ran up against the same bowlers. When the visitors had scored 147 runs for six men out they declared their innings closed and sent the locals to the bat. All the scoring in the first innings was done by two men.—P. Over, 24; and H. S. Collins, 21. These men batted in fine scoring in the first innings was done by two men.—P. Over, 24; and H. S. Collins, 25. They batted very freely forces. Collins again made his score very quickly. For Lindsay Brown 13, was the oily man to reach double figures. in the first innings Little 14, Callaghan 16, were top scores in their second time at bat. Quite a number of spectators, including a number of spectators and a number of their visit to Lindsay and have promised to again visit the town on their tour next year. He took a drop of forty feet and the marvel is that he was not instantly killed. His bones are badly shittered, his two arms, Jaw, ankles and ribs were fractured. He is improving.

The New Lindsay-St. Roadway.

For months past our citizens ha awaited the completion of the model awaited the completion of the model rondway on Lindsuy-st. The work is now finished and even the severest critics acknowledge it an excellent piece of work. And now that we en-joy the privilege is it right that joy the privilege is it right that a privilege so long looked for should be abused. To the close observer the possibilities of this roadway becoming a beaten path instead of a uniform highway is apparent. Our farmers, delivery man and also the casual drivers allow the reins to slacken and the horses to choose the well-beaten path. That the roadway cannot be kept uniform by such a practice is evitable. Even were our roads made of steel it would show the result of this apparent thoughtless ness on the part of the users of our highways. Use the road, use all of it, and Lindsay's model roadway will be preserved intact for many years.

Department of Public Works Com mences Construction of an Exten sive Work to Benefit Lumbermen mence Construction of an Extensive Work to Senefit Lumbermen.

(Toronto Evening News.)

The construction of an extensive dam has been commenced at the head of the water of the Gull River, by the Department of Public Works for Ontario. This dam will raise the water of Redstone Lake from 12 to 15 feet. The object in view is to reserve the water now lost by the spring freshets and make it available for use by the lumbermen in driving their logs and also to assist in keeping up the waters of the Sturgcon, Pigeon Stony and the lower lakes for inavigation purposes and assist the milling interests. The dam is situated about 10 miles north CH Haliburton village. The Gull River is joined by the Burnt River to Cameron Lake, near Fension Falls, and between that lake and Sturgeon Lake the stream is known as Balsam River; after flowing through Sturgeon, Pigeon and Stony Lakes it is called the Otonabee, and below Rice Lake it is known as the Trent River. The dam under censtruction is expected to materially improve all these streams by maintaining the flow at a more nearly uniform level.

Peterboro Examiner; The practice of tacking funeral cards up on telephone, telegraph, electric light telephone, telegraph, electric light and other poles is about to cease in Peterboro. It is said that in many other towns in Ontarlo this system of announcing the demise of a resident passed away years ago, and that Peterboro has been slow to fall into line. The Electric Light and other companies have, it is anderstood, given the local printing offices notice to discontinue tacking the funeral notices on their property and their orders will, of course, be adhered to. Perhaps after all the system of distributing such notices in the various business houses is the more respectful way.

Friday afternoon was very depressing and spirit-subduing owing to the rain. Even the occupants of the "Saints' Rest" went about with lugubrious countenances, and retired hours earlier than usual, which caused neighbors to fear there was sloknesses in the bunch.

Quite a number of people take meals at Mrs. Walkey's restaurant, and good ones at that. The enlargement of her premises also enables her to put up a few guests at night in comfortable fashlon.

What's the matter with Lindsay's business men that they don't put up a small hotel at the Point, if they cannot finance a big one? is an oft-story—we turn up our noses at the trade-winners within easy reach and confess our helplessness unless some outside individual, biessed with enterprise and business push, comes to our aid. In the meantime Americans are spending their good dollars in lavish fashlon with the hotelkeepers and business men of Muskoka, Bobeayg, on and clsewhere, to the detriment of Lindsay.

The series of articles upon the industries of Canada is contained in an article in the present number dealing with the conditions obtained in the dairying industry. In this made to the Department of Labor and the series of co-peration associations article which is based upon returns made to the Department of Labor cheese and butter factories, secretaries of co-operation associations and others. The expenience of butter and cheese factories and the wages paid to the men in charge of the factories are set forth.

In a separate article the Gazette Ce Is with the experience concilition and arbitration in New Zealand since the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act of 1894 come in force in that colony.

The Gazette also gives a most interesting table showing the rates of the various cities in Canada. This will be followed with similar tables with information concerning powder men, stone drillers, stone-cutters, glaziers, plumbers, steamfitters, gas fitters, slate, metal, felt and gravel roofers and their helpers, galvanized iron workers, tinsmiths, electricians, steel workers, coppersmiths and bell hangers.

Referring to the month of June as a record breaker for strikes the Gazette says that the number of strikes during the month of June and these not having heen conceeded where made were made by employees aport to the fact that the majority of these strikes had to do with the building trades, which are particularly active during that month. Demands were made by employees aport their employeers some time previous month in the year. This was mainly owing to the fact that the majority of these strikes of the month the men went on strike at that date or shortly after.

The strikes of the month have been due with one or two exceptions, to a refusal of employers to grant an incursal of employers to grant an incur their employees. As to the latter, the nine-hour day is specially noticeable as a feature of the demands made.

There were at the close of the previous month siveral strik siwhich had not been settled during the month in which they were commenced, and this probably helps to account for the extent of the schedule of the present month. The following is a brief summary of the main features of the strikes arising from the above cause, in so far as the department has secured infromation in regard to these; Total number of strikes due to deamnd for increased wages or reduction in hours, 23; number of employees concerned in these strikes, 10; number of these strikes successful or partly successful, 10; affecting 942 employees; number successful, 2; affecting about 14. In the case of 11 no settlement has been reported to the department at the end of the month.

A noticeable feature of the month the Gazette says was the number of strikes in Ottawa and Quebec. The total number of strikes in these two cities making in all about one third of the total number of strikes they were mostly all of short duration and only effected small numbers of men, and in two cases strikes were settled by arbitration. In Ottawa, however, the Gazette remarks that the situation was different. The non settlements had been arrived at the end of the month.

IT COST MONEY.

Many a man has spent all his carnings in trying to get rid of rheumatism. It cost Mr. James Davison, Oconto, Ont., between $1,000 and $2,000 before he tried Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure. He was a helpless invalid for six years but suffered from sciatica in his hip joint for ten years. Six bottles cured him completely and he is now working his farm. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE ROMANCE OF CAMPHOR.

(New York Sun.)

The large island of Formosa, off the east coast of China., fell to Japan a few years ago as one of the prizes of war. The island is famous for two products. The hill slopes of the west grow some of the fluest teas in the world, the Oolongs and other Formosan teas being highly esteemed in the United States, where nearly the entire crop is consumed. The tree-clad mountains of the east contain the largest camphor forests in the world. Most of the camphor kept in firing stores comes from Formosa. Japan now produces only about 300,000 pounds a year; the yield in China has never exceeded 220,000 pounds a year; but 7,000,000 pounds of camphor were taken from the forests of Formosa in 1895, and in the past four years the annual yield has averaged over 6,000,000 pounds. Formosa controls the camphor market of the world, and will probably always be the great source of this valuable gum. For camphor market of the world, and will probably always be the great source of this valuable gum. For some time past the purphasers of camphor have been compelled to pay camphor have been completed to per more for it than formerly. The two principal reasons for the increase in price will be mentioned here. One of them is especially interesting, for it illustrates the difficulties and dangers that environ the camphor

The mountains of Last Formosa, The mountains of East Formosa are inhabited by savage tribes, who are the bane of the island. Nearly half of Formosa is still occupied by three murderous men of the forests, whose weapons are turned against all strangers. The fertile plains of the west, filled with peaceful Chinese tillers of the soil, present a very different aspect, For many years it was almost certain death for sallers to be wreeked on the east coast It was almost certain death for sail-ors to be wrecked on the east coast of the island. If they escaped the sea they were murdered by the sav-ages, who were always on the look-out for loot from vessels driven upon the rocks of their inhospitable coast. Explorers have not dared to venture into some parts of these mountains, which are still among the The savages are full of cunning and treachery. They are armed with bows and arrows, knives and with bows and arrows, and as words. They are very dark and muscular, and go about quite naked except for a scanty strip of bluq cloth about the waist. In recent years many of them have acquired by the comparison of the many comparisons of the control of the con d matchlocks, and learned to use ed matchlocks, and learned to use them.

One day a few years ago, a party of English officers from a man-of-war went up into the mountains and met a party of natives armed with matchlocks. They challenged the natives to a trial of skill in shooting. A target was affixed to a tree about 300 feet distant, and the Englishmen made what they considered pretty fair practice. The natives looked on without any apparent astonishment at the skill of their rivals. When it came their turn to fire every man of them disappared in the jungle. They crawled on their stomaches to within about nine feet of the target and they blazed away. Of course, they all hit the target in the center. When the Englishmen protested that this method of conducting a shooting match was hardly fair, the natives replied; method of match was hardly fair, the nativos replied;

"We do not understand what you."

"We do not understand what you mean by fair, but anyhow, that is the match was to shoot Chinanaen."
The men who collect most of the camphor of the world have to work among these treacherous decils. They are sent up into the mountains, pitch their camps in the camphor fersets, and depend upon their guns and their vigilance to protect themselves from savage enemies. But though their wits are sharpened by the ever-present danger whole parties of them are sometimes elaughtered. The history of the eamphor industry in Formosa has many of these tragical incidents. Though armed guards stand over the men while they are felling the treas and extracting the gum they may be straked at any moment unless the savages consider the force before them to be too strong for them to vercome. Great is the joy when they clean out a camphor camp. All the camp equipment and the food supplies are the legitimate spoils of war; so there is profit as well as glory in the murderous business. The work of getting the camphor dangerous than collecting it. The patins are narrow and the carriers walking in long sinuous file, can present no strong front to the narrow and the carriers walking in long sinuous file, can present no strong front to the patins are narrow and the carriers walking in long sinuous file, can present no strong front to the unives concealed along the way. A strong escort front and rear, beating the bushes and scrub for the foewho may be lurking there, is always accessary to ensure safety.

When the Japanese became fairly settled in the island last year they determined to put an end, if possible, to the dangers that beset the camphor industry. As a preliminary, step, they detailed 1,500 soldiers to rours the camps and convey the par-determined to put an end, if possible, to the dangers that besst the camphor industry. As a preliminary, step they detailed 1,500 soldiers to repart the camps and convey the parties that carry the gum out of the forests. In these camps, scattered north and south among the mountains for a distance of 140 miles, the men are working to-day guarded by a part of the Japanese army. Thus war and industry are curiously combined in the Island of Formosa. As a rule, when armed men are around looking for somebody to shoot there can be no such thing as industry in their neighborhood. Peaceful labor and the exploits of war are not congenial companions. But among the forests of Formosa the soldier is becoming the valuable adjunct of industry, and it could not thrive very well without him. The Japanese government proposes to use any force that may be required to place the great camplior business on a safe basis; but the cost of protecting the campior gatherers is added to the cost of the commodity, and there seems to be no reason to complain that this is not fair to all concerned.

This is the principal reason why the price of camphor has advanced. There is another reason for it also and it may be said that the price is likely to continue at a good figure Japan, like France and Spain, is desirous to obtain a monopoly in one more commedities that will bring a large revenue into the government treasury. How could a monopoly be more easily established than in the article of camphor, the whole supply of which is practically confined to one Japanese island? So the authorities declared a while ago that thenceforth the camphor industry should be a government monopoly. Anyone may collect camphor to do so, and permits are not difficult to so, and permits are not difficult to product can be sold to anyone but the government, which fixes the price to be paid. The price is said fully to compensate the collectors, but a limitation upon the amount of the product will prevent too many collectors from crowding into the field. The government names the maximum amount to be produced, and will not buy a pound in excess of the limit. It was said a while ago that the amount to be produced, and will not buy a pound in excess of the limit. It was said a while ago that the amount to be produced, and will not buy a pound in excess of the limit. It was said a while ago that the amount to be produced, but on prospect of any large fluctuations in future prices.

The world will profit at least by the effort of Jupan to preserve an industry which, a few years ago, seemed threatened with ultimate extinos in future prices.

The world will profit at least by the effort of Jupan to prospect of any large fluctuations in future prices.

The world will profit at least by the effort of Jupan to proseeve an industry which, a few years ago, seemed threatened with ultimate extincts in future prices, a setablishing plantations of camphor trees, so that Formosa, it is expected, will in a few years yield both wild and cultivated camphor.

St. John's, Nfid., Aug. 5.—A second shipwreck has been reported, nine miles west of Cape Race. She is the steamer Acis, Captain Tate, from Galveston for Hamburg, with a cargo of cotton and grain. The Acis is in a dangerous position, and has been abandoned by her crew.

THE MERIDEN GASOLINE LAWP

Adopted in Chicago for Street Light ing in Preference to Electric Light and Coal Gas.

and coal Gas.

Our readers will be interested in the following, taken from the Calcago Bahy American of July 24th.
The gas-line lamp referred to is that exhibited here last winter by Mr.
Cody, and more recently by another agent, who located the lamp opposite the Outerto Bahk: the Ontario Bank:

City Electrician Ellicott is making an important experiment on the West Side with gasoline lamps of 2,000 candle power each. This is approximately as high a lighting power as that of the electric are light now used in various sections of the city.

The main importance of the new experiments is that a way may be found to dispense entirely with the acceptance of a new bid from the gas trust for street lighting this year. The company superintending the erection of the gaseline lamps has guaranteed a complete service in all parts of the city where gas lamps are in use within 60 days after the letting of a contract.

'There are six of the 2,000 candle power gaseline lamps now in experimental use. They have been introduced on Warren avenue west of Ashland, 2 to each hlock, one at the street intersection and the other in the center of the block.

New Lights Stand the Test.

New Lights Stand the Test.
These powerful lights have been installed more than a week. Taey have been tested under all conditions, including one of the worst sterms of the winter, and have been watched by the city inspectors. An unrailing, steady white light of great brilliance is given. It is estimated that that portion of Warren avenue never has been as well lighted before.

that that portion of warren avenue never has been as well lighted before.

This lamp differs from other gasoline lamps already in the city's use by the substitution of compressed air pressure to feed the mantle, instead of gravity pressure. Too reservoir is in the body of the lamp post. A compressed air reservoir, also in the post, is filled every five days.

A Cheap Light.

The 2,000 candle power gasoline lamps on Warren avenue are furnished by the company at $47 a year cach. In the displacement of gas lamps on Warren avenue are furnished by the company at $47 a year each. In the displacement of gas lamps, to get equal service, one of the new lamps would suffice to replace five or more gas lamps. The gas trust now furnishes illuminating gas for about 25,000 street lamps. It is estimated that about 6,60° of the 2,000 candle power gasoline lamps would cover all the territory now lighted by gas.

The net sawing in the city's street lighting account would thus be greater by this method than any other yet tried, amounting to $200, 600 a year for the territory now lighted by gas trust gas.

For the first time in the history of the City's Electrician's department it is optional with the city to permit the use of gas lighting for another year. Mr. Eilbott makes the emphatic statement that, within sixty days all of the city's street lighting can be transformed into a gasoline lighting system and the gas lamps dispensed with. In no previous year has the city of Chicago been thus in a position to rid itself of the yearly gas lighting contract with the trust.

Murdering the British Blacks—Cousin of Steyn Fell While Fighting at Ficksburg, Aug. 1—Beers Wreck a Train and Shoet the Trainmen.

Kroonstad, Orange River Colony, Aug. 4.—Two Boers came into the British lines to-day under a flag of truce with a letter from former Pre-sident Steyn.

28 Gorden Highlanders Killed
London, Aug. 5.—A letter from a soldier in South Africa, dated Nysiroon, Transvaal Colony, July 6, has been received, saying the Boers wrecked a train near Nabosnpruit, July 4. One hundred and fifty Boers attacked the train guard, and 28
Gordon Highlanders were killed, 18 wounded and ten captured. The conductor, engineer and firemen of the train were subsequently shot.

Boers Turn to Czar.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 5.—Heer Vandernoven, one of Mr. Kruger's agents, arrived here yesterday, carrying a letter to the Czar from the exPresident. It is not thought any attempt to interest the Czar in Transvael affairs will succeed.

To Withdraw 40,000 Treeps.
London, Aug. 5.— The government now avows its intention to withdraw 40,000 men from South Africa. It is naturally inferred in this country that the men will be brought home, but the present intention is to send the greater part, if not all of the troops, to India.

Kruger Approves Murder.

Rrager Approves Murder.

Paris, Aug. 5. — A despatch from Amsterdam says Mr. Kruger's councillors fully approve of the determination of Kritzinger, the Boer commander in Cape Colony, to shoot all Kaffirs found serving in the British army, whether armed or unarmed.

Steyn's Cousin Killed.

Stepn's Cousin Killed.

Bloemfontein, Orange River Colony, Aug. 3. — Commandant Jaermanus Steyn, a cousin of President Steyn, was killed Aug. 1, while fighting at Ficksburg. Boers and rebels are re-entering the Barkly West District of Cape Colony.

Money for Peace.

Paris, Aug. 5. — In the course of the interview with Mr. Kruger, published in The Figaro on Saturday, the ex-President of the Transvaal said:

the ex-President of the Transvaal said:

"We have already once proposed peace directly to Great Britain, and we will not renew the propositions. All we are willing to give for peace is money, if Great Britain asks it.

is money, if Great Britain asks it; and no price is too dear to obtain independence, and the right to live as a free nation."

Why in Russia?

St. Petersburg, Aug. 5. — Dr. Leyds, the Diplomatic Agent of the Transvaal, who is here on what he describes as "private business," says there is no foundation for the report that Mr. Kruger is coming to St. Petersburg.

Resping the Wires not.
Ottawa, Aug. 5. — The Militia Department has strong hopes of being able to obtain from the War Office the clasps which go with the South African medals in time for presentation by the Duke of Cornwall and York, Cables are now being exchanged on the subject.

NEVER LIVED SO WELL BEFORE.

Money From the British.

New York, Aug. 5.—General Baden-Powell asserts that Mrs. Kruger, after President Kruger left. South Africa for Europe, until her death, had been in receipt of £250 a month from the British Government, and that she also had free use of a Government carriage and Government horses. The despatch from London to The Journal and Advertiser, containing this statement, goes on: "The Markking hero also states that Mrs, Steyn, wife of President Steyn, of the late Orange Free State, was paid £100 a month by the Government, and likewise had the use of a carriage and horses. The latter statement is confirmed by a letter from Mrs. Steyn to a nicee in Scotland, in which she wrote: 'I never lived so well in my life.'"

Drowned at Deseronto. Deseronto, Aug. 5.— A sad drowning accident occurred here Saturday night. Hugh McKee, a young man in his 21st year, was accompanied by two ladies, Miss Mackie and Miss Geddes, on the river. While pushing their small boat out from the dock, McKee and Mackie fell between the dock and the boat. For a few minutes they both struggled. When Miss Mackie was going down Miss Geddes caught her hand and saved her. McKee sank and was drowned. The young man had been employed in the offices of the Bay of Quinte Railway during the past few years.

Gain Sutting Begun.

Winnipeg, Aug. 5.—Mr. Alex.
Scott, manager of the Morris Creamery, reports that wheat cutting has commenced on the Twiss farm. Most of the farmers will put in the binder to-day, and will be able to go right ahead. At Plum Creek, Man., Frank Roff commenced cutting wheat Saturday with two binders. At Nesbitt, Man., David Lockeridge threshed a field of barley Saturday that averaged 51½ bushels per acre.

ACCIDENT TO IMPERIAL LIMITED. No One Killed, but Rolling Stock Badly

Toronto, Aug. 5.—The C. P. R. Imperial Limited, from Vancouver to Montreal, jumped the track at Rock-cliffe, a few miles east of North Bay, on Saturday night.

The train was due at North Bay at 7.10 p. m., but was 14 hours late, and did not leave there until 9.10. It was in charge of Conductor Young and Engineer Pask, and when near Rockeliffe Station left the rails, several of the cars being considerably damaged, but, fortunately, the passengers escaped without any serious injury. The engine, a Mogul, went over on its side, and the tender turned upside down. A car of fish was thrown over the fence, a second-class coach partially derailed and the baggage, mail and express cars piled up across the tracks, forming a "V."

A tramp, who was stealing a ride, sustained serious injuries about the head.

There were several Toronto pas-McClennan and Brakeman Sarles are badly scalded.

Only One Township.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Owing to the vigor which the Department of Crown Lands of Ontario has for some years past kept up the work of surveying and opening up new townships in the unorganized districts of New On'ario it has not been found accessary 'o carry on the work of surveying actively this year. It is fortunate that such is the case, as all the Provincial land surveyors, owing to the general condition of prosperity and development which exists in every direction, are busily engaged in their professional work upon private enterprises. No surveys of new townships have been made since the Legislature prorogued. Surveyors have received instructions to survey the Township of Buck, in the Temiscaming district, but they have not yet entered upon the field. A new survey is being made of a portion of the Township of Conmee, but the surveyors' returns have not yet been received at the department. turns have not yet been received at the department.

McORMICK MOWERS not only do the work in first-class shape but you don't require to get off the seat to raise cutting bar to vertical position and look it there. It can be thrown in or out of gear either with foot or hand lev rin any emergency; foot lever raises bar to pass stone, etc., without going out of gear. When out of gear, both gears stop Wearing plates on bar take all the wear of knife and can be replaced for 10 cents. 4 pins to put in gear so can stop and start in heavy crop without backing or ch king knife. No saging back of bar as whoe is o naected to draft with strong rod. A 5 foot mower outs full 5 feet, as shoe is set out well from wheel and rives horse plenty room to walk. Oil cup with screw top keeps pitman oiled but wastes no oil. All wearing parts made reparate and can be replaced at small cost.

Ing parts made reparate and can be replaced at small cost.

McCORMICK BINDERS are easily adjusted for long or short grain.

Open elevators permit long straw to pass up without threshing heads as is done by crowing long grain into closed elevators. Knotter and tension move together when adjusting so there is no slack or stretched twine. Extra centre roller keeps canvas from sagging in heavy grain. Adjustable rollers at bot om of elevator and end of platform with spring slacken or tighten canvas easily and quickly. No heavy lifting to put binder on truck, a boy can tlevate it. Simple and sure tension that will not four twine. Evenly b lanced. No weight on horses neck. All levers operated from seat. Strongly built but easy running. Knives do not require sharpening. Guards made to suit knife and will cut grassy bittom grain with ease. Sheaf carrier that will carry 4 sheaves and set them down evenly, goes with binder. Two knives to out twine. McCormick expert will put machine in good chape any time necessary.

Binder, Mower and Rake Repairs always here and at factory sprices. McCormick Pure Manilla Binder Twine also does its work without a stop of any kind. Stocks at Store and Elevator.

Only a Mask

Only a Mask

Many are not being benefitted by the summer variation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them took healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and and they do not cut nor sleep well what incy need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appertly, and makes sleep refresheg, and that is Hood's Sarseparida. Papils and tachers generally will find the chief purpose of the variation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

-Dr. Walters, who accompanied ne Woodbine team to Uxbridge, is in splendid batting form this son.

- The Woodbine team brought their week's cricket to a close by making it a draw game with the strongest cricket club in Toronto, the "Toronto," Collins, as usual, was top scorer, having 37 to his credit.

- Lindsay should make an effort to arrange games with Beaverton, Milbrook, Orillia and Uxbridge, the local men having improved since July 1st, a game with either would prove interesting.

A Runaway Accident While Driver W. Graham, of the Benson house bus was unhitching his team in the rear of that hotel after team in the rear of that hotel after returning from the 2.05 train from Port Hope on Monday, he carelessly took off the bridles before unfastening one [of the traces and as a result one of the animals, which is very nervous, made a dash for liberty. The beast ran to York-st. and down Kent-st. to the front of the Benson house, when it was brought to a standstill by colliding with a telegraph pole. Mr. Edward Shea, son of Mr. Jas. Shea, of Ops, and a clerk in Brady's store, was run over while endeavoring to stop the runaway. He was badly injured, being bruised and cut by being dashed against the brick wall at the rear of Dunda's & Flavelle Bros.' store. The tongue of the buf was shattered. Drs. Blanchard and Burrows were quickly summoned and dressed the wounds of the sufferer.

WEDDING BELLS.

Bush-Oote.

On Tuesday at 7.30 the bells of St. Mary's church pealed out their wedding chimes. The participants in the happy event were Mr. Geo. L. Bush of the Armstrong Carringe Works, Guelph, and formerly a pupular employee of the City Carriage Works of this town, and Miss Amelia, third daughter of Mr. Fellx Cote, of the east ward.

The ceremony was performed by Monsignor Laurent in the presence of a large number of friends. The groom was assisted by his brother, Harry, while the bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Agnes. The bride was a handsomely attired in a beautiful travelling suit. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome locket and chain.

The happy couple left on the 9 clock train for Guelph, where they will reside in future, carrying with them the good wishes of their many friends.

Motion-Very Bitter Protests London, Aug. 1.—In the House of Commons yesterday, proposing a resolution granting Field Marshal Earl Roberts £100,000 for his services in South Africa (in accordance with the recommendation of King Edward, announced in the House of Lords by the Premier, Lord Salisbury, Monday last), A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, in the course of a culogy of the Field Marshal, whom he compared with such men as Collingwood, Nelson, Marlborough and Wellington, said there was no doubt but that for Lord Roberts' daring and strategy and the rapidity with which his plans were carried out, Kimberley and Macking would have fallen, 11,000 British would been starved into submission at Ladysmith, and there would have fallen, 11,000 British would have been a general rising of disloyalists in South Africa. Great Britain might have recovered therefrom, but at what a cost? The country was saved from this by the genius of the man he now invited the House to reward by a manimous vote, irrespective of age, and form this by the genius of the man he now invited the House to reward by a unanimous vote, irrespective of political differences.

Boxers Not All Dead.
Canton, Aug. 1.—Violent anti-foreign placards, emanating from the Boxers, have been posted in the vicinity of the Christian chapels. The placards protest against the imposition of the house tax, saying it is only exacted in order to meet the indemnity to be paid to the powers, and proceeds:

"If money can be obtained, why not make war on the foreigners? China is not yet defeated. If only the government's eyes, which are blinded by disloyal ministers. If we refuse to fight, then it is a case of being greedy to live, yet fearing death. How can the carefully studied military arts be used, except against foreigners? How can we otherwise capiloy our regiments. During 1900 much money was collected through lotteries, gambling and general taxes. But, they were never satisfied. Therefore, should the house tax be collected, we will demolish the chapels and drive out the Christians. If the Emperor is unable to pay, we, Boxers, have an excellent plant to gain a victory over the foreigners. Unless this policy is adopted a great rebellion is certain."

FOR DUKE OF CORNWALL'S PARTY

A Trip Down the Rapids and Slide of the Ottawa River-Will Be Made in Four Cribs Manned By Crow of 15 or 20 Voyageurs Each, Style. Ottawa, Aug. 2.-Yesterday after-ottawa, Aug. 2.—Yesterday afternoon an important meeting of the lumbermen of the Ottawa Valley took place to decide upon details in connection with the trip of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York down the rapids and slides of the Ottawa River. Mr. J. R. Booth, the veteran pioneer of the lumbering industry, presided, and there was a most gratifying attendance. Those lumbermen from a distance who could not be present promised their support and co-operation. Their Royal Highnesses and suite will be the guests of the lumbermen for practically the whole of Monday, September 23. They will start at a reasonably early hour in the morning, and make the trip in four cribs, each manned by a crew of from fifteen to twenty voyageurs, or rather river men of to-day, garbed in the style of the voyageurs of old. The cribs will be constructed of pine and will be handsomely finished and decorated. Accompanying the Royal party will be the members of the Dominion Cabinet and their wives. In the afternoon, after the exciting trip down the rapids and slides, a representation of shanty life will be given at Rockeliffe Park. For this purpose a model shanty will be built. A number of shantymen will exhibit their skill in handling logs, and will sing some of the rollicking songs by means of which their solourn in the woods is enlivened. The shanty, which is to be built in rustic style, will be left standing in the park as a sort of monument of the Royal visit. There is some likelihood that the Duke and Duchess will make a short stay at Gleichen during their trip out west, in which case an Indian war-dance and pow-wow would be given in their honor. The Black-feet reserve is located there, and further south at Fort MacLood the reserves, and the quaint and picturesque features of such a gathering would be full of interest.

The statement emanating from Montreal that a through wire from Dawson City would be in operation yesterday is erroneous. The latest information in his possession is that the telegraph from Dawson will not be completed until the end of the present month. That portion of the line now under construction passes through very difficult country, and therefore it may be even later than the end of August before the wire is brought into communication with the rest of the Dominion.

The stables were completely gutted, but the surrounding buildings were saved. After the fire was subdued, the remains of a man, charred beyond recognition, were found in the ruins, thus confirming the theory of the origin of the fire being the work of some tramp, who had found shelter in the hay loft. There is no clue to his identity.

The body was later identified as George Engler, son of Christian Engler of the Township of Logan, a few miles from the town of Mitchell.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 2.— The Venezuelan Minister of War, Senor Pulido, has resigned, after a violent scene in the Cabinet during which he refused to accept the orders of President Castro to recognize the revolutionists in Colombia as belliggeness, and to deliver a passport to Senor Rico, the Colombian Minister. The situation is critical. The Government troops have been defented in their first encounters with the rebels, and other uprisings are taking place in the interior of the country. Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 2.—The British steamer Texan has arrived here from Colon and brings confirmation of the reports of severe fighting near Colon on Sunday and Monday last. PATRICK BOYLE DEAD.

to Heart Failure.

The Editor of the Irish Canadian Succumbs to Heart Fuliare.

Toronto, Aug. 2.—Mr. Patrick Boyle, the well-known editor of The Irish-Canadian, died yesterday morning at his home, 67 Isabella street. At 6 o'clock he arose and called his daughter Hattie, who told him it was too early yet to get up. He went down stairs for a moment and then returned to his bed. His daughter got up at 8.20 o'clock, and went to call him. She got no reply, and, entering the room, found him dead. Two doctors were immediately summoned, and said that death had resulted from heart failure.

Mr. Boyle, who was a prominent member of the Irish Land League, was born in Newport, County Mayo, Ireland, in 1832, and came to this country in 1844. He was one of the founders of the Catholic League, which exerted a great influence upon Ontario politics twenty years ago. About 1862 he established The Irish-Canadian, which for many years was recognized as the mouthpiece of the Irishmen in Canada. About five years ago the paper ceased publication, but was revived again a year ago. During the Land League movement Mr. Boyle leaves three daughters: Hattie, living at home; Julia, a nurse at Paterson, N. J., and Mrs. Dowdall.

Net Maryland Democrate Will Eliminate Negro From State Politics.

Baltimore, Aug. 2.—The Democratic State convention, which met here yesterday, declared that the purpose of the party, if successful in the coming election, is to eliminate the negro from politics in Maryland if such a thing he possible under the constitution of the State. Upon this, the paramount issue of the campaign, will stand the candidates nominated yesterday.

The platform adopted declares that the Democratic party represents more than 40,000 majority of the white people of Maryland, and without the aid of the 60,000 colored voters the Republican party in the State would would be in a hopeless minority. It is, therefore, proclaimed that action should be taken to prevent the control of the State government from passing into the hands of those who have neither the ability nor the interest to manage public affairs wisely and well.

Crops Damaged, Reports Exaggerated.

Crops Damaged, Reports Exaggerated.
Winnipeg, Aug. 2.—The alarming reports sent out regarding the damage to Manitoba crops by heat and rust seem to be greatly exaggerated. It is beyond the knowledge of anyone to estimate what damage has been done by rust. So far as can be learned, it will not be very serious. Weather conditions have been really all that farmers could ask for, neither too hot nor too cold, and if favorable conditions continue the yield will be so tremendous that any sectional or slight drawbacks will not be serious. This is the present feeling among well posted men.

Toronto, Aug. 2.—Several narrow escapes of children from being cremated during the Temiscaming fire have been reported to the Ontario Colonization Department. One settler rushed his children into the mud of a partly dried up stream, covered them with blankets and then piled damp mud over them. Another put his children down a well. A 7-year-oid boy was playing in the bush some distance from home, when he was cut off from it by the flames. He ran to the bank of the Wahia River, and called for assistance to a settler, who luckily had a boat and rowed over to his rescue.

London, Aug. 1.—America's advertising methods are about to precipitate a struggle between retail merchants and the big newspapers of London. AND THEIR USE

AND THEIR USE

Few people understand that it is in the intestines, which are about 25 feet long, that food is transformed into chyle, which being absorbed into the general circulation, is formed into blood. The intestines are composed of a spiral coil of muscles surrounded by a coating resembling celluloid and filled with millions of glands. The muscular walls serve to keep in motion the food which has been previously dissolved in the stomach, until the glands have absorbed all the chyle to sustain the human body, and finally force into the rectum all the waste or valueless material. The chief disease of the intestines is constipation through lack of muscular power. Then again unany people are thin and emaciated, because the glands of the intestines are insufficiently active to abstract the food matter, hence much valuable nutriment goes to waste. In both these cases Merrill's System Tonic is a most valuable remedy. The alterative properties strengthen the glands and thin people find themselves taking on fiesh without any apparent cause and the valuable tonics contained in System Tonic permanently cure constipation by strengthening the muscles of the intestinal walls. This is vastly a superior method to taking irritating pills or physic of which the use of one dose creates a greater necessity for another. If you are unreasonably thin or pale and troubled with irregularity of the bowels, Merrill's System Tonic is the only remedy that guarantees you a perfect cure in a reasonable time.

It ye say was a see fighting for their independence. It is nonsense to speak of offering terms to men who say it must be a fight to a finish. This is not the policy of the Government."

Sir Edward Grey, Liberal Imperialist, expressed bitter disappointment at the tone of Mr. Chamberlain's speech, although he agreed with the general military policy of the Government. He said the Colonial Secretary had dealt carelessly with the subject of employing native troops, and had not distinguished between Africans and highly trained Indian troops.

John Redmond said Mr. Chamberlain's speech was 'a candid if somewhat brutal crposition of the Government's policy,' and he prayed to God that the resistance of the Boers might be strengthened.

The debate was continued for another hour after Mr. Chamberlain's speech, and the amendment to reduce the salary of the Colonial Secretary was rejected by a vote of 154 to 70.

The House then took up other subjects, and was in session until 5.15 a. m. Saturday, when they adjourned.

THE BRIGAND BOERS

Caused the Liberal Leader to Bait the Colonial Secretary.

HON. MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S REPLY

The Best Boers Admit Their Defeat-The Irreconciliables Becoming Brigands and Murderers-Farm Burning

Abandoned, and Kitchener Adequately Dealing With the Problem.

London, Aug. 3.—A discussion arose in the House of Commons last might over the Colonial Office appropriations, and it gave the opponents of the government ample opportunity to bait Mr. Chamberlain, while making a motion pro forma to reduce by £100 the vote out of which the Colonial Secretary's salary will be paid.

Colonial Secretary's salary will be paid.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, said that in view by the patience with which the nation had for 21 months endured Mr. Chamberlain's policy in South Africa, he thought it opportune to secure a statement from the Colonial Secretary as to the war situation.

He went on to point out that Cape Colony was now invaded and overrun with Boers, and he asked what prospect there was of repelling the invaders; what the condition of Cape Colony would be after the war; what was the prospect of famine as a result of the Government's 'policy of devastation,' and where was Cape Colony's constitution, which "opeared to him to be under lock and key since the declaration of martial law.

Mr. Chamberlain's Reply.

Mr. Chamberlain's Reply.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that farm burning had been entirely abandoned and replaced by the policy of concentration camps. He contended that these were humane and satisfactory institutions, as had been shown by the fact that thousands of Boers came into them voluntarily.

Continuing, he said "The Government have the best reasons to believe that a vast majority of the Boers acknowledge themselves beaten and would gladly surrender and resume peaceful pursuits but for the comparative handful of irreconcilables who are carrying on a guerilla war that is rapidly degenerating into brigandage and absolute murder. Lord Kitchener is adequately dealing with the problem by establishing blockhouse cordons, within which the peaceably inclined can safely settle and be protected."

blockhouse cordons, within which the peaceably inclined can safely settle and be protected."

Regarding the announcement by Lord Kitchener that Commander Kritzinger had declared his intention to shoot all natives in British employ, whether armed or unarmed, Mr. Chamberlain said the Government had telegraphed Lord Kitchener to inform the Boer leaders that such acts were contrary to civilized usage, and that all guilty persons of this class, if captured, would be court-martialled and executed.

Mr. Chamberlain's declaration was received with loud cheers.

"There seems to be an impression that we have come to some sort of an agreement with the Boers," said Mr. Chamberlain, in another portion of his speech, "that natives are not to be employed in this war, but there is no such agreement."

Nearly Nine Million a Week.

London, Aug. 2.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Lord Stanley, the Financial Secretary of the War Office, replying to a question, said the cost of the war in South Africa. from April 1 to July 31 was £35,730,000, partly chargeable against the deficit of last year. The actual cost in July was £1,250,000 weekly. The statement was greeted with ironical Irish cheers.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said if the war continued at the same cost for the next three months it would necessitate spending the whole of the reserve he had provided for financing the third quarter, but he had reason to hope that this would not be necessary.

The C.P.R. Trackmen's Strike As Seen Through the Books With General Superintendent Spencer of Montreal —Says "The Strike is Out of Date" and That Old Men Are Returning, Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—Judging by indications that are practically facts, peace or war in the steel troubles will be announced from New York City to-day. When the Amalgamated Association Executive Board adjourned last evening President Shaffer announced that another meeting would be held to-day. There will probably be a meeting here to-day of a portion of the board, but the National officers will be in New York. They left for that city last night on the Pennsylvania Limited at 10 o'clock.

"STRIKE IS OUT OF DATE." Superintendent Spencer of the C.P.R. at Montreal So Declares.

Montreal Spencer of the C.P.R. at Montreal, Aug. 3.—Little items on the strike situation continue to leak out. "The strike is out of date," that is how Mr. Spencer, General Superintendent of the C. P. R. puts it. Mr. Spencer had advices yesterday from Mr. McNicoll, General Manager, which indicate that in the Rossland and Kootenay districts the old men are returning to their work, while, if there be a vacancy here and there, new men are applying. In the west all the sections will be very shortly filled.

Mr. Spencer showed the lists of the eastern division, showing just now the road is manned at the present time. Out of 204 sections 86 have been filled with old foremen and men who have returned to their work. The balance is being filled up by careful foremen from other railways, and under such foremen about seventy per cent. of the old men have resumed duty. The same state of things exists upon the Ontarlo and Atlantic divisions.

The case against J. F. Wilson, President of the Brotherhood of Trackmen; Joseph Lennon and A. F. Stout of the C. P. R. strikers' committee, for criminal libel, was called in court yesterday afternoon, and, after Mr. R. C. Montgomery, who made the charge had been examined, the case was adjourned.

American Socialists Pass Strong Resolutions—Tool of Capitalists.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 3.—The National Socialist convention adjourned last night, after electing Leon Greenbaum of St. Louis National Secretary, and designating St. Louis as the national headquarters of the Socialist party. As the delegates filed from the hall they sang the "Marseillaise."

Much of the wrangle during the night session hinged on the effort to embody in the articles of resolution a clause prohibiting Socialists from accepting office under either of the "Capitalist" parties, and from entering the ranks of the State militia. Both clauses were finally adopted.

The judiciary of the country was branded as a "servile tool in the hands of the capitalistic class and hostile to the interests of labor."

London Daily Mail Wins a Notable and Popular Victory.

London, Aug. 3.—The contest between the War Office and The Daily Mail has terminated in a victory for the paper.

The War Office had not only cut off The Daily Mail's South African casualty lists and other official news, but had ordered the various news agencies not to supply The Daily Mail with official information distributed from the War Office.

The Daily Mail sued the news agencies under its contracts to compel them to deliver the news.

The War Office then held back bulletins until near the hour for the morning papers to go to press. This raised a storm of protest from the Provincial papers, and the War Office finally capitulated and called off the boycott.

The experiment at press-gagging aroused bitter criticism among all classes of papers at a time when the Government was not too popular and could ill afford to aggravate popular discontent.

The provincial government reports are obtained from trustworthy farmers in each district, and, so far this year, not an unfavorable report has been received by the department.

"Manitoba has asked for 20,000 if men to harvest her crop, and all will be required; and I believe the demand will not be met with this great number. Wages will be exceptionally high and the work will last until winter sets in."

LUMBER RATES ADVANCE.

Action of Insurance Underwriters Causes Disturbance,

Oftawa, Aug. 3.—There is consternation among the lumbermen here in consequence of the action of the insurance underwriters in raising the rates on lumber and all extra hazardous risks guide as pleasing with rates on lumber and all extra hazardous risks, such as planing mills, etc. The rates have been raised from 25 to 75 per cent. in some cases, a very heavy increase. For instance, the mills of the Edwards Company, which have hitherto paid $2.50 per cent., are now rated at $4, an increase of 60 per cent. The reason assigned for the increase is that losses on lumber of late years, not in Ottawa only, but throughout Canada, have been exceedingly heavy; that already this year there have been serious losses, and that in future the lumber trade must pay for its own business and the incidental losses.

The World Wags on Three Things: Doing, Undoing and Pretending.

We commenced doing the Clothing Business in this town several years ago as it should be done, and our success has been a brilliant one. One reason is: That discriminative buyers of Lindsay and Victoria County have prefered our dependable Clothing, linked with true economy, to showiness and cheapness. Others may exaggerate and mislead, but every word we advertise is weighed and every claim verified before being placed in type. Hence our confidence before the jury of public opinion to whom we submit.

CIVIC HOLIDAY OUTINGS.

At an early hour yesterday morning our citizens were busy preparing for the day's enjoyment. Those who had made up their minds to accompany the Sons of England on their annual excursion to Port Perry were on deck the Crandella in good time and at 8.15 the steamer pulled out from her moorings with nearly 400 of our citizens on board. A strong and refreshing breeze was blowing and was equally enjoyed by the sedentary as well as those following outside employment. Not the slightest mishap occurred to mar the pleatures of the excursionists. The com-efforts to make the outing a pleasnre, and those who wished to trip the light fantastic" did so to their hearts' content.

The day was quietly spent at the Port, some going to visit friends and relatives, others to take in the ceantiful Scugog town. The return trip was made in good time, the steamer
Griving a 19.30 all thoroughly satisfied with the outing.

The C.M.B.A. exertsion to Midland yesterday (civic holiday) was the best that has ever left the town on the Scugog. The G. T. R. special pulled out on time, the run to Midland beling made in less than three hours. Midland presented a good appearance, the streets being beautifully decorated with banners and the stores with flags, in honor of the visitors. Most of Lindsay's influential citizens took in the excursion Many took in the sail to Penetang, and were amply repaid. The distance, eleven miles, is covered on both sides with pleturesque seenery and a good view of the Provincial reformatory was obtained. Penetanguishene, the place of the rolling sand, is an interesting and historic spot. The memorial church, under course of erection, was visited. It will be a handsome edifice when finished. This church is being erected by Rev. Father Laboreau as a monument to that two Jesuit fathers, Breboarf and Lallement, who were put to death by the Indians. The steamer on the return trip called at the smelter and the excursionists were taken in hand by the officials and shown around the whole place. Afterwards the beat returned in ample time to allow those on board to take the train. A great many remained in town and went to see the ball game between Midland and the Lindsay Buffalos. Our boys were victors in the contest, score standing 10-5.

Altogether the day was well spent and will long be remembered by those who took in the excursion as a most pleasant and enjoyable outling. Rev Fathers Phelan and Jos. K mady accompunied the excursion is a most pleasant and enjoyable outling on unmbers and did their best to make every one happy. They wish to extend their thanks to all who patronized their annual excursion. The G.T.R. officials were most obliging. The committee in charge, Rev. C. J. The traffic on all outgoing trains yesterday was large. A number of our citizens spent the day with relatives and friends in Toronto, Peterbore and Fort Hope.

—Yesterday was civic holiday in Orillia. A large excursion under the auspices of the band and firemen of that town was run to Peterboro. The special train, comprising eight conches, in charge of Couductor Geo. H. Adams and engineer Kelcher, passed through shortly after 10 oclock About five hundred people were on loard and a very pleasant day was spent by the Orillians in the various parks and places of interest in our sister town.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—The Ontario Agricultural Department has pre-pared a statement of the crops of the Province, based on the reports of hard a statement of the crops of the Province, based on the reports of its staff of regular correspondents. The returns deal with the conditions up to August. The injury done to the fall wheat by the Hessian fly in the Lake Erie group of counties has been considerable, but, in other places, very little damage was done. There have been more or less complaints of rust. The yield will range from 5 to 40 bushels per acre.

Spring wheat—The yield is a variable one. It has suffered from rust and the Hessian fly, but, on the whole, is in a fair condition.

Barley—Differences of opinion are expressed regarding the yield and quality. It will be a better crop, relatively, than either fall or spring wheat.

expressed regarding the yield and quality. It will be a better crop, relatively, than either fall or spring wheat.

Oats—Large returns in the Lake Ontario counties have been reported, but, in other places, the reverse is the case. The crop has suffered somewhat from the abnormal heat of July.

Ryo—The crop has turned out well in most cases, although, in some instances, it has been affected by the heat of July.

Peas—Reports vary, except on the point that the crop was more or less injured by the weevil. The yield will be from 10 to 30 bushels per acre. A good deal of the crop has yet to ripen.

Hay and clover—The crop is, without doubt, the most successful of the season, both as regards quality and quantity, and the yield will be above the average.

Corn—Taken as a whole, the crop gives promise of doing well, should early frosts not appear.

Potatoes—So far, the outlook is not very bright, but recent rains have improved things a bit.

Roots—Reports vary considerably. The weather of late, however, has been favorable, and the crop is picking up in appearance.

Fruit—Apples are far from satisfactory. There is not likely to be half an average yield. The pear crop is fair in quality, and the yield will be an average one. Peaches will be fair in the Western Lake Drie section, but will hardly do so well in the Niagara District. Flums range in yield from an average from rotting on the tree. Grapes promise agod yield.

on the tree. Grapes promise a good yield.

Pastures and live stock—Pastures are expected to pick up again after the drying up they had during the hot spell. The milk supply, which has fallen off, will likely improve. Prices for cheese and butter have been most encouraging.

Bees and Honey — But for the dry weather of July, an immense yield would have been reported. The average yield will not go over 60 pounds per hive. Eastern apiaries did better than those in the West.

Acreages and yields — The following are the crop estimates for 1901, as judged by appearances on Aug. 1. The acreages are final, but the yield (except in the case of hay and clover) will be revised from actual threshing results in November.

Fall wheat has an area of 920,537 acres, yielding 16,287,499 bushels, or 17.6 bushels per acre. In 1900, there were 1,068,640 acres yielding 23,869,787 bushels, or 21.9 bushels per acre.

London, Aug. 14.—The House of Commons passed the factories bill to a third reading last night, after a heated debate, which arose out of the action of the government in withdrawing a clause, including laundries within the scope of the bill, because the Nationalists strongly objected to official inspections of the Catholic Conventual laundries, on the ground that such inspection would be subversive of the discipline it is necessary to maintain in reformatory laundries conducted by nuns for fallen women.

I was sorry that he had recalled to me the name of Phyllis. It dampened my sociability. I was not yet prepared to take him into my confidence. The ale, however, loosened our tongues, and, though we did not talk about our present affairs, we had a pleasant time recounting the days when we were young in the sense that we had no real trouble. Those were the times when we were earning $15 and $20 the week; when our watches were always in durwhen our watches were always in dur-ance vile; when we lied to the poor washerwoman and to the landlady; when we would always be "around torrow" and "settle up" with our cred-

"At the Victoria."
"All your luggage must be sent to my rooms. I will not hear of your going elsewhere for lodging while in town. I have a floor, and you shall share it. It's a bacehoor's ranch from basement to garret, inhabited by artists, journalists, one or two magazine men, a clever novellst and three of our New York men. There is no small fry save myself. We have little banquets every Friday night, and they sometimes last till Saturday noon. I've taught the Frenchman who represents the Paris Temps how to play polsor, and he threatens to become my Frankenstein, who will eventually devour and he threatens to become my Frank-enstein, who will eventually devour me." Hillars laughed, and it sounded like the laughter of other days. "Jack, I thinls you will do me good. Stay with me and keep me away from the bottle if you can. No man drinks for pure love of liquor. My father never loved it, and God knows what he was trying to forget. For that's the sub-stance of it all, to forget. When you start out to the point of forgetfulness, you must keep it up; regret comes start out to the point of forgetfulness, you must keep it up; regret comes back threefold with soberness. It seems silly and weak for a man who has been buffeted as I have, who is supposed to gather wisdom and philosophy as a snowball gathers snow as it rolls down hill, to try to drown regret and disappointment in liquor. A man never knows how weak he is man never knows how weak he is till he meets the one woman and she will have none of him."

And somehow I got closer to Hillars spiritually. There were two of us, so it seemed, only I was stronger or else my passion did not burn so furiously as his.

The apartments occupied by Dan were all a bachelor could wish for. The walls were covered with photographs, original drawings, beer steins, pipes, a slipper here, a fan there and books and books and books. I felt at

I watched Hillars as he moved about the room, tidying up things a bit, and I noticed now more than ever how Though not so robust as when I last saw him, his form was yet elegant. In the old days we had called him Adonis, and Donie had clung to him long after the Cambridge time.

"Now," said he when we had lighted our pipes, "I'll tell you why I'm going to the dogs. I've got to tell it to some one or go daft, and I can't say that I'm not daft as it is."

"It is a woman," said I after reflection, "who causes a man to drink, to lose all ambition."
"It is."

'It is a woman," I went on, holding the amber stem of my pipe before the light which gleamed golden through the transparent gum, "who causes a man to pull up stakes and prospect for new claims, to leave the new country for the old."

Ior the old."

"It is a woman indeed," he replied.
He was gazing at me with a new interest. "If the woman had accepted him he would not have been here."

"No; he would not," said I.
"In either case, yours or mine."
"In either case, Go on with your

"In either case. Go on with your story. There's nothing more to add to mine."

Some time passed, and nothing out the breathing of the pipes was heard. Now and then I would poke away at the ashes in my pipe bowl, and Dan would do the same.

"Have you a picture of her?" I asked, reaching for some fresh tobacco.

"No; I am afraid to keep one."

To me this was a new phase in the matter of grand passions.

"A likeness which never changes its expression means nothing to me," he explained. "Her face in all its moods is graven in my mmu. I was not with my eyes, and she stands before me in all her loveliness. Do you know why I wanted this vacation? Rest?"

His shoulders went up, and his lips closed tighter. "My son, I want no rest. It is rest which is killing me. I am going across. I am going to see her again, if only from the curb, as she rolls past in her carriage, looking at me, but not recognizing me, telling her footman to brush me aside should I attempt to speak to her. Yet I would suffer this humiliation to see that glorious face once more, to hear again that voice, though it were keyed to scorn. I am a fool. Jack. What, have I gone all these years free heart to love a chimera in the end? Verily I am an ass!

The father of this princess once rendered the present king's father a great service, and in return the king turned over to his care a princess once rendered the present sings father a great service, and in return the king turned over to his care a principality whose lineal descendants had died out. It was with the understanding that so long as he retained the king's good will, just so long he might possess the principality, and that when he died the sovereignty would pass to his children. The old king died, and his son sat upon his father's throne. The father of the princess also died. The king of today made the same terms as his father before him. The Princes Hildegarde accepted them, not counting the cost. Last spring she was coronated. Shortly before the corosation Prince Ernst of Wortumborg became a suitor for her hand. The king was very much pleased. Princes Ernst was a cousin of the Princess

I shall tell Hillars' story as he told it. He said: Last August I went to B—.

My mission was important and took me to the British legation, where I am well known. I was most cordially invited to attend a ball to be given the next evening. The notables of the court were there. For a few moments the king let his sun shine on the assemblage. It was a brilliant spectacle, At midnight I saw for the first time a remarkably beautiful woman. I was looking well myself that night. All women like to see broad shoulders in women like to see broad shoulders in a man. It suggests strength—something they have not. Several times this young woman's eyes met mine. Somehow, mine were always first to fall. There was a magnetism in hers mine could not withstand. Later an attache came to me and said that he wished to present me to her screne highness the Princess Hildegarde of—let us call it Hohenphalia. He whispered that she had commanded the introduction. I expected to see some red faced dowager who wanted to ask me about my country and bore me with her guttural accents. To my intense pleasure, I found myself at the side of the beauty whom I had been admiring. There was a humorous light in her eyes as she put some questings to me. women like to see broad shoulders in

I nodded. "I have beard it said that the American bows down before a title, and I am a woman and curious."
Said I, laughing: "Your highness has been misinformed. We never bow down to a title. It is to the wearers that we bow."

This sort of conversation is altogether new to me," she said, opening the fan.

awe, now:—
Soft laughter rippled over the fan.
She had the most wonderful eyes.
"Are all Americans brave like yourself?" she next asked.

"Brave? What do you call brave?"
"Your utter lack of fear in my presence, in the first place. I am called dangerops. And then your exploits in Balkistan, in the second place.

Are you not the M. Tiliars whose prevery not so long ago was an interesting topic in the newspapers? I know you."
"This is truly remarkable," said I. "The only thing I did was to lead a regiment out of danger."
"The danger was annihilation. If a captain or a colonel had done it, we should have thought nything of it, but an utter stranger, who had nothing in common with either cause—ah, believe me, it was a very gallant thing to do."
"This is positively the first time I was ever glad that I did the thing." I placed my hand over my heart. "But, after all, that is not half so brave as

There was mischief in her eye.

"Then you shall stay with me, find me an lee and waltz once with me, for if anything happened to you I should always have myself to blame."

I waltzed with her, and the perfume of her hair got into my head, and I grew dizzy. When the dance came to an end, I went into the smoking room. Suddenly it went through my brain an end, I went into the smoking room. Suddenly it went through my brain that the world had changed in an incredibly short time. I tried to smoke and for the first time in my life tobacco was tasteless. I was falling in love with a princess. I confess that it did not horrify me. On the contrary, I grew thrilled and excited. There was a spice here which hitherto had been denied me. The cost was unspelled. I fell as far as I could fall.

I fell as far as I could fall.

For a week I lingered on. I met ner time and again, alone on horseback, at the various embassies and at the opera. At these meetings I learned a great deal about her. She was known to be the most capricious woman at court, and that she was as courageous as she was daring, and that the prince might consider himself lucky if he got her, king's will or no king's will. She had little liking for her intended. She treated him contemptuously and held his desires in utter disregard. One fine morning I was told that the prince was beginning to notice my attentions, that he was one of the most noted pistol shots and swordsmen on the continent and that if I had any particular regard for my epidermis I would cease regard for my epidermis I would cease my attendance on the princess at once. This of course made me more attentive than ever, for I can hold my own with any man when it comes to pistols, and I can handle the rapier with some suc-

It was one night at the opera that It was one night at the opera that the climax was brought about. I sat in one of the stalls diagonally across from the royal box where she sat. She saw me and gave me the barest nod of recognition. Perhaps she did not wish to attract the attention of the royal personages who sat with her, for the nod struck me as clandestine. Between nod struck me as clandestine. Between the first and second acts a note was handed to me. It was not addressed, neither was it signed. But it was for me. The bearer spoke my name. As near as I can remember the note contained these words:

"A carriage will await you two blocks south. It will be without lights. You will enter it exactly ten minutes after the opera is ended."

You will enter it exactly ten minutes after the opera is ended."

That was all, but it was enough. When I returned to my seat, I found the princess gazing intently at me. I made an affirmative gesture and was rewarded with a smile which set my blood to rushing. I made little out of the last act. I could not dream what the anonymous note had behind it. I the last act. I could not dream what the anonymous note had behind it. I suspicioned an intrigue, but what use had she for me, an American, a very nobody? Something unusual was about to take place, and I was to be a witness or a participant of it. That was as far as my talent for logical deduction went. Promptly at the stated time I stood at the side of the carriage. It was the plainest sort of an affair. Evidently it had been hired for the occasion. The door opened.

"Step in, monsieur," said a low voice in French. I obeyed. The horse started. As we spun along the payement a light flashed into the window. The princess sat before me. There was a ringing in my ears, and I breathed quickly. But I said no word. It was for her to speak first.

"But it is not so. Monsieur, I have been studying you for the past week. Tonight I place my honor and my fame in your hands. It is for you to prove that you are a knight. I trust you. When I have said what I shall say to you, you may withdraw or give me your aid, as you please."
"I am grateful for your confidence, your highness," said I. "What is it that you wish me to do?" "Have patience, monsieur, till the

The building before which we stood was on the outskirts of the city. Far away to my left I could see the flickering lights of the palaces. A yellowish haze hung over all. Whether it was patronized by the nobility I could only princess elopes with an American adventurer. The prince will withdraw his suit. The king may or may not forgive me, but I will risk it. He is still somewhat fond of me notwithstanding the worry I have caused him. This way is the only method by which I may convince him how detestable this engagement is to me. Yet my freedom is more to me than my principality. Let the king bestow it upon whom he will. I shall become a teacher of languages or something of that sort. I shall be free and happy. Oh, you will have a merry tale to tell, a merry adventure. You will return to your compariots. You will return to your compariots. You will recont at your cubs a story such as men read, but never hear told." She was growing a bit hysterical. As she looked at me she saw that my face was grave.

"Is there no other way?" I asked. "Can it not be accomplished without scandal?"

"No. There must be scandal. Otherwise I should be brought back and forgiven, and no one would know. In a certain sense I am valuable. The Hohenphallans love me. I am something of an idol to them. The king appreciates my rule. It gives him a knowledge that there will be no internal troubles in Hohenphalla so long as matters stand as they now do. Still, there are limits to the king's patience, and I am about to try them severely.

"No, your highness," said I. "I have given my word. As for the scandal, it is not for myself that I care. It will be a jolly adventure for me, and then I shall have such a clever story to tell my friends at the clubs."
She saw that I was offended. "Forgive me, monsieur. I know that you would do no such thing. But let me explain to you. At the station we will be intercepted by two trusted and high efficials at court."

"But this is madness." I cried.
"Directly you will see the method in the mydness. Without their knowing there could be no scandal. They will try to stop us. You will overpower and bind them. There will also be several other witnesses who will not be participants. Through them it will become known that I have eloped with an American. Oh, it is a well laid plan."

"But supposing I am overpowered myself, thrown into jail and I know not what?" All this was more than I had bargained for.
"Nothing of the kind will happen. Monsieur will hold a pistol in each hand when the carriage door is opened. You will say: 'I am a desperate man. One of you bind the other or I fire!' It will be done. You will spring upon the remaining one, and I will help you to bind him likewise. Oh, you will

I sat in my chair, speechless. Here was a woman of details. I had never met one before.
"Well, does monsieur accept the adventure or does he politely decline?"
There was a subtle taunt in her tones. That decided me.

That decided me.
"Your highness, I should be happy to meet a thousand uhlans to do you service. What you ask me to do is quite simple." I knew that I should lose my head in case of failure. I rose and bowed as unconcernedly as though she had but asked me to join her with a

"Your highness," said I lowly, compelling her eyes to meet mine, "It is not the danger of the adventure or its results that I most fear." I was honest enough to make my meaning clear.

She blushed. "I said that I trusted monsleur's honor," was her rejoinder. "Come," with a return of her imperiousness, "It is time that we were gone." She drew on her cloak and dropped the vell. "I might add," she said, "that we will remain in France one hour. From there you may go your way, and I shall go secretly to my palace."

And the glamour fell away like the last leaves of the year.

I had to wake up the driver, who had fallen asleep.

"Where shall I say?" I asked.
"To your nous." I shan give use uriver the remaining instructions."
"But you haven't told me," said I, as I took my place in the carriage, "how I am to become a guest at the dinner tomorrow evening."

THE SHIPPING OF APPLES

The shipping of apples

The convention of the National Apple Shippers' Association, which met in Toronto this week has brought very prominently before the shippers of apples the necessity of discrimination in the selection of fruit which is prepared for the export market. The addresses of Dr. James Mills, of the Guelph Agricultural College, and Prof. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture, were replete with good advice, as well as of warning in regard to this matter. Dr. Mills disapproved of the system of crehar i management pursued by the farmers of Ontario. While other parts of the farm were under the most careful cultivation, the orchard was frequently left to look after itself. Pruning and manuring were both neglected, which led to the production of inferior fruit. The orchard required as anyther harts attentions as my other part which led to the production of inferior fruit. The orchard required is much attention as any other part of the farm, and until this fact was fully recognized and acted upon, the best results could not be obtained.
One of the great st discouragements with which fruit growers had to contend was wormy fruit, which Dr.
Mills explained was due to the lack of spraying. The government had used its best efforts to remedy this defect. The representatives of Farmers' Institutes had gone throughout the province pointing out to farmers the necessity of proper spraying and instructed them in the art of doing it correctly. The result had of doing it correctly. The result had been very discouraging, for it must be confessed that farmers were giving very little attention to the mating very little attention to the matter.

The greatest complaints, however, were on the score of improper or fraudulent packing, which Dr. Mills pointed out, had so imperilled our reputation in Europe that honest dealers had made an appeal to the Dominion government. Accordingly an act had been passed for the purpose of crushing the fraudulent packer, by imposing a fine upon every barrel packed with intent to deceive. But this penalty was so deceive. But this penalty was so paltry that it completely discount-ed the whole value of the act. If a man packed turnips or potatoes a man packed turnips or potatoes in the bottom of a barrel instead of apples the maximum fine on conviction was one dollar and the minimum twenty-five cents. Dr. Mills had received a report from London which sold him that a barrel of Canadian apples had been opened and a wad of hay found in the centre, of course, such dishon st packing was not general. such dishon st packing was not general, but the art of "facing," that is, the placing of inferior apples in the middle of the barrel, was too commonly practiced, much to the detriment of the whole apple shipping

In order to remedy the avil effects of unskilled and of dishonest pack-ing, the growers and shippers needing, the growers and simplers needed ed to work in harmony, for their in-ter ss w r. Ventical. Skilful pack-ing by trained men was one of the important necessities of the trade. Untrained men went into the orchard and packed apples, and the dealers in London said the Canadians were a lot of rogues. Prof. Robert-son pointed out that Canada's exson pointed not that canadas sys-port pork business had lacreased twenty times in the last ten years. Why? Because the work of pork packing and shipping was done by skilled men under scientific condi-skilled men under scientific conditions. The apple trade could be increased by the same means.

The importance of proper packing in regard to the export of goods is searcely appreciated by the average Canadian farmer. If a barrel of apples is carelessly packed or if any deception is practiced in preparing apples, for export, the decided inforty that is inevitably done afflicts not only the dishonest packer, but all the other farmers, who have been most scrupulous. The whole Canadian trade may be, and is injured, by a few men who do not understand the baneful effects of their neglect or fraud. This is a matter which should be thoroughly understool before the Canadians can hope stool before the Canadians can hope to do the business which awaits them when careful and uniform packing become universal among our apple growers. The expert is now about a million barrels a year, and with good attention this amore can be very materially increased.

FARM AND GARDEN.

FARM AND GARDEN.

The length of life of a tradesman is two-thirds that of a farmer.

It is said that Nova Scotia will have as many apples as last year, and that they will be of a superior quality.

The yield of Scoteh and English potatoes will be fully up to the average, while Ireland promises the best yield since 1895, which was a grand year.

Chicago alone will handle about 40,000,000 pounds of beet sugar this year. Most of it will come from Michigan, where the development of the industry has been most rapid.

—Like Indian corn, the tomato is best when the seed is produced in the same latitude and climate where the crop is to be grown, and it seldom does it best the first season when taken far north or south of its native locality.

FOOD OF THE GODS.

Prof. Rebertson Urges More Scientific Treatment in Cultivation and Care of Apples - Improvements in Storage.

Toronto, Aug. 9.—The Apple Shippers' Convention was addressed by Prof. Robertson of the Dominton Department of Agriculture at the Pavilion yesterday afternoon. He said too many people start growing apples without taking the trouble to learn how. It required education to be successful, but not the education of the professor, who boasted of being able to name 150 varieties at sight. One grower boasted that he had 600 varieties in his orchard. This was suicidal, as mixed shipments were not as salable as selected grades. He believed that, in a district, say, as large as from Toronto to Owen Sound, north of St. Catharies, apple growers should devote themselves to not more than 10 or 12 varieties, which would give, in the various districts, over 100 Canadian varieties.

After giving some practical advice to the delegates to act as educators rather than censors of apple growers, he explained the Canadian arrangements now in operation to protect shippers from careless handling of consignments on the railways and steamships.

Prof. Robertson put in a plea for illustration stations, and said that a two-acre lot, under a superintendent, in each district, would be of great value in teaching the best methods of growing, grading, packing and shipping.

He believed the bill which came into effect on July 1 would have a valuable influence in preventing frauduent marking of shipments.

Canadian officials were engaged in England, watching the unloading and prompt delivery of apple shipments, and, after this month, the names of steamers, in which consignments were negligently handled, would be published in an afficial bulletin by the Department of Agriculture.

A number of steamers going from Montreal were being provided with specially ventilated storage accommodation for apple shipments, and it only required united effort on the part of Canadian growers, packers, buyers and shippers, to greatly increase the prosperity of this great branch of the agricultural industry.

Simple Funeral Service Over the Body of Late Downger Empress.

Cronberg, Aug. 9.—The remains of the Dowager-Empress were placed in the coffin yeasterday morning.

The funeral service, held at Friedrichshof, late yesterday afternoon, was simple, but highly impressive. It was performed, at the request of the late Dowager-Empress, by the Bishop of Ripon, her own chaplain, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Teigmmouth Shore, Canon of Worcester. The coffin stood in the death chamber, covered with a long black pall, and strewn with white roses. At the foot, with bowed head, and slightly in advance of the other mourners, stood Emperor William, in the uniform of the Black Hussars, the regiment of the late Dowager-Empress. Just behind him, were all the other members of the Royal Family, except Prince Henry of Prussia.

The service was conducted entirely without music. It consisted of a portion of the burial service of the Church of England, the 90th Psalm, a reading from the First Epistle to the Corinthians, and the Benediction. The congregation rendered the responses. Immediately after its conclusion, Emperor William and the Empress drove back to Hamburg.

A BAD C. P. R. ACCIDENT

Two Men Dead and Two Others

Proton Station About 3.50 Saturday Cars in the Train Were Wrecked

Toronto Junction, Aug. 12. accident which caused considerable loss to rolling stock and sorrow to two homes, as well as great anxiety to two others, occurred on Saturday near Proton Station on the Toronto, near Proton Station on the Toronto, Grey and Bruce branch of the C.P.R. The way freight which left Toronto Junction early in the morning had reached Dundalk in safety. Dundalk is the highest point on the line, being 1,500 feet above Toronto. From there it is down grade to Owen Sound.

Sound.

Behind the way freight at Corbetton was the steamboat express, laden with passengers, and, to get out of the way of this train, Engineer Campbell took advantage of the down-grade, and put on full steam in order to reach Markdale. The train was traveling at the rate of about 50 miles an hour, when the engine suddenly left the track, ran down an embankment on the east side, then turned on to the track again lehigthways, and was struck by the cars following, which knocked it on its side and piled up on top of it and around it. One car was thrown upon it upside down, and the next car was thrown on it right side up. Eleven other cars crashed together like tinder boxes, making a pile of debris several feet high.

William Campbell, engineer, was thrown underneath the engine, the boiler of which had burst, and the water from which scalded him to death instantly.

William McCauley, fireman on the train, was also thrown under the engine, but the other train lands being quickly at the fore part of the train, got a beard, slipped it under him and drew him out. "He was very much scalded on one side. His hands were dreadfully scalded and his ear was cut. At first it was thought he could not recover, but he was renoved to Owen Sound Hospital, and yesterday morning was reported improved. Later in the day he was said to be no better, and the doctors refused to express an opinion as to whether he would recover or not, but at night they announced a slight improvement with hope for recovery.

William McCraw, a brakeman on the train, was also in the engine at the time of the accident, and was likewise seriously scalded. He died in Owen Sound Hospital about 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

John Lancaster, another brakeman on the train, was on the thirteenth car when the engine left the rails, and was thrown into the debris. Here he was imprisoned for four hours until the auxiliary arrived and dug him out. His injuries are internal and his shoulder is hurt. His chances for recovery are good.

An Early Settlement Predicted.

Winnipeg, Aug. 10.—One of the striking trankmen stated yesterday that an early settlement of the strike was likely. There were representatives from all the railroad orders at Montreal in consultation on the matter, and they were awaiting the arrival of Messrs. Pope and Shaw of Rat Portage before coming to a decision as to the action to be taken. There is no change in the situation locally, and the men claim to be getting all the work they require. Many of the section foremen have left the company's houses, and there has not as yet been any evictions.

Molbourne, Victoria, Aug. 10.—The House of Representatives yesterday passed the second reading of the Australian Defence bill.

Edmund Barton, the Premier, made a speech, during the course of which he said the standing army contemclated was only a sufficient force to guard the depots and to serve as military instructors for the levies to be called out in case the first line of defence, the navy, was broken.

The clause providing for calling out men from 18 to 60 years of age was simply inserted to demonstrate to the world what Australia would do in time of emergency.

The cost of the navy would be about $1,000,000 anuvally.

Californian Smelting Works.

Vallajo, Cal., Aug. 7. — Gold bricks, valued at $340,000, were stolen during last night from the Sciby Smelting Works. The robbers evidently had been working on the job for two or three months. They had dug a tunnel from outside the house, beginning with a shaft about three feet deep. Thence they worked underneath the vault, and, striking upwards, bored a hole. In the strong room floor. The hole was shaped like the manhole of a boiler. Part of the hole was bored two months ago, it is thought, and the last was completed during the night. Through that hole they took the gold bricks and carried them to a bank near the mouth of the tunnel east of the works, where they evidently were placed in a coat. In their hurry the robbers left two of the bricks on the bank.

Sheriff Veale of Contra County, and Chief of Police Sanford of Vallejo, have been notified and are now at the works. The police of San Francisco and all the bay cities are at work on the slightest clue to the robbers, McKessport Will Be Moved.

Pittsburg, Aug. 10. — There were gravely important developments in the strike situation yesterday. The U.S. Steel Corporation moved decisively in its strike campaign with a peremptory order directing that the great Dewees Wood plant it McKeesport be dismantled and removed to the Kiskimenetas Valley.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, after a two days' conference with President Sinfer and his associates, issued a formal statement last night, specifically pledging the Federation to morally and financially support the Amalgamated Association. His written review of the train of events leading up to the industrial quarrel sustains the course of the Amalgamated Association, and declares that nothing remains for labor but to battle for the cause of unionism.

The official announcement of the order to dismantle the Dewees Wood plant came this afternoon toward the close of another uneventful day, and its importance was such that it is claimed the serious consideration of the men on either side of the great industrial conflict now being waged here.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 10. — The best reports received indicate that in Saturday's greater strike the following named mills will be the principal ones involved. The number of Amalgamated men in each is given:

Strikers Refused.

Toronto, Aug. 10. — N. S. Dunlop of the legal department of the C. P. R. has returned home from a holiday trip to Western Ontario. He states that many of the striking C. P. R. trackmen sought employment on the Canadian Northern, but Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann refused to take them on, because they were strikers. Most of the men were from the Port Arthur division.

The Weekly Post.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, AUG. 16th, '01.

MR. JOHN DRYDEN

Mr. Dryden has received consider able attention from the press of Ontario in the past week or two. It has been said that he has taken shares in a Dakota ranching company, along with other gentlemen, and that his having done so is detrimental to the best interests of this province, of which he is Minister Agriculture. Opinion is pretty well Agriculture. Opinion is pretty well divided as to the propriety of the Minister of Agriculture holding interests in farming or ranching of a foreign country. A section of the press asserts that in so doing he oraws attention from Outario and advertises the ranching interests of Dakota, while another section holds that Mr. Dryden, or any other minister has a perfect right to invest his private funds as he sees fit. It appears to us to be a matter quite unworthy of the attention that has been given it, and we are disposed been given it, and we are disposed to agree with those who claim that a Minister of the Crown may make such investments as he considers are in his own interests, and so long as these investments are legitimate it is not an affair of the public generally where they are placed.

No charge has been made against the administration of Mr. Dryden, indeed, if a searching inquiry were made into the wors of the department of Agriculture, it would very quickly reveal the fact that Mr. Dryden has been a most rainstaking and den has been a most painstaking and faithful public servant. He has per-formed his work quietly, and uno-stentatiously, and without the bluster which has been so often associ ter which has been so often associ-ated with the work of cabinet min-isters in this country. Without spending much public money, the de-partment of Agriculture has worked s' ndily in the interests of the farming community, and a most complete vindication of Mr. Dryden's position at the council board of Chiario would follow such an in-quiry as we have mentioned. The department of Agriculture is one of the strongest in the Ontario gov-ernment, and the splendid condition in which it exists to-day is very largely due to the practical pains-taking labors of its efficient head. The hest interests of this province, the business of which is very largely agricultural, demand that the advisors of the department he ninistrator of this department be in every respect practical and progressive. Such a man is Mr. Dry-

Furthermore, the withdrawal of Mr. Dryden from politics, besides being a distinct loss to the department of which he is the head, would be a loss to the country in another respect. He is not only an efficient administrator, but John Dryden is an honest man. We want honest men in politics. The integrity of Mr. Dryden is unimpeachable. of Mr. Dryden is diministeness. He is sincerely honest in everything he does, kindly, genial, retiring in his manner; yet progressive and deligent in business affairs. The Minister of Agriculture is the type of man this country cannot afford to elbow aside. He is giving the best years of his life in the service of his country, seeking no other reward than the consciousness of having done his duty well, and it would be a deplorable mistake to push aside such a man without sufficient cause He is the very antipodes of the poli tician of sharp practice or of self-seeking, and it is very sincerely to be hoped that the time will soon come when such men-men of high principle of purity, of honor, will be recognized and appreciated to their full value, particularly when they spend their lives in the interests and to the advantage of the Canadian

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lord Kitchener officially corre-borates the report of the release of Antirles Wessels, the peace envoy who was said to have been murdered by DeWet. He was found in Gen Cel-lier's larger. Perhaps more of those murder stories may prove to have been untrue.

Down in Montreal they are fining drivers for turning street corners at a trot, thus endangering pedestrains. It will be news to many to learn that the pedestrian has always the right of way. There is sometimes a good deal of reckless driving around corners here.

The Buffalo papers are much elated in consequence of the fact that of late the traffic through the Eric canal has largely increased as compared with last year. The Review, noticing this, indicates its belief that the day of the Eric is not passed, as some have held, and adds that the "simple trath is that the canals can be made the most valuable assets of the State of New York, if proper steps are taken." The truth is that the day of canal revival seems to have arrived all over the world. The lesson must not be lost sight of in Canada.

The proposal to examine the eyes of the children in the public schools has been derided by some people in Canada as an excess of paternalism. Canada as an excess of paternalism. They think differently in New Jersey. The official examiner has just reported on his last test, and it appears that out of 1,200 children whose eyes were examined more than two hundred were found with more or less defective sight. How much suffering, present and future, has been averted by the discovery and its consequent treatment may be imagined. And what is found good in New Jersey would be found equally good in Canada.

In response to the invitations of Mrs. Soward, St. James' church, Kinmount, was crowded with guests on the morning of Wednesday, July 31st The occasion was the marriage of her eldest daughter, Mabel, and Mr. Invitation, who is in husiness Herry S. Hopkins, who is in business in the village, and the many friends of the young couple assembled to congratulate them upon the happy in the village, and the many friends of the young couple assembled to congratulate them upon the happy event.

The interior of the church was decorated with great care and was rendered beautiful by flowers, palms and ferns, which abounded in artistic profusion and completely transformed the appearance of the building, whilst from the altar to the street carpet had been lail for the occasion. All that was possible had been done in honor of the event, and at halfpast ten the ringing of the bell proclaimed the arrival of the brother, Mr. H. S. Soward, Minden, proceeded up the alse to the altar to the strains of the wedding march. Here the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dean Soward, father of the groom by her brother. Miss Beatrice Soward acted as bridesmald, while the groom was supported by his brother, Gordon.

The bride wore a dainty gown of white silk, and with the usual accompaniment of a bridal vell and orange olosoms, and carrying a lovely boquet of white carnations tied with silk ribbons, she presented a charming picture as she stood before the altar. Miss Beatrice Soward was becomingly attired in pale blue organdle, and also carried flowers, as did little Lionel and Percy Train, nephews of the bride, who performed the duties of pages in a very pleasing manner.

The nuptial ceremony being concluded the bridal party adjourned to the happy future of the young couple. From the gaily decorated flowers, shout seventy-five partock of the luncheon and a pleasant hour was spent, toasts being offered to the happy future of the young couple from the gaily decorated in the processing tripe hierdy here of the young couple to the relivany station, where they departed amider a shower of rice and flowers upon their houeymon trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins spent their wedding trip chiefly in Buffalo, viewing the many interesting slights of the exhibition, and on their return journey spent a short time at Toronto and Niagara Falls. On Wednesday last the bridal couple returned to Kinmount, and were driven to their new home, the late Methodist parsonage, which was a gift to them from the groom's father, Mr. A. Y. Hopkins.

Falls for over Sunday, the party including Mr. Rufus S. Hudson and his son, Mr. F. W. Hudson of Toronto.

Mr. Hudson, jr., is the assistant General Manager of the Canada Permenent and Western Canada Nortgage Corporation. He, personally, is a new and important shareholder of the Central Ontario Power Co., and has taken a leading part in organization matters the past meath in the Power Company.

Mr. Hudson, while having knowledge of the extent of, the waters, was particularly impressed with the great capacity of Lovesick lake for a reservoir or "mill pond," for Burleigh Falls, being, as it is, adjoining this power. In viewing the locality to be exploited and its natural advantages, its great depth of head, easily stemmed, and its reservoir, he feit convinced that just here was the opportunity to develope electric power that could be laid down at manufacturing points in Central Ontaric at a rate very much less expensive to the consumer than power developed from any other available site.

As will be known by the business prople in Peterboro and district, Mr. Hudson is no stranger to these parts, having been largely identified financially the last twenty years with interests in Peterboro and district. The party left for Toronto this morning, Mr. Culverwell staying over in town, at the Company's offices.

Noxon Works Scorched.

Ingersoil, Aug. 14.—Part of the Noxon Works waz burned Monday afternoon. The fire, which occurred shortly before 4 o'clock, was caused by a spark, supposedly from the emery wheel, dropping into a barrel of black japan. Before the workmen could realize what had happened, nearly the whole room was a mass of fiames, the men having barely time to escape. Some of those nearest to where the fire started were slightly scorched, but, fortunately, no one was seriously injured. The fire was put out at 8 o'clock.

The damage caused by the fire will be $30,000.

London, Aug. 14. — The Pacific cable bill passed its third reading in the House of Commons yesterday, Chicago, Aug. 14.—Invader won the third race to-day, which was scheduled for the triangular course. It was another calm day, and barring accident, the Cadillac was sure to be beaten. The Detroit boat clearly fouled the challenger soon after the start, which the judges allowed. Both boats continued on the course, but on the Toronto craft drawing steadily away the Defender gave up the chase. The freak Milwaukee took up the running, and she too was beaten in turn.—Start.—Cadillac, 11.00.30; Invader, 11.20.35; Second mark—Invader, 12.25.15. Third mark—Invader, 1.36.05. Finish—Invader, 2.40.01; Milwaukee, 2.40.30.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—A railway accident occurred three miles east of Ingolf last evening, and the following is the official statement issued from the C.P.R. offices; "Extra for west with harvesters from Maritime Provinces left track three miles east of Ingolf at 5 o'clock. The cause is said to be a rail breaking under the engine while the train was 'assing over it. The engine and five coaches were derailed, and the following passengers are reported killed or injured: John Reed, Newfoundland, head and leg injured; Matin Almon, Cape Breton, head injured; James Craig, York County, N.B., serious cut on head; Dan White, Kent City, N.B., dead; Donald McKegan, Cape Breton, dead; Thomas Corwin, fireman of engine, leg badly injured. A wrecking train with three doctors on board left Winnipeg for the scene inmediately on receipt of the news. Another wrecking train from Rat Portage with two doctors las gone to the scene of the accident." Provinces left track three miles east

The procession moved through the tree-arched avenue to the new palace, and then through the park to the Sans Souci Garden, all of which were closed rigidly against the public, though a few newspaper men were admitted by card.

When the coffin was borne across the threshold of the mausoleum the cathedral choir from Berlin intoned a solemn strophe. Only the Emperor and Empress and the other members of the British royal party and the Princes of the highest rank entered the mausoleum which is small. Dr. Porsius, the chaplain, offered a prayer, after which the choir again sang.

When Their Majesties left the mausoleum the procession dissolved. The Empress, Queen Alexandra and the other ladies went in carriages direct from Wild Park to the mausoleum.

BEET SUGAR FACTORY.

The contract price for the Wallaceburg beet sugar factory buildings exclusive of the cooperage, is about $800,000. The main building will be 260 x 65, four stories high, with warehouse attached 290 x 65, two stories high. The bother house will be 150 x 65, two stories high, and the lime bouse will be 72 x 50, two stories high, and the lime bouse will be 72 x 50, two stories high, and the lime bouse will be 72 x 50, two stories, and elaborately finished with all modern conveniences. The buildings are to be wholly of brick, cement and stone. conveniences. The buildings are to be wholly of brick, cement and stone, with steel roofs. The storage building for sugar will connect with the main building and is to be 200 feet long, two stories high, of brick and iron. There are to be ten best sheds with a storing capacity of from 15,000 to 18,000 tons of beets each of which is to be 400 feet long. A complete electric light plant will be constructed on the grounds, the mill and yards to have are lamps and incandescents. The machinery will incandescents. The machinery will include a Corliss engine and eight include a Corliss engine and eight boilers. One hundred tons of coal will be consumed a day, and the plant will be capable of cutting up daily 700 tons of beets. If the acreage along the river will warrant it the company intend building about the company in t the company intend building about twenty small barges so they can be distributed all along the banks where beets are grown. In this way farmers can load twenty or thirty tons in a boat and send them in, thus saving labor and expense. When it is considered that there are fully sixty miles of navigation within a radius of twelve miles of Wallaceburg and every fort of the adjacent burg and every fott of the adjacent country beet soil it will readily be seen that twenty barges can be operated so as to save an enormous sum in cash for delivering as com-pared with teaming. The company have made every arrangement to have the factory completed by 1st August, 1902. Everything will be in readiness in a week or ten days' time to begin writing contracts for acre-age for their first campaign. The allaceburg papers say that the in dications are that the acreage will be signed in a short time as appli-cations are already coming in from cations are already coming in from every direction for contracts from growers. Computed in carloads the company expect to handle seventeer hundred carloads of beets during the CANADIAN PRODUCE IN BRITAIN.

The following from the London The following from the London (Eng.) Canadian Gazette, is of interest to Canadians: "Five years ago we dook from Canada only 7 per cent. of our imported food; last year we took 16 per cent, and in the next five years the proportion will be probably doubled. In cheese alone we now derive 70 per cent. of our imports from Canada, and we know that the butter trade has increased fifteen-fold and the bacon trade fifteen-fold and the bacon trade twenty-fold in ten years. In 1890 Canada exported 162 ship-loads of Great Britain, and last And perhaps the most important fact of all is that the exports of Canadian wheat were last year thirty times greater than they were ten years ago."

"It must not be forgotten," says than they were ten years ago."
"It must not be forgotten," says the Glasgow H rall, commenting upon these significant figures, "that the ports of Canada are nearer to us by sea than those of the United States. Some of her sons resented the title our "Our Lady of the Snow," bestowed on her by Mr. Rudyard Kipling, but Mr. Fisher contends that the coldness of the country enables it to produce better fruit, for instance, than any other. The point need not be argued, for the Canadian apple is good enough to stand on its own merits. We want something more than apples, however, and the important point is that the Canadian government, by facilitating transport within the Dominion, and by instituting a system of continuous cold storage for produce on the ways for makely the resumbles. condition as that in which it leaves the projucers in Canada. What limitation there is to the trade seems to be caused by in ufficiency of one in cold storage transport, and the necessity for that is now being perceived by shipowners."

"Nothing," adds the Herald, "is of greater importance to this country than the future of its food supplies, and the force the facts and figures submitted yesterday by Mr. Flisher and his colleague come home to the bosom and business of all of us."

Since last year's strike the pric of anthracite coal at the mines has been raised 40 cents a ton, and an other 10 cent raise is to go into force on Sept. 1st. The dealers add a profit to this and charge it to consumer. The coal combine thus gets on 30,000,000 tons' production an extra price of $20,000,000 at coal. Raising wages did not hurt the coal combine; it give it an ex-cuse for levying on the consumer for higher profits. Now why should all those consumers' rights in the Creator's gift of coal be the property of that combine?

The New York Commercial Adver-tiser one of the ablest and best busi-ness newspapers in the United States, says: "A conservative est.mate places the number of Canadian-born in the United States at about 1,000,000, but there has been a sharp decline in the number of immigrant coming into the United States from Canada. The records of the treas-ury department shows that less than 300 immigrants came to the United States last year. The Canadian records show that at least 12,000 Americans went to Canada, 12,000 Americans went to Canada, and at the presert rate there will be 20,000 this year. The class of people going from the United States to Canada is very desirable. They are nearly all farmers from the Southwestern States, and all take, with them their own teams, agricultural implements and considerable maner."

Professor Robertson, commissioner of agriculture, has hit on a method of ensuring careful transportation of produce novel to the commercial world. Four men have been in-structed to watch the handling of structed to watch the handling of Canadian goods at British ports, and seven at Canadian ports. These will report to the department, which has decided to punish the steamships whose officers persist in carelessly handling produce by advertising them by name all over Canada. The fact that Professor Robertson has been therefore with like suited to be a constant of the control of t been threatened with libel suits if he pursues this course will not deter him. 'I will publish them and stand the suit, he says, and these reports will be published after next week. Professor Robertson is very much against the practice of slipping on consignment, as is done in the case of apples to a very large extent.
Nearly all the cheese is sold outright to the English buyer, who takes care of it at once on the other side. Consigned goods, on the other nand, are often allowed to lie out on the British docks exposed to the sun, while a deal is being made between the countries of men and the merchants. Professor Robertson quotes as the two great commercial command-ments First — Thou shalt deliver goods as they are represented to be Second—Thou shalt deliver goods in the best possible condition. This is not now done in Canada, especially in relation to the apple trade. There is too much poor fruit and bad packing. Professor Robertson deserves great credit for his untiring efforts to get farmers to realize their op-portunities and duties.

How To Dust.

Modern sanitarians have shown that dust may be a source of dis that dust may be a source of dis-case, and its removal from our rooms is not only desirable but imperative. Unfortunately, the way to remove it effectually is, to a large extent, a secret to which the average ser-vant has not been admitted. It is not only that the ordinary domestic is inclined to evade the dusting of the rooms in which size. the rooms in which she is put in charge, it is that when she essays to perform the duty she does not perform it properly. The usual dry cloth is not of much use in dusting; a damp one ought to be used in the first place, the dry one devoted to polishing. The servant who can be trusted to deal with furniture, table cloths and curtains cannot be trust ed to deal with brie-a-brac or books these, in most cases, must be looked after by members of the family who

DIZZINESS

A great many women are subject to spells of diziness, spots before the eyes, and a ringing noise in the head. These symptoms are commonly associated with liver "trouble" as the result of a diseased condition of the stomach and other orguns of digestion and mutrition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and the allied organs of digestion and mutrition. It cures through the stomach diseases seemingly remote from that organ, but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. Hence, cures of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, and other organs are constantly effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

the Benefit of the Long Haul-Him at the Polls, But Unsuccossfully.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The trouble between the C. P. R. and I. C. R. over the transfer of westbound freight from the Maritime Provinces has been settled.

The old arrangement, made by the Conservative Government, transferred the freight at St. John, N. B., to the C. P. R., but Hon. A. G. Blair, when he became Minister, cancelled the arrangement and made Montreal the point of transfer in order to give the Intercolonial the benefit of the extra haul. The Canadian Pacific fought Hon. Mr. Blair's election at St. John last fall for doing this, and supported Hon. Geo. E. Foster, his opponent. The difference between the two roads seriously affected the Winter port business from St. John last winter, for the Canadian Pacific made no great effort to obtain cargoes for steamers, claiming there was no money in hauling cargoes east and then taking empty cars back again, while the I. C. R. was hauling all the westbound freight. The amount of the cargo shipped from St. John last winter was a third less than during the previous winter. But Mr. E. G. Russell, the Manager of the Intercolonial, said yesterday that without going into details all troubles have been adjusted. He said: "There is absolute harmony and co-operation now, between the two lines. I don't think there is any road the C. P. R. officials have a better feeling for than the Intercolonial. This good feeling has been reached, too, without any disadvantage to the Intercolonial. Still matters have been satisfactorily adjusted. St. John is going to do a heavy shipping business this winter. Both the railways and the steamship companies are making preparations for it. The C. P. R. is enlarging its track room at West St. John in the vicinity of the wharves, and making preparations which indicate that it anticipates a heavy winter's work. The Intercolonial is also extending its yard and siding accommodation at St. John. These improvements will all be ready for winter. All along the line improvements are being made. These are imported a short time ago that a change in the man

DROWNED AT NEWCASTLE A LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE

Two Soas of Canon Farncomb and Easton Seacham.

Two Sois of Canon Farncomb and Enaton Beacham.

Last Saturday afternoon a most lamentable drowning accident occurred at Newcastle, when Charles Farncomb, aged 18, and John Farncomb, aged 16, two sons of Canon Farncomb, of Newcastle, and Easton Beacham, manager of Park Telford's large grocery store, New York, lost their lives while bathing in the lake. The sad accident has cast-a gioon over the town and surrounding country, as the victims of the unfortunate occurrance are all well-known to a large number of our citizens and residents of Fenelou Falls and Cambray.

The Hospital Corner Stone.

Some discussion took place re the communication regar ling the laying of the Hospital corner stone. Dr. Simpson was present and stated that as vir. He-had discussed the matter with Mr. Plavelle and other citizens, and all had agreed that the ceremony should not be overlocked. It was an old established custum. The expense in connection therewith would be trifling—a silver trowel, a gold chain for the Mayor and a boquet of flowers, would be all. Mrs. Grace could take part in the event in case Mr. Ross could not be present.

A Kick Over the Collector.
Aid Jackson said there should not be so many different ways of paying money into the treasury. He did not think it fair that the Treasurer should be compelled to do the Collector's work. It incurred an extra amount of work for the auditor also as that official has to check over the Treasurer's accounts and the work was great when there were so many small items to examine.

Aid O'M'elly thought the Collector should be paid a percentage on the amount collected—It would be better than a salary and more work would be done. There was about $50,000 to be collected every year and he understood that the Treasurer collected about $35,000 and the Collector $15,050. If the Collector received persentage his salary would only amount to a little over $100. It was one plan to make the collectors histle. He had no fault to find with Mr. Nicholl but thought some changes should be made in the method of collecting taxes. All the taxes should be paid by Dec 14 cach yer, as is the role in Ops and other municipalities. The rich people are this slow payers not the poor men.

Ald Touchburn thought there was no excuse for people not being able to pay their taxes now as work was more plentiful. During his time, in the council a certain element always endeavored to extend the time for payment and the council should take a firm stind and end that practise.

Ald Jackson presented a petition from the ratepayers on the south site of Francis-st., asking for a four foot gr. milithic walk to be built outside the shade trees on that side between William and Cambridge sts., Ald. Jackson explained that if this alk was not granted a board walk would have to be built, as several new houses were being erected on that side of Francis-st.

Ald. Touchburg remarked that other work around town should be started first.

Mayor Ingle thought a five foot walk should be put down instead of four.

The Lighting Question Again. Aid Robson apparently got mixed up regarding the contract for lighting placed with the Lindsay Gas Co. He wished to know it the lights would be placed in the municipal buildings as well as on the streets. Ald O'Rielly.—'This appears to me to be very nonsensical on Aid. Robson's part. He is the chairman of the Police and Lighting committee and he should have raised objections win a the co-tract was let, not now.'

All Touchburn.—'Il you want any information about the contract, Aid. Robson, you can get it at the Clerk's office.'

All Hore—'We are under contract for 132 lights, and if they are all put on the streets we cannot expect any in the buildings.' This explanation fully satisfied Aid. Robson.

After some further discussion the petition was referred to the Clerk and Town Commissioner for the necessary certificate and report.

Must Consult the Committee.

All Jackson made complaint about certain work the chairman of the Board of Works had done, and said the work had not been authorized by the committee. He was informed that $35 had been paid for two teams last week for work done, one man drew $20 and the other $15, an expense which the committee had not authorized, and it was not business-like for Ald. Touchburn to do these things without first consulting the committe. The Council must have a crack on things and if men were paid by day or load, members ought to know it.

Ald Touchburn—The work that Ald. Jackson is referring to a road leading, to a storehouse on Susser. St. It is better to have a few loads of grave laid on the street now than in the report. Fo Far.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—The strikers made gains yesterday at McKeesport and Bellaire, and regard the situation as more favorable to them than Sunday. At the former place they won the National Rolling Mill of the National Tube Company. The men of the Boston Rolling Mill had already joined the strike, but the impression had been created that the National would not go out. The Tube Works at McKeesport were started as usual yesterday, but it is not clear how long they can be kept going.

There Are Now 60,000 of the Steel Trusts Men Out.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—'The struggle for mastery between the manufacturers and men in the steel industry is now fairly launched, and on the first show of strength, the advantage is with the former. The general strike order issued by President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association has so far been obeyed by only about 14,000 men, according to the best figures obtainable here. The first two preliminary calls were answered by about 45,000 men, so that the total number now out is in the neighborhood of 60,000.

President Shaffer made a brief statement yesterday, saying:

"We have no official information about the situation in the West. I do not believe Vice-President Davis of Chicago has accepted a superintendency from the Trust, as reported. My only regret is that some men working in the slave pens at the Trust had not spirit enough to come out and join the strikers. I will not take any part in calling out the American Federation of Labor. Its action must be voluntary. The Amalgamated has not lost anything, but has made gains."

Boys Force Men to Quit.

Beys Force Men to Quit.

Two hundred and fifty butt welding helpers came out last night and crippled the great butt welding department of the National Tube Works at McKeesport. The strikers are nearly all boys under 18, and comprise half of the force of helpers in this department. Fully 2,000 men will be forced to quit work, and the entire department, consisting of 4,800, is expected to be idle. The boys came out against the wishes of the Amalgamated officials. The young fellows are turbulent, and it was their strike that began the great strike and riots of 1894.

PEACE MOOTED.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—On account of the monthly meeting there was no conference yesterday between the Canadian Facific executive officers and the representatives of the strikers, but it is understood that the board dealt with the question. There seems to be little doubt that a settlement will be reached in a few days.

Compare the Lindsay stores of ten or fifteen years ago with the stores of to-day. You will find that the old stores which were not advertised (if they exist at all) are no bigger or busier than they used to be, while the stores which were well advertised have had to be enlarged to accommodate their increasing business. Even young firms have started and outstripped the old ones by sheer force of advertising. ******

An Ontario Man Killed.

Belvidere, Ill., Aug. 13. — Norman E. Smith, a fireman, lost his life by the explosion of a boiler of a Chicago & Northwestern engine at Sycamore on Sunday. Word was sent to his bride of four weeks in this city, and special train was made up to take her to the scene of the accident. The young woman fainted at her husband's bedside, and all efforts have failed to resuscitate her. It is feared she will not recover. Smith's mother, who lives at Mount Forest, Ont., has been summoned.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 13.—The Plant Line steamer Halifax, Captain Pye, from Charlottetown, Port Hawkesbury, and Halifax, N. S., struck a ledge off Minot's Light while coming into port in a thick fog early yesterday. She freed herself, however, and was beached in a sinking condition. Tugs and lighters have gone from here for passengers and baggage. The Halifax carried 250 passengers and a cargo of manual freight.

The Song of the Thermometer.

A day they bring This curse to me—
"Confound the thing!"

Why do they look?
Why do they stare?
Why do they pant?
Why do they swear?

My rule is this-In warmth or freeze
I always aim
And strive to please.

Why, lots of times

They're feeling fine Until they see This face of mine,

And then they gasp,
"It's ninety now!"
And wheeze and puff

And mop the brow

They always claim,

When winter comes, With ice and snow,

They look at me And mutter, "Oh !"

They stamp and swear Whene'er they see Me taking in My mercury.

And when it gets Way down the line
They rant again;
The blame is mine.

Now, why is it
I get the hooks
And draw naught else
But angry looks?

Why do they scoff And glare and sneer When I'm up there Or way down here?

To 'tend to biz
'I'm simply bound, the Why do they keep Mo hanging round?

There is no fun,
I tell you, sir,
In being a Thermometer.

It is my fault,

I register : It is "too hot !"

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

Throughout Canada and the United States there is a vigorious expression of sentiment along the lines of the purely agricultural fair and the "wide-op n" entertainment fair. To secure the feelings of the State Boards of Agriculture the civic committee of Boston has sent a series of avestions to the secretaries askof questions to the secretaries ask-ing whether, in their opinion, the purely legitimate agricultural fair or the "wide-open" fair pays better or the "wide-open" fair pays better in the long run, financially, socially and educationally.

Opinion in reply have been received from twenty-three States and two Provinces in Canada. Without exception these officials say that the purely legitimate agricultural fair pays better financially in the long run; that the "wide-open" fair is not a financial success; that it is offensive to the better class of people on whom the fair, must reply for centinued support, and is demoralizing to the surrounding community. continued support, and is demoralising to the surrounding community.
They are also unanimous for rigorously excluding all games of chance; for strictly prohibiting all alzoholic liquors, except California; and they severely condemn vulgar tent shows, and suggestive demonstrations on the outside of tents. As to whether "circus" features tend to absorb time, strength, and interest of pathons to any disadvantage to the exhibition of farm, home, schoel and factory products, the majority believe that they do, and, therefore, should not be encuraged. One half of the writers lean to the view that entertainments, foreign to the real features of the fair should be done away with as fast as the people can be educated to appreciate the fair for its own sake.

Quite a Mistake. Bobcaygeon hadpendent; For the last three years efforts have been made, and very successfully, to place our Lakes before the public. It has not been done, however, without a certain amount of very mistaken opposition. For the last thirty years position. For the last thirty years the cry was don't advertise the Lakes until hotels are built. The result was thirty years lost, everyone thirty years nearer the grave and net a step of progress. Three years ago the matter was taken in hand in a systematic manner, with the norse in front of the cart. Place the Lakes before the people, have the words Kawartha Lakes painted in the heavens for the whole contin-ent to gaze upon, was the idea. Peo-ple would come to see them, and as they came means would gradually and naturally be provided for their entertainment. What was the re-sult? The Lakes are now universally talked of, a regular steamboat service developed over the whole chain of Lakes, the advertising of them throughout the continent by various throughout the continent by various powerful channels is on a permanent basis, every point along the Lakes is recognizing that permanency with its surety of returns for investment, — and are investing. Several new places have been built, cottages have been erected, and parts of the Lakes that were unfrequented are now developing. With all this the old cry is still heard occasionally, don't advertise rill more casionally, don't advertise rill more casionally. casionally, don't advertise till more hotels are built, and last season the business at some portions of the Lak's was seriously injured for a time through the same old musty re-presentations being sent to influen-tial quarters regarding the dreadful results should thousands of people come to the Lakes and have to sleep in the woods. While there is now der present conditions an opening for a thoroughly high-class line of ho-tels, it may be stated plainly that the present accommodation has never yet been overtaxed. There is not a point along the Lakes that could not have accommodated a very large number more. Counting o two weeks' holiday to a guest the accommodation on our Lakes could have taken many lundreds more this season. It is necessary to put this season. It is necessary to put this matter plainly, and so end the bosh and nonsense that for so many years kept our Lakes unknown, while the stream of summer traffic was flowing in a circle throughout the surrounding portions of the province. present accommodation has never Second Reading Passes in the Imperial Commons.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Vote in the Commons-Factory Bill, Opposed by the Government Passed by the House, and the Administration Then Yields to the Will of the People's Representatives. London, Aug. 13.—The Government was defeated in the House of Commons last night in the course of a debate on the Factory bill. The House, supported by 163 to 141, a proposal, opposed by the Government, that textile factories should close at noon instead of 1 o'clock p. m., as now.

close at noon instead of 1 o'clock p.m., as now.

The Opposition and Irish members cheered wildly.

Mr. Ritchie, the Home Secretary, announced that the Government would accept the decision, Timothy Healy, amid laughter, remarked that the Home Secretary had shown great resignation, but not the sort of resignation the House wanted.

The House passed the second reading of the Pacific cable bill by a vote of 183 to 59.

THE FINAL PROTOCOL.

Draft of the Settlement of the Chinese Difficulty.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The State Department has received a cablegram from Mr. Rockhill at Pekin, reporting that the draft of the final protocol has been agreed upon.

A tariff of 5 per cent. ad valorem, effective, will be put in force two months after the signing of the final protocol, excepting on goods shipped within ten days after signing, and will continue until the conversion to specific rates has been effected by the expert commission. The Chinese free list will include rice, bullion cereals and flour, gold and silver bullion and coin.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—"We find that William Jones came to his death by taking a dose of carbolic acid, and that said acid was taken with suicidal intent." Such was the conclusion that was come to last night by the jury which investigated the East End tragedy of Sunday. The nedical evidence pointed strongly to suicide, and showed the deceased might have died at any moment from a complication of diseases. It was explained that the wounds on the head were merely scalp wounds, and did not penetrate the skull, though, to the uninitiated or upon a cursory examination, they might have appeared as bullet wounds.

Woman Drowned at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Another river mystery has turned up in Ottawa. Yesterday the partially-dressed body of a woman was found in the Ottawa River, and later in the day it was identified as that of Mrs. Hector F. St. George, of 42 Baird street, the wife of a bricklayer. The woman's hisband says he left his home on Sunday morning at 5 o'clock to go fishing, and that his wife was then in bed. When he returned Sunday night she was not at home, nor did she return on Monday. He says he did not think anything unusual about this as, he says, his wife was in the habit of staying away from home, and when she was absent yesterday he concluded she was with relatives. An inquest will be held.

Cadillac Beaten at Every Point of Sailing in Long Reach,

In Long Reach.

Chicago, Aug. 13—In a slight weather run, a long reach out and back, the Canadian Invader yesterday won the second of the races for the Canada's Cup. She had the Cadillac beaten at every point of the compass. On the run out, with a four to seven knot east northest breeze sweeping their port quarters the Invader led from one to two miles at times, rounding the buoy nine miles out a mile ahead of her pursuer. The official time for the race was:

Niagara Falls, Aug. 13. — Alfred Moody, who lives with his father, near St. David's, had a narrow escape from death yesterday morning. He had started from here to walk home up the G.T.R. tracks, and sat down under the Victoria street bridge to sleep. Just as the International Limited approached he was awakened by the noise, and fell from his perch and was struck in the breast by the pilot beam of the engine. He is suffering from internal bruises and a cut over the left eye.

Dividend of Two Per Cent. Declared Results of the Year.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—At a meeting of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company yesterday, the usual dividend of 2 per cent, on the preference stock for the had year ended June 13 last, was declared. A dividend of 2; per cent. for the same period was also declared on the common stock. The results of the fiscal year to June 13 last were:

ere:
Gross earnings—$38,855,203.
Working expenses—$18,745,828.
Net earnings—$12,109,375.
Income from other sources—$933,-

FAVORS WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Hos. Mr. Muleck says It Is a Great Bees to Humanity.

London, Aug. 13. — Hon. Mr. Mulock was a passenger aboard the Lucania on the last trip, during which Marconi's wireless telegraph was effectively used. Mr. Mulock said: "I think wireless telegraph will prove of tremendous value to commerce. Canada is determined to utilize its advantages on the entire coast and the Gulf and River St. Lawrence. In case of steamships that are disabled, when supplied with wireless telegraphy, they would soon be able to bring assistance. Then, on the dangerous coast, the system would be vzluable to warn away ships coming too close to destruction. Altogether wireless telegraphy is a great boon to humanity."

Official Returns for July Show a Satisfac

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The trade returns for the month of July were handed out yesterday. The imports and exports, reckoning Canadian produce only under the latter heading, were $27,204,741, an increase of $566,457 over July of last year. The exports of domestic lumber show an increase of $1,081,451, as compared with the first month of the last fiscal year. Foreign exports of agricultural products show an advance of $1,113,825. This is doubtless caused by the fact that outward-going vessels from Montreal have shipped a lot of American corn as ballast.

Newspaper Man Dead.

Newspaper Man Dend.

London, Aug. 13.—Mr. Edmund A. Hutchinson, lately connected with the editorial staff of The Canadian Planet, died in Victoria Hospital on Saturday about midnight, from the effects of lung trouble. Mr. Hutchinson was born in Meaford, over 37 years ago, being the youngest of 16 children of the late Rev. James Hutchinson, a clergyman of the Church of England. He was brought by his parents to St. Mary's, where he received his education. He worked as city editor and reporter in Toronto and St. Catharines before going to Chatham.

Te Canada From Patagonia.

Ottawa, Aug. 13. — Out in Patagonia is a colony of 4,000 Welshmen who, it is stated, have tried life in that country, and having found it a failure, are now dissatisfied. An effort is to be made to induce them to come to Canada, and, in order to do this, it has been decided that Mr. W. L. Griffiths of Cardiff, Canadian Immigration Agent for Wales, will sail from Liverpool on Aug. 22. The department expects that his mission will be crowned with success.

Three Men Drowned.

Prescott, Aug. 13.—James Whitney, machinist; Ezra Lane, town clerk, and Charles White, a barber, were drowned yesterday morning in the Galops Rapids, four miles east of here, by their yacht capsizing. The bodies have not yet been recovered. They were running the rapids and the yacht was dashed into the first and heavy swell, and immediately disappeared. Mr. Whitney leaves a widow and four daughters, and Mr. White leaves a widow and eight children.

Evidently Suicide.

Goderich, Aug. 13.—The body of Miss Mary McCarthy was found Sunday on the beach, about two miles from the harbor. It is evident that she drowned herself a week ago yesterday. She left home on the 4th inst., and the body shows signs of having been in the water several days. She left no message, but was probably insane.

New Dangers For Tenants.

Attention is being given in Great Britain to houses which are noted to Britain to houses which are noted to be productive of special diseases. Scientific observation has discovered that certain houses have the repution of producing various diseases in their inmates. In the course of a lecture delivered by Dr. J. F. Sykes before the Royal College of Physicians he dwelt on the fact that there were more "consumption houses" "pneumonia houses" and "cancer houses." This must evidently be due in many cases to a deeply seated infection never thoroughly eradicated. To Our Correspondents

Referring to the value of the correspondence column, a contemporary remarks that a newspaper, whether it is a metropolitan daily or a country weekly, is dependent to a very large extent on the nelp of its subscribers. It can only attain the greatest success through making its readers feel that they have a personal concern in its welfare. They can help it in a variety nave a personal concern in its wel-lare. They can help it in a variety of ways. They can give its report-ers such information, as it is in the public interest to present. Such aid never lacks appreciation and any journal is fortunate which has such infection never thoroughly eradicatinfection never thoroughly eradicated, but Dr. Sykes seemed to be of the ophilon that this was not the sole cause, and that it is probable that in certain houses there exists some specially favorable condition which tends to promote the breeding and of bacterium. Or again it is within the bounds of probability that the unhealthy conditions are such as to cause a lowering of the inmates health which renders them especially liable to the attack of a certain form of disease germ. Among these might be an insufficient or impure air supply, an infected water supply dampness deficient light or unsatisfactory healting appliances. The subject is an important one and sufficient attention has not been given it. Many people have lost their lives through going into a house in which some predecessor has died of germ disease and left the seeds of death for his successor. Dr. Sykes, if he has not inaugurated a new branch of hygeric science, has at least given it an impetus which it is to be hoped will gather force. ed, but Dr. Sykes seemed to be of the journal is fortunate which has such an army of news gatherers in its service as its readers may with little trouble to themselves be. But it well-comes views as well as news. Its columns are always open to those who have something to say that is worth saying. Those editorials by the laity, such as the letters to a paper are show what the the latty, such as the letters to a paper are, show what the general feeling of the community is in regard to the questions which are before it for consideration, as nothing else can. Sometimes a man writes too many letters, and wears out his welcome, while others, who can write well if they choose, have a morbid fear of seeing thier productions in print.

Stoberts Horses for Army. ttawa, Aug. 7.—The Indian De-tment has received a report from John P. Wright, its agent at t Frances, Ont. giving details of scent seizure of a gasoline jaunch a recent seizure of a gasoline taunch containing five Americans, for selling liquor to the indians, and the subsequent escape of the prisoners in the launch, which was called "The Lone Star," at the foot of Manitou Repids, and, aided by a special constable, brought his prisoners to Fort Frances. The boat was tied up to the dock and left in charge of the constable, but while the preliminaries for the trial of the case was going forward the five Americans who had been made prisoners took the craft down the river and escaped. The Canadian constable, who had been overpowered, was landed on the American side shout half a mile from where the escape was made. Mr. Wright made the suggestion that efforts be made to obtain the surrender of the fugitives from the United States authorities. The department, however, will not take any action of the kind, for two reasons. First of all, it is open to doubt whether, apart from the offence, supplying intoxicants to Indians, the Americans could be successfully prosecuted for the thet of property under lawful seizure. In the next place, the fugitives were not shown by hearing by competent authorities to have one guilty of eary offence. A strict watch will, however, be kept. In future for parties who cross the boundary in offer to sell liquor to the Indians, and, if caught, they will be made an example of.

Wr. Fisier's English Visit

This Minister of Agriculture arrived in the city last evening from his trip to England. On the whole his mission there has been satisfactory. He had several interviews with the Colonial Secretary and other Imperial statesmen, when he urged the removal of the embargo against the admission of Canadian cattle. Such a concession cannot now be granted without an amendment of the law, and this is impossible at present, owing to the unswerving hostility of the domestic agriculturists, who are afraid that diseased animals may be brought in. Of course the British statesmen were quick to try and assure Mr. Fisher that the law, in its present shape, conveys no reflection upon the health of Canadian cattle, and naturally enough Mr. Fisher dissented from this view. He pointed out that the only ground for maintaining the enactment was dread lest diseased animals might be imported, showing that the authorities thought there was danger. The British official opinion was that Canada and the United States, being allowed to land cattle for slaughter, were better off than other countries, and it seemed to be thought that no ground for complaint existed. The last of the matter has, however, not yet been heard, and there will be more formal correspondence. Early last spring Mr. Fisher forwarded a despatch setting forth in detail his views upon the subsett of the seches.

LORD LANSDONNE ON CHINA. Nagatistions Declared to Have Made Rapid Negetiations Declared to Bave Made Rapid and Satisfactory Fregress.

London, Aug. 7. — Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, replying in the House of Lords Jesterday to a question of Earl Spencer, Liberal, said the Chinese negotiations had recently made rapid and satisfactory progress. The indemnity question was disposed of, with the exception of a few minor points.

There was still some question whether the matter of the commercial facilities in China had not better be transferred to some other place than Fekin, and to some more wieldy body than the present conference. Great Britain was still in favor of the open door throughout China. They could not complain that they had not equal commercial advantages in the Yang Tse Valley.

The Foreign Secretary also said that the final strength of the legation garrison at Pekin would probably be 1,800 men, and that an additional force of 3,000 would be distributed at important points along the routs to the sea.

The Secretary regarded the Anglo-German and the Anglo-Russian agreements as satisfactory, but as tending to the maintenance of China's territorial integrity.

Specialist in Nervous Diseases Summoned from Berlin-A Small Post Surprised -Twenty-five Men of Steinacker's Horse Captured by the Boers-Reported that Lord Kitchener's Health is Bad.

Toronto, Aug. 9.-Isaac N. Ford cabled The Globe this morning as follows: Lord Kitchener has reportrepresent the maximum capacity of the Byers for offering resistance to British arms. This is the surprise and capture of a detachment of 25 soldiers at Sabi River. The magnitude of regrettable incidents has shrunk since Nicholson's Nek, Stormberg, Magersfontein, Colenso and Lindley. While as many as sixty British columns are operating in the three colonies, and picking up the enemy by twos and threes, the only chance of success which the Boers have lies in surprising, here and there, small isolated detachments. Interest in this petty achievement at Sabi River will be increased if evidence be offered that the Boers are carrying out their threats and ordering reprisals for the executions conducted among the Cape rebels.

CONSTIPATION CAPSIZED THE CANOE

The Greatest Factor in the Death Rate

The Greatest Factor in the Death Rate

This trouble has been well named the foe of mankind. More unpleasant symptons, disease and deaths can be indirectly traced to constipation than to all other causes combined. But strange to say, as true and alarming as the above statement is, the majority of people afflicted give themselves but little concern. And just here is wherein the great dangerlies. People do take physic, it's true, and relieve the present symptoms, but they do not press on diligently in search of a cure. By cure we mean restoring the natural healthy movement of the bowels day in and day out the year round without the aid of physic. Now this result is positively and absolutely guaranteed if you take Merrill's System Tonic. The alterative effects of Sarsaparilla, Red Clover and Burdends and more fluids are secreted in the stomach and bowels. Then the muscular toning effects of Hypophosphites therin restorenatural muscular power to the muscles of the bowels which control evacuation. This is the scientific and correct way and differs altogether from the pill or physic idea, in which some irritating principle causes a movement in such a way as to make more necessary a repeated dose. Clear skin, buoyant health, active brain and vivacity follow the permanent cures of this trouble made by Merrill's System Tonic.

The Big White Star Liner Oceanic Struck LINDSAY, FRIDAY, AUG. 16th, '01. THE CENSUS OF 1901 -Seven Drowned.

THE PADDED FIGURES OF 1891.

Her Amidships and She Sank Rapidly —Seven Drowned.

Queenstown, Aug. 9. — The White Star Line steamer Oceanic, Capt.
Cameron, which sailed from Liverpool Wednesday for New York, via Queenstown, arrived here yesterday morning, and reported laving been in collision the night before in the Irish Channel with the steamer Kincora of Waterford, Ireland. The Kincora was struck amidships and sark very rapidly. She had a crew of fourteen men. seven of whom were drowned. The Oceanic brought the seven survivors to port.

The collision occurred this side of Tuskar in a dense fog. All of the passengers of the Oceanic were in ted at the time, and there was some commotion until Capt. Cameron assured them that there was not the least cause for alarm. Headway was kept on the Oceanic after she struck the Kincora in order to give the crew of the latter a chance to clamber on board. Boats were lowered, and the Oceanic remained in the vicinity of the collision until daylight, but nothing was then virible except floating wreckage.

The only damage done to the Oceanic consisted in a few dents to her port plates. She proceeded at 3.50 p.m.

The Kincora was a twin screw steamer of 453 tons, and belonged to the Waterford Steamship Company.

An Exciting All-Night Session of House

Evidence of Padding

Secured.

Oftawa, Aug. 10.—Any statement which purports to give the population of Canada as determined by the last census is untrustworthy and unreliable. So declares the Chief Census Commissioner, and he should know what he is talking about. Mr. Blue says that he is still in the dark as to the population, and so is every one else on the census staff. He asks how it is possible for the population of Canada to be known when the returns are not complete for a single Province save Prince Edward Island. The complete figures will not be available for some days yet. In the meantime, Mr. Blue is at a loss to understand where the practical advantage of guessing at the population comes in, but doubtless it affords amusement to persons who have lots of leisure. There is no doubt if the guessing is continued long enough some figures may be hit upon which will by good luck come somewhere near the mark. That the census returns will be disappointing cannot be denied, but this is believed to be due to the undue inflations of the returns for 1891. If there are many more dwellings and families to-day than there were ten years ago, it stands to reason that there must have been an even greater gain in population. But such is not apparent from the returns as partially compiled. Taking 67 Ontario census districts out of 82, they show an increase over 1891 of about 36,000 in dwellings, 38,000 in families, and 31,000 in population. Will anyone explain how this extraordinary result can be reached except by the fact that the figures of 1891 were so padded as to be utterly worthless for purposes of comparison? Pre-liminary analyses go to show that the census returns of ten years ago are utterly unreliable, and the conviction is gaining ground among the members of the Government that such is the case.

Francesco Crispi was born in 1819 in the town of Ribera, Sicily. He was educated for the law, and was called to the Neapolitan bar. He took an active part in the revolutionary movement of 1848, when the kingdom of the two Sicilies was overthrown. He inspired the resistance of the Sciilinas during the insurrection of Palermo, and was compelled to fly to France.

He subsequently landed with Garibaldi at Palermo, and distinguished himself by his courage and capacity. In 1861 he was elected to the first Italian Farliament as member for Palermo, and was recognized as the leader of the constitutional party.

In 1887 Signor Crispi became President of the Council and Minister for Foreign Affairs. In 1891 his ministry was defeated. A year later he announced his intention to quit politics, and gave up the leadership of the Opposition. In 1894, however, the voice of his country called him into the areas again, when all was

CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.,

...A GOOD RESULT...

Policy No. 762 on the life of Mr. G. A. Sargison, of Victoria, B. C., has lately tecome a claim through the death of the assured. Particulars of the case are as f llows:

Date of issue, March, 1851; age at issue, 24; yearly premium, $21,90; number of premiums paid, 50; total payments of premiums, $1,095;

It will be seen that by a coincidence the profits added are exactly the same in amount as the total of premiums paid. The risk on Mr. Sargison's life was carried for fifty years, and at the end of that time every cent he had pand in premiums, together with the sum of $1 200, was handed his heirs.

the Cheering From the Wharf.

London, Aug. 12.—Lord Milner, after keeping a private engagement in the country, embarked quietly at Southampton Saturday without other public demonstration than the cheering from the wharf. He has not enjoyed the process of being lionized here, and in country houses, and frankly says that he will be pleased to settle down to work.

General Lyttleton, who has sailed with him, is a capable officer, with a marked talent for administrative detail. He was the best commander under General Buller in the Ladysmith campaign, and has been named by military men as Lord Kitchener's successor, either before or after the close of the present guerilla operations.

As a Last ness.

Toronto Lady's Experience With Ding, dong, Swinging along, Swinging along, Swinging and roaring a song.

For many years in the hospitals of Detroit and as professor of Gemto-Urinary Diseases in Michigan College of Medicine of that city, Dr. Zina Pitchergave careful thought and consideration to diseases of the kidneys, bladder, and urinary system.

So profoundedly impressed was he with the fact that many thousands of people suffer from some form of kidney derangement, who were unable to avail themselves of the services of a specialist, that he decided to give to humanity at large his famous prescription for Kidney Discasses, under the name of Dr. Pritcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

It is of these tablets that Mrs. May Goddard, 332 Adelaide street west, Toronto, speaks in the following terms:

"After enjoying the most perfect health for many years it was a sore trial for me to realize that my health was failing. I had, in the first place, acute pains in the small of my back, and was losing flesh rapidly. Then other complications arose, which so weakened me that it was only with the greatest amount of determination that I could attend to my work. I tried a number of remedies and consulted several physicians without obtaining more than temporary relief, and as a last resort I thought I would try Dr. Pitcher's Back-ache Kidney Tablets. Their beneficial action was almost instantaneous, and the results highly gratifying. The pain in my back disappeared in a short time, and my general health improved greatly. I am now feeling fine, and am glad to have this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of so valuable a remedy.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are so cents a box at all druggists or sent by mail, postage free.

KIRKFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
On Thursday, Aug. 1st., a very successful concert was given in the town hall by the young people of the village and visiting parties from Lindsay. A large audience listened to an excellent program, consisting of choruses, solos, dialogues, recitations, acrobatic performances and onneing. An intermission of about half-an-hour was given for the purpose of serving lee cream, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the people. The Kirkfield Public School will open on Monday next, August 19th. Misses Mary and Linda MacKenzie left on Saturday last for a few days visit to the Pan-American. There are three things that are badly wanted in our village—a butcher, a shoemaker and a tinsmith. Lots of business to good and reliable men.

Now, boys, and girls, too, be sure that you are on hand at the opening of school next Monday.

John McKay is as busy as a nailer these days weaving and spinning yarn, and is justly celebrated for doing good work in weaving rag carpets. This is just the time of year when the good housewife should be looking up odds and ends and leave her order for a rag carpet to be woven ready for fall house cleaning.

The Orangemen of Kirkfield and vicinity attential dising syntage.

Lindsay's GREATEST Values will be found here all this month—they are here on every recurring July. The fact is so well known, and so widely known, we firmly believe that without a line of advertising in the papers this store would be crowded anyway, with people who have been here before and know The World Wags on Three Things:
Doing, Undoing and Pretending.

We commenced doing the Clothing Business in this town several years ago as it should be done, and our success has been a brilliant one. One reason is: That discriminative buyers of Lindsay and Victoria County have prefered our dependable Clothing, linked with true economy, to showiness and cheapness. Others may exaggerate and mislead, but every word we advertise is weighed and every claim verified before being placed in type. Hence our confidence before the jury of public opinion to whom we submit.

BECAUSE OF JUDGE HARD-ING'S DECISION RE COL-BOURNEST. SEWER.

Town May be Let in for a Heavy wn May be Let in for a Heavy of Damages, as a Leavalt will Follow with Contractor Pilkie — The Petiti.ners who Burked the Scheme will be Held Responsible—Information About a Steam Roll. r.

Few jokes were cracked at last besony's meeting of the Board of Works, held in the Clerk's office.
The oppressive heat and the serious nature of the business in hand bannature of the business in thand one shed the spirit of fun and left in its stead a depressing feeling of disappointment and uncertainty, the result of recent developments in connection with sewer petitions.

Mayor ingle and all members were present at 8 o'clock, the hour fixed for the meeting. Ald, Touchburn, or woulded.

Steam Roller Pointers.

Before taking up the serious business of the evening Mr Calder, of the Sawyer-Massey Good Roads Machinery Co., Hamilton, was heard as to the good qualities of a 10-ton steam roller manufactured by his firm. The machine had recently been thoroughly tested on the streets of Hamilton, and the fitty Engineer, Mr. Wingate, testified to its good qualities. Mr. Calder had extracts from a letter which went to show that in New York State the light steam roller was everywhere dispacing the heavy makes. The Sawyer-Massey roller could be convirted in a short time into a traction engine to draw the grading machine, eperate the stone crusher, etc. which was a great advantage. A roller with 13-ton engine, would cost $2,000, 17-ton engine, $2,200, both prices including all neerssary fittings. One of the rollers was being used with the Good Roads train now in the Eastern Townslips, and was giving good satisfaction. The linked by the middle of. September, and they would take the horse roller in exchange, Mr. Calder offered to allow $800 for it, remarking that there was very little demand for horse rollers now-a-days.

The Council thanked Mr. Calder for his information, and said they would communicate with Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Good Roards Commissioner, as to the merits of the machine before deciding to purchuse.

missioner, as to the merits of the machine before deciding to purchase. Russ Il-Simoo Sewer.

Town Solictior Hopkins read for the information of Conneil Judge Harding's judgment in connection with the appeal taken against the Russell and Simooe-st. Sewer. Messes. Neurke and J. Shechan were refused permission to remove their names because parties should not be allowed to do so without cause, and as no good cause and been shown, the sewer should go in. The Solicitor then took up Mr. McSweyn's arguments that the proceedings in connection with the petition had been improper, and assured Council that the objections were without force, but in order to remove any possible difficulty, it might be well to pass the resolution again, which would involve no delay. When the Clerk once certifies to a petition no name can be added or taken away without the consent of the County Judge. There was no reason why the Clerk should not issue his certificate till the last minute before the meeting of Council—he is supposed to have his work prepared ahead, and if he had neglected to so certify, and had been call daway, or became Ill, the work of the Council would have been blocked.

Allo, Robson—"Then there's no reason why we should fear an injunction if we proceed with the sewer."

Solicitor H.pk. ns.—"No, I think not; we may be threatened with all sorts of things, of course."

Mayor Ingle—"I'm told there is a deviation of a block in the routs of the sewer according to the Chipman plan."

Ald, Shiclair—"I heard that, too."

Town Commissioner Chalmers—

for all loss, and he would advise the Council to make a test case of their action.

Ald. Jackson—"The Judgment you cited go se further—it holds that citizens withdrawing from a petition should not alore pay the expenses incurred, but should also indemnify the town against subsequent loss."

Solutor Hopkins—"The Council would be justified in taking the growd that the Judge's decision came too late."

Ald. Touchburn—"Wouldn't it be cheaper to settle with Pilkie!"

Ald. Ordelby—"I'l never agree that one cent of my taxes shall go to settle Pilkiels claim."

Ald. Sinclair—"I think it would be a mistake to light."

Solicitor Hopkins—"The Council could have the Board of Health declars the sewer to be a sanitary necessity, and proceed with it on the initiative plan." In the face of Judge Harding's decision I would not be willing to proceed with any sewer. Take Kent-st. sewer, to cost over $7,000—we might proceed with it, let the contract, and be blooked in the same way."

Ald. Touchburn—"I don't think

S7,000 we might proceed with it, let the contract, and be blocked in the same way."

Aid. Touchburn — "I don't think there would be the slignest danger—the people have been taught to be careful."

Mid. Jackson—"We're not anxious to build sewers unless the people want them, but we do want to protect ourselves and the town."

Solicitor Hopkins—"Then I would advise that Mr. Plike be notified that in view of the pulgment rendered the Council has decided not to pass the by-law authorizing the construct of of the Cobournesst. sewer, and also notify the petitioners who have withdrawn that they will be held liable for all damages incurred."

Mayor Ingle—"Yes, let us find out where we stand."

Aid Jackson — "Plikie Intends to fight, that's certain. We don't want to get in the same fix again."

Some discussion followed as to the possible amount of the damages to be claimed by Mr. Plikie, and some members placed it at $1,000, saying he would ask prospective profits of $600. The remark was pool-poohed. Aid. Robson—"He has several carloads of pipe on hand for the work."

After some further discussion it was unanimously decided that the Solicitor be empowered te issue to Contractor Pilkie and the petitioners concerned such notices as he may deem to be in the best interests of the town.

Kent-st. Sewer.

ers concerned such notices as he may deem to be in the best interests of the town Kent-st. Sewer.

Solicitor Hopkins next enquired as to the Kent-st. sewer, and was told that the Town Commissioner's report relative thereto had been adopted provisionally.

"What have you done relative to the $400 item for the extra size of pipe from Sussex-st. to Cambridgest," asked Mr. Hopkins.
Ald Touchburn—No arrangement has yet been made."

Solicitor Hopkins—"10's very necessary: the petition might be attacked on that ground if the written promise of the County Council and Hospital trustees to pay the amount is not secured."

It was decided that this should be done as soon as possible, when a special meeting of Council will be held to ralify the arrangement.

Will Improve the Avenue.

will improve the Avenue.

With respect to Mr. J. M. Squier's request for better roads leading to his warehouse. All Touchburn asked that Russell-st. be gravelled from Cambridge to Susser-sts, but Ald, Jackson objected, and suggested instead that Victoria-ave, be improved from Kenl-st. to Gleneig-st, which would serve the GTR. Freight shed also. After some discussion Commissioner Chahners was instructed to report as to the probable cost of the improvements.

New Crossings.

It was decided to make the new crossing at York-st, north side of Kent-st, 16 feet wide.

Attention was also directed by Ald. Hore to the necessity for a new crossing from the Y.M.C.A. block to Britton's store, and the Commissioner was asked to report thereon, Ald. Jackson remarking that certain difficulties were involved owing to the relation of the crossing to Ridoutst.

He's a Chairman Now. He's a Chairman Now.
Ald. Hore explained that as he would be absent from town for a week or so it would be well to appoint a member to act as chairman of the Town Property committee during his absence. On motion Ald.

The committee then adjourned.

sower enters the river at a better point, there'll not be a sour needed on the street missed for years to come."

Ald. Jackson—"Gentlemen, you will see by reading the second judgment that Judge Harding doesn't hesitate to override the Chipman plan."

Colbourne-st. Sewer.

Judge Harding's decision with respect to the Colbourne-st. sewer was next read. His Honor considered the prittion is had shown good cause for having their names removed owing to misrepresentation as to cost, and he felt the more inclined to grant their request after enquiring into possibility of like trouble in the future His Honor advised that no contract be let till after the meeting of the Control Revision in future.

Ald. Jackson—"Suppose it happens—as in the past—that the Court must meet twice in consection with one sewer; how would the advice apply in that case?"

dolicitor Hopkins next read his opinion of the Colbourne-st, judgment, which uphelf the Council's action. The contract had not been let till two months after the receipt of the petitien, and no names had been withdrawn during that time. Under the circumstances he would advise that Contractor Pikke be notified (without prejudice) that the Council did not intend to proceed with the sawer. The Solicitor been read from his Court records the report of a case which he held to be precisely analogous to the Colbourne-st, two he, the judgment in which bore out his opinion. However, while he did not agree with Judge Harding's ruling in the case, he would not like to advise that the work be proceeded with in view of the decision given. The Council did to to drive with the decision given. The Council has the recommended on the proceeding the case of the petition of the collection of the co

A deputation from Oakwood waited on the Council with a desire to forward a system of drainage for the village. Mr. Hogg, Mr. Cameron, Mr. Thorndike and others addressed the Council in the interest of the citzens of Oakwood and presental a neithing signed by 33 owners. ed a petition signed by 33 owners of lands who would be interested in this matter. The Council heard the request of the petitioners and pro-ceeded to pass a general by-law en-abling any community in the town-ship to engage in a system of local Moved by Mr. Cameron, seconded by Mr. McCrimmon, that the petition of A. O. Hogg and 33 others respectively, owners of lands in the incorporated village of Oakwood and adjacent lands be received and proceeded with according to By-law No. 521 of this municipality.—Carried.

The Clerk examined the assessment rolls and finds the petition of referred to contains more than two-thirds of the number of names and more than one-half of the value of the property interested in the drainage scheme, as required by section 668 of the Municipal Act.

Moved by Mr. McKinnon, seconded by Mr. McCrimmon, that the petition of A. O. Hogg and 33 others reported on the Nectrimon of A. O. Hogg and 33 others reported on by the Clerk, as appears by his endorsement thereon, be submitted to W. E. Yarnold, O.L.S., to be acted on under By-law No. 521 of this municipality.—Carried.

The Council then took up the estimates for the ensuing year, when By-law No. 522 was brought in by Mr. McCrimmon and Mr. McKinnon, authorizing a levy of $5,618.41 on and third readings and was passed, signed and sealed.

By-law No. 523 was introduced by Mr. Cameron and Mr. McKinnon, authorizing a levy of $5,018.41 on the rateable property of the different school sections in the township for 1901, was received and read a first time.

On motion by Mr. Cameron and Mr. McKinnon, By-law No. 523 was read a second and third time, passed, signed and sealed.

It might be noted that the Council are raising $1,000 less this year than last year for township purposes, but as the county rate is some $800 higher and the school levies are $550 higher than last year, the taxes will not be materially changed from last year.

Moved by Mr. Cameron, seconded by Mr. Mark, that the reeve be authorized to sign an application for $3,000 insurance on the town hall, vault and contents in the Farmers' Union Mutual Fire Insurance Co., for three years from the 24th August, 1901, and that an order be given on the Treasurer for the sum of $18 in payment of the premium in favor of Peter Brown, agent—Carried.

In conversation yesterday with a gentieman from Connecticut named R. W. Rogers,—a street railway official,—he spoke so enthusiastically about the beauties of the Kawartha Lakes that our scribe felt tempted for the moment to believe that he was in a quizzing mood. On being asked bluntly if such was the case the gentleman said the question did not surprise him, as he had discovered at every point along the L kes that the residents greatly undervalued the possibilities within their reach. Warming up to his subject, Mr. Rogers continued: "Tve been travelling extensively for ten rentieman from Connecticut named mers' Union Mutual Fire Insurance, Co., for three years from the 24th August, 1901, and that an order be given on the Treasurer for the sum of $18 in payment of the premium in favor of Peter Brown, agent—Carled.

Arms and the Woman.

BY HAROLD MACGRATH.

Silence fell upon us. I knew that I loved her with a love that was burning me up. consuming me. And the adventure was all so unheard of for these prosaic times! And so full of the charm of mystery was she that I had not been a man not to have fallen a victim. What possibilities suggested themselves to me as on we rode! Once across the frontier I should be free to confess my love for her. A princess? What of that? She would be only a woman—the woman I loved. I trembled. Something might happen so that she would have to turn to me. If the king refused to forgive her, she was mine! Ab, that plain carriage held a wonderful dream that night. At length —too shortly for me—the vehicle drow up in front of my hotel. As I was about to alight her hand stretched toward me. But instead of kissing it I pressed my lips on her round white arm. As though my lips burned, she drew back.

"Have a care, monsieur; have a "I named it. "Do you understand German?"

"Have your own way about it."

"Honoestly," said I. "Honoestly, said I. "Honoestly, said I. "Honoestly, it is all the same." He made a move to detach it, and I eaught his hand.

"Please don't do that. I am extended the same." I may be the without guidance."

The door closed, and the vehicle sped away into the darkness. I stood looking after it, bewildered. Her last words were spoken in pure English.

With the following evening came the dinner, and I as a guest—a nervous, self conscious guest who started at every footstep. I was presented to the king, who eyed me curlously. Seeing that I wore a medal such as his chancellor gives to men who sometimes do his country service, he spoke to me and inquired how I had obtained it. It was an affair similar to the Balkistan, only there was not an army, but a mob. The princess was enchanting. I grew reckless and let her read my eyes more princess was enchanting. I grew reckless and let her read my eyes more than once, but she pretended not to see what was in them. At dinner a toast was given to his majesty. It was made with those stein I showed you, Jack.

The princess said softly to me, kissing the rim of the stein she held, "My toast is not to the king, but to the genfleman!" I had both steins bundled up and left with the host together with my address.

It was not long after that the eventful moment for our flight arrived. I knew that I was basely to abuse the hospitality of the king. But what is a king to a man in love? Presently we two were alone in the garden, the princess and myself. She was whispering instructions, telling me that I was a cess and myself. She was whispering instructions, telling me that I was a man of courage.
"It is not too late to back out," she

;" I replied. We could see at the gate the carriage We could see at the gate the carriage which was to take us to the station. Now came the moment when I was tried by the crucible and found to be dross. I committed the most foolish blunder of my life. My love suddenly overleaped its bounds. In a moment my arms were around her lithe body; my lips met hers squarely. After it was done she stood very still, as if incapable of understanding my offense. But I understood. I was overwhelmed with remorse, love and regret. I had made impossible what might have been.

made impossible what might have been.

"Your highness," I cried, "I could not help it! Before God I could not the pit! Before God I could not the pit! Before God I could not the pit! I see so the pit is because I love you better than anything in the world—you cannot be of it—and all this is impossible, this going away together."

Her bosom heaved, and her eyes flashed like a heated summer sky.

"I will give you one minute to leave this place," she said, her tones as even and as cold as sudden repression of wrath could make them. "I trusted you, and you have dared to take advantage of what seemed my helplessness. It is well indeed for you that you committed this outrage before it is too late. I should have killed you then. I might have known, Could ever a woman trust a man?" She laughed contemptuously, "You would have made me a thing of scorn, and I trusted you!"

"As God is my judge," I cried, "my respect for you is as high as heaven itself! I love you. Is there nothing in that? I am but human. I am not a stone image. And you have tempted me beyond all control. Pardon what I have done. It was not the want of respect."

"Temper me your protestations. I be-

And then—there was a crunch on the gravel behind us. The princess and I turned in dismay. We had forgotten all about the anonymous note. Two officers were approaching us and rapidly. The elder of the two came straight to me. I knew him to be as inexorable as his former master, the victor of Sedan. The princess looked on mechanically.

"Come." sand the count in broken English. "I believe your carriage is at the gate."

"Yare you afraid?"
"Yes. There would be a scandal. Not that I would care about the death of a miserable adventurer, but it might possibly reflect upon the virtue of her highness the Princess Hildegarde."
"What do you want?" I growled.
"I want to see if your passports are proper, so that you will have no difficulty in passing over the frontier."
"Perhaps it would be just as well to wake the American minister," I suggested.

"Oh, then it is really serious?"
"Very. It is a matter of life and death—to you. Moreover, you must never enter this country again. If you do, I will not give a pfennig for your life."

some of my notes.
"Quite right, Herr General," said I.

"Quite right, Herr General," said I. I submitted because I didn't care.

My luggage was packed off to the station, where he saw that my ticket was for Paris.

"Good morning," he said as I entered the carriage compartment. "The devil will soon come to his own. Ach"!

"My compliments to him when you see him?" I called back, not to be out done in the matter of courtesy.

"And that is all, Jack," concluded Rillars. "For all these months not an hour has passed in which I have not cursed the folly of that moment. In

During the first year of my residence in London there happened few events worth chronicling. Shortly after my arrival Hillars disappeared. His two months' vacation stretched into 12, and 1 was alreaded to remain in London.

THE WEBKLY F

As I knew that Hillars did not wish to be found, I made no inquiries. Ho was somewhere on the continent, but where no one knew. At one time a letter, dated at St. Petersburg, reached, me, and at another time I was informed of his presence at Monte Carlo. In neither letter was there any mention of her screen high-ness the Princess Hildegarde of Hohenphalia. Since the night he recounted the adventure the wayward princess ind never become the topic of conversation. I grew hopeful enough to believe that he had forgotten her. Occasionally I received a long letter from Phyllis. I always promptly answered it. To any one but me her letters would have proved interesting reading. It was not for what she wrote that I cared, it was the mere fact that she wrote. A man cannot find much pleasure in letters which begin with "Dear friend" and end with "Yours sincerely" when they come from the woman he loves.

In the preceding autumn I completed my first novel. I carried it around to publishers till I grew to hate it as one hates a Nemesis, and when finally I did place it it was with a publisher who had just started in business and was necessarily obscure. I bowed politiely to my dreams of literary fame and became wholly absorbed in my journalistic work. When the book came out, I could not but admire the excellence of the bookmaking, but as I looked through the reviews and found no mention save in "books received" I threw the book saide and vowed that it should be my last. The publisher wrote me that he was surprised that the hock had not caught on as he come threw the book aside and vowed that it should be my last. The publisher wrote me that he was surprised that the book had not caught on, as he considered the story unusually clever. "Merit is one thing," he said, "but luck is another." I have found this to be true not only in literature, but in all walks of life where fame and money are the goals. Phyllis wrote me that she thought the book "just splendid," but I took her praise with a grain of sait, it being likely that she was partial to the author and that the real worth of the book was little in comparison with the fact that it was I who parison with the fact that it was I who

"The Princess Hildegarde!" I cried aloud. "The deuce take the woman!"

"What's that?" asked my assistant, who had overheard my outburst.

"Oh, I am to go across on a special story," I said, with a snarl, "just as I was fixing for a week's fishing. I've got to concern myself with the Princess Hildegarde of Hohenphalla."

"Ab, the Princess Hildegarde!" said the young fellow, pushing back his hat and elevating his feet, a trick he had acquired while being reared in his native land, which was the state of Illinois, in America. "You want to be careful. Every one burns his fingers or singes his wings around that candle."

"What do you know about her?" I dle."

"What do you know about her?" I asked.

"A little. You see, about six months ago I discovered all regarding Hillars and his fall from grace. It was through the Reuter agency. Hillars got badly singed. An elopement of some sort between him and the princess was nipped in the bud. He was ordered to leave the country and warned never to return at the peril of his liberty. A description of him is with every post on the frontier. As for the princess, she is an interesting character. She was educated in this country and France. She speaks several languages. She is headstrong and willful, and her royal guardian is only too anxious to see her married and settled down. She masquerades in men's clothes when it pleases her, she can ride a horse like a trooper, she fences and shoots, she has fought two duels, and heaven alone knows what she has not done to disturb the tranquilility of the court. For a man she loved she would be a merry comrade. I saw her once in Paris. She is an extraordinarily beautiful woman. A man takes no end of risk when he concerns himself with her affairs. I losophy the wound grows more painful every day. She did not love me, I know, but she would have been near me, and if the king had taken away her principality she would have needed me in a thousand ways, and it is not less than possible that in time she might have learned the lesson of love. But now—If she is the woman I believe for to be—she never count over me airer what has happened, and, knowing this, I can't leave liquor alone and don't want to. In my cups I do not care."

"If sel sorry for you both," said I. "Has the prince married her yet?"

"No. It has been postponed. Next Monday I am going back. I am going in hopes of getting into trouble. I may never see her again perhaps. Tomorrow, tomorrow! Who knows? Well, I'm off to bed. Good night."

And I was left alone with my thoughts. They weren't very good company. Tomorrow indeed, I thought. I sat and smoked till my tongue smarted. I had troubles of my own and wondered how they would end. Poor Hillars! As I look back today I marvel that we could not see the end. The mystery of life seems simple to us who have lived most of it and can look down through the long years.

CHAPTER VI.

"The seems simple to use the ronce in Paris. She is an extraordinarily beautiful won ann. A man takes no end of risk when be concerns himself with her affairs, I can tell you. Hillars—well, I suppose It's none of my business. He must have had an exciting time of it," concluded the young man.

"TII leave you in charge for a week or so," said I. "What little news there is at the houses you can cover. I'll take care of anything of importance is at the houses you can cover. Then 1 picked up the turn and hast letter. It was from Phyllis. It contained the enjoyable news that the Wentworths were coming abroad and that they would remain indefinitely at B—, where Mr. Wentworth had been appointed charge d'affaires under the American minister. They were to visit the Mediterranean before coming to London. They would be in town in October. The mere thought of seeing Phyllis made my heart throb. The next morning I put out from Dover. It was a rough passage for that time of the year, and I came near being seasick. A day or so in Paris brought me around, and I proceeded. As I passed the fronter I noticed that my passports were engerly scanned and that I was closely scrutinized for some reason or other.

A smartly dressed officer occupied half of the carriage compartment with me. I tried to draw him into conversation but her was a part of the carriage compartment with me. It tried to draw him into conversation but her was a consequent of the carriage of the compartment with me.

"I trust herr will remember me in the days to come."

"Eh?" somewhat startled, I thought.

"Eh?" somewhat startled, I thought.
"I observed that you will possibly remember me in the days to come, or perhaps I resemble some one you know."

"Not in the least," was the haughty retort.

I shrugged and relit my pipe. The tobacco I had purchased in Paris, and it was of the customary vileness. Perhaps I could smoke out mein herr. But the task resulted in a boomerang. He drew out a huge china pipe and began smoking tobacco which was even viler than mine, if that could be possible. Soon I let down the window.
"Does the smoke disturb herr?" he asked, puffing forth great clouds of smoke. There was a shade of raillery in his tones.

"Does the smoke disturb nerr' as asked, putting forth great clouds of smoke. There was a shade of raillery in his tones.

"It would not," I answered, "if it came from tobacco." He subsided. Whenever there was a stop of any length, I stepped out and walked the platform. The officer invariably followed my example. I pondered over this each time I re-entered the carriage. At last my irritation turned into wrath.

"Are you aware that your actions are very anacying?"

"How, sir?" proudly.

"You stare me out of countenance, you refrain from entering into conversation and by the way you follow me in and out of the carriage one would say that you were watching me. All this is not common politeness."

"Herr jests," he replied with a forced smile. "If I desire not to converse, that is my business. As for getting in and out of the carriage, have I no rights as a passenger?"

It was I who subsided. A minute

"They would not have been if they had had a general who thought more of fighting than of wearing pretty clothes."

"Oh, it would not have mattered," confidently.

"Prussia was once humbled by a Frenchman." I was irritating him with a purpose in view.

"Bah!"

Frenchman."

This was just what I wanted.

"And who informed you that I was an American?"

He was disconcerted. "Why," he said lamely, "it is easily apparent, the difference between the American and the Englishman." Then, as though a bright idea had come to him: "The English never engage in conversation with lish never engage in conversation with strangers while traveling. Americans are more sociable."

lish never engage in conversation with strangers while travelling. Americans are more sociable."

"They are? Then I advise them to follow the example set by the Englishman—never try to get up a conversation while travelling with a German. It is a disagreeable task." And I settled back behind my paper.

How had he found out that I was an American? Was I known? And for what reason was I known? To my knowledge I had never committed any offense to the extent that I must be watched like a suspect. What his object was and how he came to know that I was an American were mysteries to me. I was giad that the journey would last but an hour or so longer. The train arrived at the capital late at hight. As I went to inquire about my luggage I saw my late fellow passenger joined by another officer. The two began talking earnestly, giving me occasional sidelong glances. The mystery was deepening. In passing them I caught words which sounded like "under another name" and "positive it is he." This was anything but reassuring to me. At length they disappeared, only to meet me outside the station. It got into my head that I was a marked man. A feeling of discomfort took possession of me. Germans are troublesome when they get an idea. I was glad to get into the carriage which was to take me to my hotel. The driver seemed to have some difficulty in starting the horse, but I gave this no attention. When the vehicle did start, it was taking a long time to reach my hotel, I thought. Suddenly it dawned upon me that the direction we were going was contrary to my instructions. I tried to open the window, but it refused to move. Then I hammered on the pane, but the driver was deaf or purposely so. window, but it refused to mov window, but it refused to move. Then I hammered on the pane, but the driver was deaf or purposely so.
"HI, there!" I thoughtlessly yelled in English. "Where the devil are you going?"
No one paid any attention to my cries. It was becoming a serious matter.

ter.
The lights grew fewer and fewer, and presently there were no lights at all. We were, I judged, somewhere in the suburbs. I became desperate and smashed a wholow. The carriage stopped so abruptly that I went sprawling to the bottom. I was in anything but a peaceful frame of mind, as they say, when the door swung open and I beheld standing at the side of it the officer who had accompanied me from the frontier.

"What controllers is this?" I get manded. I was thoroughly incensed.
"It means that herr will act peacefully or be in danger of a broken head," was the mind easing reply of my quondam fellow passenger. The driver then came down from the box, and I saw that he was the officer who had joined us at the station.
"If it is a frolic," I said, "one of

"If it is a frolic," I said, "one of your beer hall frolics, the sooner it is your beer hall frolics, the sooner it is ended the better for you."

The two laughed as if what I had

The two laurhed as if what I had said was one of the funniest things imaginable.

"Get out!"

"With pleasure!" said I.

Directly one of them lay with his back to the ground and the other was locked in my embrace. I had not spent four years on the college campus for intellectual benefits only. And indignation lent me additional strength. My opponent was a powerful man, but I held him in a grip of rage. Truthfully I began to enjoy the situation. There is something exhilarating in the fighting blood which rises in us now and then. This exhilaration, however, brought about my fall. In the struggle I forgot the other, who meantime had recovered his star gemmed senses. A crack from the butt of his pistol rendered we remeaked the grand decline. crack from the butt of his pistol ren crack from the butt of his pistol ren-dered me remarkably quiet and docile. In fact, all became a vacancy till the next morning, and then I was con-scious of a terrible headache and of a room with a window through which a cat might have climbed without en-dangering its spine—a very dexterous cat.

"Well," I mused, softly nursing the lump on my head, "here's the devil to pay and not a cent to pay him with."

It was evident that, without knowing it, I had become a very important personage.

No More Deaths Reported, but Four Names Added to the List of Those Who Were Injured.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16—The passengers on the wrecked C.P.R. train at Ingloff arrived from the East yester. day morning. No more deaths are reported, though it is feared that a missing man may be under the five cars which left the track.

The list of injured, in addition to those mentioned in Wednesday's desputch, includes R. Forward, Newfoundt, and; Ed. Kee, St. John, N. B.; Jos. Little, Cape Breton, and George Porter, St. John.

The fireman, John Corwin, had his leg so badly smashed that amputation at the knee was necessary. James Graig, York County, has serious injuries in his head, and the two last-named, and Forward, Newfoundland, who has painful bruises on thigh, are the only ones sufficiently injured to necessitate confinement in the hospital.

The front car of the train was almost smashed to pieces, and it appears miraculous that the casualties were so light. Nearly all the injuries were sustained through passengers jumping from the train.

Dan White, Kent County, was standing on the platform between the first two cars, and was crushed between them, and instantly killed.

D. McKegan, Cape Breton, jumped from a window of the car, falling beneath the tender, and it took three hours to release him. He died fivo minutes after his release.

Dr. Blanchard, C.P.R. physician, says all the injuried will recover.

Educational Methods Deprecated By One at Ottawa Convention.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The higher education section of the Dominion Educational Association opened its session yesterday. Mr. A. Stevenson of Pickering Gollege read a paper on "The Teaching of History," in which he maintained the importance of that subject as a vehicle for culture. The teaching of history should clear the mind of local and national projudices. It should serve as the guide to civic and political duties, and if teachers of history and literature would do their whole duty the world over peace and not war would be inevitable, and international quarrels could be settled by arbitration, instead of wholesale dueling. To teach only the history of one's own nation produces narrowness and boastings. The teaching of history should prevent class and social prejudices and foster a spirit tending to the elevation of the common people, widen the sympathies and make all more willing to do their share in furthering the divine purposes, and working for the betterment of mankind.

Mr. Ernest Smith, Westmount, Que., read an interesting paper entitled "The School as a Preparation for Practical Life." Mr. Smith stated that several successful business men had complained to him that Canadian boys and girls are not taught or trained in the paths of politeness. According to Mr. Smith's business friends, the Canadian child leaves the school too soon. It has not learned to observe accurately or express its ideas concisely. One business man thought the mastery of shorthand would go far to dovelop the faculty of accurate observation. Mr. Smith deplored the fact that too many boys and girls are dismissed from the schools mere machines.

Prof. Robertson on their Growth and Shipping—Necessity of Horest Packing

Apple Shippers' Association, held in Toronto, Professor J. W. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture of the Dominion, gave a chatty address on certain features of apple-growing in Canada. He alluded to the fact that too many persons undertook to grow apples by intuition. Apple culture requires special knowledge and raning. Many of the ignorant resorted to books for their knowledge and purchased all sorts of varieties. It is a closed package intended for sale was compelled to brand it plainly, with his full name and address, the held sheen tall of one. training. Many of the ignorant resorted to books for their knowledge and purchased all sorts of varieties of apples. He had been toid of one man who had six hundred varieties on his farm. (Laughter.) He the nm of the variety, the designation of the grade of the fruit. Packages were not to be exposed for sale or sold unless so marked, and a penalty was imposed for false marking of packages or fraud in packing. Prof. Mills, remarked Prof. Robertson in his speech, professed to see a temptation in the penalty of $1 for packers to put in the barrels old boots. No doubt if the paralty had been twenty-five conts the professor would have conjured up a whole suit of elothes.
(Loud laughter.) The penalty was solver enough for the object the govenough that in view, and that was an educational one. No penalty would deter a man who was letermined to practice fraud.

In answer to a question, Proon his farm. (Laughters) He thought that from twelve to twenty-varieties were all that should be grown in any particular district. They could speedly make a name and would secure a better macket. Such a district would be from Owen Sound to Toronto, about 150 miles square. Canadians had been losing in the English markets by having too many varieties and shippers could square. Canadians had been losing in the English markets by having too many varieties, and shippers could do a good deal of good by talking to the farmers and informing them what varieties they required. Too often the education of a grower was left to the college professor, whose pride it was to tell 150 varieties at sight and whose information was of no use to the grower in making money. So far as the length of set vice was concerned, most of the growers were only five or six year old boys, especially in regard to market requirements. The apple shipper should give exact information to these men. The shippers, too, should back up the work of the government at the illustration stations, where the best ways were shown of growing, picking and packing fruit. An orchard placed under the care of a district association would serve the purpose of an illustration station.

Dishonest Packing.

Dishonest Packing.

The apple business in Canada suffered very severely from the faults of packing. "What a thundering set of rogues you must be in Canada," was once remarked to him in England in reference to facing the barrels at top and bottom with good apples and filling in with rubbish. He would like to see a similar development in the apple-packing business as had been witnessed of late in the pork-packing business, and which had resulted in an enormous increas; of business, irractical skill on the part of the worker, and commercial talent on the part of the business man, would have the same results with the apple trade. The two special commandments should be: "Thou shalt deliver them in the best possible condition." The question of transportation was one for the consideration of the shippers. In Canada we had an export trade of about a million barrels a year. Two or three things made on marred the profits of the shippers. He knew of a man who for four years packed the product of his own orchards and made $8.50 per barrel. If they sent the best apples in the best possible condition, they would get in England the highest orices.

The English copyer or agent was the only march for the other English fellow on the other side. There was danger in consigning to men who were not regularly in the market. He instanced a case in point where a lot of butter sent over in cold storage was allowed to be left on the wharf for 48 hours. Delay in toking possession was often made in order to postpone drawing on a bank for the money. The government of Canada were doing all in their power to protect the sine. ernment of Canada were doing all in their power to protect the shippers. They had four men in England whose duty it was to water over delivery of Canadian products, with instructions to report all cases in which steamship companies or others did not do the right thing. The transport of apples was a difficult thing, owing to changes of temperature. A shipment might show a temperature of 85 or the ficult thing, owing to changes of temperature. A shipment might show a temperature of 85 on the cars while that at the wharf might be only 55. The cargo was reported as over rlp, when packed. THE CONCILIATORS' REPORT.

Trackmen Reject the Company's Terms for Settlement and Refuse to Repudiate President Wilson, Saying the Request Is an Insult to Them-Strikers Determined to Fight On.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The strike of the C. P. R. trackmen has taken the peculiar ossition that Mr. John T. Wilson, President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen of America, has been ordered to leave the city by the Conciliation Committee, made up of representatives of the various organizations of the C. The striking trackmen now must break with their president or with the five powerful organizations of the C. P. R. employes. The Conciliation Committee made public the following correspondence:

Dear Sirs and Brothers.—The undersigned general chairmen herewith submit the following report for your consideration: In compliance with request of members of our organizations, we met in Montreal on Thursday, Aug. S. 1901, to renow the cf-forts which some of the general chairmen had made towards obtaining the consent of the company and maintenance-of-way men for the general chairmen of the five organizations to act as conciliators in the present dispute. Our services being accepted by both parties, we took up-the duties of a conciliation board. After several interviews had been held between the Board of Conciliation, the company and committee representing the trackmen, we succeeded in obtaining a basis of settlement, which we believed to be reasonable and fair under the present conditions of the strike situation, and recommended that it be accepted by the trackmen, explaining to them that the terms submitted were equal to those obtained by the trackmen, explaining to them that the terms submitted were equal to those obtained by the trackmen, explaining to them that the terms submitted were equal to those obtained by the trackmen of the trackmen and a vote taken by them, the following letter was presented to the Board of Conciliation by the chairman of the trackmen.

experimentally in the factory at Torchto Junction on gas produced from peat at an estimated cost of three cents per thousand feet.

An inexhaustible supply of peat as far up on the list of Ontaric's undevelved resources, and any working commercial process of extracting fuel and illuminating gas from this peat will be worth millions to this country.

Gas which could be manufactured and distributed at a net cost of twenty or twenty vie cents per thousand feet would virtually abolish the use of coal for generating heat, light and power, and change the whole face of industrial nature in Ontario.

Headquarters Joint Protective Board, Maintenance of Way Department, Employes Canadian Pacific Railway, Grand Union Hetel, Montreal, Aug. 16, 1901:
Dear Sirs and Drothers: The general chairmen of the other orders on the C. P. Railway have been in Montreal for some time. Last Friday they were accepted by the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and myself to act as a "Conciliation Committee," instead of their trying to effect a settlement through the president of the C.P.R. Company and myself, they took the matter up with the general manager. After conciliating about a week, the following is a copy of a message, which shows the basis of the settlement proposed by the general manager, comment upon which I consider unnecessary:

Montreal, Aug. 12, 1601.

The second vice-president and general manager will approve the circular setting out the pay for trafkmen, in accordance with his letter of June 12, and also reciting rules and regulations governing the employment and service of the trackmen, and, at the end of one year from this date, if the trackmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway have effected a responsible and workable organization, the company will meet a committee and grant them a schedule provided, however, that such schedule shall only apply to foremen and first and second men, of one year's standing in the company's service; and neither the schedule nor any of its-conditions shall apply to others employed, either on section work or or extra in the company's service; and neither the schedule nor any of its conditions shall apply to others employed, either on section work or on extragangs, nor shall any committee representing the organization at any time interfere or attempt to interfere with the relations between the company and its employes, in its Maintenance of Way Department, to whom the said schedule will not apply, as above set forth. The company will reinstate all men in their respective positions, provided such positions have not been filled under promise of permanency, during the absence of the strikers. In the case of positions having been filled, the company will Welland, Aug. 19.—Amos W. Michener, a quarryman of Port Colborne, has been committed for trial on the strength of evidence of Mary Clough, a child of 13, who accuses him of a heinous crime. Michener is a married man of about 40 and has hitherto borne an excellent reputation. He is out on $4,000 bail and will come up at the Assizes.

ANGRY HARVESTERS.

Aen From the East Make Flerce Demon strations for "Work or Bread" at Winnipeg and Branden.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—A demonstra-tion occurred in the City Hall and C.P.R. depot on Saturday, when crowds of hungry men gathered around and demanded "bread or work." They were harvesters lately arrived from the cast, many of whom work." They were harvesters intoly arrived from the east, many of whom had been out along the main. Iine of the C.P.R. Several returned, having found the labor market filled to overflowing. They had come west expecting big pay and light work, on a binder or such like, and now found themselves in a strange country with neither bread, money or employment. The situation certainly was urgent and unpleasant, which features were fully impressed on the city relief officials and city clerks. The wrath of the mob burned fercely, and the rail-way and the local government officials for having, as they said, deceived honest men by glowing reports and big promises. After receiving all the satisfaction they could at the City Hall, an adjournment was made to the C.P.R. depot, where a similar scene took place. In order to pacify the mob, and show them they were misjudging the emigration officials, a message was hastily sent to Mr. Hugh Keller of the Agricultural Department, who gathered up the letters received by him from the government agents in the east regarding hiring of men and went posthaste to the depot. He then addressed the crowd, and read the letters to show that no false representations had been made. He thought there was work on the branch lines if they could go out and look for it, and finally succeeded in getting the crowd called off. It is claimed by the government that the season will not start until next week, and that after that every man now in the country will be needed.

A Demonstration at Brandon.

Brandon, Man., Aug. 19.—Harvest excursionists who have failed to secure work made a demonstration here Saturday night. The meeting was held in the station, where a number of excursionists made speeches. They claimed that they had been lured to this country by promises of big pay and lots of work, and when they arrived here they found neither. This was the thread of the story told by each. About 25 men were then fined up by a young man named Mitchell, a returned soldier, and marched through the streets to the residence of Mayor Fraser. He was at the City Hall, and there the excursionists methim, and demanded food. He gave them an order for meals. There are several hundred excursionists in town, and apparently very little demand for men. Many of these young fellows have no money, and they have been sleeping under trees and in the station houses. As far as can be learned, there is a scarcity of men at points, such as Rapid City and Souris and smaller places, but too many seem to have gotten off here. The men state freely that they intend taking possession of the passenger coaches and compelling the C.P.R. to take them back home.

Prescott, Ont., Aug. 19.—The saddest sight that has been witnessed in Prescott for many a day was the funeral of the three victims of last Monday's drowning accident in the Galops Rapids, Messrs, James H. Owing to the terribly decomposed condition of the bodies, it was thought advisable not to take the remains to their saddened homes. The funeral procession was the largest ever seen in these parts, being over two miles in length.

New Household Pest-

In many Ontario towns housekeepers are almost in despair over the ers are almost in despair over the ravages of a new pest. The new arrival is known as the Buffalo bug. He is a fat little fellow covered with shaggy hair. Just why he is called the Buffalo bug is not generally known. He doesn't come from Buffalo. He is a distant relative of the moth family, although he seems to be an improvement on his relatives.
The moth thrives on woollen goods and furs. The Buffalo bug will eat and furs. The Buffalo bug will eat anything from hay to a rag cappet. He always has his app t te with him and when he knocks off work he leaves his trade mark behind him. A Buffalo bug in a clothes closet is like a buil in a china shop. Look out for the little fellow with the shaggy whiskers, who has already made himself at home in Belleville and Campbellford.

THE CENSUS.

The census bulletins issued yester-day from O tawa and published else-where, give as the total for the Dominion 5,838,883, and the Province Dominion 5,338,883, and the Province of Quebec, by whose population the representation of the others in the Hons, of Commons is fixed, 1,620,474. This makes the average vote per member in the Province of Quebec 24,938. Dividing 213, the present membership of the whole House, into the population for the Dominion, the quotient is 25,065, from which it appears that the country as a whole has just about kept pace with Quebec, or a trifle better. The House will doubtless continue with the present number of 213 members, but the Provinces will not be repreits present number of 213 members, but the Provinces will not be represented as they have been. Ontario loss sieve mbers, being only entitled, on the Quebec basis of 65, to 87 members instend of 92 as at present. All the Maritime Provinces will suffer. Nova Scotia will lose two, New Branswick and Prince Edward leave one. It is the West that two, New Branswick and Frince Edward Island one. It is the West shat gains all this. Manitoba, which formerly had seven members, will now be entitled to ten; British Columbia advances from six to eight, Northwest from four to six, and there is population in the unorganized territories which will probably be made the basis of a demand for two members for the Yukon. Other-ly be made the basis of a demand for two members for the Yukon, Other-wise there will be only 211 members, two less than at present. The poor showing made by Ontarlo will no doubt prove to be a great disappointment, especially if it should torn out, as is claimed by Le Journal, of Montreal, that the oulk of the increase has been in those counties which represent an over-flow from Quebec. The Maritime Provinces will also, no doubt, be disposed to regret their loss of prestige, especially as compared with the West. In the present House the Maritime Fro inces have 30 menbers, the West 17. In the next House the East will have 35, the West 26.

Amongst Canadian cities Montreal continues to be well in the lead. In Ontario what gain there has been is all in the cities. The total gain is only 53,657; Toronto and Ottawabetween them account for over 40,000 of this, and three others for 14,000 more. Kingston is the only city to show a sight failing off. Of the smaller cities of the Bonsinon, the progressive ones are Winnipeg, 25,639 to 42,336; Vancouver, 13,709 to 26,106, Valleyfield, 5,515 to 11,055, Sydney, 2,427 to 9,008, and Calgary, 3,876 to 12,142. Halifax and St. John are now greater rivals than ev.r. Halifax having the better of the argument by 78 souls. Amongst Canadian cities Montrivale than ever, Halifax having the better of the argument by 76 souls. Neither has progressed very much. Turning to our own County, the showing is not very satisfactory, both North and South Victoria, being credited with slight decreases as follows: North Victoria, 16,840 in 1891, 16,274 in 1901, decrease 573; South Victoria, 20,455 in 1801, 20,-357 in 1901, decrease 98. This falling off is due to the heavy algration to the Northwest, particularly from North Victoria. Peterboro East has increased from 21,919 to Torning to our own County, the showing is not very satisfactory, both North and South Victoria being credited with slight decreases as follows: North Victoria, 16,840 in 1891, 16,274 in 1901, decrease 573; South Victoria, 20,455 in 1891, 20,357 in 1901, decrease 98. This falling off is due to the heavy neigration to the Northwest, particularly from North Victoria. Peterboro East has increased from 21,919 to 22,313, and Peterboro West from 15,696 to 16,840, North Ontarioshews a decrease from 20,723 to 20,716, and South Ontario has suffered severely, the present population being 16,794 as against 19,033 in 1891. The returns for towns and villages have not yet been given out.

The one difficult thing to explain in the bulletins so far issued is that which shows that since 1891 there has been an increase in the number of dwellings in Ontario of 37,041, and of families 33,571, or about 8 per cent. in both cases, whereas this total increase is population is only 55,657, or not more than 21-2 per cent. As in the other provinces there is no such apparent incompanibility, it has been suggested that this gives prima facie proof that the censes of 1891 was stuffed. It is to be hoped the suspicion will prove to be unfounded.

COLLEGE EDUCATION.

President Schwab, of the Steel Trust, expressed his opinion as to what a young man required in the way of education to be a success in business. Mr. Schwab did not enjoy the advantages of a college career and because he escaped the shoals and succeeded he thinks others can do the same, it is admitted that education does not make success assured; Some of the biggest failures in life have been men whose fathers made the mistake of spending money on sons that lacked ambition and brains. In the pursuit of life education does not always count, it is the brain and energy combined and if the two are strong enough them success is liable to follow. Add to brain and energy the college training and then success is certain. In connection with this subject it is interesting to read the statement of Mr. Forgan, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, who, addressing the students of the Lake Forrest University, said:

"What are the educational qualifications which you will find most helpful in entering upon a business President Schwab, of the Steel helpful in entering upon a business life?

"1. To be able to write a good legible hand, to make good figures and to place them correctly— the units below units, tens below tens,

"2. To be able to add, substract, and multiply rapidly and accurate-

"3. To be able to express yourself clearly, briefly and grammatically in a letter and to spell the words cor-

"Very simple accomplishments, you say. Yos, and very rare. I have taken many young men into business in this country, and I can scarcely read; one who had these accomplish-

Mr. Forgan is right. It would be Mr. Forgan is right to word much better for many a young man if he could add quickly and correctly than to possess a smattering of Greek or Latin that will not be of any real service to him.

THE ROBINSON BURGLARY.

A Smart Sneak Thief

Mr. Geo. Robinson, shoemaker, Wil-liam-st., suffered a severe loss at noon Tuesday by the pleverness of a sneak thief. When he closed of a sneak thiel. When he closed the shop at 12 o'clock the locked till held $28-when he returned at 12.40 the drawer stood wide open and the roll of bills had vanished. Investigation disclosed that the thiel had entered through a window in the rear of the shop, opening on the lane back of the row of buildings. The window is close to the back doors of R. S. Porter's and T. C. Matchett's premises, while the drawer pried open was in the counter next the Williamst. window. The cool nerve of the thief was evinced in his having carried out his plan with the odds so much against him. Some small silver was left unclisturbed, and a watch hanging on the wall nearby proved no attraction. Chief Coustable Nevison will try to get on the track of the robber.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Detection followed fast on the heels of crime in the case of Walter Thomas, the 17 year old son of Geo. Thomas, colored, who was arrested yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock by Chief Nevison on suspicion of being the thief who had robbed Shosmaker Geo. Robinson of a considerable sum of money less than two hours previous.

The prisoner at first denied all knowledge of the affair, but after being placed in a cell he weakened, confessed, and offered to show where the money was hidden. A search warrant was procured and the Chief accompanied the boy to his home, whre the money was found secreted in the ceiling of the hen-house. The roll of bills contained $25, while Robinson claimed to have lost $28. Thomas at first stremoisly denied having taken any more than the amount found, but when $55, in silver was afterward found in the pocket of a garment in the house he admitted that it represented part of the spoil.

The prisoner was arraigned before Magistrate $40-ers this morning, and was found guilty. He was remanded till to-morrey for sentence.

PETERBORO CHEESE BOARD.

5111 Cheese Eoarded-3: F. ctories Sold at 97-18c, Three at 91-2c and Two at 91-4c

Wednesday's meeting of the Petrboro Cheese Board was a hot a ber, several of the buyers being sharply criticized for refusing to take cheese at the prices offered at last meeting. Ballon last meeting, Balley and Cook being named as the chief offenders. In all 5111 boxes were boarded Wednesday by 50 factories, and 97-16c. was the ralling price, only three factories securing the half.

Victoria County Board will meet next Monday at 10 a.m.

Computed on a Wrong Basis.

(To the Editor of The Post.) Sir,—I have noticed a circular to be towns of Ostario issued by Mr E. Bell, of Cobourg, Ont., reading as ollows:

The Bell Electric Transit Company, organized to operate Electric Ballroads, will run through your town, provided the town subscribes a bonus, viz:
Towns of CO inhabitants $250
Towns from 500 to 1000 500
Towns from 1000 to 1500 750
Towns from 1000 to 5000 1,500
Towns from 1000 to 5000 2,000
Towns from 3000 to 5000 3,500.
Towns from 5000 to 5000 3,500.
Towns from 5000 to 10000 10000 Towns from 5000 to 10000 10000 Towns from 8000 to 10000 10000. Being somewhat interested in transportation matters, the circular attracted my attention and the following occurs to me: If Mr. Bell can afford to run an electric railroad through a municipality of 500 inhabitants for a bonus of $250, surely in a town of 10,000 inhabitants he can afford to perform the service without any bonus whatever, as it is natural sequence that the service without any bonus whatever, as it is natural sequence that the revenue of a town of 10,000 inhabit-ants must be considerably in excess in receipts of a nuncipality of 500 inhabitants.

It seems to me as if the figures are semewhat reversed in Mr. Beli's circular, and that they should read as follows:

NEW WATERWORKS MAIN.

The Six Inch Pipe Crossing the River at Bond-st was Lowered on Sunday Afternoon,

Owing to the constant procession of steamers up and down the river, Messrs. W. Walters and Beg. sion of steamers up and down the river, Messrs, W. Walters and Begbie have found the work of blasting the trench in the river bed at Bondst for the new waterworks main a slow and bothersome task, muchof it having to be done at night in order that navigation might not be interfered with. The trench blasted in the bottom of the river is 18 inches in depth and between 2 and 3 fear in width. Saturday it was ready for the pipe, and the men worked nearly all night by electric light fitting the lengths tog-ther and preparing the apparatus for lowcring, At 4 a.m. they knocked off for a rest, but resumed operations at 9, and at 2 p.m. the work of fowcring was begun. The long pipe was let down to its bed very slowly by means of a series of thread screws worked simultaneously and the process was watched by a considerable number of spectators.

When the pipe had reached bottom Mr. John Walker donned his diring suit and descended to take note of the position of the pipe in its bed, which he found to be confortable.
There were some 18 leaded ball and socket joints to be tightened and as there were 12 boits in each to be served up and tested the diver mad considerable work of a tedious nature to be performed at a depth of between six and eight feet.

NOT TOO Early

TO TALK OF Fall Trade

After two very successful years of business, due to the patronage of a kind and appreciative public, whom we heartily thank, we once more remind you that we are now ready to show more stylish goods with better values than ever.

We enter the fall season with a stock the best that taste and good judgment can select.

The summer season not yet being over, we have bargains for you in all lines necessary.

The great Pan-American is now at its zenith, and all who contemplate a visit thereto should see our varied range of DRESS CLOTHS, specially designed for wear in Buffalo during that time.

A cool wave reminds us that men should begin to think of their NEW FALL OVERCOATS and SUITS, cut and fitted by Mr. Sam. Champion. The best and most satisfactory place for these is here.

The Canada Life Assurance Co.

A Business Proposition.

We offer you a better investment than Covernment Bonds.

Better for three reasons.

1st.—Canada Life 5 per cent. Gold Bonds yield a much higher rate of interest than Government Bonds.

2nd.—They are paid for by instalments—thus placed within the reach of men without capital.

3rd.—They are insured. That is, should the investor die after paying only one instalment on his bonds, all his future payments to the Company would be immediately cancelled and the benefits of his investment would at once become available.

Add to all these advantages the very material one that the invest-or shares in the surplus earnings of this leading Company, and you have an opportunity for safe and profitable investment rarely equalled A handsome booklet, giving a full explanation, will be sent on request

Assumes Control at Oshawa

Homilton Spectator: S. H. Graham who has been editor of the Roya Templar for some years, has pur-chased the Oshawa Vindicator, and chased for some years, has purchased the Oshawa Vindicator, and will take over the business on Oct. I.

Inasmuch as Mr. Graham edited the Whitby Chronicle for four years, he is no stranger in his new field of labor, and those who remember the able impartial and successful manner in which he handled the Circonicle will expect to see the Vindicator speedily develop into one of the very first-class local newspapers of the province. Mr. Graham is full of energy, has had large experience, knows exactly what Oshawa wants, and has the necessary ability to supply the demand. The Spectator wishes Mr. Graham abundant success and knows that the wish will be gratified.

Adjourned Council Session MEUBERS WORRIED OVER SEWER MATTERS.

Lawyer McSweyn Urges that Action in Connection with Lindsay-Simcoe-st. Petition has been Improper— Communications, Reports and Other Business.

An adjourned meeting of our city fathers was held on Monday in the Council chamber, all members being present, Mayor Ingle in the chair. Communications.

From Sam Terrill, asking financial assistance on the ground that he is no longer able to work.-Finance

From C. Moore, making complaint that the streets were being used as a playground by vagabond cattle.—Board of Works.

From J. R. McNeillle, County Treasurer, with reference to an account for stone crushing.—Fyled.

From P. P. Burrows, M.D. recommending that Mrs. Helen Halpin be given hospital attention, her case being serious.—Referred to Town Physician for his report.

given hospited attention, her class being serious.—Referred to Town Physician for his report.

From J. M. Squier, complaining of the bad condition of the roadways leading to and from his seed pea warehouse; if not repaired his business would be interfered with.—Board of Works.

From Town Solicitor Hopkins, with reference to the Russell and Simcoests, sewer judgment. The application of Ann Barke and J. Sheelian for permission to withdraw the names having been refused, the sewer could now be proceeded with.—After some discussion it was decided that the Board of Works should meet next evening to consider the Colbourne-st, and Russell and Simcoest, judgments in relation to future work.

A number of accounts were read and referred to the proper committees.

Kent-st. Sewer.

Kent-st. Sewer.

Clerk Knowlson read a report from Town Commissioner Chalmers, recommending the construction of Kent-st. sanitary sewer and cellar drain from Cambridge-st. to a point 156 feet east of Angeline-st.; size to be 15 inch sewer and 9 inch cellar drain from Cambridge to Sussex-sts, and 9 inch sewer and 6 inch cellar drain from Cambridge to Sussex-sts, and 9 inch sewer and 6 inch cellar drain from Sussex-st. westward. The sewer will have 60 side drains to street line, 7 being for town property, and the Commissioner advised that the sewer be laid on the south side of the street, as very few loterals will be needed for north side properties. From Cambridge-st to Sussex-st. it was necessary that the sewer should be of larger capacity than the westerly section in order to provide for other sewers to join later, and the extra cost of the larger pipe—about $400—should be assumed by the town. The frontage assessable on both sides from Cambridge-st. to Angelline-st is 3941 feet, evempt 2301 feet, covering town and school properties and street intersections. Total estimated cost of work $7517.80, including court of revision, advertising, engile by property-owners $4,872.90, by town $2645.

Francis-st. Cement Walk.

Ald. O'Rielly—"Yes, four feet is wide chough when we have to pay 60 per cent. of the cost."
Ald. Hore—"Let's act cautionsly, as I understand there's going to be a good deal of opposition to the walk."

a good deal of opposition to the walk."

All. O'RI lly—"The Commissioner is here and we had better ask him to make his report conform with the petition. At a recent session of the Court of Revision Mr. O'Leary almost charged forgery against us because of a change made in connection with Kent-st. sewer report."

Mayor Ingle—"When in Peterboro lately I was toll that the great mistake they had made was in putting down any walks less than 5 feet wide."

Ald. Jackson—"Peel-st, walks are wide."

Ald. Jackson—"Peel-st, walks are only 4 feet, and there's double the traffic compared with Francis-st. I understand there will be a petition for a walk on the north side also, and with 4 foot granolithic walks on both sides the property-owners will have nothing to complain of."

Say."
Conneil decided to follow the present rule, and the petition was sent on for the customary report.

Committee Reports.
Report No. 27 of the Board of Works, No. 22, Town Property, and No. 25, Finance, were read by the respective chairmen, Aldermen Touchburn, Hore and Jackson, and were duly adopted. The matters dealt with have already been noted.

Lectured the Council.

duly adopted. The matters dealt with have already been noted.

Lectured the Council.

On motion Mr. John McSweyn was given leave to address the council, and held the floor—if not the attention of members—for almost half-an-hour. He appeared on behalf of these opposed to the construction of the Russell and Simcoe-st sewer, and whose appeal was dismissed by Judge Harding on Friday hast. Mr. McSweyn explained that when arguing the case before His Honor he had refrained from criticizing the coucil's procedure in connection with the petition out of consideration for the members and the clerk. The gist of his remarks was that the proceedings had been improper both on the part of the council by mot complying with its own by-laws and rules, and by allowing the Clerk finally to decide a petition in which his relatives were interested.

When Mr. McSweyn had concluded the was invited to attend a meeting of the Board of Works set for the next evening, when the whole matter would be threshed out.

matter would be threshed out.

The Collector is Slow.

Ald Jackson pointed out that ne report had been presented by Audit or Fagleson, which probably meant that he had been unable to secure the completion and return of the two rells still held by the Collector. Because of that they will be unable to appoint a collector to-night as intended.

Mayor Ingle.—"The rolls not in yet?"

Guelph.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows commenced its annual session at Guelph last Wedn sing, Grand Master O. L. Lew-s presiding. The report of the Grand Master The report of the Grand Master demonstrated that the order has just passed through a most successful and prosperous year. On the 30th June hast, acording to the official returns the total membership for Ontario was 25,318, with some 18 lodges yet to be heard from, representing a gain of 1,195 during his term of office. The assets of the Order in Ontario, the Grand Master further stated, over and above hishlittes, amounted to about $1,100,000 during the same period and there had been disbursed in financial relief the sum of $87,905.74. The returns showed that while in 1898 there had been suspended for non-payment of dues, 1,082, in 1900 there; had been only $22 suspensions; lour new lodges were instituted by the Grand Master during his official year.

Great efforts on the part of the

there had been only so, suspense, and lour new lodges were instituted by the Grand Master during his official year.

Great efforts on the part of the membership to augment the fund for the establishment of a home for aged oldfellows was urged. The fund, the report stated, now amounts to $6,502.80 in cash, with further subscriptions. Twenty thousand dollars is required to place the proposed home on a safe and permanent basis.

The age limit, which is fixed by the laws of the order at 21 years, is the subject of repeated complaint by the lodges. He recommended that the hinds of the Grand Representatives to the Sovereign Grand Lodge be strip in the result of the first of the

THE ISLANDER WRECK

The Estimates of the Lost Range Between 20 and 80.

PARTIAL LIST OF THE DROWNED

Drowned-Fears at Belleville Concerning Sir Mackenzie Bowell-Fo'll Particulars.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 20.—Fuller details of the wreck of the S. S. Islander have been received here, showing that the disaster is the most serious one in the history of lander have been received nere, showing that the disaster is the most serious one in the history of the passenger traffic between this city and the Yukcn.

It is now estimated that between 75 and 80 passengers were lost.

The Islander was the flagship of the fleet owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship and Navigation Company of Victoria, and plied between this port and Skaguay. She was a wellequipped twin-screw steamer, divided into seven watertight compartments. There was on board 107 passengers and a crew of 71.

The Islander left Skaguay last Wedneeday evening, going by way of the Linn Canal. An iceberg was struck as the boat emerged from the mouth of the canal, off the south end of Douglas Island, at 2.16 a. m., on Aug. 15. The crash came suddenly. It was so violent that the door of nearly every stateroom was driven home with such force that the terror-stricken passengers, when they tried to gain the deck, found themselves blocked. So swiftly did the boat settle that many persons were left in the rush and went down with the ship. Capt.
Foote jumped from the vessel as she settled and was lost.

She foundered in 40 fathoms of water in about 16 minutes from the time of the accident.

Many of the persons who perished were killed by the exploding boiler after they had been taken off by the small boats, but could not push away from the sinking ship in time.

The six boats and two lifeboats were promptly lowered and all available cork jackets torn down and distributed among the passengers as soon as the stewards were given the alarm and could get among the passengers.

distributed among the passengers as soon as the stewards were given the alarm and could get among the passengers.

The officers and the engineers, with some of their respective crews, who had assisted them, took to the water as the stern went under, the ship having gone down head first. They were afterwards saved by boats returning from the shore.

In spite of its being in the early hours of the morning and quite dark, there appears to have been little or no confusion or excitement. The boats landed the people on the southern end of Douglas Island and the chief officer and the engineer called for volunteers to pull to Juneau for assistance, where they obtained two steamers and prompt attention in way of food, clothing and restoratives, and despatched them to the scene of the disaster.

Some of the passengers declare that the shock of the collision with the iceberg was not sufficient to awaken everyone. Some had to be called after the contact.

The surrivors walked to Treadwell, Alaska, bringing the first news of the disaster.

Two hundred thousand dollars in treasure from the Alaskan and Yukon gold fields, over $100,000 of which was the property of passengers, sank with the steamer.

Latest accounts indicate that about 14 passengers and 18 of the crew, among whom was the captain of the ill-fated steamer went down with the Islander in Steven's Channel on Thursday morning last. All the hoats and rafts got away, and some one hundred and thirty-four passengers and crew were saved.

Partial List of the Dead.

Victoria, Aug. 20.—George McL.
Prown, executive agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, after interviewing the officers and passengers who returned, said:
"The purser is remaining in the north attending to the forwarding of through passengers. It is impossible to give an exact list of those lest, but from the fact that 113 were saved, the loss must be very much below figures obtained. The loss will not exceed 20, in his opinion."

Is Sir Mackebzie Lost?

Is Sir Mackenzie Lost?
Belleville, Aug. 20.—It is feared here that Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Mr. J. F. Mills, barrister of this city, his brother, Dr. A. E. Mills of Dawson City, were lost on the steamer Islander. They are believed to have taken passage on $27, as Sir Mackenzie and J. F. Mills went up on her.

her. Her Brother-in-Law Lost.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Miss Dupont of 101 Madison avenue received a telgram from her brother in Victoria, informing her that her brother-in-law, Peter W. Bell, had perished in the wreck of the Islander. Mr. Isel was born in Red River about 60 years ago. He was Hudson Bay Factor at Michipicoten and at La Cloche for many years. He had gone up to Dawson with Dr. Duncan to superintend a cance expedition. tend a canoe expedition.

Some Acted Inhumanely.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 20.—Reports received here say that some of the passengers on the Islander, when she struck, acted most inhumanely, cutting the ropes as soon as they got into the boat and pushing off from the steamer. The chief criticism to the operation of the steamer is that she should have been slowed down as soon as it was found ed down as soon as it was that she was running into ice.

TEMISCAMING RAILWAY,

Suitable Location Found for Twenty Miles Prospects for Easy Construction of the Government Line.

Prospects for Easy Construction of the Government Line.

Tororto, Aug. 20.—Deputy Commissioner of Public Works A. W. Campbell, returned to his office in the Parliament buildings yesterday after a trip through the Temiscaming District, where he went to lay out several colonization roads. This he has done, and the townships of Bucke, Harris, Casey, Dymond, Hudson, Armstrong, Harley, Eventurel, Beachamp and Hilliard will be opened up by four main thoroughfares, with a total length of 50 miles.

A suitable location has been found for the first twenty miles of the proposed Government railway to connect old Ontario with the Temiscaming region. This is the report brought by Mr. Campbell. The location decided upon by Chief Engineer Russell starts at North Bay, and, after skirting easterly along Trout Lake, turns to the north in the valley of the North River. The twenty-mile section carries the line beyond the watershed or height of land immediately north of Lake Nipissing, and it is gratifying to know that what is the most difficult section of the whole line has been found quite fensible, and will be overcome with lighter gradicuts than was expected. The line traverses a fine hardwood section of country, with good clay land. Mr. Russell proposes to go on with the reconnaissance work, () (m. m)

ODD WILL CASE DECIDED.

Court Finds that the Will of Cobbie of Coboconk. Bolds Good Against the Claim of his Widow.

Judgment was handed down Saturday by Chief Justice Faiconbridge at Osgoode Hall in the case of Cobble v. Burtchall, which case came up for its initial hearing at Lindsay some months ago, there being many witnesses.

About 26 years ago the plaintiff, a widow, married one Cobble, of Coboconk. They lived together for six is a widow, married one Cobble, of Cobook. They lived together for six or seven years, when she left him because of alleged ill-treatment and lack of provision for her. There were no children born of the union. Cobble went to live with the defendant Burtchall, and in consideration of his keep promised to give him all his property, which he did by will. He went to Burchall's on December 174, 18.9, and made a will on December 18th, dying a short time later. He was then sixty-six years of age. The widow disputed the will the grounds of undue influence and insanity. The judgment upholds the will, and the action is dismissed without costs. The money involved is less than $1,000.

The action also included a deel of land, an assignment of a mortgage and the power of attorney to withdraw money from the P.O. savings bank. The judgment says of the two first that it would probably be difficult to uphold the deed or the assignment, the mortgage having regard to more than one of the elements which determine cases of this nature.

When the big storm blew ap about 4 o'clock the wind was out of the south-west, but shifted a few minutes later to full west. The thunder pealed, the lightning flashed and the rain descended in blinding sheets. The Crandella, with the Peterboro band excursion on board, reached the wharf just as the storm began, and—many felt relieved, as with the large crowd on board a panie might have resulted in a serious disaster.

The other erafts that rode out the storm in port were the Marie-Louise, Kawartha, Mizpah, Seotch Lassle and Retta. The latter craft was anchored opposite Grandell's cottage, and when the gale was at its highest she commenced to drag her anchor, causing her owner, Mr. J. Brown, to lear that she would be blown on shore and wrecked. Mr. R. H. Hopk as and a couple of other solunteered to go to the roscue in a cance, but Mr. Brown would not consent that they should run the tisk. The craft drifted about 100 yards, and when the first fucy of the storm had abated Mr. Brown managed to get aboard, when he got up steam and scudded for safe anchorage behind the sand bar.

The yacht Pearl, owned by Mr. Jas. Lwis, of Bobaaygeon, had reached the first cut when the storm safety.

Binghamton, N.Y., Hospital authorities will abolish Ward No. 18 on account of the superstition that it is unlicky. Most of the hotels in is unjucky. Most of the notes in the States and Canada have already abolished Room No. 13. And yet the physicians smile pityingly on faith-carists, Christian Scientists, and divine heaters.

Throughout the United States, according the the latist estimates and statistics, of 1,410,769 negro heads of families, 264,288 own their homes and farms, and 1,146,481 are tenants. This is a remarkable showing for a race which, forty years ago, as the New York Evening Post says, "did not own itself." 'did not own itself.'

Over in Yonkers, N.Y., the other day a lad was drowned while several companions looked on and laughed, thinking his appeals for help were mere "fooling." The cries for help of a person apparently drowning should never be disregarded; if it turns out that he was "fooling" a thoroughly good, sangking is the thoroughly good spanking is the proper treatment.

It is satisfactory to learn that the It is satisfactory to learn that the House of Lords has passed a bill providing for public works on a port on the western coast of Ireland. It is evident that if steamers dropped their passengers and mails at such a harbor the average voyage across the Atlantic would be a matter of four or five days at the outside. Galway offers a natural harbor and there are others. But that the step has been taken is a matter for congratulation.

The chivalrous disposition of olden The chivalrous disposition of olden times is evidently about to be resided in the project of certain United States officers to present to Admiral Cervera a loving cup in token of the Spanish Admiral's courage in deading his fleet out of Santiago furbor into the very laws of death. Cervera treated his United States prisoners courteously and it is pleasant to read that one of these, Lieut. Hobson is one of the first to subscribe to the Cervera loving any fund.

Wanted-Young man to wash Chishes, sweep, and assist at cooking. Wanted-Man to take charge of lodgers' rooms, sweep and wash. Wanted-Youth, who understands cooking, and who is willing to help as a domestic in a gentleman's house.

These are specimens of advertise ments in the Chicago papers. High-er education for young men will not be necessary long if this is what so-ciety is coming to. The women can run the offices and fill the places hitherto occupied by men; the population will not increase, and the males can become effeminate and do the domestic work.

A new public school fad, which originated in Minneapells, is making headway in the Western States, and is to be tried in the public schools of Chicago. It is basket-making. Its basis is the idea that the childhood of an individual is similar in [48] imof an individual is sim!lar in its im-pulses to the childhood of the race Axes of chipped stone were made by Axes of chipped stone were made by the human race in its infancy. In-structions in the making of stone hatchets is not practicable, however, and, therefore, the making of rattau baskets was substituted. A few of baskets was substituted. A few of the Minneapolis teachers learned the art and then taught their pupils. Minneapolis board of education grew on instastic over the beautiful glove-boxes and flower-pot holders which were made by the school children, and appropriated $3,000 to buy materials and pay for instruction in rattan basket-making in the first four grades of the schools. Next in order of course, was a school for teachers in basket-making. This is in session in Chicago and is attended by ninety women and two men. There is a practical side to the matter, according to the Minneapolis teader of the fad. "One little girl," says the lady, "sold several of her baskets at 50 cents apiece, and took crders for a number more. She brought nine dollars home to her mother, a hard-working washerwo-man, and perhaps you can imagin the little thing's joy and pride."

London's tax rate is $1.92 per capita; that of Paris, $4.02; that of Now York, $28.00. Now is New York seven times as well ruled as

The Canadian post offices forwarded 178,285,500 letters last year, an average of about 30 per capita of the population. Did you write or receive your share?

There is just now a strong movement in Chicago for the abolition of the personal property and income taxes and the concentration of taxes on real estate and public franchises. It is argued that these taxes are not easily evaded, and that "they are as pervasive as the

In the first half of 1901 Canada In the first half of 1901 Canada has shipped £88,000 worth more pulp to Great Britain than in the same period of 1900. In 1899 we shipped 5 per cent of the quantity import-ed into Britain; in the first half of 1901, 131-2 per cent. It is a trade that will grow.

The dollar wheat prophets are abroad again. It would be a great thing for the Canadian farmer if he could get a dollar a bushel for this year's crop, but it is not kindness to encourage him to hope for such a price. Unless some great corner or pool disorganizes the market there will not likely be any dollar price for wheat this year.

The Democrate across the lines intend to give the Republican party a harder fight than they have had during the last two elections. They see that Bryan and his silver theory have hopelessly allenated the higher classes in the party and thrown them into the arms of the Republicans. Another state has come into line and the Virginian Democrats have proclaimed their platform. It is solid and Bryanism is out of it. That gentleman has set the bad example of misusing scriptural references and it is followed by one of his opponents in the convention, who summed up the situation as follows; "Twice have we followed William Bryan and free sliver to the sepaichre, and not once to the resurrection. There can be no more resurrection of the dead."

Sailing ships have not, nor are they likely to, become obsolete, although the old-fashloned full-rigged ship, that most beautiful or all human creations, may henceforth seldom be seen upon the ocean. Of late the shipbuilders of the United States have been constructing luge sevenmasted schooners of enormous freight-carrying capacity, intended for long voyages. The advantages claimed for them are that they do not require so many men to work them, they cost much less than steam vessels to navigate, are easily handled and can be run at a profit greater than that of steamships. Seven vess 1s of this type are now under contract for construction and when ready for sea they will be the sail, and much larger than the or-Sailing ships have not, nor ar sail, and much larger than the or linary class of freight steamships.

The New York World declares that for sheer 'glory' the war Mr. Cham-beriain and his colleagues are now cerrying on in South Africa sur-passes anything which even Britain hs done in that line heretofore. It passes anything which even Britain has done in that line heretofore. It must make British eitizens peculiarly proud of their country as they see it marching in the foremost files of time, burning homes, robbing noncombatants, 'concentrating' women and children to die of disease and seeking to conquer their unconquerable victims by exposing them to the hideous calamities incident to using against them the 'black beasts' of Zululand and Matabeleland.' That is addressed to the New York gutter vote. The difference between Kitchener's campaign and Sherman's in the United States civil war is that Kitchener burns only the properties of traitors who have violated their onths and sheltered guerillas, while he shelters, protects and feeds the, non-combatants and those who surrender; Sherman's method Kitchener is kindness itself.

Interesting Notes from Lindsay's Pop-ular Summer Resort.

-There being no immediate prospect of a summer hotel being erected, a few of the thinking residents are debating whether it would not be possible to secure funds for a reading room and recreation hall, where citizens could congregate for an hour or so on odd evenings to chat about things in general, and where hops and entertainments could be given when desired. There is too much segregation, and the is too much segregation, and the result is that while the resident population is larger than when the hothat on is larger than when the no-tel was in existence, there is an ut-ter dearth of illuminated enno-parades, raft or shore bonfires, and imprompta musicales which in ye-olden tyme made life here a pleasant order tyme made life here a pleasant dream. The gentlemen of the village council should take the matter in hand. No doubt many of the cottagers would contribute to the cost of the building, which could be

Cricketers on The Grease,

CAMPBELLFORD VS. LINDSAY.

Two Innings Played—Game Ended in a Fixile.

The cricket match played yester-day afternoon on the Central School grounds between Campbellford and Lindsay would have been a first-class exhibition; if it had not been for the very unsatisfactory and unpleasant manner in which it ended. The weather was perfect for good snappy cricket, and the creasa was in splendid condition. The attendance was unusually larget and the game at the beginning was very interesting.

game at the beginning was very interesting.

The Campbellford team came to town determined to win, and with that intention strengthened their team by bringing J. Boddy, of Kentucky, an international cricketer, and Daly, of Napanee, with them. The plucky locals played their regular team, and put up cricket that surprised the spectators.

In the first innings Campbellford made 49 runs, most of the scoring being done by two men—J.B. oddy, 22; and J. Blute, 15;—but in the second unnings the visitors, contraryto their expectations, only made 25 runs. The bowling of Messrs Paton and Cameron, and the sharp fielding of the Lindsay players, was a, little too much for the visitors, and they resorted to "kicking" which is quite unknown in cricket.

resorted to "kieking" which is quite unknown in cricket.

Lindsay made 42 runs in the first, innings, Little, Walters and Stephenson doing most of the scoring, making 12, 13 and 3 runs respectively. The second innings for the locals came to an unpleasant ending—the boys were gaining fast on their only having 4 runs to make to tie the score, and two men to go out, when the visitors raised objections to a decision given by Umpire Passmore, who held that Mr. Allan, the batter, had not been caught out on a fly behind the wiekers. The visitors appealed to their unpire, had tion would satisfy the Campbellford men and after a few hot words the Lindsay boys walked off the field.

It is to be regretted that the Campbellford team were guilty of conducts on unsportsmanike.

Colbourne and Cambridge-sts, Sewer Petition Voided.

The application made by Mr. D. R. Anderson on b.half of Margaret Sourlay, Barbara Gourlay and Cava-Anderson on blani of Margaret Gourlay, Barbara Gourlay and Cavalier A. Hooper, to His Honor Judge Harding, for his consent to withdraw their names from the initiating ptition for the above sewer was successful. His Honor found that those parties signed the petition on account of it being innocently represented to them that it would cost them each some 83 or 84 per year for 20 years, when in reality it was going to cost between 88 and 50 for 29 years, and he thus allowed them to withdraw.

The Town was represented by Mr. G. H. Hopkins, and Mossrs. Magwood and Naylor (who opposed the application) by Mr. Peel.

The Council having let the contract for constructing the said sewer to Mr. Pilkle, may find some difficulty in getting him to release them from their agreement with him.

The Cause of Dyspeptic Pains.

They arise from the formation of gas owing to improper indigestion. A very prompt and efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. It relieves the distention, instantly, and by its stimulating action on the stomach, aids oigs stion. Nr i inscures dyspeptic pains by removing the cause. Nerviline is also highly recommended for cramps, coile, summer complaint and inflammation. Sold in large 25c, bottles everywhere.

Has Prospered Out West.

Old Lindsay and Combray friends have been enjoying the pleasure of a visit from Mr. R. Hall, of Brandon, visit from Mr. R. Hall, of Brandon, Man, who resided here some twenty years ago, being local superintendent of the G.N.W. telegraph lines. Mr. Hall has prospered out West, and is the owner of considerable real estate. At present he is acting as district manager for the Imperial Assurance Co., and has worked up a large business. Mr. Hall is delighted with the progress observable in our town, and thinks we are advancing by leaps and bounds to the status of a city.

A Long Island justice has decided that to send a worthless package by express to a person, requenting the recipient to pay charges, comes under the head of petty larceny, and is punishable as such. In the case the justice decided one man had sent by express a worthless package to another as a joke. The express charge was 35 cts. The man who got the package couldn't see anything funny in the business and complained to the magistrate, who entered a charge of petty larceny and extortion and fined the joker $5 and costs.

An Advertising Pointer.

An Advertising Pointer.
Continuous advertising always has the advantage over spasmodic advertising, because the continuous kind will at some time strike the reader when he is in the humor to listen to the advice given in public print, or it is sure to strike him some time when his mental or physical wants demand just the article advertised. Spasmodic advertising may make a deep impression at the time it is being done, but it may be done at just the time when the reader feels no need of the article advertised; and however deep the impression may have been at that time, it may be entirely forgotten when the time comes to purchase.

this trouble and it is found in the greatest of all known medicines—Dr. Williams' Fink Pills for Pale People.

Among those who have been cured of this distressing malandy by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Alfred Chasbot, a well-known farmer tiving mear St. Jerome, Qre. To a reporter of "L'Avenir du Nord," Mr. Chasbot toil the following story of his illness and subsequent cure: "For three years I was an almost continual sufferer from the tortures of bad digestion. After eating I felt as if some heavy weight was pressing against my chest. I was racked with violent headaches; my temper became irritable; my appetite uncertain; my nerves were a week and I was always troubled with a feeling of weariness. I was able to do very little work, and sometimes none at all. Although I tried many remedies I was unsuccessful in my scarch for a cure until a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Any doubts I may have had as to the merits of these pills were soon dispelled, for I had not been taking them long before I noticed an improvement in my condition. I continued the use of the pills some weeks when I considered myself fully cured. To-day I am as well as I ever was in my life, and would strongly advise all similar sufferers to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cures by going to the root of the disease. They make new, rich, red blood, strengthen the nerves and thus tone up the whole system. Soid by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

I have been inspired with music By the masters in the art; I have listened to the cloquence Of intellect and heart;

But no melody enchants me
With its harmony divine,
Akin to that which follows When a 'lunge gets on my line

There is music in the woodlands,
When the summer lingers there
There are carols in the meadows,
When the skies are bine and fair
But all these charms of nature
I would willingly resign,
To hear the hum of recling
When a lunge gets on my line.

There is nothing nearer heaven, When a fellow's tired quite, Just patiently awaiting For a fish to come and bite, To have your rod bent double By a 'lunge, with mad design, And feel a 'leven pounder Fiercely tugging at your line.

If I should get to heaven,
I presume I'd want to know
What the chances are for fishing—
L'ke the sport I knew below—
For, though 'mid joys supernal,
I would certainly replac
For a day upon the river
And alunge upon my line.

A Trouble that Makes the Life of its Victims almost Unbearable Cauces Headacher, Heart Palpitation Dizziness, a Peeling of Weariness, and a Disa te for Food

From "Carant da N ro", is Jerome, Que,
Sufferers from dyspepsia or baddigostion are numerous in this country. Ahmost daily one hears some one compilating of the tortures caused them by this mailady, and it is no uncommon thing to hear a sufferer say "I wileh I was dead." And no wonder, the suffering caused by anyone who has not suffered from it. The victim is a constant sufferer from headaches, heart burn, heart palpitation, and nausea. He has a bad taste in the mouth, is unable to obtain restful sleep and has always a feeling of weariness and depression. Rate at Which Infants Should Grow
An infant should double its weight in six months, and treble it in a year, provided it is a healthy chud, and its nutrition is in every way satisfactory, says a writer in the Journal of Hygiene. If a chi'd does not increase at the rate of one pound a month during the first year of life, and twelve ounces a month during the second year, its nutrition is not satisfactory. If a child does not grow mearly three-quarters of an inch every month during the first year of life and half an inch a month during the second year of life it is not satisfactory. The latter is, of course, not of the same importance as the former. Clearly, premature children would not be so large, though they should increase at about the same ratio. The Daughter's Point of View.

A great deal has been said, and justly so, in blame of the young girl who will play the piano, paint, read novels or entertain her friends, while her mother makes biscults in the ho kitchen. But it is sometimes true that this state of tilings has been brought about by the mother her self.

The trouble with too many mo thers is, that they seem to think more of the biscuits than of the daughter.

The trouble with too many mothers is, that they seem to think more of the biscuits than of the daughter.

They must always take the rolling-pin themselves at the critical moment, they must finish the work because they can't afford to have it spoiled. Nothing more quickly discourages the young learner. Is it any wonder that next time she is less ready with her offer to nelp? When she does make a failure, never say, you knew all the time she would, and never throw it up to her when next she wants to try it again. A respect for the individual efforts of the daughter, even after the latter arrives at the years of discretion, is a desirable faculty which some mothers never seem to be able to cultivate.

If she finds it more convenient to peel potatoes than to pare them, to iron the sleeve of a shirt before the bosom surely her preferences may be respected, even though the custom of her mother is directly opposite.

True, it is the right of the house-keeper to dictate, even to the smallest details, but courteous consideration is no more wasted on a daughter than in some of the less close relations of life.

Cricket Notes.

—Rankin and Stephenson will both likely play with the town team in their next match. The former has been playing cricket in Smith's Falls and will be in fine form.

—It is likely that a match will be arranged shlortly with Beaverton. The local team with a little practice, and with Paton bowling in his sual fine form, will take a tumble out of some of the clubs that will be a big surprise to them.

—The town team regret very much the ungestlemanly action and language of the Campbellford Cricket Club in their game with the local club last Wednesday. The persistent kicking of the outsiders certainly lost the game for Lindsay, as the game was all but won when the match stopped. It is the first and the last time that anything like that will occur in Lindsay, as the other teams who come to Lundsay are composed of what may be termed true cricket sports and gentlemen.

Many old friends of the family will learn with deep regret of the death, at an early hour last Monday, of Miss Barbara Gourlay, eldest of the three sisters of that name who have been esteemed residents of Lindsay for many years. Deceased had been ill only a week. The cause of death was apoplexy, and her friends believe the attack was induced by worry and excitement in connection with the Colbourne-st sewer petition. She was stricken while dressing to make a call on her lawyer. The funeral took place last Wednesday to Riverside Cemetery.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—The first census foilletin issued yesterday gives the population of Canada as 5,338,838.

These figures are not, however, exact. The returns for the extreme morthern portion of Quebec and Ontario, and for the unorganized territories of Athabasca. Franklin, Keewatin, Mackenzie, Ungava and the Yukon have not been received, and their absence is temporarily met by what is believed to be a close estimate. It is not thought that the final returns will make a very appreciable difference in the figures as they now stand. The population shows an increase of 505,614 compared with 1891, when there were 4,833,239 persons returned by the enumerators. This is equivalent to a gain of about 104 per cent. The population returned at the last census exceeded that of the previous decade by 508,429, being a gain of 12 per cent. Of this seven Provinces Quebec exhibits the largest gain in population, having 132,439 more than in 1891. Manitoba comes next, with 93,958, while British Columbia is third, with 91,827. Ontario is fourth on tha list, with 53,657 to her credit. New Brunswick is considerably behind Ontario, with a gain of 9,830, while Nova Scotia closely approaches the former with 8,720. Prince Edward Island laments a loss of population in which unenviable position she stands alone, announting to 5,820. The Territories are able to boast of a gain of 78,201.

The Gain in the West

a gain of 78,201.

The Gain in the West.

It will be observed that while the growth of population in the eastern. Provinces is by no means large, the west has made tremendous gains. The figures contained in the bulletin give. a gain for the three western Provinces amounting in the aggregate to 263,986, whereas the total gain of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick amounts only to 204,646, or about 60,000 to the good in favor of the west. Nothing could afford a more convincing proof of how rapidly the settlement of the west is going on. It would be idle to deny that the returns for the eastern Provinces, and especially those for Ontario, are disappointing. So far as the chief Province of the Dominion is concerned, there are certain reasons which obviously necount for the apparently poor showing. Ontario was nor years the chief battle ground of the National Policy, and the supporters of that policy refield upon the ast census to support their concention that projection had proget to such the proper test on the brought prospective or the test of the proper their concention that projection had proget to the feet of the proper to the detection had brought prospective or the policy relied upon the sast ceasus to support their concentrous that projection had brought property to the papers of their concentrous that projective their concentrous that their concentrous their concentration of the property to the papers are their could be got was counced in to swell this returns, and these is greate easily and their things and their concentration of the country were for or the subject of the visit that, and there to the returns to the sast of the country were for or their country and their concentration of the country were for other provinces for Ontario, and for other Provinces, too, discloses in the case of many districts that, while the dwellings and families have substantially in greated, the population has apparatelly fallen off. Obviously their cannot have been more dwellings and more families without addrous, and their case of the substantially in the feature of the population with the lists of 1891, or, to be more specific, the lists were studied and the Territo plans of Manitoba and the Territo plans of Manitoba tion of the apparently small growth of population in Ontario.

The Gain in Quebec.

As to Quebec, one has not far to seek for its larger gain in population. Two reasons are primarily responsible. At Montreal, at Quebec, along the St. Maurice River, and at other points there has been industrial development on a large scale, while the repatriation of thousands of Quebec's sons, who formerly found employment in the eastern ization to the unoccupied lands of states has turned the tide of colontine Province. Montreal and its suburbs alone account for 80,050 of the increase in the Province of Quebec, and in that city, as is well known, manufacturing has been going ahead at a most satisfactory rate. Manufacturing enterprises have also largely augmented the population in Beauharnois, which contains Valleyfield and its cotton mills; in Champlain, on account of the electrical works and pulp mills at Grandmero and Shavingan Falls, in Quebec Centre and Quebec East, Sherbrooke and St. Maurice Many of the electrical works and pulp mills at Grandmero and Shavingan Falls, in Quebec Centre and Quebec East, Sherbrooke and St. Maurice Many of the olectoral districts on the border have gained in population through colonization or lumbering, and elsewhere new settlements have been opened up. Among those wno have reaped advantage from this cause are Beauce, Berthier, Donwenture, Compton, Dorchester, Pontiac, Portneuf, Richmond and Wolfe, Temiscounta and Terrebonne. But it has not been all gains in Quebec. Many districts new experienced losses. For example, there is Bagot, 3,309; Brome, 1,312; Two Mountains, 1,031; Huntington, 1,233; Laprairie, 838, Maskinonge, 2,-036; Ectbiniere, 649; Montmagny, 829; Rouville, 3,364; Richelleu, 1,-907; St. John and Iberville 4,454, and Vaudrevil, 346. The aggregate losses of these few districts selected at random and control the representation of Quebec in the House of at random amounts to no less than 22,467.

Under the constitution the representation of Quebee in the House of Commons is fixed permanently at 65 members. The other Provinces are to have the same number of representatives to their population as the number 65 bears to the population of Quebee ascertained by the census. Dividing the 65 members allowed to Quebec into the population, as shown by the returns, it gives 24,988 as the unit of representation. On this basis the representation in the House of Commons would be as follows, compared with the representation under the old:

Dusiness.

The report of the Committee on Election returns was presented by A. E. Harley of Brantford. C. C. Lyman of Brockville was elected Grand Master by acclamation. R. K. Cowan, K. C., of London, was elected Deputy Grand Master, also by acclamation. J. B. King of Toronto was reelected Grand Scoretary. W. J. McCormack, Toronto, was reelected Grand Treasurer. Dr. James McLurg, P.G.M., of Sault Ste. Marie, was by acclamation elected Grand Representative to Sovereign Grand Lodge, which meets this year in Indianapolis, Ind., on September 12.

The election of a Grand Warder was a close contest. Ten candidates were in the field for the position, which leads in regular succession to the Grand Mastership. At the end of the fourth ballot J. B. Turner of Hamilton was elected by a substantial majority.

MR. DRYDEN'S REPLY.

Discusses His Investment in Ranching Property-It Will Not in Any Way Interfere With His Duties Here.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, arrived back at his office yesterday morning from his vacation, the most of which was spent in New Ontario, including a visit to the plonder farm at Dryden Station. Mr. Dryden expressed surprise at the comment which he was informed hid been made by Ontario newspapers in connection with his ranch in Dakota. In reply to questions Mr. Dryden said the ranch was in the hands of a joint stock company of Canadians and American. A promoted originally by Mr. J. F. McLaughlin of Toronto, and aumbered several Canadians in its directorate besides Mr. McLaughlin and Jir. Dryden, including Mr. Thomas Crawford, M. P. P., and Mr. W. E. Wellington of Toronto. "The reason Mr. McLaughlin desired our services," Mr. Dryden remarked, "was because our knowledge of live stock matters and our advice was therefore more valuable than that of some who have had no experience.

of live stock matters and our advice was therefore more valuable than that of some who have had no experience.

"I have not been able to see anything in it," Mr. Dryden continued, "or in any connection with it, derogatory in the slightest extent to the agriculture of this Province. I have always been loyal to the Province of Ontario and especially to agriculture in the Province, and have done what I could to advance its interests, and if I thought an injury would come by a course of this kind I would at once withdraw, but no possible injury can ever come. The ranch is only a pasture field, and not a farm, and to compare the agriculture of Dakota ranching with the agriculture of Ontario is ridiculous in the extreme.

"If I had foreseen in the beginning that some narrow-minded individuals might object to my course in this respect I probably would have refused to have any connection with it, as I do not wish to stir up the opposition of even the weakest in our party. But, having done so, with my eyes open, I do not intend to drop out at the suggestion of a man like Mr. Pettypiece and the Tory followers. I do this more especially because the conduct of this ranch, so far as I am concerned, requires practically no time; it will not interfere in the slightest degree with my duties here.

"I intend to hold to my privileges as a free-born British subject and make where I deem it to be most to my advantage, without injuring my usefulness in any degree in this country, and I believe the good sense of the people of the country will stand by me in so doing."

BOTHA AND 4.000 BUERS.

Concentrated on the Borker of Zululand

Durban, Aug. 16.—Lord Kitchener, with a strong force, is moving on Hondweni, on the border of Zululand, where Gen. Botha is reported to have concentrated 4,000 Boers. An important engagement is expected to ensue.

London, Aug. 17.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pre-from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Aug. 16:

"While a party of 50 of French's Scouts were proceeding to join a column near Bethseada, they were surrounded in the hills by a superior force under Theron and surrendered. One was killed and three wounded, Capt. Bethelheim dangerously."

Lord Kitchener does not give the date, but the casualty list indicates Aug. 8.

Struck By a Train.

Chatham, Aug. 16.—John Graham was struck by a C. P. R. express four and a half miles west of here and now des in a precarious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital. The injured man is section foreman at Ringold a station on the C. P. R. seven and a half miles west of here. His wife had come into town in the morning to be with her sister, who entered St. Joseph's suffering with typhoid fever Mr. Graham had remained in town until after 2 o'clock. He had almost reached the diamond where the G. T. R. and C. P. R. cross, when he was run into by the east-bound express, due here at 2.36 a. m. Both arms were badly crushed near the elbows, and his left leg '5 also broken. There are also internal injuries.

Lords Command Step.

London, Aug. 15.—The House of Lords took an unusual step yesterday morning in suspending the sessional order, with the object of passing on its second reading the bill granting special powers to build a pier and other works at Berchaven, in Bantry Pay, Ireland, in connection with the proposed fast steamship line from Berchaven to the United States, by which it is hoped the voyage will be accomplished in four and one-half days. The bill had already passed the House of Commons.

Lord James of Hereford remarked that such great public interests were concerned that the Government desired to pass the bill at the present session.

London, Aug. 17.—S. G. Fraser, the Dublin engineer, who has prepared the plans for the new harbor at Berehaven, Bantry Bay, Ireland, in connection with the proposed steamship line, which is to have steamers capable of crossing the Atlantic in four and a half days, informed a reporter of the Associated Press yesterday that the line will consist initially of six large steamers, four for the New York and two for the Canadian trade.

tially of six large steamers, four for the New York and two for the Canadian rade.

It is the intention to burn Texas oil. The Canadian port will be Sydney or Hallfax. By building 65 miles of railroad and connecting Berehaven with all the Welsh lines, the new company will be able to take passengers and mails from Berehaven to London in 12 hours, thus landing passengers in New York and London in five days. The English port will be London or Southampton until the new works at Dover are completed.

Austin Chamberlain, Gerald Balfour and George Wyndham, respectively, the Financial Secretary to the Treasury, the President of the Board of Trade, and Chief Secretary for Ireland, besides Lord James of Hereford (Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster), actively supported the bill and advised silence on this side of the Atlantic until the bill was passed. Mr. Fraser says much American capital is interested in the scheme.

Nova Scotia's Premier Makes an Important Announcement.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 17.—The folicy of the government of Nova. Scotia, with reference to the promotion of the steel shipbuilding industry in this province, was announced yesterday by Premier Murray. He says: "I am prepared to state on behalf of the government that we will be willing to make an appropriation of $100,000, payable to the first company establishing a shipyard in the province, equipped with the most approved mechanical appliances, upon specifications to be approved by the Governor-in-Council, capable of building at least five steamers a year, of the capacity of 5,000 tons each; and, in addition to such an equipped shipyard, having sufficient working capital for efficiently carrying on the business. The terms upon which the government bonus shall become payable to be settled by an agreement, with any company, furnishing evidence of its bona fide and financial ability to successfully carry out what is contem-

Redmond Says Irish Representatives Will Not Be Reduced.

Not Be Reduced.

London, Aug. 16.—In an interview yesterday, William Redmond, Irish-Nationalist, said he was not disturbed at the threat of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain to have the Irish representation in the House of Commons cut down, as the Act of Union guarantees that Ireland shall have 160 members. Redmond said further that it would be unjust to consider the population of Ireland as a basis for representation, because, on this basis, once within the past century, Ireland ought to have had 200 members. Redmond declared that any attempt to reduce the Irish representation would be resisted to the utmost.

Guif of Mexico Ports Inundated and Great Loss of Life Feared.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 16.—The tropical storm which has been raging along the Guif Coast for two days has last night completely isolated the city of Mobile, Ala., from the outside world. It is known that considerable damage has been done along the water front in Mobile, but whether there has been loss of life or not is mere conjecture. Nothing has been heard from the country south of Mobile up to the time the last wire to Mobile failed.

At half-past four yesterday afternoon the Western Union office at Mobile was abandoned, the water being three feet deep in the operating room. Two hours later the operator made his way into the room in a boat and managed to send a message saying the wind was blowing fifty miles an hour and the business district was deserted. The water at 3 p. m. was reported as high as in the great flood of 1893. It is feared the loss of life has been great.

England and America-Mr. Cham-Montreal, Aug. 19 .- At a meeting and Defends the Banishing of the Burghers. London, Aug. 16.—The waning session of the House of Commons was enlivened yesterday by a vigorous tilt between Sir William Vernon Harcourt (Liberal) and Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Sceretary, over Lord Kitchener's proclamation. Sir William characterized it as a "mischievous document, the inspiration of neither Lord Kitchener nor Lord Milner, but of the ministry of Natal."

He declared the government, in Montreal. Aug. 19.—At a meeting of the C.P.R. trackmen's committee, held here yesterday, one of the members, George McTaggart of Werner City, B. C., was expelled. It was alleged that McTaggart received and considered a proposition to make a settlement with the C.P.R. Company for part of the men upon his division, without consulting the other members.

The committee issued a statement last night, declaring that they would call the strike of, on condition that all the men who were not convicted of crime during the strike should be reinstated in their previous positions without prejudice; that an agreement should be signed by the proper officials of the C.P.R., specifying the conditions of employment, and that a reasonable and uniform increase in wages should be granted.

The committee also offers to have all the questions in dispute submitted to impartial arbitration, and expresses entire confidence in President Wilson.

of neither Lord Kitchener nor Lord Milner, but of the ministry of Natal."

He declared the government, in arming the natives, was reverting to a practice which had left the darkest stain on the history of the war between England and America. The new policy of the government promised to be neither creditable nor effective, and was in contravention of all the fundamental principles of the St. Petersburg convention.

The country would welcome an ante-adjournment statement on the status of the war, on which they were still spending £5,000,000 a month and the status of the war, on which they were still spending £5,000,000 a month although it was declared ended at the close of the last session.

Mr. Chamberlain said the war status was clearly indicated by Lord Kitchener's weekly reports. He himself had gone out of the prophesying business, but he assured the speaker that the government's attitude was the only method of ending the war.

The Colonial Secretary declared that the use of native troops was no new policy. It had been pursued without adverse criticism. The Indian troops in China had been co-operating with the troops of five of the highest civilized powers.

Regarding the banishment of burghers, Mr. Chamberlain said Great Britain had "a perfect right to enact what laws she chose for the government of a country acquired by conquest. The Boers must be taught that they can no longer carry on guerrilla warfare at no personal risk, while Great Britain fed their women and children."

He compared the condition in Sotth Africa and the Philippines, finitely and about 1,400 men will be thrown out of work.

Strike-Breakers at Monessen.

Pittsburg, Aug. 19.—A party of strike-breakers brought up from the South by special train were safely delivered in the steel mill in Monessen early yesterday morning, and the United States Steel Corporation expects to add that plant to the number running partly or in full with non-union men within the next 24 hours. The Carnegie properties also resumed last night without a break in the forces operating them, and that fact, joined with a promise of an early start at Monessen, leads the steel officials here to take a very hopeful view of the situation. The strikers claim that men enough to start the Monessen mills cannot be obtained, and that they have not yet shown their hand at Duquesne and the other Carnegie plants, but promise that later developments will indicate their strength to better advantage.

The strain of the strike is telling on the physical strength of President Shaffer. He was ill yesterday, and kept to his bed most of the time. He declined to see any of the many callers who sought him and his wife, who met them in his stead, explained that he was worn out and sick and must have rest in order to carry on and children."
He compared the condition in South Africa and the Philippines, and said the policy of America was declared by Gen. MacArthur's production, and would certainly be the policy of Great Britain if the campaign degenerates into a war of banditti.

Regarding the devastation policy,
Mr. Chamberlain said it was nothing his action on the ground of humanity.

callers who sought him and his wife, who met them in his stead, explained that he was worn out and sick and must have rest in order to carry on his work.

There was talk last night of the possibility of an extension of the strike to other trades. The structural iron workers and bricklayers are becoming directly interested through the question of handling material made by the United States Steel Corporation. The strike leaders say they have the absolute promise of support from these two trades and that they will refuse to handle non-union made material.

Yesterday afternoon a party of non-unionists precipitated a riot at Wellsville. They left their lodgings and started for a restaurant, where supper had been engaged for them, and were immediately pursued by a party of strikers and chased back into the house, which was surrounded by a mob that hooted and jeered at them. Forty tin workers are on their way from Lisbon to assist the coal strikers in preventing the non-union men from going to work this morning. Sheriff Nragan and a deputy arrived from Lisbon to assist the local police in maintaining order throughout the neat.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Chief Census Commissioner Blue was last night asked whether the population as given out by the Census Bureau would result in any reduction in the Parliamentary representation of Ontario. Mr. Blue replied: "Something depends on the correct interpretation of sub-section 4 of section 51 of the British North America Act, which says that a number of members for a Province shall not be reduced unless the proportion which the number of the population of the Province bears to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding re-adjustment of the number of members for the Province is ascertained at the then last preceding re-adjustment of the number of members for the Province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one-twentieth part or upwards. Perhaps the meaning of this language will be more clearly understood by quoting number 21 of the resolutions of the Parliament of Canada, which formed the basis of the Act of Confederation, and which reads: "No reduction shall be made in the number of members returned by any section unless its population shall have decreased relatively to the population will not materially change the proportion of the population of the whole union to the extent of 5 per centum." Assuming that the final figures of population will not materially change the proportion of the population of Ontario to that of the whole country was as 1,000 to 2,296, while by the preportion of reduction is as 1,000 to 2,458. Paris, Aug. 19.—Experts say the French wheat crop this year will not exceed 304,000,000 bushels. E. M. Green, secretary of the Parislan-American Chamber of Commerce, declared some time ago that France would be compelled to import 60,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. The latest information about the crops would indicate that 40,000,000 bushels will have to be added to this estimate.

Mr. Mulock in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—The New York Central train arriving here yesterday morning brought with it Hon. William Mulock, Mrs. Mulock and Mr. Cawthra Mulock, Mrs. Mulock and Mr. Cawthra Mulock, who returned from their trip to Australia, where the Postmaster-General was the Canadian representative at the inaugural ceremonies in connection with the Australian federation. They were greeted at Union Station by a large party of friends.

The rumor's regarding Hon. Mr. Mulock's health gave rise to the belief that an invalid would step from the train, but those who were awaiting the arrival of the party had a most agreeable surprise in finding the Canadian representative to Australia in splendid physical condition, Hon. Mr. Mulock's only disability being a lame arm that has not yet recovered from an attack of rheumatism which he contracted in the damp fogs of the Atlantic in March last. This trifling ailment caused Mr. Mulock to carry his arm in a sling, and he was forced to greet his frieads with his lett hand, but it is expected that he will leave this trouble behind him at his country place near Newmarket, where he will spend a few days with his lett hand, but it is expected that he will leave this trouble behind him at his country place near Newmarket, where he will spend a few days with his family. After a short rest there Mr. Mulock will go to Ottawa to take up the work of his department.

During his brief stay in the city the Postmaster-General found time to give a hurried interview to the press. An official paper just issues, and that there were 118,497 persons in the refugee camps in South Africa on July 31.

the Postmaster-General found time to give a hurried interview to the press.

Hon. Mr. Mulock, among other things, was asked regarding the position of Canadian trade in Australia, and he said that everywhere throughout the Commonwealth he found a feeling of great kindliness towards Canada and the Canadian people, and he thought that there was no reason that a great commerce should not be developed between the two countries. "The Australians are strong Imperialists," said Mr. Mulock; "they are intensely loyal and most anxious to be in close touch with the rest of the Empire, both in sentiment and in trade. I met everywhere throughout Australia representatives of Canadian manufacturers and business houses, and they all expressed their grateful appreciation of their treatment by the Australians." The chief difficulty in the way of extending trade between the two countries appears to be the lack of regular transportation from the Canadian ports. At present there is but one line of steamers, namely, that between Vancouver and Sydney, N. S. W. Its sailings are not sufficiently numerous, and the route is greatly handicapped for eastern Canadian shippers, because of the long land haul through the Dominion, and also because of its terminus being in Sydney, on the east coast of Australia, freight charges have to be added for the haul between that port and Freemantle, a distance of about 2,500 miles.

"It will, I think, be necessary for Canada, if, her trade is to accourte a

CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

...A GOOD RESULT...

Policy No. 762 on the life of Mr. G, A. Sargison, of Victoria, B. C., has lately become a claim through the death of the assured. Particulars of the case are as follows:

Date of issue, March, 1851; age at issue, 24; yearly premium, $21,90; number of premiums paid, 50; total payments of premiums, $1,095.

Sum Assured Profits Added 1,095
Total Assurance 2,295

It will be seen that by a coincidence the profits added are exactly the same in amount as the total of premiums paid. The risk on Mr. Sargison's life was carried for fifty years, and at the end of that time every cent he had paid in premiums, together with the sum of $1 200, was handed his heirs.

An open air magic lantern exhibition deed it is a marvel that so few were injured, and none were killed. An open are magic lantern exhibition was being given, and the sidewalk in the neighborhood of the post office and the Po kland was crowded. Mr. Thos Tate's horse, without any vehicle, was standing in front of Mr. Robinson's store, lied to a ring in a plank of the sidewalk. The ring was not intended for nitching purpose, being used for lifting the plank, which was a loose one over the entrance to the ceilar. Three young ladies came gaily along, laughing and having fun, and passing close to the norse he threw up his head and jumped back. This lifted the plank and tripped the three girls, and changed their laughter to screams. Mr. Tate ran out and caught the horse by the head, and Mr. Win Mitchell, fearing the terrible results should the animal go nacing through the crowd, stepped out and took the bridle. At that moment the horse reared and threw Mr. Mitchell and others. In the metee Mr. Mitchell was struck with the horse's foot and the cavik of the side across the road, and getting on to the sidewalk worked his way with the plank to his head until he reached Mr. Broad's doorway. —It is asserted in railway circles that five of the largest railroad systems have resumed the payment of commissions on the sale of tickets by others than their own agents. Three of these lines, it is claimed, are in trunk line territory, and two are western roads. A sixth line is strongly suspected.

—The railway returns of the United Kingdom for 1900 show that during the year the number of passengers carried, exclusive of season-ticket holders, was 1,142,276,688, an increase of about thirty-five and a half millions over 1839. The amount of goods conveyed shows an increase of over thirteen and a half million ton.

Forty thousand men could find standing room on practically any one of the nine decks of the new White Star line Celtic, which arrived at New York the other day on its one of the nine decks of the new White Star line Celtic, which arrived at New York the other day on its initial voyage from Queenstown, Thousands of persons regarded the mammoth vessel with curlosity as it steamed up the bay, while scores of small craft greeted it with shriin salutes as it went slowly by. It was not until the new liner was alongside the pler, however, that the enormous size was fully realized. There the 468 feet length over all of this Germanic of the same line was dwarfed by the 700 feet of its big associate. The highest of the Celtic's decks towered above the top of the pier shed, and from it the roofs of many adjacent building could be seen. One of the chief lentur's of the new liner is its great stribility in the roughest seas, which, of coarse, is very grateful to the 2,859 passengers for which the ship has accemmodations. Twelve thousand tone of freight can be carried by the luge vessel, to operate which a crew of no less than 335 mon is required. Unlike the Deutschland, of the Hamburg-American line, the Celtic was not built for speed. Enormous freight and passenger capacity was the desileratum for which her 20,800 gross tons make ample provis. Mr. Asquith denied that there was any question of international law involved in Lord Kitchener's proclamation. "The people of those territories are both de jure and de facto the King's subjects, and the proclamation is a warning on the lines of the option given to the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine at the end of the Franco-German war." Mr. Ballour, replying, declared that not a horse or a man would be withdrawn from South Africa unless the military situation justified it, but that the Government had every reason to hope, on the reassembling of Parllament next year, they would find warlike operations in South Africa practically over. What proved to be a very successful, as well as an enjoyable affair, took place her on Taursday night, the occasion being an "at home" given by the football team to their members and friends in the school-hous". A numb r from Ennismore and Downsyville were present and all enjoyed themselves to the fall est extent. Dancing was Indulged in until twelve o'clock, when a halt was male for r freshments served by the boys after which dancing was resumed for a couple of hours. Then everyone went home well satisfied with their night's pleasure, and hoping te hear from the football team soon again.

On Tuesday afternoon our progressive farmer, Mr. William Herlihey, had his barn raised. His many frients and neighbors turned out well, and under the careful management of Mr. Gray everything passed off fine. Supper was served by the young ladies, and was last, but by no means least of the afternoon's work.

Our correspondent last week seemed rather folly, but I wonder if he ever climbed down a fire escape?

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS

The wear and tear of holiday time is fast reducing your boy's suit to tatters. That's to be expected -a healthy Canadian boy with stacks of vim is bound to be hard on bread and butter and clothes, and things. Don't wait till you hear the school bell ring before you make up your mind that your boy must have a new suit. We have made provision for the needs of the 600 or 700 school boys of Lindsay, and can show you a grand range in stout, wear-resisting cloths of fine appearance, made and trimmed in the best style of the tailor's art.

If we told you the price at which we are selling some of these suits you would be incredulous. The fact is that at the recent sale of the stock of John Calder & Co., Hamilton, we picked up some hundreds of Boys' Suits at almost our own price. Other buyers seemed to be stocked up-no one wanted clothing for little men-and our offer of about one-half the regular value was the only bid and was accepted

If you want a, suit for the boy, remember that although the range is immense, there is an advantage in making an early choice. Come in any time during the week and make a leisurely inspection of the goods.

A regular meeting of Ops Council was held on Monday, Aug. 26th; all was held of Monday, Ang. 20th; all the members being present. A num-ber of communications and bills were read and considered.

Dangerous Railway Crossing.

Mr. Chris. Chittick called the attention of Council to a railway crossing near Mr. Parkin's mill, which is exceedingly dangerous, owwhich is exceedingly dangerous, ow-ing to its being much lower than the wagon road. The traffic over this crossing is very great in win-ter to end from the river, and the danger is then increased by the ac-cumulation of snow in the depres-sion. There were some narrow escapes there last winter and he thought the Council should see that the railway company improve the the railway company improve the

The Clerk was instructed to notify the company and request that the necessary improvements be made. Mr. John C. Naylor asked that the road ditch at his place, lot 19, con. 2, be cleaned out to give him an outlet to drain No. 1.

The Council instructed Commissioner Hickson to view the place and clear the way if beneficial to the road. Messrs. William Grace and

The Reeve explained that they might proceed under the Ditches and Water Courses Act if the scheme would not cost over a thousand dollars; otherwise they would have to resort to the Municipal Drainage Act, and that in any case the engineer, if called, would carry the water to a sufficient outlet. Mr. Wilson then asked that the $15 voted last year for a drain near his land be expended there this season. The Council compiled with his request.

Mr. D. Fitzpatrick addressed the Council saying that owing to a defect in the tiled part of drain No. 1 crossing a part of his land, his crops had been seriously damaged by backwater; he had endeavors! to open a passage with only partial success. He claimed at least $20 compensation for his loss. Counciller Hickson said his domand was very reasonable, that he was a heavy taxpayer to the drain and should be allowed fair compensation. The Reeve said others along the way were affected by lodged water too, and while he was not opposed to justice being done Mr. Fitzpatrick, he suggested that it be left to the engineer to decide when the drain is being completed. Mr. Fitzpatrick assented and then withdrew.

Mr. D. Cayley complained of lodged water on first concession line, lot 17, and said the only available outlet was eastward across his land about 75 rods. He was willing to pay a share of the cost of putting in a six-inch tile drain. The Reeve said the Council could not legally make since expenditure unless the road required it; if Mr. Cayley desired the work done he could call on the engineer, then the township and lands affected would have to pay their share of the cost.

The Clerk was on motion instructed to notify the township engineer that drain No. 1 was ready for completion and that the Council wanted it finished as soon as possiole. Provincial County Roads Appropriation, the county of the Warden Graham, Councillors Bryans and Robertson and Mr. Meneilie County Clerk, addressed the Council during the afternoon session. The Warden said he had been deputed by the County Council to call on the several township councils of the county when in session in order to place before them the nanner in which they might avail themselves of a just share of the militon dollars which the legislature had appropriated for the improvement of the County Council, no of his own particular division, and did not want to force his own views on any of the basis of distribution adopted the County of Victoria would be entitled to $25,500, which would be intreased to three times that sum by the County issuing debentures for twee that sum at $3-2 per cent. for 30 years. This would give a total sum of $76,500 for county roads, and an animal county levy of $3,588 would liquidate the debentures, principal and inteset, in 30 years. By that time it was to be hoped that our roads would be much better while the increased taxes during that term would be scarcely perceptible. Mr. McNeillie confirmed the Warden's statement, which was very intresting throughout. Messrs. Fryans and Robertson said they had come as representatives of their respective divisions and they were of the opinion that Ops would derive more benefit from the scheme if adopted than any other township in the County. Warden Graham then said it was the intention of the County Council to hold a special meeting in the near future, to which all the township councils would be invited, that they might assist the County Council by their advice and thus formulate a plan of action acceptable to all.

CUT LOOSE FROM THE UNION.

American Tia Plate Company So Decides —Men Indifferent to Threat.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—Practically the only significant event in the strike yesterday was the positive stand taken by the American Tin Plate Company in reference to its course in the future. An official statement from this company yesterday denies that there are any negotiations on foot looking to a settlement of the strike, and authorizes the statement that mills put into operation during the strike will be continued non-union, and all mengoing to work now will be retained in their positions. They say thay are determined to cut loose from union labor entirely. The association officials treat the threat with indifference, their only reply being that the company cannot carry out its plan because nearly all the skilled tin workers of the country are members of the association and the plants cannot be run without them. The corporation, however, has started several of their plants in a way, and claim to have all the men necessary within reach to operate them in full as soon as the machinery is in proper shape.

The developments of the day would appear to evidence slow but sure gains by the corporation.

Pittsburg, Aug. 28.—President Shaffer has invited approval of the Executive Committee of the peace plan agreed upon last Saturday by representatives of the Nation Civic Federation and the Amalgamated Association headquarters office. The plan proposes that the New York offer of July 27, made by Messrs. Schwab and Morgan be accepted that a provisional scale be arranged for McCutcheon, Lindsay and Clark mills, leaving recognition of the union open, and that the steel corporation formally declares its attitude toward organized labor.

Sustained Injuries Wednesday which Led to his Death a Few Hours Later,
Dr. W. L. Herriman received the starting news on Wednesday that his wife's brother, Mr. Asa Choate, of Belmont Farm, near Port Hope, had lost his life as the result of a deplorable accident. While driving into town his horse became unmanageable and backed over a bridge. Mr. Choate was unable to leap from the vehicle in time and went down. Sad to relate, the horse fell on him and crushed him so severely that he succumbed to his injuries a few hours later. Decased was one of the best known men in the district, and was very highly esteemed. He was the father of Mrs. F. W. Wilson, of the Port Hope Guide. Lindsay friends will sympathize with Mrs. Herriman and Mrs. Wilson in their bereavement.

President Johnston Ellis, Secre-tary-Treasurer Keith, and the other officers and directors of the Lindsay Central Exhibition are busy, yet happy men these days, because the prospects for a successful fair were prospects for a successful fair were never brighter. The successes scorred in the past have encouraged tagofficers to increase the premiums offered to exhibitors of live stock, and as a result this year's prize-list deals with a sum little short of $5,000. Three substantial cash premiums are offered for all classes of stock, and it is confidently expected that the entries in this department of the fair will show a very ment of the fair will show a very ment of the fair will show a very substantial increase. When the officers and directors met some time ago to discuss the question of attractions it was decided that a special effort should be made to secure some of the best talent available, it being felt that an increased attendance would repay the outlay. President Ellis was deputed to visit Toronto with that end in view, and the result will be a program of a most interesting nature, the following talent having been secured:

Lady Bietso, lady cornetist.
Areno, marvellous contorionist.
Harry Rich, comedian.

The speeding in the ring for the liberal purses offered will be more exciting than usual, as a number of new horses will compete.

The nineteenth annual Central Fair may be looked forward to with eager expectancy, as it is going to be a record-smasher.

Cricket Notes.

-We have just read a letter to one of our cricketers from one of our subscribers, who having noticed the unfinished result of the Lindsay-Campbellford cricket contest in The Post writes as follows: "I will bet ten dollars that I can name the man on the Campbellford team who was responsible for the kicking. The man is good natured, but can't control nimself and the Lindsay men did the proper thing when they walked off the field." This letter is worth reading as the writer is andoubtedly on the right track. It contains more than we have given in this paragraph.

CHAPTER VII.

I saw some tye bread, cold ment and a pitcher of water on the table, and I made a sandwich and washed it down with a few swallows of the cool liquid. I had a fever, and the water chilled it. There was a lump on the back of my head as large as an egg. With what water remained I dampened my hand-kerchief and wound it around the in-water remained I dampened my hand-kerchlef and wound it around the Injury. Then I made a systematic search through my clothes. Not a single article of my belongings was missing. I was rather sorry, for it lent a deeper significance to my incarceration. After this I proceeded to take an inventory of my surroundings. Below and beyond the little window I saw a wide expanse of beautiful gardens, fine oaks and firs, velvet lawns and white pebled roads. Marble fountains made them merry in the roseate bue of early morning. A gardener was busy among some hedges, but beyond the sound of my voice. I was a prisoner in no common jail, then, but in the garret of a private residence. Having satisfied myself that there was no possible escape, I returned to my pallet and lay down. Why I was here a prisoner I knew not. I thought over all I had written the past twelvemonth, but nothing recurred to me which would make me liable to arrest. But, then, I had not been arrested. I had been kidnaped, nothing less. Nothing had been asked of me. I had made no statement. It had been all too sudden. Presently I heard footsteps in the corridors, and the door opened. It was mine enemy. He locked the door and thrust the key into his pocket. One of his eyes was decidedly mouse colored. The knuckles of my hand were yet sore. I smiled. He saw the smile, his jaws bardening and his eyes threatening. "I am sorry," I said. "I should have

"There are only two men whose questions I answer," he said.

"And who might they be?"

"My commander and the king. I will answer one question—the reason you are here. You are a menace to the tranquillity of the state."

"Be gentle," I advised, "or when we meet again I shall feel it my duty to dull the luster of your other eye."

"Bah!" he ejaculated. "We are indebted to the French for the word 'canalile,' which applies to all Americans and Englishmen."
"Now," said I, elimbing off the pallet, "I shall certainly do it."

"Do you persist in affirming that your name is Winthrop?"

"These gardens are very fine. I could see them better," said I, "if the window was larger."

"Perhaps," he cried impatiently, "you do not know where she is?"

"She?" I looked him over carefully. There was a perfectly sane light in his eyes. "Am I crazy, or is it you? She? I know nothing about any she!"

"Do you dare deny that you know of the whereabouts of her serene highness the Princess Hildegarde and that you did not come here with the purpose to aid her to escape the will of his majesty? And do you mean—oh, here, read this!" flinging me a cablegram.

The veil of mystery fell away from my eyes. I had been mistaken for Hillars. Truly, things were growing interesting. I bent and picked up the cablegram and read;

The name signed was that of a well known millitary attache at the embassy in London. I tossed back the cablegram.

"Well?" triumphantly.

"No, it is not well. It is all very bad, and particularly for you."

But whether you are the man I want or not you will have to remain till this afternoon, when the count will put in ap-pearance. I dare say it is possible that I have made a mistake. But I could not do otherwise in face of my instructions."

"The princess seems to me more trouble than she is worth."

"It is possible that you have never seen her highness?" he said, hinting a smile. "She is worth all the trouble in the world."

"The interest, then, you take in her discovery is not all due to that imposed upon you by Count von Walden?" I could not resist this thrust.

"Suppose we talk of something that does not concern her. All this is a blunder for which you are partly to blame. I have a bad lump on my head, and you have a black eye; but, as you slid what you believed to be your duty and as I did what every man does when self preservation becomes his first thought, let us ery quits. Come, what do you say to a game of cards? Let us play ecarte, or I will teach you the noble game of poker. To tell you the truth, I am becoming dreadfully bored."

the truth, I am becoming dreadfully bored."

"Believe me, I bear you no ill will," he said, "and I am inclined to your side of the story. Whoever you are, you have the bearing of a gentleman, and now that we have come to an understanding I shall treat you as such. I have a pack of cards down stairs. I'll go and get them. This is not my house or I should have placed you in better quarters. I shall leave the door unlocked," a question in his eyes.

"Rest assured that I shall return to the city as I came—in a carriage—and, to be honest, I am anxious to see the Count vor. Walden, who poses as the princess' watchdog."

And when he came back and found me still sitting on the pallet his face cleared. We played for small sums, and the morning passed away rather pleasantly than otherwise. The young officer explained to me that he held an important position at court and that he was entitled to prefix baron to his name.

"The king is getting out of all pa-

"When he knows how distasteful this marriage is to her, why does he not let the matter go?"

this marriage is to her, why does not let the matter go?"

"It is too late now. Royalty, having given its word, never retracts it. Events which the king wills must come to pass or he loses a part of his royal dignity. And then a king cannot very well be subservient to the will of a subject."

very well be subservient to the will of a subject."

"But has she no rights as a petty sovereign?" I asked,
"Only those which the king is kind enough to give her. She is but a tenant—the rulers of Hohenphalia are but guests of his majesty. It is to be regretted, but it cannot be helped."
That afternoon, as I lay on my pallet, it seemed to me that in some unaccountable way I was destined to become concerned in the affairs of her serene highness. I had never seen the woman, not even a picture of her. serence figures. I had never seen the woman, not even a picture of her. Certainly she must be worth loving, inasmuch as she was worth trouble. I have always found it to be the troublesome woman who has the largest train of lovers. Troublesome, they are interesting; interesting, they are lovable.

It was more than a year since last It was more than a year since last I saw Phyllis, Yet my love for her knew no diminution. I began to understand why Hillars traveled all over the continent to get a glimpse of the woman he loved. With the pleasant thought that I should see Phyllis again I dozed. "But I do not believe him to be the man," I heard my jailer declare.

"Bah! I know there is no mistake," roared a voice which was accustomed to command. "He's been trying to hoodwink you. Wate's the surprise in his face when he sees me, the cursed meddler and scribbler. It would be a pleasure to witness his hanging. Come, show him to me."

pleasure to witness his hanging. Come, show him to me."

"Yes; come along, my dear old warhorse," I murmured, turning my face toward the wall. "There is a nice little surprise party in here waiting for you." The door opened.

"Unlocked!"bawled the count. "What does this mean, baron?"

"He gave his word as a gentleman," was the gulet reply.

"He gave his word as a gentleman," was the quiet reply.

"Gentleman? Ach! I'll take a look at the gentleman," said the count, steppling up to the pallet and shaking me roughly by the shoulder. "Wake up!"

I sat up so as not to miss the comedy which was about to set its scenes upon the grim visage of the count. As his eyes met mine his jaw fell.

"A thousand devils! Who are you?"

"I couldn't swear," said I meekly.

"Everybody hereabout insists that I am some one else. The situation warrants a complete explanation. Perhaps you can give it." I should have laugned but for those flashing eyes.

"You are a blockhead!" he said to his substant.

"He is the man, according to your London correspondent," responded the other, with some show of temper. "I cannot see that the fault lies at my door. You told me that he would enter the country under an assumed name."

"I presume the affair is ended so fac as I am concerned," I said, shaking the lameness from my legs.

"Of course, of course!" replied the

I acquiesced. When the count and I parted company, I had not the vaguest idea that we should ever hold conversation again. The result of the adventure was I sent a very interesting story to New York, omitting my part in it. This done, I wired my assistant in London not to expect me for some time yet. The truth was I determined to hunt for Hillars and incidentally for her serene highness the Princess Hildegarde of Hohenphalia.

CHAPTER VIII.

CHAPTER VIII.

As I came along the road, the dust of which had been laid that afternoon by an odorous summer rain, the principal thing which struck my eyes was the quaintness and unquestioned age of the old inn. It was a relic of the days when feudal lords still warred with one another and the united kingdom was undreamed of. It looked to be 300 years old and might have been more. From time to time it had undergone various repairs, as shown by the new stone and signs of modern masonry, the slate peeping out among the moss covered tiles. It sat back from the highway and was surrounded by thick rows of untrimmed hedges and was partly concealed from view by oaks and clestnuts. The gardens were full of roses all in bloom, and their perfume hung heavy on the moist air. And within a stone's throw of the rear the Danube noiselessly slid along its green banks. All I knew about the inn was that it had been by a whim of nature the birthplace of that beautiful, erratic and irresponsible young person, her serene highness that beautiful, erratic and irresponsithat beautiful, erratic and irresponsi-ble young person, her serene highness the Princess Hildegarde. It was here I thought to find Hillars, though it was file curlosity as much as anything which led me to the place. The village was five miles below. I could see the turrets of the castle which belonged to the princess. She was very wealthy and owned as many

I was the only guest. This very loneliness pleased me. My travel stained suit I exchanged for knickerbockers and a belted jacket. I went down to supper. "Ah," I thought, "a barmaid! If she is pretty, it will be a diversion."

In the course of my wanderings I had seen few barmaids worth looking at twice. When the table was cleared, I lit a cigar and strolled into the gardens. The evening air was delicious with the smell of flowers still wet with rain. The spirit of the breeze softly whispered among the branches above me. Far up in the darkening blues a hawk circled. The west was a thread of yellow flame; the moon rose over the hills in the east; Diana on the heels of Apollo! And the river! It was as though nature had suddenly become lavish in her bounty and had sent a stream of melting silver trailing over all the land. There is nothing more beautiful to see than placid water as it reflects a summer's twilight. The blue Danube! Who has heard that magic name without the remembrance of a face close to your own, an arm, bare, white, dazzling, resting and gleaming like marble on your broadcloth sleeve and, above all, the dreamy, swinging strains of Strauss? There was a face once which had rested near mine. Heigho! I lingered with my cigar and watched the night reveal itself.

And then, right in the midst of my dreams, a small foot planted itself. I turned my head and saw a woman. On seeing the bright end of my cigar, she stopped. She stood so that the light of the moon fell full upon her face. My cigar trembled and fell.

"Phyllis!" I cried, springing to my feet, almost dumfounded, my heart nigh suffocating me in its desire to leap forth, "Phyllis!"—and here? What does this mean?"

The woman looked at me with a puzzled frown, but did not answer.

leap forth, "Phyllis!—and here? What does this meau?"

The woman looked at me with a puzzled frown, but did not answer. Then as I started toward her with outstretched arms she turned and fied into the shadows, leaving with me nothing but the echo of her laughter, the softest, sweetest laughter! I made no effort to follow her, because I was not quite sure that I had seen anything.

"Where's your barmaid?" I asked of the limkeeper.
His faded blue eyes scanned me sharply. I read a question in them and wondered. "She went into the garden to get a breath of freeh air," he said. "She does not like the smoke."
It annoyed me. I had seen some one, then. What would Phyllis, proud Phyllis, say, I mused, when she heard that a barmaid was her prototype? This though thad scarcely left me This thought had scarcely when the door in the rear of the bar opened and in came the barmaid her-self. No, it was not Phyllis, but the Girls are to blame when they outdress their mothers, but the mothers are primarily to blame, for beinging them up so they will wish to do it. Many a woman who complains of the ingratitude of her children, need only lock back to her own mother to discover the cause. One badly-reared woman will taint a whole township, not with flagrant wrong-doing, but with the little evils which so often go in company with characters which look fairly well with their best side turned to the world.

There are too many daughters holidaying in the mountains and beside the sea, while their patient old mothers are preserving fruit, wearing old shoes and economizing in ice and groceries and car fare that the pet of the family may enjoy a good time for which too often she is not sufficiently grateful.

Inevitable Poultry Losses.

Inevitable Poultry Losses.

Beginners in poultry-rearing are often discouraged by the losses which they sustain. They find them selves numble to rear all of the chickens hatched and they discover that some folws die. But they should not be discouraged because such is the common experience.

It is difficult to understand why, out of a brood of chickens all apparently of the same vigor, some will live and thrive and some will die. But such is a fact. There is probably a difference of constitutional vigor, though no difference is apparent. The student of nature knows that there is going on an endless conflict, by means of which the weaker specimens are climinated and only the stronger survive. Through this conflict, with the enormous losses entailed, mature keeps up a standard of constitutional vigor and prevents the deterioration that otherwise would ensue. Even when the fot tring care of man intervenes, this conflict does not wholly cease. Man may reduce the severity of the strongels, but he cannot wholly presented to the cannot wholly presented to the constitutional vigor and prevents the deterioration that otherwise would ensue. Even when the fot tring care of man intervenes, this conflict does not wholly cease. Man may reduce the severity of the strongels, but he cannot wholly prestruggle, but he cannot what, years it. If he could, the average vigor of the plants and animals under his care would deteriorate. A friend of the writer, at one time an extensive bracker of Indian Games. used to say that his practice was to turn his hens and chickens into a large enclosure and let nature weed out the weaklings. If a chicken was not strong enough to survive, he was glad to have it die. His stock had a reputation for strength of coast.tit on and hardiness that made cost titon and hardness that made it much sought after. Even the chickens which arrive at inaturity will differ in strength of constitution. At moulting-time, when the growth of new feathers makes a great draft upon the strength of the fowl, natural selection weeds out some of the weakest fowls. It is not strange that some should die at this time. A large header of Light Brahmas, used to breeder of Light Brahmas used to offer at reduced prices many fowis for sale just before they moulted. He was led to do this because he He was led to do this because inefound that it paid. Some of the fowls would not be so finely marked after they had moulted, and some of them would die during the process. But after the moult had taken place, he rut up his price some of them would die during the process. But after the moult had taken place, he put up his price again.

Of course much can be done to prevent the loss of chickens and fowls by special care, and by the use of food adapted to their special needs. But after all has been done which numan skill can do, it is well to remember that some losses will occur. Fortunat by the preentage of losses need not be large. If the percentage of losses is large, it is evidence that something is radically wrong. The breeding stock may be lacking in vigor, or the care and food may be deficient. When large losses our, the breeder should seek to ascertain the cause and to prevent the future occurrence of such losses. But when the percentage of losses in chickens is not above 10 or 15 per cent., and in fowls is not above 5 per cent, there is no cause for special anxiety.

The practice of killing off old fowls just before they mount; in view of the fact of the possibility of the coss, and the fact that during moulting they cease to be profitable, is financially commendable. By so doing, food and labor are saved, and the number of marketable fowls is larger than it would be after mounting. If the more perfect growth and development of the young stock. Except in the case of a very few especially valuable breeding or exhibition fowls, which of course the breeder will desire to favore the fowls, enough more can be obtained for them to puy to do this, but as a general rule, the one advised is the most profitable course. It what had been said ins a moral, it would be seened as discouragements, but should be recognized as a necessary part of the debt side of the account in poultry-raising; they are

McKellar Tells of Steps Taken to Obtain Work for Those Desiring It in the Harvest Fields of Mani-tobu-Excellent Wheat-Ex-perts Say Samples Are Splendid.

perts Say Samples Are Splendid.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—Hugh McKellar, chief clerk of the Agricultural Department, is out with a letter last evening defending the Government and C. P. R. in the matter of harvesters' excursions and the question of employment.

He says: 'Tor several years this matter has been considered by Mr. Stitt of the C. P. R. Passenger Department, and myself, and we have invariably come to the conclusion that it was best to feave those coming alone, not to interfere with them trying to place them from Winnipeg. 'The general plan of distribution cannot be changed. Those who come, knowing where they are going, must be allowed to go on. As to locating the others, every practical method is now being employed by the C.P.R. and government officials. Telegraphic despatches are received daily by the C.P.R. and C.N.R. officials, advising how the supply and the demand are for the day. This information is promptly acted upon. Agents are sent out with trains to assist in locating as required.

'Mr. Scott, provincial immigration agent, went to Brandon last week as soon as it was known that there were too many there and succeeded in locating all. Mr. Golden, another immigration agent, was busy along the line of the M. & N.W. since Wednesday of last week, returning on Saturday. Now, he left on Monday morning again with a train load and stays with them until all are located on that branch. And other men. will stay with the work until every man is placed. There are also many prominent men written to in the province to render all assistance possible in locating men.

'The difficulty has only occurred during the last few days. I might written to in the province to render all assistance possible in locating men.

"The difficulty has only occurred during the last few days. I might say, since Friday last, and has not been from want of organization, but from the fact that the heaviest rush of work is not yet on. A few days more and a little patience and the work with the present organization will be completed. I have given this explanation simply to show that adverse criticism of the work being done by the C.P.R. and the government officials is not merited."

Replying to Mr. McKellar's letter The Free Press says editorially: "No one wanted the Local Government authorities to bother about incoming laborers who had their plans laid. They could surely be trusted to sort themselves. The criticism to which the authorities have been subjected, very properly is based upon their patent failure to place those who came here ignorant of the country and friendless in touch with those who wanted help. On this point the case against the Local Government is established. That the difficulty is now being met in great part by the employment of local agents in the manner described by Mr. McKellar is due, we imagine, to the protest made by the harvesters and voiced by the press. Had equal care been taken a week ago we should have avoided these troubles."

Officials Called to Winnipeg.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Mr. Hartney and Mr. Bradbury, two Manitoba Government officials in the city, left yesterday in response to a summons for Winnipeg. It is understood that the Government is investigating the alleged undue shipment of laborers into the Province and desire to get these two officials' statements regarding the steps they took to get the men to go out. Mr. Bradbury thinks that any mismanagement that may have occurred in connection may have occurred in connection with the matter is due to the C. P. R. and not the Government.

Excellent Wheat.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—General Manager Thompson of the Ogilvie Milling Company, questioned yesterday regarding the quality of wheat received by his company, said: The sample is very satisfactory. It weighed 63 pounds to the bushel. The reports I have received show that harvesting is progressing rapidly in all parts of the Province, from Thornhill in the east to Brandon in the west. Fifty per cent. of the wheat is already cut.

The chief grain inspector yesterday afternoon inspected the first car of Manitoba wheat shipped this season. It came from Dominion City, was consigned to the Ogilvic Milling Company, and graded No. 1 hard. It was a beautiful sample.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

It is with a good deal of pleasure that, as the season has come round when the schools of the province are opening for another year's work, we can recommend to our readers in the County of Victoria and in other countles the Lindsay Collegiate Institute for the excelence of the work that is being done. This judgment of ours is based, not upon one test alone, but for several reasons we feel safe in stating that no school in the country is done better work for its evident. that no school in the country is uping better work for its students than our own Institute. In proof of this statement we would remind our readers of the excellent stand that our students have taken at the different Universities, Military Colleges Law Schools, Medical Schools and Law Schools, Medical Schools and Normal Colleges during the past year. The groundwork for their work in these higher institutions of learning was laid in the Collegiate Institute here, and their success is good evidence of careful training. Then we have the statement of the senior Inspector of High Schools in his annual report that the work of the Collegiate is of the highest degree of excellence, and that at no time in the history of the school was it in as good condition to do excellent work as the present. Then again, we have the statement of Mr. Richard Harcourt, the Minister of Education, when speaking at the Education, when speaking at the closing exercises in June last, when he stated that from the records of the Department he would have to include the Lindsay Collegiate Institute of the Control of the Co clude the Lindsay Collegiate Insti-tute as one of the best seven in the province, and not the seventh. Then the large number of students who have passed the different examina-tions this year is considered by not a few as one of the best evidences that excellent work is being done. In addition to all this we have the opinions of the pupils themselves, and though too much weight may be giv-en at times to what pupils say, yet when the best students in all the different classes speak in the lighest

The Chinese Empire without Manchuria will be like the Kingdom of Italy without Savoy. The royal house of Italy is the oldest reigning family in Europe, but it is so by virtue of having been Dukes of Savoy. Savoy was rather related to France than to Italy and became part of France when Italy became a kingdom. Italy is a more complete kingdom without it than it would have been with it. The reigning family of China is not Chinese, but Manchu Tartar. Manchuria is now largely inhabited by Chinese, and all its civilization is Chinese, but it is still known as a Tartar country, and as such is akin to Russia—at least in barbarlism. 'Scratch a Russian and you will find a Tartar,' is a saying attributed to the first Napoleon. Ethnologically it is far from correct. The Russins are Slavs and the Slavs are much more nearly related to ourselves than to the Tartars.

ABOUT TELLING THE TRUTH.

(Hamilton Times.)

"Should a minister in conducting a fune-al service speak the truth concerning the deceased?" asks the Woodstock Express. That depends somewhat on whether he happens to be a married man and father of a family, and how well his life is insured. Truth is mighty, of course, and all that sort of thing, but we cannot think of a candid minister dealing openly and vigorously with the average deceased without seeing visions of a snapping coat-tail making frantic efforts to put distance between its wearer and a pursuing club. And perhaps it is not always necessary to bruit abroad the faults and follies of our kind over their dead bodies. There are few men whose sorrowing relatives, hearts might not be lacerated by post-mortum candor of the kind hinted at.

But the opposite evil is to be avoided also. While it is not accessary to microscopically peer unce all the httle corners of a mar's life to find material for scandal with which temperature an oblituary or a funeral sermon, it is equally wrong to induge in excessive eulogy. Let us leave that to the tombstone man and epitaphy. How often we find the

The Agrarian party in Germany has adopted a resolution demanding that the new German tariff, now under discussion, shall double the customs taxation upon agricultural imports. The resolution calls for a minimum duty of $1.50 per bushel on wheat and a corresponding imon wheat and a corresponding import on other grains and bread-stuffs. Duties comparatively even higher than these are demanded on imported animals, dairy products and canned goods. This is high protec-tionism of the pure sort. But why not make the duties not merely twice, but ten times greater,?

The opinion of American life in-surance men that the average length of human life is increasing has been sustained by the results of eight years' work by the actuaries of England and Scotland. These actuaries have just completed an examination of the mortality records of more than 600,000 persons, and they affirm that the increase is both notable and steady. This is the natural and inevitable effect of several causes, the chief of which, perhaps, is the birth and development of sanitary science, by which the spread of diseases has been checked. It is beyond all doubt, too, that people pay more attention than formerly to the laws of personal hygiene. aries have just completed an examin-

Burning negroes seems to be taking the place of the old barbecue as a popular festivity. The crowds do not eat the negro, as they used to do the ox, but they gloat upon the sufferings enough to compensate for sufferings enough to compensate for the loss of that part of the entertainment. In the latest case in Texas the perpetrators seem to have been afraid of interference by the authorities and to have, in the haste thus caused, deprived the people of neighboring villages of their part in the amusement. What was the cause of this apprehension it is hard to say, as we have hardly ever heard of successful government interference with negro-killing mobs. terference with negro-killing mobs. In a contemporaneous case in Missouri, though, there was apparently reason enough for the rage manifested by the crowd, there was no care whatever to kill the right man. Any and every negro was held equally punishable for a crime committed by only one.

Latchford, Minister of Public Works, who has just returned from an extended trip up there, brings back a glowing account of this new promissed land. To a reporter he said settlement was actively progressing about Surgeon Falls, north and south of the C.P.R. main line, west of Mattawa about North Bay, and in fact at a dozen places along the line of the C.P.R. He declares from his personal investigation of the country, that there is no better land in the world than in this part of Nipissing. The valley of the French River contains a large amount of valuable land, and he looks forward to the time when the whole valley will be settled and the rapids of the French River improved so that steamers from Fort William and Port Arthur, if not passing on to Ottawa and Montreal, will at all events be discharging their cargees at North Bay, as they now do nt Parry Sound and Owen Sound.

The large increase of crime, as shown in the statistics issued by the Department of Justice, and the too small increase in the population of the Dominion, are two things which require some examination. That the two "pil nomena" should appear side by size should ease the clergy, moralists, social reformers and philosophers to put on their thinking caps.

The United States returns of exports and imports show that last year the country sent away $671,-459,00c more than it received. Economists are puzzled to know what was religation to the state outstanding to cover it. The Public, of Chicago, advances the theory that a large portion of this sum is accounted for by the expenditures of people who, like William Waldorf Astor, Bradley Martin, the Countress de Castellane, the Ducless of Mariborough and a host of other rich americans like those mentioned, reside permanently abroad, but draw their income from the United States.

Toronto Telegram: Criticism has assailed details in the work of Hon. Wm. Mulock, and thus lessened the Wm. Mulock, and thus lessened the portion of public esteem which should have been awarded a politician who has done good and important service. It is true that Hon. Wm. Mulock has been an influence for good in the Dominion government, and it is undeniable that his administration of the post office department has been glorified by a greater effort to modernize, and a greater tendency towards progress in that department than stand to the credit of all the other Postmaster-Generals of Canada put together.

Stratiord Beacon: Hon. John Dryden admits he has a small interest in a Dakota ranch, and says he can see no disloyalty to Ontario in his association in such an enterprise, in yiew of there being no ranching or the control of the co association in such an enterprise, in view of there being no ranching landr in Ontario. Mr. Crawford, on the other hand, while admitting that he has been connected with the enterprise, says he has no money in it. The contrast between the two men is marked. Mr. Dryden admits the corn, and justified it as a legitimate business proceeding. Mr. Crawford, on the other hand, tries to evade responsibility for what his party considers a faux pas from the political point of view, by hedging. He leaves the impression that he was the recipient of stock or shares in the company for the use of his name, that he was a "stool-pigeon" as it were. Whatever may be thought of the wisdom of a Minister of Agriculture, leaving himself open to attack from the marrow-minded by taking such an investment in a foreign country, Mr. Dryden certainly cuts the better figure. He at least was acting on business principles, not those of the stock speculator.

Forestry work has been carried on in Manitoba with some success, and the many advantages to be derived from it in that province, with its bleak and somewhat droughty prairies, have been generally recognized. Up to the present 600,000 trees have been sent out from the Brandon Experimental Farm to applicants as well as 1,800 pounds of plicants, as well as 1,800 pounds of tree seeds. IS MARRIAGE GOING OUT OF FASHION?

The other day a good priest in Maryland complained bitterly that few of his people married, and that undesirable social conditions resulted. In Ontario some good people have recently expressed great apprehension that a decreasing birthrate means disaster for the countries of the contribution of the contri rate mains unsaster for the course, and the publication of the cersus figures has led to a renewal of the discussion thereupon. It is, however, hardly necessary to take into account the alleged slight diminu-tion in the birth-rate in dealing with the census figures; the movement of population is too great to enable us to rightly estimate such a small factor. But it is not in Ontario alone that the questions of marriage and birth-rate are being discussed. In the United Kingdom the subject is one that has been receiving the attention of social economists, and it is found that to a greater or less extent the institution of marriage is on the de-

Analysis of Census Figures REMARKABLE UNIFORMITY

OF THE DECREASE IN RURAL DISTRICTS.

The Older Rural Districts Decreased and the Urban Centres Increased—A Careful Review of the Figures and the Orban Centres Increased.

An analysis of the sensus figures

An analysis of the sensus figures for Ontario will show with what remarkable uniformity the population has decreased in the older rural districts and increased in the urban centres and the newer regions. Increases occur in three classes of districts; those which contain recources which have recently begun to be exploited, such as Algoma; districts which have developed some industrial asset, such as the Ningara frontier, and constituencies which contain growing cities or towns of the larger class, of which the county of York is the most conspicuous (xample, Putting it in another way, ty of lots the frame of the province which border on the lower lakes, with few exceptions, show decreases, while the interior and the Lake Superior and eastern Georgian Bay shores show increases. This rule is not absolute, increases. This rule is not absolute, but is a rough expression of the facts. In other words, Old Ontario for the moment has reached the imit of growth other than urban, and new Ontario's period of expansion has commenced.

Looking at the details of the figures, it will be observed that, with one exception, the counties upon the St. Lawrence river show decreases: Glengarry, Cornwall and Stormont, Dundas, North Grenville, South Leeds and Frontenac show an aggregate decrease of 3,251, while Brockville is in the constituency of that name, and while details for this town have not yet been given out, we may expect to find it possessing an increase greater than that of the constituency in which it is placed.

On the other liand, the Ontario side of the lower Ottawa walley shows on the whole a pronounced increase. The counties which show increases are; Prescott, Russel, Carleton, Leeds and Grenville, and their total increase is 9,389. Against these are to be set decreases of 1,461 in the two Lanarks. The net increase thus is 7,928.

The Bay Quinte constituencies show decreases, Lennox, East and West Hastings and Prince Edward having decreased by 5,275. Sindlarly, the Lake Ontario counties as far west as Toronto show severe losses, the Northumberlands, Durhams and East and West Ontario having lost no less than 13,577. East and West York appear in the censes lists as having gained, the aggregate increase amounting to 17,181. Of this fully 15,000 must be credited to the city of Toronto, while the gains of Toronto Junction and the several communities in close touch with Toronto must be countied. The counties at the head of the lake, Haiton, Peel and Wentworth, show decreases aggregating 4,732. When we get to the Naigara fronter we find a change, Lincoln and Niagara and Welland having a gain of 1,504. The influence of the fruit farming of the former constituency and of the new power developments in welland will at one occur as an explanation of this. As a matter of fact St. Catharines has an increase of 776 and Niagara Falls town of these counties, as well as the smaller towns, have decreased to took to the natural gas industry and the exmension for the remainder of this gain one is disposed to look to the natural gas industry

PLANK WALKS BY CONTRACT.

Pressure of Work Leads to the Adop-tion of an Old Plan.

The Board of Works held another meeting Saturday evening, the mem-bers present being Mayor Ingle and Aldermen Sinclair, Touchburn, Hore and Jackson.

At the outset a brief discussion took place on the subject of good roads and conversation then revert-ed to the improvement of streets adjoining Squier's seed pea warehouses, which Commissioner Chalmers has been instructed to place in fairly good condition. The drainage at the switch crossing on Victoria avenue good condition. The drainage at the switch crossing on Victoria avenue will also be looked after.

All. Jackson pointed out that the Commissioner could not possibly look after all the work necessary to be done, and suggested that some stretches of new plank walk be let by contract. This plan was endorsed, and walks 3 ft. wide on Elgin, Sussex, Logle and St. Lawrence-sts. will be farmed out at 40c. per rod. A two-plank walk to Grozelle's, east ward will be built by day labor. On motion Mr. Stone, who has the contract for drains on King-st, east ward, was heard by the committee. He presented his time-sheet for the week in proof of his statement that he wasn't making his salt at the contract price of $1 per rod—in fact he and his son were working for nothing. The trouble was due to the stony nature of the soil, and all the members admitted that Mr. Stone had struck a bad bit of land. On motion it was agreed that he should be pald $1.25 per rod, and Mr. S. went away happy.

Mayor Ingle and Commissioner Chalmers were authorized to arrange for the fitting up of the Clerk and Treasurer's quarters in the town hall building as speedily as possible.

Ald. Jackson called attention to the obstructed state of the Kent-st. gutters.

Commissioner Chalmers—"It will be hard to make an improvement, gravel is not suitable for gutters."

All. Sindair—"There's poor gravel being placed on Kent-st."

Commissioner Chalmers—"Not so bad; we must save all the good gravel for the cement walks."

The committee then adjourned.

It turns out that Mr. Clinamon guessed within 156 of the exact figure, and as this is considered to be remarkably close and likely to win the $10,000 prize, the other members of the syndicate are congratulating themselves that they agreed to pool their guesses and divide any prizes that might come their way. One enthusiastic member who belongs to the Kawartha Club, is already doing some wire-pulling with a view to inducing the syndicate to invest their winnings in a hotel at Sturgeon Point.

Here's a pointer for Lindsay.

-The tie between Port Hope and Oshawa was played at the Island Aug. 22nd, and Port Hope won the Ang. 22nd, and Port Hope won the district champlonship. Oshawa was dissatisfied with the referee, and left the field during the second quarter's play. At this stage Port Hope had seored six times, and Oshawa only once, so they had not much chance of winning had they played on. There has been a hard feeling existing between these two clubs all season, so they undertook to settle the difference yesterday, and the game was of the roughest kind. The match was late in starting, and from the first Port Hope had the best of it. They scored the first then, Oshawa got one. Port Hope scored four more, when some of the players got in a mix-up, and Oshawa decided to leave the field. Referee, D. McMillun, of Beaverton; umpires, Waghorn, Toronto, and W. Cain, of Lindsay.

Italians in a Scrap.

County Magistrate Deacon had a "trying" time of it Friday last, when he undertook to enquire into the facts of the scrap between the Italians on the Trent Valley Canal near Kirkfield about a week ago. County Crown Attorney Devlin conducted the prosecution and Messrs. D. R. Anderson and M. J. Kenny defended the primores. Mr. Michael Basso Italian interpreter, Toronto, was or Italian interpreter, Toronto, was on hand to help straighten out the muddle of broken English and tongue-twisting names. In the melee an Italian named Rosse received an ugly stab with a knile from behind, and another man get a flesh wound in the shoulder, the knile glancing off the bone. On Friday three of the Italians were fined $25 each, and this morning Colonel Beacon heard the argument in the dase of the case of the King vs. Rosse, who was charged with having stabbed his friend Champatelle. His Wership disnissed the prisoner.

The Toronto Star, in noting the dimensions of the huge 27 1-2 lb. ling) caught by Mr. and Mrs. Bunch of Arkansas, at Bobeaygeon the other day, adds: "Mr. Bunch's capture, while not of particularly heavy build in the body, has a tremendous head. Mr. and Mrs. Bunch presented the huge fellow to Mr. Archiball Fed. n, of the great North. Western Telegraph Co. Though the largest 'lunge yet reported this sea-son, Mrs. Bunch's victim is by no son, Mrs. Bauch's victim is by no means the record holder. Mr. Carran Morrison, Chief Police Court Clerk, landed a Muskoka 'lunge which tipped the scates at 58 lbs. four years ago. While down at Hill-crest, near Brockville man, who is well-known in Toronto, hooked one which weighed 42 1-2 pounds. This was three years ago. Two days later, at the same spot, Mr. C. Frice-Green, of the Grand Trunk ticket office here, caught one which weighed 38 pounds. For the next two weeks after these monsters were caught the vicinity was allve with trollers, but none of them caught anything of above ordinary size."

Kruger, in an Interview on the Proclamation, Says It Recognizes Boer Administration, But Will Embit-ter the Fight Still Further -Nephew of the Old Man Taken.

London, Aug. 27.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, yesterday, says:

'Three officers and 65 men, who were sent north of Ladybrand, Orange River Colony, on the right of Elliot's column, were surrounded on unfavorable ground and captured by a superior force Aug. 22. One man was killed and four were wounded. The prisoners were released. Am holding an inquiry.

Interview With Kruger.

London, Aug. 27.—The Daily Telegraph publishes to-day a long interview with Mr. Kruger at Hilversum on Lord Kitchener's latest proclamation. He contended that Lord Kitchener's proclamation itself recognized that the Boers had a regular administration and army. The proclamation could have but one effect—to embitter—and intensify resistance.

Combatant Claimants.

London, Aug. 27.—Newton Crane, in behalf of the American Embassy, has presented another claim to the South African Compensation Commission, that of Charles B. Nelken, a native of Prussia, and a naturalized American citizen.

Major-General Sir John Ardagh, representing the Foreign Office, pointed out that the claimant's letter said he had joined the Boers in order to protect his property seized by the Boers, and remarked: "No person who has fought against Great Britain will receive any compensation on the recommendation of the commission."

Nelken, said Mr. Crane, was a man who had laid down his arms and resumed his neutral status at the time he was deported, and was entitled to the benefit of his neutral status.

Pauma Canal.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The French press has not been giving much attention editorially to the Venezuela-Colombia question, but what comment has been made has, on the whole, been adverse to the United States, which is accused of exaggerating facts in order to have an excuse to intervene and selze the Isthmus of Panama and the Canal.

Verdict in the Walker Case.

Toronto, Ang. 26.—On Saturday night, after discussing the evidence for about half an hour the coroner's jury returned the following verdict.

"We find that the deceased, James Walker, came to his death from a violent blow from some weapon in the halds of some person or persons unknown to said jury. The said blow was delivered on deceased's head on Thursday night or Friday morning last, Aug. 22 or 23, in said city of Toronto, and deceased was found dead in the barn of the Commercial Hotel."

The case will now be placed in the hands of the police for thorough investiga.

Car Will Visit Paris.

Paris, Aug. 25.—The Temps says the Car will probably come to Paris for a few hours after he has witnessed the great army maneeuvres at Rhelms on Sept. 10. He will take inscheon at the Russian Embassy and afterward visit, the Champs Elysees and the Alexander Bridge. He will take dinner at the Elysee Palace.

At a meeting of the Cabinet and the president of the Municipal Council the question was discussed of building a special line to carry the Czar from Rhelms to the manoeuvres.

The King Can Do No Wrong.

London, Ang. 25.—A reckless driver of a motor car, whose speed on a public high-ray is fixed at 12 miles an hour, was arrested the other day. In court he pleaded that "there is a person in Sandringham Palace who covered the distance to King's Lynn, which was 17 miles, in an hour."

The Mingistrate replied: "I think it right to say in favor of His Majesty that the King can do no wrong."

Pekin, Aug. 26.—Li Hung Chang to-day informed the Ministers that the bearer of the edicts necessary to the signing of the settlement protocol by the Chinese plenipotentiaries who was on his way here from Sian Fu, and expected to arrive Wednesday, had been delayed by floods, but that it was anticipated he would reach Pekin soon.

A VETERIN VISITOR

t. Major John Martin, of Lindsay mors Peterborough with a Visit.

Review; Sergt, Major John Mar-tin of Lindsay, paid Peterboro a business-pleasure visit to-day. This business-pleasure visit to-day. This gallant veteran, though 64 years of age, is apparently little iess physically active or sound than when, 17 years of age, he enlisted in the 21st Regiment of Foot, now the First Royal Scotch Fusiliers, and later with others Britons in the Crimea, faced the music at Alma, Balaklava, flak rman and Sebastapol. Mr. Martin to-day wore his well-earned Crimean and Turkish war niedals, and also the Imperial army and service medals. He has ever retained his taste for military matters, and makes a point of attending one, at least of the summer camps. He will be among the millions who will cheer at the reception of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York at Toronto.

A Tale of Sturgeon Point.

(Original)

One evening in the summer time, two idle youths, to sport inclined, went wandering round on Sturgeon

They spled a hammock neath the oaks of which with many timely lokes they did possession calmly take.

A light was twinkling thru the gloom; three girls were sitting in a room, and eating pie with careless grace.

But suddenly their peace disturbed, by voices all too plainly heard, out went the light with, "Oh! those boys"

Then to the window flew the maids and listened to the serenades, which floated gently on the air. Then softly rose the laddies' song, not very loud, not very long: "O Mrs. Flynn, come down and let us ln."

The maids with stifled laughter shook, while sought the lads a darker nook in which to sing their hearts to rest. A farewell whistle round the bend, its music to the air did lend; but hark! an echo sounded clear.

But was it ceho's voice they heard? oh no, a wicked mocking bird those lads beguiled to turn again.

Again the lights shone bright and fair; a soft halloo, then all was dark "where is that voice that called us back?" But silent stood the small green cot, the night bird's voice they heard it not, and once more turned their steps away.

Then up the winding path they ran, while sadly whistled each young man, "Good night ladies, we're going to leave you now."

Since the Early Ages of this world of ours

FINCER RINGS have been worn and prized by both male and female of the race. To our aesthetic mind the jewellers of those days were rather crude in their workmanship, but they did not lack customers. Wonder what one of those ancients would think could be or she view our magnificent stock of ENGACEMENT, WEDDING AND GEM RINGS? Truly we have a grand stock, and it represents the perfect work of the best artists. It is surprising how moderate many of these Rings are in price. That's because we buy largely and ask only a moderate profit. Call and see the goods.

After congratulations were extended to the happy couple the guests repaired to the dining-room, where the tables groaned beneath the weight of good things provided.
Over one hundred and twenty-five guests sat down to supper. Soon afterwards the sweet strains of violin and bagpipes were heard out on the lamy, where a platform hadbeen

—The Toronto Telegram commenting on the fact that over $6,000 changed hands on the result of the Brantford-St. Catherines Incrosse mutch at Toronto Island the other day says: Possibly betting in connection with such a match as this cannot be prevented, but we think it can and should be depiored—not so much for the sake of those who are demoralized by losing and winning, but for the sake of those who are demoralized by losing and winning, but for the sake of the game itself, as an amatcur sport. The backer of a lacrosse team who loses two or five hundred dollars on a match will feel that the game owes him money, and he will use his influence and his ingeneity to put up a deal—honest enough perhaps but not just in accordance with the principles of amatcur sport—by which he will get his own and more. The big betters of Brantford and St. Catherines will next year want winning teams, even if they have to hire players at big figure. If thousands of dollars are better in a game the effect is to make the play desperate and utilinately to make it dishomest for the man who is hired at a fancy figure to shoot goals for one side can easily carn ten times as much by failing to shoot the goals.

They were invited to sit down and rest their faces for ferr their hands and feet might be tired and for required refreshment were referred to the lake, as the hotel had not yet been formally opened. It was a very warm day and the boys now have the impression that the clergyman is a dry joker.

GRAHAM'S ONE-PRICE KING GLOTHIER

School Opening

BOYS' WEEK

We're after you, Boys, with new School Outfits this week. And nothing in town can touch 'em. School opens next week after six weeks of holidays, and the boys must go back to their studies again looking bright, smart and well dressed. We have prepared some remarkable offerings in......

Fine Clothing for Boys

The new styles shown at GRAHAM'S are at prices that easily discount anything shown in Lindsay. Parents need have no excuse to send their boys to school poorly dressed when, for so little money, they can be dressed like little gentlemen.

If there's a boy in Victoria County, or near it, that has need of a Suit, Hat, Shirt, Hosiery, Necktie or Suspenders, this is the week at GRAHAM'S when you can plan to rig him out economically.

Many of our suits offered this week are kinds most asked for. Then there are some that haven't sold fast enough on account of the price; but that defect has been wiped away this week by such REMARKABLE REDUCTIONS as should clean up this stock in a very very quick time.

Some of the "Rush" Prices:

Boys' 2-Piece Suits

Made by Tailors who understand what is required in Boys' Clothes-$1.10, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.25, $2.40, $2.65

Boys' 3-Piece Suits

Good Cloths, Good Linings and Extra Good Workmanship, to stand the stress and strain-$2.50, $2.75, $3 00, $3 50, $3.75, $4.00 to match the suits, in Good Quality and Low Prices.

Lots are large in some cases, small in others. Prompt parents will fare best.

Boys' Hats, Caps, Shirts, Ties, etc.

Success of a Lindsay Man in the Klondike.

Mrs. J. Frances, of Dawson City is at present visiting friends in the cast ward, and will shortly be joined by her husband who has been transacting business at Ottawa. After a visit to friends in other parts of Ontario they will return to the Yukon before frost sets in. Many in Lindsay and district will remember Jack France, as an expect humber ware. before frost sets in. Many in Lindsay and district will remember Jack France as an expert lumberman, he having worked for local and Peterbore firms for a number of years In August, 1837, he started out in search of wealth in the country that was at that time attracting thousands of fortune seekers from all parts of the world. On the way out he lost everything in the shape of an outfit, but he continued his journey nevertheless under trying difficulties. The first two years were not very successful but Mrs France followed her husband out north at the end of the second year. Finally one of Mr. France's claims began to turn out pretty well, and a second one which he has since aquired has given splendid results. This year's clean up brought him about $5,400. His claims are about 100 miles back of Dawson City, and he has about fifteen men employed at the work.

Life in Dawson appears to agree with Mr. and Mrs. France but living is very high. $30 a hundred is the price flour commonly brings.

Mr. France is yet a young man, being only about 38 years of age. He is worth anywhere between fifty and one hundred thousand dollars, but is not satisfied with this. He will continue working his claims in which he has great faith.

SIR WILFRID'S REPLY

The Premier's Open Letter to Mr. R. L. Richardson of Lisgar.

CANADA AND THE BOER WAR.

Canada Has Paid Out a Little More Than $2,000,000 for Contingents, But British Government Has Bought Over $4,000,000 Worth Supplies for the War in this Country.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.— Sir Wilfrid Laurier has addressed the following open letter to Mr. R. L. Richardson, ex-M. P. for Lisgar:

Laurier has addressed the following open letter to Mr. R. L. Richardson, ex-M. P. for Lisgar:

"Ottawa, Aug. 22, 1901.
"Sir,"-Your open letter of the 14th inst. has just reached me.
"If the form of this attack was to draw my attention, I have no objection to express to you my appreciation of it, since it exposes in its true light, exactly as he is, the modern Pharisee, who has long proclaimed to the world that he is not as other Liberals.

"You charge me, for the hundredth time, with having abandoned the principles of the Liberal party since I became Prime Minister; with having deserted the cause of the settlers of the west; with having allowed corruption, political insanity and debauchery to flood the Legislature; and, summing up the whole of my iniquities, you aver as my 'chief crime the blow struck at the moral standards of the people.' You proclaim that it is 'within your right, to say nothing of your duty, to publicly protest if the platform is completely ignored and repudiated.'
"I leave the public, to whom you appear, to judge of the sincerity of all this foam and froth, but just plasing before their eyes the last crime for which you arraign me, and this I do in the language of your indictment. Thus opens your letter: 'As a result of recent judicial pronouncement, I find myself, so to speak, a statesman out of a job. It is probably not necessary for me to inform you of the decision in question, as you are doubtless fully apprised of it, and, I am convinced, far from disappointed at its affect. If there were any doubt on this point, you can'd facts connected with the hand to interfere, and called off the political dogs of war whom you knew well were pursuing me. No man knew better than you the history and facts connected with the case, and that you stood by and allowed a political crime which you could have stooped by raising a finger to be perpetrated, proves that if you were not primarily responsible you were at least particeps crimins."

man knew better than you the history and facts connected with the case, and that you stood by and allowed a political crime which you could have stopped by raising a finger to be perpetrated, proves that if you were not primarily responsible found for the land. The you were act least particeps criminis.

"From all this it appears that you were accused of being elected through bribery, corruption and violation of the law; that for this you were brought to account before the courts; that the charges were found to be true, and that as a consequence you were deprived of your seat in Parliament by sentence of the judicial authority. From all this it likewise appears that, according to your construction of those principles of morality of which you have been the loud champion, it was my duty 'to raise my hand to interfere' in your behalf to 'call off the political dogs of war, whom I knew were pursuing you,' and to allow the erime against the positive law of the land. Sy which you had obtained your seat, to remain undetected and unpunished, and this refusal on my part-you call a crime.

"You say so in many words that no man knew better than I did the history and facts connected with the case,' and that knowing such history and facts connected with the case,' and that knowing such history and facts connected with the provest that if I was not primarily responsible I was at least particeps criminis.' So, you call the public to witness that in your estimation when you were charged with having been elected by fraud, and assistance from some of those public corporations which you so often demounced with appearent indignation, it was a crime on my part to allow the law to take its course and to let it be charged. If I were to enter into any defence, I might urge that little did suppose that the apostle of virtue would expect to be shielded from his own decelications by him whose chieferine he had often declared 'was the blow struck at the moral standards of the people.'

"But I enter into no defence. I do not feel called upon to do so. The public have now the exact measure of what is your conception of 'the moral standards of the people,' and they will now understand the true inwardness of your shrieks against 'political debauchery.' They will come to, a conclusion which others, better and more early informed, had had an opportunity of forming and had formed.

"I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant. (Signed) Wilfrid Laurier.

Canada and the War.

Canada's expenditure up to date in connection with the South African contingents has been a little over $2,000,000, but the country has already been repaid this summer in the shape of contracts for hay and food products for the British army, and, in addition, $2,000,000 have gone into the pockets of the people. Prof. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture, states that his department has paid out up to date $3,000,000 for supplies which have been sent to South Africa. The Department of Agriculturer mas, accourse, acted as the agent for the British Government in this matter. Prof. Robertson left yesterday afternoon for St. John, N. B., to inspect a shipload of hay, oats, etc., which is required for army purposes in South Africa. Two more shiploads will be sent in September from St. John.

The Impact Was Terriße.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 22.—In a head-on collision between the Chicago and Alton westbound "Hummer" and a freight train, at Prentice, early yesterday, five men were killed and six badly injured. None of the passengers were injured beyond slight bruises. The freight train had pulled into a siding from the west end, to await the passenger train. It is supposed the train gradually worked out over the switch unobserved by the crew, and, when the passenger came along at a high speed, the impact was terrific.

Kitchener Says Resistance Is Insensate.

London, Aug. 21.—In a despatch dated July 8 and detailing the condition of affairs at the front at that time, Lord Kitchener says:

There are no more than 13,500 Boers now under arms. Although they are not able longer to undertake extensive operations, their apparently inexhaustible supplies of food enables them to maintain an obstinate resistance without retaining anything or defending the smallest portion of this wast country.

The wearying down process is necessarily clow, rendering the employment of a large number of troops still required to see the inevitable end of an insensate resistance which, while it cannot affect the result, has become unjustifiable in prolonging the war and the sufferings of women and children.

Since the despatch was written the loss of Boers have brought their forces down to about 11,000.

LIGHTNING STORM

Wrecked Barns and Houses at the Royal City of Guelph.

SEVERAL VERY NARROW ESCAPES

Many Were Struck Down, But Providentially There Were No Fatalities-Tricks of the Electric Fluid in Ita Ramifications Through Many Water in Streets on Friday.

Guelph, Aug. $4.—The severest electric storm Guelph has experienc-ed in a long time passed over the city Thursday night, and a great deal of damage was caused by the flooding of cellars and by lightning. The house of T. F. Grant, Howitt extrect was struck and his wife and The house of T. F. Grant, Howite street, was struck, and his wife and five little children, who were in the kitchen, miraculously escaped. Bolts entered by both chimneys, tearing the plaster, lath and sash off and igniting the curtains. The lightning cavorted through the entire house, doing destruction everywhere. A parasol which stood in the corner of a room had the cover burned off so completely that there was not a trace of it left. After leaving the house the bolt burned a path about five inches wide in the ground, and split several posts of the fence. Mrs. Grant says the house was illuminated by a ball of fire which she saw come through the dining-room into the kitchen and pass between two of the children, who were standing at a window.

come through the dining-room into the kitchen and pass between two of the children, who were standing at a window.

J. H. Parker had a valuable Jersey cow killed. Harry Rhodes, John Brandford and William Laidlaw, employes of the Guelph Carpet Co., were knocked down, but were not injured. John McGuire, G. T. R. switchman, was knocked off a ladder, but landed on his feet and escaped with a sprained ankle. A little daughter of George Truckle received a shock, which affected the side of her face for some time, and Mrs. George Newton's maid was also injured.

John Colson, 82 years of age, had a very close shave. He had just returned from the Grant House, which was so badly damaged, when a shaft entered his room by a telephone wire, and knocked the plaster from the ceiling all over him. He escaped injury. The residence of Prof. Thomas was struck, and Caretaker Hyde received a severe shock, while ringing the fire bell.

The Electric Light & Power Co.'s plant was struck, and the power demoralized for half an hour. The long-distance telephone was deranged, and over fifty private instruments were put out of business.

The barn of Cornelius Collins of Puslinch Township was struck by lightning yesterday morning and totally consumed with all the season's grain and a few implements. The building was insured for $1,200. Yesterday morning's storm played havoc with many cellars, especially on Quebec street, the damage at the residences of George Chamberlain and Charles Hicks being considerable. THE ANATOMY OF THE STOMACH

The stomach is the principal, although not the only, organ of digestion. It is about 12 inches long and four inches in diameter at the largest and. It is shaped like a pear, with large end and entrance to the left, and the small end and exit to the right. In the stomach all solid foods are dissolved, and made ready to be mixed with the bile and pancreatic juices in the scond stomach and bowels. If the food is not dissolved in the stomach, it is not dissolved at all, but passes entirely through the system without in any way enriching the body.

Hence the importance of a healthy stomach. The principle trouble is weakness of the muscles of which the stomach is composed, and lack of sensitiveness to the nerves which cause the gastric or food dissolving juices to flow. Two principal features are thus demanded of a stomach restores the nerves; not in a transitory, but in a lasting manner. Take it when sour cructation, hearthurn, gas on the stomach, pains in the stomach, and a general unpleasant feeling, indicate that your stomach is out of condition. You'll be delighted with the results and pleased and enjoy it.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 23.—It is understood that Sydney proposes to take advantage of the Government's bonus to encourage steel shipbuilding. A petition is now in circulation asking that a meeting of ratepayers be called to endorse a proposal to bonus the industry by a gift of $750,000. It is also stated that at this meeting an offer of a free site will be made. The site will not cost the town one cent, but will be a gift of public spirited citizens, and will be within four thousand feet of the Steel Company's works. Sydney does not intend to be left out of the race to be the first town in the Province to start a modern shipbuilding yard.

Number of Those Lost Still on Its Deck.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 21.—The remainder of Islander's pussengers came down on the steamer Farallon Monday and bring further details of the disaster. Some of the men state that in the confusion which reigned some of the boats got away with only a few in them. The steamer's complement was six boats and were capable of holding 25 or 30 each, in addition to two rafts, yet the fact remains, when the last boat pulled off the greater number of those lost were on the deck. This is partly accounted for by the fact that few realized the immensity of the danger and were caught by the rapidly rising water, which mounted so quickly that all those who had not life preservers were not able to escape suction as the steamer went down.

Ed. Young of this city said: "I heard distinctly cries of 'bring back the boat,' and saw one pull away with six men in it, most of whom were the crew. I stood on the steamer's deck beside Mrs. J. H. Ross and her nicee and child, and called to the men to put in the women and child, but it did not stop and pulled away. In a minute or so the water forced us to climb forward, the deck being an angle of about 45 degrees. Very shortly after the boat blew up and I was hurled away from them and aithough they had life preservers on them, they did not survive. I myself was unconscious when picked up after being in the water 33 hours. Some of those who got away from the vessel died from exposure. J. G. Morgan, well-known insurance agent of Winnipeg, had a very narrow escape, being drawn by the vortex as the vessel went down under the vessel went down under the water. The passengers on the raft badgered the captain so that he dropped off and got hold of an oar, which kept him up until after day-light, when he sank. The second officer was threatened with a revolver in the hands of one of the passengers and slipped from the raft, getting hold of a cabin door, from which he was taken in the morning.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 21.—L. S. Robe, one of the passengers on the ill-fated Islander, wrecked off Douglas Island, returned here with a most vivid account of the terrible disaster. While he would not consent to be quoted on this branch of the subject, his demeanor unmistakably indicated that he believes the officers of the Islander were derelict in their duty. Indeed, the charge is being more or less freely made by the survivors that officers of the vessel had been drinking heavily. The vessel, too, had not aboard the marine law requirements, in the quantity and character of life-saving equipment. Robe declares that there were 181 persons on board, including the crew. There are 113 preservers, and he argues that 68 must have been drowned.

She was met by over 500 people, although there had been no warning of her coming. The scenes atterdant to the landing of the bodies were pitiful. As one af-ter another of the five caskets were carried ashore there were plaintive cries from the assembled relatives as they hurried forward to claim their dead.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The criminal statistics for 1900 are about to be published by the Statistics Department. They show that, in the Province of Quebec excepted, the number of convictions in 1900 increased in all the Provinces, in comparison with 1899. The great increase was in the Province of British Columbia, where the convictions, making allowance for the normal increase in population, have increased by over 23 per cent. Nova Scotia, for a mining Province, has a low percentage of cases, only 7.07 per ten thousand of the population, against 26.40 per ten thousand of the population in British Columbia.

The total convictions in 1900 were 5,768. The number of convictions per ten thousand of the whole people were 10.72, compared with 10.75 in 1899. The increase of convictions for crimes committed in cities and towns was 193. Rural districts showed a decrease of 129 in 1900, compared with 1899. The returns show that the convictions for indictable offences were somewhat less among the laboring class in 1900, compared with 1899, and also among the industrial class. The commercial class showed a slight increase. A slight increase also appears among the agricultural class. The proportion of females in all convictions for indictable offences was slightly larger in 1900 than in 1899, but very much smaller than in previous years, the average for the period 1884-91 having been 8.7 per cent., and that for 1900, 5.8 per cent.

With respect to the birthplaces of the criminals of Canada, the Canadian-born show a decrease in 1900 as against 1899, and the same fact is shown in the contributions of England, Ireland and Scotland to our crime. Criminals from foreign countries increased considerably.

A diminution in Roman Catholic criminal sis shown. Highwater mark was reached in 1892, when the Roman Catholic criminal calendar, while at the same time the Roman Catholic oriminal sis shown. Governor J. H. Their bodies, together with those of the late Captain Foote, master of the lost vessel, Dr. John A. Duncan and Mrs. Minnie Ross were brought to Victoria. It is not known whether the remains of Mrs. Ross and family will be taken east, for it is understood that the parents of the dead lady here desire that they be interred locally. here desire that they be interred locally.

The figures lead to two conclusions in the matter of infractions of the liquor license laws. The first is that women are engaging less and less in the business of distributing or selling liquor. The second is that the average number of women convicted of drunkenness varies but little. The average number of this class of convictions for the seven years was 9.68 per cent. In 1900 it was 9.47, a gradual decrease both relatively and absolutely.

Large Custems Fraud Prevented by American officials at Burlington, Vt.

Burlington, Vermont, Aug. 24. —

Thirty-six bales of imported cloth, making nearly a full carload, have arrived in this city from Richford, and have been unloaded by the customs officers, to whom they were consigned. The cloth is that recently seized at Richford while on the way into the States from Montreal, and is one of the largest seizures which has been made in some time. It is valued at between $25,000 and $80,000, and is subject to nearly its value in duties. The cloth was ingeniously packed in two cars of paper stock, one coming from Montreal and one from Toronto, the stock being consigned to parties in Holyoke, Mass. The centre was made up of waste and the bales of cloth placed at the ends, where they were less liable to be detected by the officer. The car was filled as full as possible, so that in order to get at the smuggled goods the paper stock must be unloaded. No arrests have yet been made in the case. A short time ago a carload of wool was sent into the States in a similar manner. Collector Merrill of this port had the car followed, and it, with two others, were seized. The seizure of the cloth is, however, a more valuable one than that of the wool. Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—C. C. Rae of Ottawa and Mr. Belcourt, M.P., who were on the ill-fated Islander, passed through yesterday en route to Ottawa. Mr. Belcourt had to jump 20 feet to reach the boat. They landed an hour and a half after leaving the wrecked vessel. They gave three ringing cheers as a signal to other boats that they had reached land.

MT. PLEASANT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

After going through the fire Springville is coming to the front again. The Rev. Dr. Campbell is building a splendid residence and store connected. The building is of brick, with furnace for heating. It will be finished off in first-class style. We hope Springville will resigned its prominence as in the days of the late A. Goodfellow. The residence and out-buildings owned by Mr. James Baptle are like a small village in themselves, and help to add to the appearance of Springville, atthough they are in the suburbs of the town. The sound of the threshing mill is heard in our land. Surely we are living in a prosperous time and under a good government, without a burden of debt on our fair Ontaric and a large surplus to our credit, which the older province of Quebe cannot boast of having.

In a few days after the death of Mrs. John Cos comes the sad news of the death of Mrs. Wm. Graham, of Cavanville. She was an old and respected resident of the township of Cavan for many years. She had been ill for some time past, but had regained her health so that she intended moving into the village of Milbrook to reside, but the summons came, and her spirit left for its home in heaven, where elekness never comes, and to meet with her loved ones gone before. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved friends of the departed. Jesus said, "I am the resurrection and the life, "he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." Messes. Robert Grandy and Thomas Grandy, of the township of Cavan, are brothers of the deceased.

Mr. Joe, Newman and wife, Porters of the deceased.

Grandy and Thomas Grandy, of the township of Cavan, are brothers of the deceased.

Mr. Joe. Newman and wife, Portage In Prairie Manitoba, are vising at the old home near Mount Plensant. He was in town calling on some of his friends lately. Several years have passed since Joulet here for the North-West, and he does not regret having made the change, for he likes Manitoba much better than Ostario. He speaks highly of the crops in that country this year, and the immense business done there by business done there by business men. No difficulty now in getting money at 6 per cent, per annum, while a few years ago 12 per cent, was the commos interest per lift for money. If the present crop is properly sixed the farmers will be independent so far as having plenty of means. Joe thinks that we, in Ontario are behind the times, and that the great North-West is taking the lead.

Read What Gough Can Do for Your Boys in the Clothing Line

Spare yourself the labor of making up your boy's clothing, or making over for the little kids the old clothes that the bigger boys have worn. COUCH has made a mighty slash in prices of Boys' Suits. Actually you can purchase them this week at prices that won't pay you to bother making them at home.

"Don't Spoil the Ship for a Ha'porth of Tar."

COUCH'S Boys' Section is one of the busy departments of this great clothing store. When one considers the great variety of styles always kept on hand, and the matchless cheap prices, no wonder that parents make COUCH'S their headquarters for Boys' Clothing. We have said several times that this store sells as many Boys' Suits as all the other stores in Lindsay. The assertion is not quite accurate; to be nearer the truth we should have said "more than all the other stores in Lindsay." Why is this so? Come in, look at the Suits and compare the prices---your question will answer itself.
